Is the Best Mining Investment on the Market To-day.

It's mines are in three great mining camps in Idaho, Thunder Mountain and Trinity County, California. It has vast bodies of ore already above ground and extensive workings under ground, thus enough insight for its three plants for years. It has one-third of the stock in another company that has the biggest and richest reef of ore (all above ground) in the world. All it has to do is to wait for dividends on this stock. It has a capable honest and reliable Management. The price of stock is very low for the present, virtually ground floor.

FORGIVE AND FORGET.

By Mrs. A. T. Dorland, Peterborough.

Forgive that cruel and bitter word,
That wounded as it fell—
For never again will it occur,
I, too, have suffered keen regret,
And again I ask you—
Forgive and Forget.

It's hard I know to forgive,
And harder still to forget,
But life is too short to harbour thoughts
Of unkind words rashly spoken,
And again I ask you—
Forgive and Forget.

Unkind words are so often spoken
And many a friendship broken—
It's ever the same—and always —
We must take the bitter with the sweet,
And again I ask you—
Forgive and Forget.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

which fact he is very proud. He was educated at Napanee, graduating from the High School there and attended Albert College, from which he graduated in Arts with honours in 1872. Mr. Wilson in his University Career had no intention of entering the ministry. His University education was obtained with the view of fitting him to take up the practice of law, but his early training and his father's love for the work of the ministry influenced him, and he entered the ranks of that noble band of heroes, to whom no biographer has yet been able to give sufficient tribute. As a junior pastor he supplied at Gananoque, Brockville, and Demorestville, being ordained in 1878, since when he has been stationed at Tamworth, Picton, Kingston, Napanee, in 1887 being called to Brandon, Man., where he remained a full term, and during his pastorate the membership of the church and Sunday School was more than doubled, and on leaving to come to Ontario again although having received an invitation to Winnipeg. He brought many valuable testimonials from the people of the church which he had ministered to so successfully. After returning he was stationed at Madoc, Colborne, Oshawa, (Simcoe Street) and Peterborough. He has filled many important positions in the church; among them, Journal Secretary of the Bay of Quinte Conference, member of the Alma College Board, member Board of Examiners for 10 years, Secretary of Board of Examiners for Victoria University, Chairman of Bowmanville District and is at present Chairman of Peterborough District. He has recently accepted an unanimous invitation to become the pastor of Bridge Street Church, Belleville,, at the expiration of his four years term here, (the longest period which a minister can remain in one church). His labours here have been abundantly crowned with success.

Local Preachers—W. Might, W. Eyres, H. P. Lindsay, G. H. Williamson. Leaders—Wm. Miller, Wm. Yelland, R. J. Winch, R. Chowen, Frank Mason, T. W. Robinson, Geo. W. Powell A. Parker, Mrs. Jas. Stubbs, Mrs. Dr. Fife, Miss Emma Might. Stewards— John Lockhart, B. F. Ackerman, J. Jeffries, Benjamin Shortly, S. A. Armstrong and D. W. Dumble, who has held the office of Recording Steward for many years, and filled its duties faithfully and well. Society Representatives—John J. McBain, S. R. Armstrong, T. McFadden, Felix Brownscombe, W. G. Yelland, H. C. Stabler, John Nugent. Representative of the Trustee Board —A. E. Dixon. Auditors—John Jeffries, B. A., S. R. Armstrong. The members of the Trustee Board are—Messrs. John Lockhart, D. W. Dumble, T. W. Robinson, R. Chowen, F. Brownscombe, A. E. Dixon, H. C. Stabler, Benj. Shortly, Geo. A. Cox, B. F. Ackerman, W. Yelland, Francis Mason.

The Superintendent of George Street Sunday School is Mr. F. W. Robinson, Superintendent of Home Department, Mr. A. W. Crossman, Secretary, Mr. A.E. Dixon; Treasurer, Mr. J. S. Knapman.

Mr. G. W. Powell is Superintendent of Grace Sunday School, and Walter McClelland, Secretary-Treasurer.

A history of George Street Church would be incomplete did it not contain an appreciative mention of the choir. The present leader is Mr. G. W. Mulligan and the Organist Mrs. P. J. Mowat. It seems to be an acknowledged fact that George Street Church can boast of the possession of the best choir in town. It consists of 45 members, every one of whom takes a lively interest in the success of the choir and under the efficient direction of Mr. Mulligan is steadily improving in excellence. The affairs of the choir in every particular are in a highly satisfactory condition.

The Epworth League also is an organization of the Church, the work of which has been an important factor in the success of the past years. The Society is ably managed by Mr. E. H. Doidge, President, with an efficient executive committee, their work being principally among the young people.

The Young Men's and Young Girls' Guilds are valuable adjuncts to the other departments of the Church, while the Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society, conducted by the ladies of the Church are invaluable.

Rev. W. J. Crothers, M. A., D. D., who is to succeed Mr. Wilson in his pastorate, was born at Philipsburg, P. Q., and was educated at the local schools, and at McGill University, where he graduated in Arts with honours in 1873. He entered the ministry the same year, and was ordained in 1876. From that time up to June 1892, he was a member of Montreal Conference, being stationed at Ottawa and Carleton Place. In the last-named year he accepted a call to Port Hope, where he remained until 1897, when he was appointed to Napanee, and later to Bridge Street Belleville, where he is at present the pastor. He was elected President of the Bay of Quinte Conference in 1900 and has been a member of the last four General Conferences. He was one of the few Canadian representatives at the Ecumenical Conference, held in London, Eng., in Sept., 1901. He is a Governor of the Wesleyan Theological College, Montreal, from which he received the degree of D. D. in 1896. His work in the ministry has been characterized by a marked degree of success.

THE REFEREE REPLIES.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir—In Tuesday's issue a letter appeared signed by "Athlete," in reference to the recent effort of Mr. D. Belland to lower the Canadian record for 100 yards on Nicholls Oval.

The writer calls upon the referee to state what he knows regarding the length of the course run, and as I filled that position on the occasion referred to, I cheerfully comply with the writer's request.

One week before the race I was asked by Mr. Belland to referee his effort to lower the Canadian record for 100 yards. I readily consented to do so, but pleaded ignorance in regard to the duties of referee, and also the rules governing an event of this nature, as I had never before officiated in this capacity in any line of sport. I was assured, however, that I would fill the bill satisfactorily, and I finally agreed to act.

Before Mr. Belland appeared upon the course I made enquiries regarding the length of the stretch mapped out, and was informed by that gentleman as well as a few others, that the course was a shade over 100 yds. in length. Probably I should have measured the distance, and right here is where my incompetency comes in. Mr. Belland made two trials on this stretch covering the distance in 9 4-5 seconds. After the trial was over I was approached by several gentlemen who informed me that the course run was not 100 yds., and asked me to wait until it was measured off. A tape line was produced and the course was carefully measured. It was ascertained that Mr. Belland ran a stretch measuring only 84 yards. I said very little about the affair, as I am not seeking notoriety, although I admit I was very much surprised. Furthermore I do not know who measured the stretch and called it 100 yards.

Hoping that I have given "Athlete" the information desired, I remain,

Yours, etc.,
T. J. BEGLEY.

Note.—Mr. Fred Clark, who officiated as time-keeper, in conversation with a representative of the Examiner to-day stated that he was entirely innocent of any irregularity concerning the course measured out on the Oval. He was asked to act as time-keeper and filled that position to the best of his ability, having nothing whatever to do with the stretch.—Sporting Editor.

MANY HUMAN SKULLS FOUND IN MONAGHAN.

Mr. John Patten Made a Gruesome Discovery.

Remains of Eight Bodies Found in Township of Monaghan.

To Mr. John Patten, of North Monaghan, belongs the honour of having made a discovery which may prove to be of the utmost interest to residents of Peterborough county, interested in topical archaeology and ethnology.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Patten, who is a farmer, was doing some road work on the quarter line in Monaghan, about half a mile north of the gravel road and three miles from town when, on ploughing a furrow in the ditch, he unearthed some bones which he at first thought were those of an animal, but when each furrow ploughed revealed an increasing number, an investigation was made, with the result that instead of being, as was at first supposed, those of animals, they were the remains of human bodies. Further digging was done, and in a pit which was but lightly covered with earth, were found eight human skulls, all, except one, of unusually large size.

Of course Mr. Patten has no theory to offer as to how or when these remains were placed where he found them. The indications are, however, that a large circular pit had been dug, and the bodies, from which the heads had previously been severed, thrown in. Although the bones are but little decayed, it is certain that they have been in their present position for many years. The soil in which they laid is of a sandy nature, and consequently they would be better preserved than if they were damp. The Examiner was shown some of the bones which were discovered and they were evidently those of large men and the only feasible explanation is that they are relics of the Indian days.

It is unfortunate that Mr. David Boyle of Toronto, the most enthusiastic of archaeologists, could not have been present when the find was unearthed.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE MEETING.

48 th Annual Communication now in Session at Toronto.

The forty-eighth annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Canada of the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, is now in session in Toronto. The meetings are being held in Massey Hall, and about 800 delegates are expected to be in attendance to-day, which is the largest in the history of the order in Canada.

Yesterday morning the Communication opened, and Mayor Urquhart delivered an address of welcome to the visiting Masons. The Masons of the city also presented an address of welcome, after which the reports of the Grand Officers were read.

The address of the Grand Master of the Lodge, Mr. J. E. Harding, of Lindsay, was delivered on Wednesday afternoon, and was a comprehensive review of the Masonic events and conditions of the past year. The feature of the address was the proposal to celebrate the semi-centennial of the Grand Lodge by establishing a fund of $100,000 for benevolent purposes, the income to be distributed in 20 annuities of about $200 each. This he said, would bring comfort to the few afflicted brethren. The fund, it is proposed, should be raised by subscriptions of $1 a year for three years from each of the members of the craft.

The Grand Master recalled that of the 224 members who attended the United Grand Lodge meeting in Toronto in 1858, only three survive, Mr. Stevenson of Montreal; Mr. Kivas Tully, and Mr. Aemilus Irving, K.C.

Three new lodges have been constituted during the year by the Grand Master and dispensations for the formation of five others were granted.

The financial condition of the order is in a satisfactory shape, the work of the year showing a surplus. The membership also is steadily increasing and there are now 377 lodges, with over 30,000 members.

The next place of meeting will probably be Brockville. The representatives from that town are pressing their claims very persistently, and hope to succeed. The session of the Grand Lodge will probably end to-morrow.

E. L. CONVENTION.

Large Delegation Gone to Detroit to Represent Ontario.

Canadian Epworth Leagues will be well represented at the Epworth Leagues' Convention which is being held at Detroit this week. The Convention opened at 2.30 this afternoon and will be closed by the Sunday evening service, on the 19th.

Yesterday a special train of five coaches left the Union Station bearing about three hundred representatives from Toronto and vicinity, under the supervision of Rev. A. C. Crews, Secretary of the Canadian Branch of the Epworth League. The number of representatives will be also augmented by contingents from Woodstock and London. Among those prominent in Epworth League circles who were noticed among the representatives were Rev. Mr. Sparling, Rev. Mr. Treleaven, Mr. Baker, Dr. Carman, Rev. C. O. Johnson, and Dr. German. The Canadian representatives will, it is understood, take a prominent part in the proceedings, and, among the many Canadians who will take part in the convention will be Mr. St. John, M.P.P., who will address the closing meeting on Sunday night.

TEMISCAMINGUE RAILWAY.

Progress of the Work—the Setting of the Terminus.

Orders for Rolling Stock have been Placed.

The Ontario Government Temiscamingue Railway has gained importance beyond its being a Government-built, pioneer colonization road. It is now definitely known that it is to be used as a link to connect Toronto and Older Ontario, with the proposed, and practically adopted, Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which will pass westward near the terminus of the Temiscamingue Railway.

Hon. F. R. Latchford, Commissioner of Public Works, and his assistant, Mr. A. W. Campbell, are in the north at present, ostensibly on a tour of inspection, but it is suggested also for the purpose of settling the northern terminus of the Government line. Two places are rival claimants for the honour and substantial advantage of being the terminus—Haileybury and New Liskeard.

The commission has opened the tenders for box and flat cars which closed Saturday. Contracts for 100 box cars of 30 tons capacity will probably be let to Rhodes, Curry & Co., of Amherst, N. S., and for 50 box cars of equal capacity to the Rathbun Co. of Deseronto. The date for delivery is May, 1904, instead of this autumn, owing to a report from the engineer, Mr. Russell, that the contractors had been using their forces for grading a large section of the line, instead of ballasting a smaller section.

REV. H. E. ABRAHAM WAS INDUCTED.

At Meeting of Presbytery in Port Hope on Tuesday.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met Tuesday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church, Port Hope. There were present, Rev. Messrs. A. K. McLeod, Brighton; C. S. Lord, B.D., Grafton; Wm. Beattie, Cobourg; A. McNaughton, Port Hope; W. R. Johnston, Harwood; Wm. Johnston, Millbrook; E. F. Torrance, D.D., Wm. Bennett and J. G. Potter, Peterborough; D. P. Oswald, Pontypool; and A. E. Camp, Havelock. The Rev. A. Abraham, of Whitby, and Elder Ormiston, Whitby, were admitted as corresponding members.

Reports were received by Commissioners to the General Assembly. Standing Committees were appointed for the ensuing year and other minor matters were disposed of.

The Rev. Wm. Beattie, of Cobourg, was elected Moderator for the next half year, and at once entered upon his duties. The Presbytery then adjourned to the church auditorium for the purpose of ordaining and inducting the Rev. H. E. Abraham, B.A., a recent graduate of Knox College to the pastorate of the First Church. The Rev. J. G. Potter presided, and after a very forcible and scholarly sermon by Rev. W. R. Johnston, of Millbrook, Mr. Abraham was set apart to the work of the Holy Ministry by the laying on of the hands of the Presbytery. The right hand of fellowship was then extended with the following words of admission:—

"In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, the only King and Head of the Church, and by the authority of the Presbytery of Peterborough, I invite you to take part in this holy ministry with us, induct you into the pastoral charge of this congregation, and admit you to all the rights and privileges thereto pertaining."

The minister was then suitably addressed by Rev. Dr. Torrance and the congregation by Rev. Wm. Beattie, of Cobourg.

In the evening a public reception was held in the town hall. Mr. R. Mulholland made a capital chairman. Besides an interesting musical programme addresses of welcome were given by members of the Presbytery, then by local clergy, including Rev. Messrs. Daniels, Lanceley, Dr. Symonds, Trotter, Williman, and Rev. A. Abraham, father of the newly ordained minister, and a warm tribute was given by Judge McIntyre, of Whitby. The ladies served refreshments, after which the installed pastor, expressed his deep appreciation of all that had been said concerning his work, and he promised to do his utmost that concord should continue. The Doxology and Benediction brought the happy event to a close.

JULY WEDDING.

Miss Ella Kidd Married to Mr. O. B. Earle, of Toronto.

On July 14th, a quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. A. W. Kidd, Dummer, when his daughter, Ella, was united in marriage to Mr. O. B. Earle, of Toronto. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. J. Bastow, of Peterborough, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was attired in a becoming gown of white organdie and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bride was assisted by Miss Edna Earle, sister of the groom, while Mr. Walter Kidd, brother of the bride, supported the groom. The happy couple left on the 5 o'clock train, amidst showers of rice and good wishes, for their future home in Toronto.

The bride received many handsome and costly presents, showing the high esteem in which she was held by her many friends.

A SERMON FROM THE SOUTH SEAS.

New Zealand a Model Country as to Government and Conditions.

Whether or not single tax is a dream of optimism, one has only to go to New Zealand. They will be surprised at what they would see. In default of a journey to the Southern Colony, read the following from the New York American:—

New Zealand, in area only a seventh less than that of Great Britain and Ireland, a thousand miles in length, with over three thousand miles of coast line, is giving the rest of the world some pointers in the line of twentieth century politics and economics.

In New Zealand municipal ownership of public utilities is no longer a mere theory ;it is an established fact.

And from all accounts it works splendidly. Dr. J. M. Peebles, just returned from the wonderful country in the South Seas, says:—

"I have to say, without the least mental reservation, that New Zealand is the most prosperous country I have ever seen. It is the most liberal-minded, fraternal-spirited, thrifty and advanced country in the world. I say it with all due admiration and patriotic love for my native New England.

"The New Zealand Government owns all the unsettled lands; hence there are no great land syndicates.

"The unimproved lands of landowners are taxed. The Government loans money to actual settlers at a low rate of interest to assist them in their beginnings.

"The state-owned railroads, telegraphs, telephones, etc., I unhesitatingly affirm are at least years ahead of those of the United States and England.

"Though gifted with searching eyes, not a tramp did I see in the country; not a beggar's voice did I hear; nor did I witness in village, town or city any poor, unemployed, sad-faced souls pleading for work to keep away the wolf of poverty."

New Zealand, without strikes, trusts or beggars, is certainly an alluring picture from this side of the Pacific.

ENLARGED ERIE CANAL.

As the time approaches for a vote on the 1000 ton barge canal, in New York state — the enlargement of the Erie where it is advisable and the diversion of it where expediency suggests—the discussion of the subject becomes exceedingly intense.

The Syracuse Post-Standard, one of the best and most influential papers in Central New York, is emphatically against the work. The canal is estimated to cost $101,000,000 in bonds, but they will draw interest at three per cent for fifty years, which means an actual addition of $200,000,000.

There is another element which cannot be accurately calculated, the element of imposition and fraud. This has always made public works expensive, and presuming that it will be as apparent in the Erie Canal as elsewhere, and that the engineers' estimates will, as usual, be exceeded, another $100,000,000 can be added to the cost, making the total $300,000,000.

It was supposedt hat the Governor of the State, Mr. Odell, was in favour of the enlarged canal, but he has put himself on record as against it, as saying that the advantages of it were not commensurate with the expense involved. "The purposes for which the canals should be maintained," he said in a message to the Legislature last March, "are more for protection against unfair discrimination than they are for actual use."

It is safe to predict that if the Governor and the press reflect the force of public opinion the barge scheme will sustain a severe defeat at the polls.

POSSIBLE DEPRESSION.

(Toronto Sun.)

It is evident that some manufacturers, encouraged by the strength that comes with their present era of prosperity, are anxious to lay still heavier burdens on the general public for their own benefit. It is impossible for them to plead poverty without appearing ridiculous, so they cry out in fear of future distress when this period of good times comes to an end. They say that with depression will come a lowering of prices, and that, although the present tariff is high, the cheapening of goods in the United States will make it profitable for Canadians to purchase there and pay the duty. They really fear they will be forced to lower their prices to keep out American goods. Every other class in the Dominion is to feel the depression, but they are to be saved from it. Every one else will have to sell cheaply, but they are to be helped to charge high prices That is a most selfish proposal, and we believe that there is many a manufacturer who has no sympathy with it.

LICENSING DRUNKARDS.

An old proposition is again going the rounds of the newspapers. It is that licenses be issued to drinkers instead of to drink sellers. It is based upon the theory that such a measure would take away from intemperate persons the right to purchase liquor. Of course prohibitionists believe that more harm is done by selling liquor to sober persons than to drunkards, and it is not likely that licensing authorities who give men licenses to make others drunk, would always refuse licenses to persons likely to get drunk. Here is a statement of the proposition taken from the Temperance Cause.

"A new solution to the drink question has been suggested. It is in the form of requiring every man who drinks, to take out a license to cost not less than $5 a year, and that the names of all such persons be published in the papers every six months so that the people may know who have a legal right to drink. There would be many surprises if such a suggestion should ever become a law."

VERBATIM EL LITERATIM.

There was a certain legislator who did not want his speeches "cut", neither did he want them embroidered. He wanted them to come out in the paper exactly as he made them. So did the member who spoke next, whereupon the shorthand writers retaliated, with this telling result:—

"The reporters—ought not to — the reporters ought not to be the ones to judge of what is important—not to say of what should be left out — but —the member can only judge of what is important. As I—as my speech— as — as the reports—as what I say is reported sometimes, no one—nobody can understand from the reports—what it is —what I mean. So—it strikes me — it has struck me certain matters — things that appear of importance—are sometimes left out—omitted. The reporters—the papers—points are reported—I mean—to make a brief statement —what the paper thinks of interest—is reported."

VOTE OF THANKS TO PICTON'S MAYOR.

An Extract From the Picton Gazette.

57th Regiment's Visit to the Town one of Great Pleasure to Citizens and Soldiers.

The following is taken from the Picton Gazette of July 14th:—

Mr. W. Boulter, Picton, Ont.:

Dear Sir, — When the officers had gathered in the car coming home, and each began to tell of some kind word expressed or generous act performed by yourself, family, or some of the citizens, it was found that each and every one had a warm spot in his heart for the kind friends we had left. And we felt that we must record an expression of thanks for the many kindnesses shown by the citizens of the beautiful town on the bay. Hoping you will accept the enclosed resolution in the hearty spirit in which it is sent, also my personal thanks.

I remain, respectfully yours,
(Signed) J. W. Miller,
Lt.-Col. 57th Regiment,
Peterborough Rangers.

Moved by Major Dennistoun, seconded by Major Hayes, That we, the officers of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, take this opportunity of expressing to you our warm appreciation of the kindness and openhanded generosity of yourself and the good people of Picton; also to thank you and them. When thinking over the many places we have visited in years gone by we shall think of Picton as the best of them all.

To which the following reply was sent:—

J. W. Miller, Esq., Lt.-Col. 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers:—

Dear Sir, —I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your very kind letter of July 6th inst., with enclosed resolution adopted by your Regiment respecting your visit to Picton. I can assure you the kindly sentiments expressed are fully appreciated by me, and that they find reciprocal promptings in my heart and that of every citizen of our loyal old town, toward yourself, your officers and the men comprising your crack Regiment to the full, ensuring ever green happy memories of the pleasant time your genial self and confreres made for us while here. Accept my personal thanks for your kind remembrance of myself and citizens, and I desire you to convey the same to your officers and men, and state to them from me that the latch string of our door will always be left on the outside for the smart 57th.

I have the honour to be, sir, yours very sincerely.

Wellington Boulter,
Mayor,

FINED FOUR DOLLARS FOR AN EXCHANGE.

Cases Before Magistrate Dumble This Morning.

A young man did not respond to the police court this morning. Nevertheless Magistrate Dumble found him guilty of the charge of being drunk and disorderly on the 13th inst. and fined him $5.05, to be paid in ten days.

It is said that "Fair exchange is no robbery." This does not always apply for a case of fair exchange caused the loss of a few cents to the corporation and resulted in John Bateman being fined to the tune of $4.60. It transpires that some time ago information was laid against Bateman for having a bitch for which he had not paid a tax. The accused, however, produced a dog, and bought him a tag, for which he would pay less than one-half. Later the dog was found at the residence of a neighbour, while the bitch returned to Bateman. The Magistrate saw through the deal. "Where's the dog?" asked Mr. Dumble. "Dog?" returned accused, in a surprised tone, "I haven't got one."

The Magistrate brought the case to a close by saying "Evidently a swapping case; fined $2 and costs."

Perhaps the payment of so much cur-rency will prevent a re-cur-rence of such an oc-cur-rence. Cries of "Oh, Oh," and cur-tain.

Hugh Burns would not have been in a police cell over night, nor in the prisoner's dock this morning, had it not been for his love for stimulants of a more or less intoxicating nature. He pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and disorderly last night, and was fined $2 and costs, amounting to $5.75 in all, which has to be paid within ten days.

GEORGE STREET CHOIR'S TRIP TO STONY LAKE.

Annual Event Took Place Yesterday Under Pleasing Circumstances.

A Thoroughly Enjoyable day was Spent—Steamer Alert Carried Merry Crowd.

The members of George street choir, with their friends, in all numbering about 70, were yesterday taken for their annual tour of the upper lakes by the kindness of Mr. J. J. McBain, who has proven himself a true friend of the choir. The party, in charge of Mr. Jas. Edgcumbe, left by G.T.R. for Lakefield on the regular train in the morning. A special coach had been provided for the use of the party, and the genial representative of the Company, Mr. W. Bunton, was on board to assist in making the comfort perfect. Arriving at Lakefield, the steamer, "Alert," which had been secured to convey the musical aggregation through the beautiful Kawartha Lakes, was boarded, and in command of the popular Captain White sailed from the lake town through the waters of Lake Katchewanooka to Young's Point, where, in company with her sister boat, the "Empress," she was locked up into the waters of Clear Lake. The expressions of pleasure given by the members of the party as the boat glided into this beautiful expanse of water, were many, and showed that the scenery was being fully appreciated. As the entrance to the far famed Stony Lake was approached the character of the scenery changed, and passing "Hell's Gate," the lake with its multitude of rocky islands, nearly every one of which was occupied by some dweller of the city who with his family was enjoying nature's beauties in this the most beautiful of Canada's summer resorts, was entered. The first stop was made at Juniper Island where Mr. T. W. Robinson warmly welcomed the visitors and kindly offered them the use of his spacious pavilion, which was speedily transformed into a dining hall, two large tables being spread with the dainties which the ladies had provided, and with Revs. J. P. Wilson and W. J. Jolliffe each at the head of a table a repast fit for a King was partaken of. During the stay of the party at Juniper, the steamer made her trip to Burleigh, and on her return the excursionists were again taken aboard and the journey around the lake continued. Stops were made at Bewell's Cottage, "Bellechasse," the summer home of Mr. H. LeBrun, Mount Julian, McCracken's Landing and Juniper, at each of which, greetings were exchanged between the passengers and friends on shore. The sail down through Clear Lake was made in the approaching evening shades which lent an additional beauty to the landscape. At Sandy Point the camp of the Y.M.C.A. boys was being pitched and a jolly time was seen to be in progress.

The happy party arrived home in the evening after having spent a thoroughly enjoyable day. Rev. J. P. Wilson, as an after dinner speech at Juniper, expressed on behalf of Mr. McBain the pleasure which the latter felt at being able to provide this trip for such a worthy organization as the choir had proven itself to be, and hoped each would enjoy the day's outing. The choir responded in a manner which showed unmistakably that the kindness of Mr. McBain was being thoroughly appreciated, and "He's a Jolly, Good Fellow" was sung in a way which left no doubt as to the fact that they did consider him all that the song portrayed. The arrangements made for the entertainment of the choir were perfect.

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY.

Passed by Catholic Foresters on Robert McAuliffe's Death.

Robert McAuliffe, the young man who met with an untimely death at Stirling, while attending to his duties as locomotive engineer on the G.T.R., was a member of St. Francis Court, No. 333, Catholic Order of Foresters, located at Richmond, Quebec, the members of which passed the following resolution at the last meeting. It speaks eloquently of the many admirable qualities which their late brother Forester possessed:

Moved by E. J. Bedard, and seconded by J. O. Hudon,—

That the members of St. James Court, No. 333, Catholic Order of Foresters, Richmond, Quebec, have heard with the deepest sorrow of the sudden death of our brother, Robert McAuliffe;

That we wish to put on record our appreciation of the man's noble qualities shown by him while he resided amongst us. We cherished him as a brother Forester, we esteemed him as a friend, and we respected him as an upright, pure-minded man. That out of respect to his memory the charter of this court be draped in mourning for the usual time; that these resolutions be entered upon the minutes, and that copies embodying our sincere sympathy be sent to Mrs. McAuliffe, and the Peterborough Examiner.

A resolution of thanks was also voted to St. Peter's Court, Peterborough, for the attention they showed to Mr. McAuliffe after the accident, and for attending his funeral.

St. Anne DeBeaupre Excursion July 21

The Grand Trunk Railway will have two of their best first-class coaches attached to train leaving Peterborough 2.05 p.m., Tuesday, July 21st, 1903, to be attached to special train leaving Belleville 4.30 p.m., and to run through to Point Levis. OBITUARY.

Mr. Robert Eastland, of North Monaghan, Passes away.

Last night Mr. Robert Eastland, a long-time resident of North Monaghan, but for the last two years a resident of Peterborough, passed away at the age of 75 years. Mr. Eastland has been in ill health for several years, but about a month ago suffered an attack of pneumonia, which proved fatal.

The deceased gentleman was born at Gunton Hall, Yorkshire, in 1828, and when three years of age came with his father's family to Canada, settling in North Monaghan, where he passed the most of his life—till two years ago, when he removed to town. Mr. Eastland was a gentleman of quiet unostentatious bearing, of sterling honesty, and moral worth—a model citizen and good neighbour. He was in religion a member of the Church of England, and a Conservative in politics. He leaves behind him a large family.

The funeral takes place from the family residence, 231 Stewart street, on Friday, July 17th, to Little Lake Cemetery.

AN ACCIDENT

Percy Holland Hurt in a Runaway Accident.

About 10.30 o'clock to-day Percy Holland, a boy aged 11 years, residing at 374 Bethune street, fell off a cart on which he was riding, and received injuries about his head. The accident was on Aylmer street, near Miss Robertson's dressmaking establishment. It transpires that the boy was riding on Mervin's butcher cart when the horse took fright at the steam roller, and became unmanageable, resulting in the accident.

Dr. Boucher was summoned and found it necessary to put two stitches in the wound. The boy is apparently not seriously injured.

MR. OWAIN MARTIN IS A POPULAR MANANAGER

Presented With Gold Watch and Illuminated Address, by Friends in Nordheimer Co.

Mr. Owain Martin, who has recently been appointed President and General Manager of the Martin-Stanley Piano Company, Peterborough, was for twenty years general manager of the factories of the Nordheimer Piano and Music Company, Toronto, one of the foremost firms in the trade in Canada, and so highly was he regarded by the employees of the firm of which he was manager, that upon severing his connection with them he was made the recipient of a beautiful gold watch, and an illuminated address was presented to him.

Following is a copy of the address:

Toronto, May 29, 1903.

Mr. Owain Martin,—

Now that it's time has arrived for you to sever your connection with the Nordheimer Piano and Music Co., and to take up the manufacture of pianos on your own account, it seems most fitting on our part, who have been so intimately associated with you in the various capacities of workman, foreman and manager — some of us nearly twenty years — to address to you a few brief words of farewell.

Looking back over the many long years that we have been together we reflect that we have in that time produced nearly seven thousand instruments—pianos that by common consent have been awarded the front rank in both artistic and scientific merit among the productions of our craft in the Dominion of Canada.

None can appreciate so fully as ourselves the endless difficulties and perplexities that have arisen during this long process of evolution and development, and it gives us the greatest pleasure to express to you the pride we feel in the way you have met them.

Our earnest prayer is that you may surmount the difficulties that may present themselves in your new venture with equal facility. From the bottom of our hearts we wish that success may attend the new house over whose destinies you will preside, and we ask you to accept this little present to keep fresh in your memory the men with whom you have worked for so many years.

Signed on behalf or the employees of the Nordheimer Piano and Music Company.

FREDERICK MARTIN,
HENRY A. PYE,
GEORGE MOORE,
W. J. WOLFE.

Mr. Martin is a piano manufacturer of long experience, and the future of the local industry is quite safe under his direction. This industry is a growing one, and without doubt, before long, the Martin-Stanley Piano Company will distance in point of volume of business some of the older rivals. Already plans are formulated to push the sale of the excellent instrument manufactured here, and Mr. H. W. Smith, of Sidney, C.B., has accepted the agency for the Island.

THE LATEST NEWS OF LOCAL SPORT.

BASEBALL.

St. Andrew's were again victorious last night in their game with the George street Young Men's Guild, the score being 18—3. George street looked dangerous on two occasions, the bases being filled, but Patterson proved too much and along with the steady support of the team, managed to keep the George street boys score down. The St. Andrew's players very materially increased their batting average, Peace and Thornton doing particularly well with the stick. This was made easier through Gray appearing to have an off night. For George street, Reid made a good catch of a long fly, making a good throw to second and completing a double play. Joe Wright the official umpire handled the indicator and his decisions were immensely satisfactory. There was quite a number of ladies present at the game, showing the interest taken in the sport.

• • • •

The Charlotte street boys have asked the St. Andrew's boys to go to their picnic on Friday and show them how to play ball but the "bosses" seem to be in league with the Charlotte street crowd and so only a very small proportion of the team will be able to go. A good team has been got together, however, and the Charlotte street team is guaranteed a good argument. The following are requested to be at the wharf on Friday morning at 7.45 o'clock:—G. Macdonald, L. Patterson, M. Miller, L. Fitzpatrick, A. Lang, Gray, Taylor, W. Foster, S. Laing, H. Wilkie.

CANOEING.

The races of the T. V. C. Club were run off as announced. There were not as many entries as expected, but those that entered put up some good paddling. The first race was a men's single, and resulted as follows:—

1. Bell; 2, Stock, 3, Losie.

The second race was a men's double: 1, Stock and Bell; 3, Jack and Dick Watt.

The third race was a gunwale race. There was only one entry, Stock and Bell, in the double. They finished with only two upsets.

The fourth event was a sternforemost race, with some six entries. 1, Stock; 2. Losie. The others did not finish.

The fifth event was a men's double. 1, Stock and Bell; 2, Weeks and Watt; 3, Losie and Whiten.

The sixth event was a hurry scurry race, in which a good deal of splashing was seen. 1, Stock and Bell; 2, Losie and Whiten.

Mr. Martin's, Mr. R. M. Roy's and Mr. C. B. McAllister's yachts towed the canoes around after the races and a very pleasant sail was enjoyed.

THE WHEEL.

In a race against time, Albert Champion rode a mile on his double cylinder motor in 58 4-5 seconds, making the world's record distance.

WASTE PAPER BOXES FOR THE LOCAL PARKS

Woman Seen Stealing Flowers Will be Made an Example.

A woman was seen removing a plant from one of the vases in Victoria Park, and the case has been reported to the police authorities, who are going to make an example of the woman, as this sort of thing occurs more frequently than desirable.

The caretaker of the park, having complained that on concert nights people bring packages and after devouring the contents, throw away the paper, the Horticultural Society has secured six wire baskets, three for each park. These will be fastened to trees and persons are asked to deposit the waste paper in the baskets in the future.

Enormous Growth.

Ever since Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were first introduced to the public the sales have steadily increased, each year being larger than the year preceding. This is probably the best evidence of their remarkable efficiency, as a treatment for derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels. They are invaluable as a family medicine.

CHANGES IN SENATE

Forty-Seven Vacancies Filled by Liberals Since 1896.

RESIGNATION OF MR. BLAIR.

Probably No Successor at Present, But Mr. Fielding Will Likely Temporarily Administer the Department of Railways—The Main Immigration Estimates Passed—Militia in Labor Strikes.

Ottawa, July 16. — The death of the late Senator Dickey makes the forty-eighth vacancy in the Senate since the accession of the Laurier Government in 1896. The present Government have made no less than 47 appointments to the upper Chamber during their term. Eleven new Senators took their seats this session, which is altogether unprecedented. In the upper House yesterday afternoon tributes were paid to the late Mr. Dickey's memory by Hon. R. W. Scott, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Senators Miller, Dever, Macdonald (B. C.), and Mr. Speaker Power.

Mr. Blair's Resignation.

No new developments have occurred in connection with the retirement of Mr. Blair from the Cabinet, but full explanations are expected to day. It is said that Mr. Blair in his statement will give a denial to the report that he insisted upon the line to Winnipeg being built under his supervision rather than by a commission. The question of the choice of Mr. Blair's successor is still in abeyance. The prospect seems to be that no appointment will be made for the present, but that Mr. Fielding will temporarily administer the Department of Railways.

Proceedings in the House.

The House yesterday passed the remaining items in the main estimates for immigration.

The bill to amend the criminal code was partially considered in committee, but none of the clauses were passed, as the Minister of Justice desired to have them fully considered by the members.

The principal clause discussed was that making it an offence to interfere with a man's employment on account of his belonging to the militia.

Clause 75 makes it an offence punishable by six months imprisonment or by a fine or both to deprive any person of his employment, to prevent any other person from being employed, whether by himself or another, or to obstruct or to annoy any other person or his employer, because such person is an officer or a man of the active militia or to dissuade any other person from enlisting in the active militia by threat of injury to him in case he should enlist.

Dr. Sproule raised a question as to the constitutionality of the adjournment on Friday last, when neither the Speaker nor the Deputy Speaker was present, and an amusing discussion ensued. The House rose at 1.40 a.m.

Canadian Telephone Company.

Ottawa, July 16.—The Railway Committee yesterday morning amended the Canadian Telephone Company's bill by providing that the company shall not at any time amalgamate with the Bell Telephone Company. Mr. Brock again opposed the bill, saying that the scheme proposed would involve an expenditure of $5,000,000. Mr. Birkett said that there is $30,000,000 behind the project.

BIG BOER DEAL CLOSED.

One Hundred Thousand Acres Sold to Joubert and O'Donnell.

Monterey, Mex., July 16.—Marion Butler, United States Senator from North Carolina, has closed a contract with the Boer generals, Joubert and O'Donnell, for 100,000 acres of land, to be used for colonization purposes by the Boers. The tract is located between Sota La Marina River and the Carnazal River, and fronts the entire distance on the Gulf of Mexico.

MOST DIRECT ROUTE

Indigestion leads to Dyspepsia. Dyspepsia breeds Appendicitis, and so weakens the body that it easily leads to any infectious or contagious disease. The moral is, that Indigestion is the most direct route to the cemetery.

But that's not the worst of it. The disease itself so fills every day with despondency, every night with wakefulness or bad dreams, that life itself is not worth living.

Can't you see why you should stop your Indigestion before it fairly gets going. Can't you realize why you should use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will stop it. Anyone who has used them will tell you so. Alphonse Caron, of Montmagny, Quebec, tried them. He says:

"I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for Dyspepsia. They are excellent. They cured me completely."

British Statue to Washington.

London, July 16.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Pilgrims' Club last night a committee was appointed to give effect to the recent suggestion to erect a statue to George Washington in London. It was decided that the subscriptions should be entirely confined to British subjects.

Lynched a White Man.

Maysville, Ky., July 16.—Enraged at the tardiness of the courts, a mob broke into the Flemingsburg jail yesterday morning and hanged William Thacker, a white man, who had been given a life sentence, for the murder of John Gordon two years ago.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 35c and 20c.

Note Your Weight.

By noting your increase in weight while using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can prove for a certainty that new firm flesh and tissue is being added to the body. This is the severest test you can apply to any treatment and proves the superiority of this great restorative prescription of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author.

DESPERATE LABOR FIGHT.

Chicago, July 16.—Desperate fighting between the police and the strikers of the Kellogg Switch Board Company took place yesterday afternoon and evening while the company attempted to send freight to some of the railroad depots. In one instance the police opened fire with revolvers, and, although the fusilade was continued for several minutes, no one was hurt. Later there was a fight, in which no revolvers were used, and the police laid out a number of men, some of whom were left in the street until their friends picked them up.

Go Back to Work.

Vancouver, July 16.—The strike of the mill factory hands, which has been in force since June 1, ended yesterday in the defeat of the men, who return to work to-day under the old regulations. The men demanded nine hours a day in place of ten.

The Carpenters Yield.

Toronto, July 16.—The carpenters' strike is at an end. They have abandoned their demand of 35 cents an hour and will work for the original scale of 30 cents, which prevailed before May 1. For eleven weeks the striking unionists have been idle.

Color Line Drawn.

Woodstock, July 16.—A small strike is on here in the Thomas Organ Factory and the basis of the trouble is the objection which seven of the employes have to a colored fellow workman. This is the first strike caused by raising the color line.

Walking Delegates Indicted.

New York, July 16.—The grand jury yesterday concluded their investigation of the labor troubles, and returned indictments against Samuel J. Parks, Richard Carvel and Timothy McCarthy, walking delegates, who are charged with extortion. There are four counts against Parks, two against Carvel and one against McCarthy.

THE PROMISE OF HARVEST.

Magnificent Outlook For the Farmers of the Banner Province.

Toronto, July 16.—Special telegraph reports received by The News yesterday from the principal agricultural districts of Ontario indicate that magnificent progress has been made by practically all the growing grains, and the harvest, which is just boginning, will be one of the greatest in the history of the Province. The statements of crop conditions have been carefully compiled, and they present a bright picture of the agricultural outlook. From every section there is the same story of good yields, fine quality of grain, abundant pasture, and a general feeling of satisfaction with the prevailing conditions. From a perusal of the reports, it would seem that the banner industrial Province of the Dominion had no reason to take second place in the matter of agricultural produce.

In general, wheat seems to have made good progress and to promise a large yield. Corn has been greatly delayed on account of the recent wet weather, but will be heavy if the weather during the coming month is fine. Other grains, particularly oats and barley, are in fine shape, some counties reporting them the "best ever." Hay has suffered in many parts owing to early drought, but is a fair crop. Clover and timothy are promising well, and give no cause for dissatisfaction. Fruit will probably be abundant, and it is almost certain to maintain the standard of other years in the matter of quality. Potatoes are rather plentiful, and other root crops are in good condition. Pastures and grasses are growing magnificently, and are now abundant.

GOOD BLOOD, GOOD HEALTH

Thin Watery Blood is Made Rich by the Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

When the blood is rich and pure there is a healthful glow to the complexion which speaks of the vigour and vitality of the system. There is no more certain way for pale, weak people to attain the glow of health than by the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great food cure which forms new, rich blood and creates new nerve force. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 6

ANOTHER SENATE VACANCY.

Hon. R. B. Dickey Passes Away at Age of 92 Years.

Amherst, N. S., July 15.—After months of weary illness, Hon. R. B. Dickey passed away late yesterday afternoon at the ripe old age of 92 years. In the death of Senator Dickey, not only Cumberland, but the whole Dominion loses one of its most esteemed men, one who has taken a prominent place in many of the councils of his country, and one whom Amherst in particular is indebted to for much of its progress and prosperity. The deceased was interested in his native town, and many are the monuments that testify to his generosity. He is survived by three children, James A., Amherst; May, wife of H. E. Milner, C. E., London, and Ellen, wife of M. W. Maynard of the Department of Railways and Canals. He was a Conservative and entered the Senate in 1867.

Robert Barry Dickey was born at Amherst, N.S., on November 10, 1811. He received his education at Truro and Windsor, and was called to the bar in 1834. He was made Surrogate Judge for Cumberland County, and created Queen's Counsel in 1863. He sat in the legislative council of his native province as a Conservative from 1858 until Confederation, when he was called to the Senate.

Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realizes this as she lies awake hour by hour, peopling the darkness with phantoms, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes.

Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep. Irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness are perfectly cured by "Favorite Prescription."

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulte, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicians and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicines and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

REFORMS IN RUSSIA.

Does Away With Castigation With Cudgels and Other Barbarities.

St. Petersburg, July 16.—The Birzhevia Vedomosti says that the Czar has abolished the harshest remnants of the barbaric punishments of former times, namely, Castigation with cudgels, and cat-o-nine-tails, chaining to the car and shaving the head, which were still inflicted for certain offences on persons exiled to penal settlements or to the mines. This form of punishment frequently ended in death by torture.

The cudgel and the "cat" are replaced in the new statute, says the newspaper, by prolongation of term or by solitary confinement up to one hundred days, with bread and water, except every third day, when hot food will be served at one meal. The revised statute of June 15 prescribes chastisement with birch rods up to 100 blows "for slight offences, and misdemeanors."

Unionism in Russia.

St. Petersburg, July 16.—In furtherance of the proposed domestic reforms, a new law has been promulgated, giving factory employes the right to appoint delegates from their co-workers to represent their interests in conferences with the factory inspectors.

It grants reciprocally the most favored nation treatment to each country; abolishes the Persian 5 per cent. export duty upon all except a few articles and abolishes the system of farming out the customs duties, replacing this system by Government customs offices and warehouses. It undertakes to allow British merchandise any reduction conceded to merchandise imported from Russia.

The report of the condition of Masonry showed 2,600 initiations during the year. To-day's meeting will be devoted to adopting the various reports and the election of officers. Grand Master Harding outlined his scheme to raise a semi-centennial fund of $100,000, for benevolence, the interest to be appropriated to extreme cases, $200 to be the limit in any one case of a beneficiary. Every subordinate lodge is expected to collect from each of its members $1 a year for three years.

Caused a Sensation.

Hamilton, July 16.—James Weir of the Customs Department, Toronto, has made very grave charges against W. F. Miller, Collector of Inland Revenue here. It is claimed that the accusation is of general misconduct, covering several years, and includes the charges of misuse of money and of retaining money from subordinates after they had signed receipts. The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, July 16th, 9.45 a. m. — The cause of rally yesterday was covering of shorts and buying by traders who have been long and had sold out with the movement influenced chiefly by appearance of buying by banking interests, and by report that Morgan and Standard Oil people were to have a conference last night. Brokers stayed up late looking into situation and hoping for some favourable developments. As a matter of fact no such conference was held. A peculiar feature was absence of much borrowing demand for stocks in loan crowd, showing shorts been covering and that liquidation been extensive, the floating supply of stocks in the street now is larger than for some time. London comes firm for our stocks and we may get some future rally, but with money situation but we can not see how bull movement can be inaugurated at present, and we still believe stocks may be bought cheaper by waiting for some more favourable developments in the financial situation.

THREE GATES.

If you are tempted to reveal
A tale someone to you has told
About another, make it pass,
Before you speak, three gates of gold.

These narrow gates—First, "Is it true?"
Then, "Is it needful?" In your mind
Give truthful answer. And the next
Is last and narrowest—"Is it kind?"

And if to reach your lips at last
It passes through these gateways three
Then you may tell the tale, nor fear
What the result of speech may be.

A LETTER FROM HAVELOCK.

Captain Andrews Explains the Position of His Team.

The Examiner has received the following letter from the captain of the Havelock Football team referring to the game which was declared lost to Havelock by default on Tuesday. Dr. Morgan, the President of the Association, makes the statement that he used every effort to arrange a date which would be satisfactory to both teams. On the day on which the game was played here the doctor asked Mr. Andrews when the return game could be played. Mr. McFadden and Mr. McPherson also tried to get some arrangement made, but the Havelock players would give them no satisfaction.

Referring to Mr. Andrews' statement that Dr. Morgan said the Executive would be willing to have the game played on Friday, 17th, the doctor states that the captain of the Havelock team came to see him on Sunday, and said he had seen Mr. McFadden, who was willing to play on Friday after tea if the team could return to Peterborough the same night. The doctor intimated to him that if he would get a signed agreement between the two teams to that effect, the Executive would raise no objections. No attempt was made, however, to have an agreement executed as above, the result being that the Executive ordered the game played on Tuesday at 1.45, which was a compromise.

Dr. Morgan states that his sympathies have not been with the Y. M.C.A., and he does not think that they have any desire but to win the cup by fair means. As an indication of the fairness of Dr. Morgan's rulings, it may be said that this is the only game in the whole series to which a protest has been entered.

Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — The article which appeared in Wednesday's Examiner, under the heading "Havelock Defaults," is most misleading, and unfair to the Havelock Football Team, and in their behalf I wish to correct some of the misstatements made.

In the first place, Dr. Morgan, the President of the Association, telephoned me on Wednesday last, asking what hour the game was to be played, and I told him between 6 and 8 p.m., on Friday, the 17th inst. On Saturday I received a note from the executive committee stating that the game was to be played on Tuesday, at 1.45 p.m. I went up to Peterborough, and saw Mr. McFadden, the captain of the team. He told me that their objection was to playing after supper and not being able to get back until the following day. I informed him that I had made arrangements with the C.P.R. whereby they could go up on a coach attached to a freight train about 9 o'clock. He said that suited them, and referred me to Dr. Morgan. He in turn told me it did not make any difference to him, and I left Peterborough with the impression that the game would come off on Friday.

Imagine my surprise when the team came down on Tuesday, contrary to arrangements, and doubtless with the intention of taking us by surprise, and winning the cup by default, which they now claim to do. In any case they can not do so, because under the regulations of the League it is distinctly stated "that in case either team cannot play on the date set by the executive, the secretary of the home club shall notify the President of the Association, who shall set a date as near as possible to the one assigned." This clause was pointed out to the President, Dr. Morgan, but he said he had had enough trouble already with the Association, and he would not do anything further in connection with it. He also would not give any decision while in Havelock about the cup, and said he would have to confer with Mr. Keith of Omemee, the other member of the executive, before giving a decision.

From what has transpired it appears that the doctor and Mr. McPherson are running the whole Association and are bound to give the cup to Peterborough by fair means or foul. It was absolutely impossible for Havelock to play on Tuesday, and the Peterborough team were well aware of that fact. MacPherson stated in Havelock that they were out to win the cup in someway or another, and apparently he wishes to steal it. Havelock is not afraid to play off for the cup at any time or place, and are above such, to quote your own words, "unsportsmanlike" actions. They claim to be sports in the true sense of the word, and are above emulating the cowardly, bull-dosing tactics of the Peterborough team and the President, Dr. Morgan. In regard to the trouble about the grounds, the Havelock team have nothing whatever to do with them. They are leased by two societies and it was on their instigation that the team did not obtain entrance. Havelock does not claim the cup. They have no right to do so until Dr. Morgan gets a little backbone in his attitude and sets a date and Peterborough fails to show up, which apparently they are afraid to do. The "little team" proved to be a big surprise on the occasion of the match in Peterborough, and as MacPherson says "Peterborough is bound to have the cup some way." Havelock will protest the action of Dr. Morgan, and will endeavour to obtain fair play, which is exceedingly doubtful considering the circumstances so far. The people of Havelock, and, we believe, Peterborough too, will be much surprised and disappointed, if the Hon. J. R. Stratton will permit the cup to be presented to Peterborough or any other team under such circumstances. If as you say, Peterborough would much prefer to play for the championship, let them do so, and not try to win out in such a contemptible manner. Havelock is confident that they can defeat that "much superior team" on their own grounds and are anxious to get a chance to prove it.

Capt. H. F. Club.

A GREAT FAIR AT OTTAWA.

"The Eruption of Mount Pelee" to be Portrayed.

Arrangements to make the Central Canada Exhibition the Best ever given in the Dominion—New Features—Grand Attractions.

The Central Canada Exhibition, the great favourite of the people of this district, will this year surpass in a great many respects the best shows ever given in Canada, not excepting those of the Toronto Association. The directors of Ottawa's grand Fair say so, and they have never yet exaggerated. These go-ahead exhibition experts have always recognized that new and interesting features have yearly to be arranged for, to retain interest in their show, and they have made a great many changes in their time. This year, it is learned, the arrangements are such that the show will undoubtedly far eclipse all predecessors.

In the first place, the prize list has been revised and considerably augmented in every department and is the best ever offered. Farmers and breeders should scan it, for Canadian bred live stock have nearly all the plums. In the horse department there are new classes for agricultural, roundabout and express horses. In the cattle section there is a Derby 1905 class. In the live stock classes there are thirty special prizes, twenty-two of them the magnificent gold medals the Exhibition have been in the habit of giving.

Altogether there are over sixty special prizes, thirty-one being gold medals.

The ladies' department is to be managed by a committee of ladies this year, and there will be several new and pleasing features.

All the leading artists of Ontario will contribute to the art display, and neither pains nor expense will be spared in the horticultural hall, that will make the display one long to be remembered.

A grand dog show is to be held in connection with the fair, while the programme of sports include the best trotting card ever announced in Eastern Canada. There will be trotting and running races every day of the fair.

Beyond doubt the special attractions will be the best ever put on at Ottawa. Already the most thrilling loop the loop act has been secured and the grand musical dancers, including twenty-six ladies who have just arrived from Europe. There will be a balloon ascension daily, performances by wonderfully well-trained horses and dogs, and a host of other of the choicest attractions.

It is only necessary to state that along with a large number of amusing and entertaining stage specialties, "The eruption of Mount Pelee and the destruction of St. Pierre" will be vividly represented by the T. W. Hand Firework Company for readers to recognize that it will be a grand night show. The representation of the catastrophe that so recently thrilled the entire world will be most realistic, for views of the eruption were taken by special artists at the time. There will be no pantomime in connection with this grand spectacular, which will be completed in half an hour. The programme of specialties will be longer than heretofore to make up the usual two and one-half hours' performance. The best display of fireworks to be obtained has been contracted for.

The dates for the Fair are Sept. 11th to 19th. August dates were first agreed upon, but at the request of many patrons the Show was put off till the later date.

A holiday cannot be spent to better advantage than at Ottawa and its great Fair. 1diw.

SPECIAL MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL.

A Deputation Will ask for Post Office Improvements.

Recommendations of Committee of the Whole—Granolithic Walks to be Constructed.

Previous to the Council meeting last night the Committee of the Whole met in the Town Clerk's office, the chief subject for consideration being the pressing need of improved postal facilities being provided at once. Ald. McWilliams pointed out that if anything were done during this parliamentary session it would have to be at once, as in all probability parliament would prorogue in about a month. It was a fact patent to all that the town is in urgent need of some improvement being made in the service. If the present system is maintained, more wickets for general delivery must be provided, and with the Retail Merchants Association and majority of the business men of the town opposed to a street delivery he thought it would be unwise to ask the Government to inaugurate a system to which so many were opposed. But his plan was to appoint an influential deputation to go to Ottawa and interview the Postmaster General and Minister of Public Works, stating the needs of the town and urging that immediate action be taken to provide a service which will meet the requirements of the citizens.

Mayor Roger was of the opinion that perhaps it would be better to ask for an enlargement of the post-office building now, which, he remarked was but that of a village, and later on when it has been secured, and the city becomes larger, to press the claims for a street delivery. A recommendation to the Council to send a delegation to Ottawa was suggested, and and incorporated in the report of the Committee of the Whole, which was later adopted by the Council.

Mayor Roger stated that he had deferred taking action in the matter as he understood a petition was being signed asking him to call a public meeting in which the whole matter might be discussed, but as it had not yet been presented, he thought it was time to act.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held in the Council Chamber last night with Mayor Roger presiding, and the following Aldermen present,—Messrs. Edgcumbe, Morrison, McWilliams, Batten, Corkery and Best.

The minutes of the last meeting were on motion adopted.

The following communications were read and dealt with as indicated.

From Mrs. Mary O'Brien, asking for remission of taxes.—Referred to Court of Revision.

From D. N. Carmichael, for remission of dog tax.—Referred to Court of Revision.

From Jas. W. Gordon and others, asking for the construction of a granolithic sidewalk outside the tree line on the west side of Stewart street, between King and Sherbrooke streets.—Referred to Board of Works.

From W. James, and others, asking for the construction of a granolithic walk on Stewart street between Dalhousie and Sherbrooke streets.—Referred to Board of Works.

From S. H. Kent, Secretary, and R. P. Slater, President Ontario Municipal Association, inviting the Mayor and such aldermen and officials as the Council may appoint to attend the annual meeting of the Association in Guelph on August 12th and 13th.—Received.

From J. D. Baptie, with reference to his application for an appointment as Assessor of the town.—Received.

From J. J. Turner & Sons, stating that if the town decides to do any decorating on the occasion of the Old Boys' Celebration they would be pleased to make a contract for the performance of the work.—Received.

The following report of the Committee of the Whole was presented, and on motion of Aldermen McWilliams and Batten, adopted:—

Your Committee of the Whole Council beg leave to report as follows:—

1. We recommend that the application of the Peterborough Light and Power Company for permission to place 18 poles on Bonacord street be granted, the poles to be placed subject to the approval of the Town Engineer.

2. Your Committee has arranged with the Commissioners of the Peterborough Town Trust for the use of the south store in the market block for offices for the Collector of Taxes, Town Engineer and Street Commissioner, and these offices will be moved there as soon as possible. The Engineer is preparing plans for alterations in the Town Buildings.

3. We recommend that a deputation be sent to Ottawa to urge upon the Postmaster General and the Minister of Public Works, the necessity for increased postal accommodation at once, and that the treasurer be authorized to pay the expenses on the certificate of the Mayor.

4. We recommend that the Chairman of the Property, Building and Health Committee be authorized to purchase by tender the coal required by the town.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report of the Board of Works was presented by Ald. Best, as follows:—

1. We recommend that the Engineer's recommendation to construct a granolithic sidewalk on the west side of Park street north from Hunter street, inside the trees, be adopted.

2. That having examined the petition from W. R. Turner and others for a granolithic sidewalk on the west side of Water street, between Smith and Antrim streets, and found it sufficiently signed, we recommend that it be granted, and, as it is a continuation of works now being done, that the chairman and Ald. Edgcumbe be authorized to let the contract for the work subject to the approval of the Town Solicitor.

3. That having examined the petition of Jas. W. Gordon and others for a granolithic sidewalk on the west side of Stewart street between King and Sherbrooke streets, and the petition of W. James and others for a granolithic sidewalk on the west side of Stewart street between Sherbrooke and Dalhousie streets, and found them sufficiently signed, we recommend that they be granted, and as they are continuations of a sidewalk now being built, we recommend that the chairman be authorized to let a contract for the work subject to the approval of the Town Solicitor.

4. We recommend that Cedar street, at the hill west of Cambridge street, be graded.

5. We recommend that the town pay half the cost of repairing the culvert on the southern boundary at Park street provided the Township of North Monaghan pays the other half.

6. We recommend that the Grand Trunk Railway Company be notified to have the culvert under its track on Park street at Parnell street cleaned out.

7. That a sidewalk be laid on the west side of Park street from Townsend street northward.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Ald. Morrison took objection to Clause 1. of the above report on the ground that the walk was to be built on the inside of the tree line against the wishes of the majority of the residents on that portion of the street. He thought that in deference to the wishes of those who have to help pay for the work their views should be considered, and, especially, as on parts of the same street the walk has been built on the outside of the trees. He stated that he would have been satisfied to have the walk built inside if it was a four foot walk, but one of five feet in width would be objected to by the residents and depreciate the value of the property adjoining.

Ald. McWilliams stated that the council must recognise that a very radical mistake had been made in building some walks inside the trees and others on the outside. He said that he thought the walks from Weller to Cedar and the remainder of Park street, should be built inside the tree line, because of the fact that there was a strong probability of the street railway running on that portion of the street, and if that were done the portion available for traffic would be too narrow

Finally Ald. McWilliams moved, seconded by Ald. Morrison, that the report as presented be adopted, except Clause 1, and that it be amended to read "from Weller to Cedar streets," instead of "north from Hunter street," and that construction of the portion south from Weller street be referred to the Board of Works with power to act.—Carried.

Ald. Corkery presented a bylaw appointing assessors for the town as follows: Messrs. McGrath and Kincaid, for Wards 1 and 3; and Messrs. McKee and Aldridge for Wards 2 and 4, which on receiving its several readings, was passed.

Ald. Best moved, seconded by Ald. Corkery, that provided the agreement as to the additional sidings asked for by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, is executed by the company, on the form submitted to them, with proper plan attached, and deposited with the town clerk, the Mayor be authorized to consent to the Railway Committee of the Privy Council making necessary order for the construction of these sidings, according to the terms of the agreement.—Carried.

Mayor Roger stated that he had received advice from the officials of the Ontario Health Officers' Association Executive, stating that the association had accepted the invitation of the council to hold their annual meeting here on September 9th and 10th, and suggested that it would be advisable to appoint a committee to assist in entertaining the visitors. Mayor Roger and Ald. Rush were on motion selected by the council to act in that capacity.

Ald. McWilliams, speaking on the invitation of the Ontario Municipal Association to the Council to send delegates to the annual convention of the Association, moved that the appointment of the delegation be referred to the Committee of the Whole, and that the Treasurer be authorized to pay the expenses in connection with the sending of the delegation on the certificate of the Mayor.—Carried.

Ald. McWilliams also spoke of the proposed visit to Canada of a party of English newspaper men, and thought that nothing the town could do would be more beneficial than to have the party visit town than to have the party visit Peterborough, and suggested that the deputation appointed to go to Ottawa with reference to the postal improvements might be instructed to endeavour to secure these newspaper men to visit Peterborough.

A motion was carried asking the Mayor to communicate with those having the trip in charge, and press the claims of Peterborough for recognition when the itinerancy of the trip was being arranged.

The council then adjourned.

THE RIFT IN THE CABINET.

Under the above heading the Toronto News discusses the retirement of Hon. Mr. Blair from the portfolio of Railways and Canals:—

The dissension in the Ottawa Cabinet which led to Mr. Blair's resignation is presented by certain Conservative journals as an evidence of weakness in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's leadership. Nothing could be further from the truth. In view of the Premier's peremptory dismissal of Mr. Tarte from his Cabinet and his ready acceptance of Mr. Blair's resignation, it is idle to maintain the old fiction that Sir Wilfrid Laurier lacks decision and strength of character. The general opinion among Conservatives was that the Premier dare not dismiss Mr. Tarte, while the mere fact that New Brunswick goes Liberal gave to Oppositionists probably a very similar opinion of the strength of Mr. Blair and of his ascendancy in the Cabinet. As a matter of fact, for the last three or four years neither man had any particular influence in the councils of the Government. Neither had the confidence of his colleagues. Both were marked for certain decapitation when the necessity arose. Both these men seemed to the public to be shaping the Ministerial policy. In each case the fact was quite the reverse of what the Oppositionists argued and the general public believed. Both were heralded as efficient departmental heads; neither, in fact, was a particularly capable administrator.

At the grave crises of his history Sir Wilfrid Laurier has given evidence of his strength of character. He fought a hand-to-hand struggle with the Ultramontanes of Quebec for a quarter of a century. He opposed squarely the coercion of Manitoba and incurred thereby the displeasure of the very powerful Church to which he belongs, and risked the loss of Quebec. He persuaded French Canada to consent to the despatch of contingents to South Africa, and held that Province in the general election of 1900, despite the rather desperate appeals of some of his political opponents to any racial feeling against Britain which might have existed among French-Canadians. He persuaded the Liberal party, which was boldly gerrymandered out of its political rights by the Conservative Government of twenty years ago, to commit the redistribution of 1903 to a Parliamentary Committee, and thus to secure substantial justice to both parties. Despite the powerful opposition of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and of Mackenzie & Mann, and of all the great influences by which they are backed, he now undertakes to aid the Grand Trunk Railway to reach the Pacific. In this he has had to fight strong influences in his Parliamentary following and in his own Cabinet, and if he had less strength of character than he certainly possesses, neither Cabinet nor caucus would have accepted the policy to which both are now committed.

It is the fashion of politicians who fail to dominate in the councils of their colleagues, and who recognize that their fall is impending, to select the issue upon which to make their appeal to the country. Mr. Blair has done this with some judgment. His contention that, if the Government is to construct a national railway between Moncton and Winnipeg, it should therefore extend the Government railway to the coast, is logical, and while the bargain for the Grand Trunk Pacific extension as outlined has great merits, it is hard to understand why, if Government construction from Moncton to Winnipeg is advisable, it is not just as advisable to carry on the work of Government construction across the continent. It seems, however, that while Ministers have manifested great courage and faith in launching the project which has been outlined, they have not the further courage necessary to face an all-continental, national road. But this does not condemn the whole project, and should not obscure the enormous advantages which must come from the extension of the Grand Trunk to the Pacific on the terms announced. It is not so easy to sympathize with Mr. Blair's objection to the extension from Quebec to Moncton. It seems that at no point will the new road be nearer the Intercolonial than thirty miles, while at other points it will be seventy miles removed from the existing national railway. This, of itself, would go far to justify the Government's policy, aside from the fact that the Intercolonial was not constructed as a commercial route, and probably never can be more than a political railway. If the national railway between Winnipeg and Moncton is to fulfill the objects of the Government, contribute to national solidarity, and give the best route between the agricultural west, and the Atlantic ports, it must take the direct route, and to that necessity all other considerations must yield.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SPRAY POTATOES

To Prevent Blight and Rot—By W. T. Macoun, Horticularist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Notwithstanding the fact that year after year the potato crop in Canada is very much lessened by blight and rot, and that this blight can be prevented to a large extent by spraying, comparatively few farmers spray their potatoes to prevent this disease. It has been known for about eighteen years that Bordeaux mixture will prevent the blight, and it has been frequently demonstrated by experimenters and by other growers of potatoes that the crop is much increased by spraying. In order, however, to get potato growers to spray it is necessary to keep constantly demonstrating the value of it. The results of the tests made at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in 1902 and 1903 should be sufficient to induce everyone who lives in a disease infected district to spray.

In 1901 eight varieties were tested. The average increase in yield per acre of the eight varieties, where sprayed, was 94 bushels. In one variety, however, there was an increase of 171 bushels, and in another 155 bushels per acre.

In 1902, eleven varieties were tested. The average increase in yield of marketable potatoes, where sprayed, was 120 bushels per acre, the yield per acre of marketable potatoes from the sprayed being 310 bushels 12lbs. per acre, and from the unsprayed 189 bushels, 54 lbs. The cost of the bluestone, which is the principal expense, was $7.93 per acre, or 114 lbs. at 7 cents per lb. In spraying large areas the cost would be less. At 40 cents a bushel, an increase of 120 bushels per acre would mean 48 dollars, or after deducting the cost of the bluestone, about $40.

The object of spraying is to destroy the spores of the disease on the foliage. If the mixture is not there when the spores are there the disease will usually spread very rapidly and soon the tops are destroyed. The foliage should be kept covered with the mixture from the middle of July, when the spores may be expected to appear, until the end of the season, and from four to five sprayings will be found necessary. In 1902 the vines were kept growing 18 days longer by spraying. The vines were sprayed on July 10th, July 22nd, July 30th, and August 13th, and probably even better results would have been obtained if another spraying had been made.

Formula for spraying to prevent potato blight and rot:

Copper sulphate (bluestone) 6 lbs.
Unslaked lime, 4 lbs.
Water, 40 gallons.

Dissolve the copper sulphate with hot water or by suspending for several hours in a coarse bag in a wooden or earthen vessel containing 4 or 5 or more gallons of water. Slake the lime in another vessel. If the lime when slaked is lumpy or granular it should be strained through coarse sacking or a fine sieve. Dilute the sulphate of copper solution to about 20 gallons and the lime mixture to about 10 gallons, and then pour the latter into the former; then dilute to 40 gallons and stir the mixture thoroughly.

Stock solutions of copper sulphate and lime at the rate of 1 lb. to 1 gallon of water may be prepared, and kept in separate covered barrels throughout the spraying season and diluted and mixed when needed.

While the potato beetles are active eight ounces of Paris green should be added to each 40 gallons of the Bordeaux mixture. The mixture should be applied by means of a spray pump with a good nozzle in order to get a fine spray, which is necessary to get the best results.

PAPER MILLS AND PALATIAL BANK PREMISES

Something Told by a Returning Citizen From Quebec.

An employee of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, has returned from Windsor Mills, P. Q., where he has been installing a couple of governors to complete the contract for supplying ten water wheels of 500 horse power each to the Canada Paper Company. The contract also included other mill machinery. This company has in operation now the largest paper making machine in Canada, and one of the two largest on this continent.

While in Montreal, the gentleman referred to, was greatly interested in the rebuilding and extension of the head offices of the Bank of Montreal which, according to the narrator, will, after the expenditure of a million and a half of dollars, constitute the finest suite of banking offices on the continent. A ceiling, resting on lofty marble pillars, with marble stair cases, and other appointments and equipments, are among the features which attracted his attention and evoked his admiration. A banking corporation with fifteen millions capital and a rest of nine millions, is certainly entitled to have as palatial premises as suits its fancy and as its requirements demand.

ARTHUR DROPS DEAD

Grand Chief of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

A SENSATIONAL TAKING-OFF

Was Speaking at a Banquet at Winnipeg—"It May Be My Parting Words to Many of You," He Said, and Fell Backwards and Expired a Few Minutes Afterwards—Died at Midnight.

Winnipeg, Man., July 17.—P. M. Arthur, Grand Chief Engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, dropped dead at midnight while speaking at the banquet closing the annual union convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which has been in session here for the past few days. Mr. Arthur had just risen to respond to a toast, and repeated the words: "It may be my parting words to many of you," when he fell backwards and expired a few minutes afterwards.

A MINE EXPLOSION.

Thirteen Chinese Dead in No. 6 Mine of the Wellington Colliery Co.

Victoria, B.C., July 17.—Thirteen Chinese miners are dead as a result of an explosion at No. 6 mine of the Wellington Colliery Company at Cumberland. Since the strike, few white men have been at work in this mine, and at the time of the explosion there was but one white boss with fifty Chinamen working. The boss and thirty-one Chinese got out safely, but twelve were killed outright, one died later and the others are severely burned. Manager Matthews, Overman Short and Mine Managers Walker and Kelsey descended to the pit and soon recovered the bodies, Kelsey, however, narrowly escaping being overcome by after-damp.

The explosion was due to the ignition of gas in one of the lower workings. The cause is unknown, as all men employed in No. 6 mine were compelled to use safety lamps on account of its gaseous state. There is no injury to the mine apparent at the mouth of the pit, and nothing was known of the disaster until the cage was run up with two frightened Chinese, who told of a fire.

This is the same mine in which the explosion occurred in February, 1902, in which sixty-four lives were lost.

BOY STABBED GIRL.

Peculiar Action of a Small Boy in the Ambitious City.

Hamilton, July 17.—A twelve-year-old daughter of Francis Maoirana of York street, an Italian shoemaker, was probably fatally stabbed last night in a most peculiar way. She had been sent to the butcher shop for some meat, and was met by a young lad about her own age named Earl Hurst, who, it is alleged, stabbed her in the breast with a horseshoe nail. She managed to get home, where it was found that her dress was saturated with blood. She was very weak, and the doctors fear that she is most seriously injured. The boy did not even know her, and it is alleged that he struck the blow in a spirit of mischief.

PICKED UP DEAD.

Member of Carousing Party, Aged 70, Dies on His Doorstep.

Stratford, July 17.—Found dead on his doorstep, William Smith, a laborer, living at Edgecombe Corners, was picked up about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. There are strong suspicions of foul play. He is 70 years of age, and it is stated that on the night previous to his death his wife, son and daughter, along with himself, were carousing. Mrs. Smith bears signs of violent treatment. The only explanation given is that the old man, in going out of the house, fell and struck his head.

There is an old Chinese proverb,
"The Brain is in the Stomach."
A simpler Anglo-Saxon maxim is,
"A clean stomach makes a clear head."

MR. BLAIR'S REASONS

Ex-Minister of Railways Tells Why He Left the Ministry.

VIEW OF THE GOVERNMENT.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Makes the Ministerial Explanations — Mr. Blair Denies That He Resigned Because of Pique —Grand Trunk Pacific and Moncton-Quebec Lines the Sole Cause of Friction.

Ottawa, July 17.—When the House met yesterday afternoon the Prime Minister read the following statement:—

"It is my duty to give to the House the explanations to which it is entitled concerning the resignation of my hon. friend the senior member for the City and County of St. John, as member of the Cabinet and Minister of Railways. In view of the rapid development of the country, of the flood of immigrants into the fertile section west of Lake Superior, of the industrial movement of the older Provinces, the Government have come to the conclusion that a new transcontinental railway between the east and the west to the Pacific Ocean has become a necessity. To this view the hon. member has always expressed his assent, ut a difference of opinion arose between him and his colleagues as to the method of construction and operation. No final plan has yet been adopted, though a basis has been reached for the construction of a line to be built and owned by a commission, but to be operated by a company under special provisions to make it a common highway to all railway companies from Moncton to Winnipeg, and for the construction of a line to be built by a company, by the assistance of the Government, from Winnipeg to the Pacific Ocean, at Port Simpson. To this plan the hon. member has two objections; one, to the construction of that section of the abovementioned line lying between Moncton and Quebec, he being of the opinion that such a line would parallel the Intercolonial Railway, an opinion from which we entirely dissent; two, to the immediate construction of the section between Quebec and the Pacific Ocean, and to the suggested mode of construction.

"In consequence of this difference of opinion between his colleagues and himself, the hon. member, on the 10th inst., tendered his resignation to the Prime Minister. Conferences then took place between the Prime Minister, with the assistance of one of his colleagues, and the hon. member, and, finally, on the 14th, his resignation was accepted. The Prime Minister, whilst expressing for himself and the other members of the Administration his great regret at the severance from the Cabinet of an able colleague, is happy to believe that the hon. member, upon all questions of public policy except this one, is in accord with the Government."

Hon. A. G. Blair.

Mr. Blair said:—Mr. Speaker, the Right Honorable the Prime Minister having made a statement referring to my withdrawal from the Cabinet, it is my privilege, and I think it becomes my duty, to make a statement, as the retiring Minister, in my own behalf. I am not unaware, Mr. Speaker, that the step which I have taken is one of the gravest possible character. I regret as much as any gentleman on this side of the House can regret the severing of the ties which have existed between myself and my colleagues since my entry into the Administration; I can well realize that the effect of Cabinet changes at this moment will not only tend to delay and protract the business of an already very prolonged session, but will occasion very much embarrassment to the party, and will be a source of anxiety to the Prime Minister himself, a thing which, above all, I would gladly avoid. The step which I have taken, sir, can only be justified in respect of my duty to my constituency, of my duty to the party, of my duty to this House, and of my duty to the country, upon the clearest and plainest and strongest grounds.

Reasons For His Action.

Na doubt, Mr. Speaker, speculation is very rife as to the causes which have impelled me to this action. I see it very widely stated in the public press that the fact that some of the members on this side of the House pressed and successfully carried amendments to the railway commission bill was regarded by me as an offence, and was one of the predisposing causes, creating dissatisfaction and discontent, and leading me seriously to consider the question of my resignation. I do not know by what standard these people would measure me; I do not know on what balance they would have me weighed; but I trust there is nobody who entertains such a contemptible opinion of me as to suppose that the action of these members in that regard would cause me any offence. I endeavored while that bill was going through the House, in some two or three instances, to have hon. members know and feel that so far as I could control the consideration of the question, I regarded it as an open one, and I stated that if hon. members felt that I was wrong they might freely say so by their amendments and by their speeches. I, therefore, trust that none of my hon. friends who took that course will do me the injustice to believe that their action had the slightest impression on my mind. (Cheers.)

Friendly to His Colleagues.

Another cause that has been assigned for my present action is that I had no assistance from my colleagues in the Council in pushing that bill through the Commons. I dismiss that with a similar observation. I did not ask any of my colleagues of the Ministry to help me, because I felt that, not having studied the bill as I had done, they could not be so familiar with its contents and so well informed upon it as I was to meet the objections that were being made in the House. Had I asked any of them to do so, I want to say openly and publicly that there is no reason in the world, so far as I know, why they would not have cheerfully and readily come to my help. As to the treatment I was receiving from my colleagues, let me say that I know of no instance, and should my separation now prove to be a terminal and unending separation, I am bound to say that I can acquit my late colleagues of any charge of that kind, so far as I myself have any personal knowledge (Cheers.) I have heard the name of Mr. Sifton, the Minister of the Interior, mentioned as having been caballing against me and endeavoring to undermine me and my influence in the Cabinet. Well, if that be the case, he has succeeded most admirably in concealing that from my knowledge at all events. I never had it in my mind that that gentleman's conduct towards me had been such as represented. (Cheers.) I do not know, nor do I suspect, any member of the Council from which I have just retired of having treated me in any such manner.

Railway Policy Alone.

"Now, Mr. Speaker, the sole and only cause which has led me to take this regrettable step is because I have been unable to justify to my mind, to my own conscience and to my own duty to my people, my support of the proposal which the Government have decided upon making to this House, and asking the legislation to pass with respect to the project known as the G.T.P.R. It will naturally occur to the minds of members on both sides of the House that it is a matter of extreme difficulty for me to enter upon a discussion of the question. If I were otherwise disposed to do so, I am unable to do it for the very sufficient reason that the project is not before this House at the present time. Nor do I know from the remark which was made by the right hon. the Prime Minister, when he read his statement, the form in which that project will be submitted. But this much I do know, that the chief troubles which I felt the Government must necessarily experience if it forced on that project are coming to pass. My objections I may state briefly—not all of them. I will not enter on the subject at present with any degree of particularity, reserving what I have to say upon it for a later period, when it can be more properly and more sufficiently discussed.

Parallel the Intercolonial.

My objections were of this character. I objected to the Government constructing another Government road from Levis to Moncton. I objected to it because it paralleled the Intercolonial Railway, in my opinion, without a doubt. You cannot build a line between the same points without practically paralleling the I. C. R. However, I will not enter upon any elaboration of the point; I will merely state my position. I object to another Government road, even if it would not parallel the I. C. R. We in the Province of New Brunswick are not asking for it, unless there are some who want to see the money spent, and the class of people, I apprehend, are not a class who will influence largely the action of this Government or the legislation of this Parliament. Another objection was that we were proceeding with undue haste. I have no hesitation in stating that I am as much in favor of the construction of another transcontinental line as any other member of this Parliament but I am not in favor of impetuously running in, or rushing into, the construction of a transcontinental line from Quebec through an unknown country to Winnipeg and the west until we know something about it, until we have the fullest information about it. The project is one of very great magnitude, and should be dealt with only after the maturest deliberation. (Opposition cheers.)

Story of the Resignation.

Now, sir, without having this bill before us, without being able to do more than simply indicate the order of events, I am going to state now to the House what occurred in connection with my resignation. On Saturday, 4th July, I became convinced that it was determined to build a line of Government railway from Moncton to Quebec, and to proceed at once with the construction, without surveys, from Quebec to Winnipeg, and, I caused it to be made known that that policy, not to speak of other features which will be elaborated later, was not a policy to which I could commit myself as a member of the Government; that I could not take the responsibility of bringing before Parliament and pressing and urging upon the acceptance of this Parliament, and calling for the approval of this country, a project of that character. This necessarily would convey, and did convey, to the minds of anybody who have heard me, and who knew the position which I felt compelled to take, nothing short of a withdrawal from the Government; and on Monday I conveyed to the right hon. the Prime Minister my resignation as a member of the Cabinet, with a written statement accomuanying the resignation.

Mr. Blair then read the letters which passed between the Premier and himself.

After remarks from Mr. R. L. Borden, Hon. Mr. Tarte, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and Sir William Mulock, the matter dropped.

In the evening a million dollars of the Interior estimates were passed.

George Rowley Examined.

St. Thomas, July 17.—George Rowley, who is accused of stealing $187,620.14 from the Elgin Loan Company, was examined for discovery yesterday morning before Judge Hughes at the court house. The desire was to secure information that would be valuable in winding up the Elgin Loan Co.

Caught Alleged Murderer.

Altona, Man., July 16.—Lucas Kyryk, accused of murdering a fellow-countryman near Tyndall, was recognized while passing through the town of Altona by W. H. Tyson, traveler for the McCormick Machine Company. On his arrival in town he reported having seen him about half a mile south of the village, and the authorities were immediately put upon his track. Search parties caught him on the west side of the track about four miles south of the town. Constable Johnston has taken the prisoner to Winnipeg.

U.S. Steel Corporation in Hamilton.

Hamilton, July 16.—It is thought here that Hamilton is still in the race for one of the branches of the United States Steel Corporation. It has been announced that a branch will be located at Port Colborne, and it ic claimed that the corporation has an option on the plant of the Hamilton Steel & Iron Company of this city. When the directors of the local concern were asked about the rumor yesterday they refused to either deny or confirm it.

Salvation Army Band in Parks.

A discussion was indulged in last night in the Committee of the Whole with reference to the playing of the Salvation Army Band in the public parks. Ald. McWilliams thought that in view of the fact that the council had made a grant to the band to assist them in procuring new instruments, a collection should not be taken when a concert is given in the public parks of the town. This view was shared by several of the Aldermen present. Mr. J. M. Green, in referring to the above, stated to the Examiner to-day that the collection taken on the occasion when the concert was given in Central Park, was only $1.87.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION

The Scholars, Their Parents and Friends Turn out in Large Numbers.

Fine weather had much to do with the successful outing of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Sunday School to Idyl Wild on Thursday. The steamer "City of Peterborough," was chartered for the occasion, but notwithstanding her ample accommodation, it proved too small for the crowds on this occasion. Half an hour before her departure, the "City" had taken on her full limit of excursionists, over 800, and arrangements had to be made with the "Water Lily" to carry the remainder. Captain Lane and Rev. Mr. Potter consulted together to try and arrange to have all the excursionists together, but caution had to be exercised for the safety of so many young people, even if some disappointment resulted.

To have seen the three hundred and over pleasure seekers start out on their trip would have been ample proof that the "Old Kirk" people stand by each other in their annual Sunday school holiday with praiseworthy unanimity. The liveliness of the scholars was unbounded, and had it not been for the watchful care of the pastor and some of his elders, combined with the caution of Capt. Lane and his alert crew, there is no telling what might have occurred to mar their happiness.

The weather was delightful so that all could enjoy the splendid sail down the river and across Rice Lake to Idyl Wild. The party was safely landed at 12.30, and the island was soon a huge open air dining room, with covers spread in restful nooks and shady groves, all over the grassy award.

After dinner a heavy shower freshened up the air, after which the following races, etc, were run off, with keen competition:—

Boys' race, 10 and under — Allan Wade, Arnold McWilliams.

Girls' race, 10 and under—May Potter, May Casey.

Boys' race, 14 and under — Geo. Smith, Stanley Wade.

Girls' race, 14 and under—Mabel Barber Bessie VanEvery.

Little girls' race—Mabel Evans, Annie Potter.

Obstacle race—Douglas Robertson, Alford Gilbert.

Biscuit eating contest, girls—Gerakline Casey, Stella Doughty, Mabel Evans.

Biscuit eating contest, boys—Thos. Casey, John Casey, Roy Brand.

Sack race—Stanley Wade, Norman Laing.

Wheelbarrow race—Norman Laing and Stanley Wade, Douglas Robertson and Allan Wade.

At 5 o'clock the steamer got her precious cargo all on board again and started for the home trip. The journey was a most enjoyable one—everyone being sociable and agreeable and no accidents to interfere with the pleasure of the party. The musical talent of St. Andrew's choir as well as of the scholars enlivened the sail home, and when nearing the wharf at 8.15, all joined in singing "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow," and "God Save the King."

To Mrs. Geo. W. Hall and Family:

Dear Friends,—At a meeting of Diamond L. O. L., No. 80, held on Monday, July 6th, the following resolutions were adopted:—

Whereas, since the last meeting of our lodge, the angel of death has unexpectedly entered our ranks and taken from our midst one of our most active and worthy members, Brother Geo. W. Hall, who, for the past thirty-five years was a true and trusty member of our Order, be it therefore

OBITUARY.

An Appreciative Tribute to Consistent Christian Life of the Late Mrs. Wm. Eyres.

The Christian Guardian has the following obituary notice of the late Mrs. William Eyres, who, until her death, was a resident of Peterborough and was beloved by all who knew her:

Died in great peace, at her home in Peterborough, on December 20th, 1902, Mary Jane Meharry, beloved wife of William Eyres, daughter of Robert and Letitia Meharry, and granddaughter of the late Rev. Moses Blackstock. Sister Eyres was born in the township of Cavan, Ont., on July 22, 1833, converted to God in 1851, and married to her now bereaved husband on March 17, 1853. Sister Eyres was a consistent member of the Methodist church for more than fifty years. Her experience was characterized by its even tenor, but when informed that her end was near, she said, "It is all right." When asked "What is your hope?" she replied, promptly, "Jesus helps me!" "Oh, He helps me now!" "Victory! Victory! washed in the blood of the Lamb." "All tears are wiped away." Then she repeated a verse of one of our hymns, "I'll praise my Maker while I've breath," on to the end. A little later, when all was quiet in the room, she said, "I hear them; I hear them!" "I see a great multitude, Grandpa, grandma, Carrie." Soon after, when her voice was almost gone, she said, "Pray." Her sister said, "For what shall we pray?" She replied, "Pray for the boys." With a prayer on her lips for her sons in the far west there passed away one of the gentlest and purest of Christian women. A more consistent life and triumphant death is rarely witnessed. Three sons and three daughters and a sorrowing husband are left to mourn their loss. J. P. W.

BEAUTIFULLY WROUGHT FLAG

Made to the Order of the Supreme Grand Lodge S. O. E.

Mr. J. J. Turner, of J. J. Turner & Sons, showed the Examiner a beautiful and beautifully made silk flag, a Union Jack. It was made for the Supreme Grand Lodge of the Sons of England, and is one of several supplied for presentation to lodges making the best record of increase in membership. The flag shown the Examiner is of the finest quality of silk and it is a splendid piece of workmanship. The combination of the crosses forming the union, is correct according to heraldic and historic requirements, and the stitching is beautifully uniform, neat and secure. Messrs. Turner & Sons claim to have facilities equal to the production of flags with the best, and are able to fill with guaranteed satisfaction an order for new colours for the 57th. Canadians have shown the Britishers the way to defend and to do credit to the flag in South Africa, and they are as capable of making a flag as of defending it.

A string of four bass that was brought up from Hastings last night by Mr. Bernard Matschke and Mr. D. Feudenburg, of New York, who are visiting in town, attracted great attention among those interested in things piscatorial. The two genial New Yorkers had spent the day fishing from Hastings to Rice Lake, with a pleasant party of railway men, who were chaperoned by Mr. W. Bunton. Great luck was enjoyed and not only was the catch large in number but Mr. Matschke landed one beauty that was the finest bass seen out of the waters in this district this year. This six-pounder with three others, all over five pounds, formed the string that attracted attention.

Mr. Matschke should be in line for the Tororto Star's champion rod for the largest bass caught in Ontario this season.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Chairman.

The report was adopted.

PUBLIC SCHOOL INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Gentlemen,—I beg to report as follows:—

(1) Attendance.

The attendance of the pupils during the past term was not very satisfactory. This may be accounted for by the fact that at the commencement of the year you were obliged to close your schools owing to a threatened epidemic of contagious diseases—the consequent anxiety occasioned thereby causing parents to detain their children from school long after there was any real necessity for such detention. In the second place the older pupils finding it easy to secure employment in the shops and factories of the town withdrew in larger numbers than usual.

Your Kindergarten classes suffered most from irregular attendance, you will have observed it was very low. It may not be out of place therefore to remark that the patrons of the kindergarten do not sufficiently realize that owing to the peculiar nature of the instruction, constant attendance is even more necessary in this first grade than in the higher forms, and that where regularity cannot be assured no great benefit can result from the kindergarten training.

(2) Discipline.

The conduct of pupils at school continues on the whole, excellent, and the teachers experience little, if any, difficulty in managing their respective classes. It is a matter for regret that there is little or no provision made for properly directing and supervising the pupils in their games and sports, and that there is nothing like ample accommodation in the way of play grounds for satisfactorily conducting such sports. There is no more important branch of education than that which provides for the child's physical training, and there is no place which can influence to such an extent as does the playground, the development of the character and the formation of good habits.

Whether anything can be done to supply the needs of your schools in this respect is a question which should receive your early consideration, for as the town increases in population the want of recreation grounds will be more and more keenly felt.

(3) Examinations.

At the recent promotion examinations out of 1161 pupils on the roll some 950 wrote, of whom 590 succeeded in passing. In addition to these 105 candidates from your schools wrote on the High School Entrance examinations, the results of which are not yet known. The per centage of successful pupils is not so large as in some former years, but must be considered satisfactory when the irregular attendance is taken into account.

From a scrutiny of the marks taken one would be led to infer that there is a greater degree of all round, thoroughness, there being fewer pupils than

HUGH BURNS AGAIN IN THE POLICE COURT.

A Charge of Assault Remained Unproven.

Notwithstanding the fact that he was fined $5.35 in the Police Court yesterday for being drunk and disorderly, Hugh Burns was found in that same condition last night and came up before Magistrate Dumble again this morning. He was mulcted to the same tune, with the alternative of 10 days imprisonment.

The Court was honoured with a visit from Annie O'Donnel, who appeared in answer to a charge of vagrancy. Constable Adams muttered something about sending her to an Asylum, to which Mr. Dumble answered,—"She's not a dangerous lunatic. What's the use of sending her there; better send her to the House of Providence." A spokesman in Annie's behalf stated that she had been there but that she had run away. She was finally given one month in goal with hard labour.

Old standing quarrels cause many Police Court cases. Had it not been for this Chas. Gravelle of the Township of Smith, would not have been charged with throwing a stone at a neighbour, Geo. Bell, an old time rival. Bell charged Gravelle with assault, which, however, he was unable to prove. The Magistrate said that there was no assault as the stone did not hit complainant.

LEO IS PROSTRATED.

Suffers Much Uneasiness and Difficulty in Breathing.

WAS RELIEVED BY CAFFEINE.

Pontiff May Have to Undergo Another Operation to Dispel the Gathering of Pleuric Liquid—A Delay Determined Upon—No Vital Change in Normal Process of His Disease.

Rome, July 17.—(2.25 a.m.)—The Pope's condition this morning is even less satisfactory than yesterday morning, and he suffered from much uneasiness and difficulty in breathing until relieved to some extent by an injection of caffeine. The new crisis in the Pope's condition presented itself yesterday, when the doctors were confronted on the one hand with the apparently imperative necessity of another operation, and on the other hand with the danger that such an operation might prove fatal. This dilemma was canvassed by Dr. Lapponi and Dr. Mazzoni throughout the day. At their earlier conference there was some prospect that the operation might not occur, and the doctors left the sick room without arriving at a definite determination as to when it would take place. They expressed the belief, however, that a delay until to-day would serve a useful purpose in permitting a larger extraction of serum in case the operation was undertaken. Meantime, the Pope continued in a state of great depression. Thanks to a fairly good afternoon's sleep, the physicians were also to issue a bulletin at 7.25 p.m., showing that there had been no vital change in the normal progress of the disease, though the same serious rapidity of breathing prevailed.

THE BULLETINS.

July 16.—12.40 p.m.—The doctors, after a thorough examination of the patient, have decided that the regathering of pleuric liquid, although serious, does not constitute immediate danger of dissolution, and, therefore, will defer an operation until the last possible moment.

July 17.—1.06 a.m.—The Pope is greatly disturbed by the difficulty of breathing, and is restless.

2.55 a.m.—Dr. Lapponi has again had recourse with beneficial effects, to an injection of caffeine, which had not been used for some days because of the Pope's dislike to it.

MOST DIRECT ROUTE

To the Cemetery—That's What Indigestion is Unless Promptly Checked and Cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Indigestion leads to Dyspepsia. Dyspepsia breeds Appendicitis, and so weakens the body that it easily leads to any infectious or contagious disease. The moral is, that Indigestion is the most direct route to the cemetery.

But that's not the worst of it. The disease itself so fills every day with despondency, every night with wakefulness or bad dreams, that life itself is not worth living.

Can't you see why you should stop your Indigestion before it fairly gets going. Can't you realize why you should use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will stop it. Anyone who has used them will tell you so. Alphonse Caron, of Montmagny, Quebec, tried them. He says:

"I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for Dyspepsia. They are excellent. They cured me completely."

NO GRAIN TO CARRY.

C.P.R. Argument Against the Grand Trunk Pacific Project.

Winnipeg, Man., July 17.—The last of the crop of 1902 having been shipped out in June, the grain elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur are practically empty, and there is less than a million bushels in the inland elevators, which will be used for local purposes. No grain cargoes are offering via the lakes, and the Canadian Pacific Railway is hauling empty cars east to take care of freight destined west.

The condition, which is chiefly owing to the enormous additions that have been made to the rolling stock of the Railway Companies, exists now for the first time since Western Canada became a grain exporting country.

A 25,000 ARMY FORCE.

England Will Police South Africa at Cost of $7,500,000.

London, July 17.—During the discussion of the army estimates in the House of Commons yesterday, War Secretary Brodrick said it had been decided to keep a force of 25,000 men permanently in South Africa, whence reinforcements could be readily despatched to India in the event of an attack on the frontier.

Mr. Brodrick added that the preparations for such a contingency was a timely step, and estimated that the extra cost of keeping this emergency force in South Africa would be $7,500,000 yearly.

Robber Fired Two Shots.

St. Catharines, July 17.—Tuesday night in an attempt to escape from Constable Howe of Port Dalhousie, who caught him in the Maple Leaf Rubber Company's works in that place, where he was presumably for the purpose of theft at between 11 and 12 o'clock at night, James Smiley fractured one of the bones of his leg. Edward Forcey of Toronto, who was with him, but who said he had not the slightest suspicion that robbery was intended, was released on his own recognizance by the magistrate. Smiley, after the jump by which he broke his leg, fired two shots at the constable, but fortunately neither took effect.

A Mother's Experiment In Grammar

Her little niece has been visiting them lately, and the queer ways she has of expressing herself keep the family amused whenever Bessie is about.

One funny little trick of hers is to ask for anything she wants in the plural. This habit is especially noticeable at the table. She will ask for "forks," "chops," "beefsteaks" and the like when it is only one thing she wants.

At dinner the other night her mother said: "Bessie, don't ask for rolls. You want only one at a time. Say 'Please give me a roll.'"

"Yes, mamma," said Bessie dutifully.

But quite soon came the request, "Please, may I have some more biscuits?"

"A biscuit," her mother corrected.

Bessie repeated the word carefully. And after that she got on swimmingly, for she was trying her little best to remember.

When the cheese was passed her eyes brightened. She loves it dearly, but is not often allowed to have it. She hesitated an instant and then leaned anxiously forward to her mother and said, in her soft, coaxing little voice:

"Mamma, will you please give me a chee?"

And she got some.—New York Times.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MRS. C. D. WENTWORTH.

A Portrait Painter Whose Work Is Highly Praised by the Critics.

Mrs. C. D. Wentworth, the New York portrait painter, is a daughter of F. C. A. Denkmann, the well known lumber dealer of Rock Island, and is a niece of Frederick Weyerhauser of St. Paul. After graduating from Wellesley college she began her study at the Chicago Art institute and then went to Munich and Paris, where her professors included Bouguereau, Ferrier, Aublet, Delance, Collot and Carl Marr.

Mrs. Wentworth paints portraits exclusively, and her work has been compared to that of Bonnat and Besnard by the critics of Paris and New York. Her paintings are boldly drawn and painted with full strong color. Her work has a virile quality, and owing to her natural ability and her exhaustive study of the line under Bouguereau her likenesses are always striking.

MRS. C. D. WENTWORTH.

Among the notable portraits that have been executed by Mrs. Wentworth are those of Moses King, the New York publisher; Mrs. H. D. Gardner and Mrs. Eugene Dexter Hawkins of New York, Mrs. William Bancroft Hill of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Miss Raymond, the daughter of Melville Raymond of Cincinnati.

The Ideal Woman.

The ideal woman is a woman without an ideal, says Mrs. F. H. Williamson's "Book of Beauty." She is easy to live with. She is worth living for. She is worth dying for. She is the high light in the charcoal drawing of humanity, man being the charcoal. She is the skylight in the edifice of the human life. She has no history. She has no story. She is the rhythm which transforms the prose of life into poetry. She wears a reasonable hat at matinees. She is too clever to talk of woman's rights; she takes them. She wears frocks that match her hair; she does not dye her hair to match her frocks.

She helps her husband to build up a future for himself and never seeks to rake up his past. She believes that a theory is the paper fortress of the immature and that a clergyman may still be a man. She knows that when men talk about a woman being good looking they mean that she is well dressed, though they don't know it. She does not insist upon her husband's eating up the cucumber sandwiches left over from one of her parties. She eats them herself and suffers in silence.

She is not such a fool as to fancy that any one is ever convinced by argument. She does not reason. She loves. She does not believe that a man can love only once or only one. She herself prefers loving much to loving many. She believes that the first woman was a hieroglyphic inscription and that every woman is but a "squeeze" of Eve. She knows that the key to the inscription is love. She knows that every real woman is the ideal woman, the fact being that every idea of the ideal woman is wholly dependent on the idealist, and every woman who is idolized is idealized.

Physicians are calling attention to the fact that influenza or grip has come to stay. In the larger cities there has been a marked increase in diseases affecting the organs of respiration, which increase is attributed to the prevalence of influenza. Persons who are recovering from grip or influenza are in a weak condition and peculiarly liable to pulmonary disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs, bronchitis, lung "trouble" and other diseases of the organs of respiration. It is the best tonic medicine for those whose strength and vitality have been exhausted by an attack of grip.

It purifies the blood, cleansing it of the poisonous accumulations which breed and feed disease. It gives increased activity to the blood-making glands, and so increases the supply of pure blood, rich with the red corpuscles of health.

"A word for your 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. E. A. Bender, of Keene, Coshocton Co., Ohio. "We have been using it as a family medicine for more than four years. As a cough remedy and blood-purifier there is nothing better, and after having the grip Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is just the right medicine for a complete bracing up."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs.

The sluggish liver is made active by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Nursing Babies.

It is advisable for every nursing mother to give her child at least one bottle of some kind of food in the twenty-four hours. Next to mother's milk the best food for infants is cow's milk. This should be well diluted. Commence with a young baby to dilute the milk at least five or six times, gradually increasing the strength of the food by using less water and more milk, until the food is about the strength of one-third milk and two-thirds water. This strength will answer for a child about three months old. The object in giving the baby other food thus early is merely a safeguard in case of accident. If the mother should fall ill or if for any other reason it should become necessary to wean the baby it does not have to be done suddenly, as sudden weaning is difficult and usually attended more or less with disaster. If you have accustomed the child to take other food than its natural nourishment matters are very much simplified. After the third month I would commence to give the baby two bottles a day until the sixth month is reached. The food in the meantime can be made a trifle stronger. Now begin to increase the strength and number of bottle feedings until the eighth month and the baby is entirely weaned from the breast.—Marianna Wheeler in New York Herald.

The Dead Line in Family Discipline.

In the sacred relation of parent to child there always comes a time when the boy becomes a man, when she whom the father still regards but as a little girl faces the great problems of life as an individual. The coming of years of discretion brings a day when the parents must surrender their powers of trusteeship, when the individual enters upon his heritage of freedom and responsibility. Parents have still the right and privilege of counsel and of helpful, loving insight their children should respect. But in meeting a great question, when the son or daughter stands before a problem that means happiness or misery for a lifetime, it must be for him or for her to decide. Coercion, bribery, undue influence, threats of disinheritance and the other familiar weapons are cruel, selfish, arrogant and unjust. A child is a human being, free to make his own life, not a slave. There is a clearly marked dead line that it is intolerance to cross. —From "The Power of Truth," by William George Jordan, Published by Brentano's.

Table Covers of Japanese Napkins.

Table covers made of Japanese napkins make a pretty effect. About thirty napkins are required for one cover. A thin sheet of wadding is placed between covers formed of four napkins arranged in a square, and the tablecloth is thus made reversible. A fringe is an essential bit of decoration, and twenty-four napkins are required for the making. They are slashed rather fine, each napkin being folded once, and a double row utilized for the fringe. A very pretty cover is made by using napkins which show a design of cups and saucers or pottery in Japanese effect. These napkins are not as easily procured as those ornamented with ordinary flower patterns. Napkins having similar designs are preferable, all green or blue, pink or corn color. Some dainty covers are formed of napkins in delft colorings.

Choosing a Husband.

A girl may feel certain on this point —as a man treats his mother and sisters so he will treat his wife six months after marriage. This may seem cold blooded, very far removed from the tender feelings which courtship induces, but a girl has a choice to make, a choice upon which the happiness of her whole life will depend, and there is always a time, whether she notices it or not, before she parts with the control of her heart at which she ought to listen to her judgment, says the Gentlewoman. Without better evidence than her own feelings she is very likely to make a mistake, but if she can assure herself that her lover is a man who is respected and liked by his male friends and is a favorite at home she may be pretty sure that in listening to his love she is choosing wisely.

The Thin Neck.

Unfortunately the possessor of a thin neck invariably pokes her head forward as she walks, and this ungraceful habit encourages what is termed "saltcellars" in the collar bone. The neck must be held erect, both to prevent and cure these ugly defects, and also a regular course of arm exercises is equally necessary. The arms must be raised vertically, the lungs being inflated at the same time with long, deep breaths. In bringing the arms to the side again care should be taken that the elbows are kept in position. A semicircular movement of the arms is also an excellent exercise, but the elbows must be kept rigid or else the hollows in the neck will be increased.

Physical Attractions.

A woman is very foolish to underrate physical attractions. They have a power, as do the beauties of nature. She is also foolish to lay too much stress upon them, since they are perishable. Mere beauty will never make the impression upon the world that a combination of beauty and brains always has and always will. Charming manners are an open sesame to the heart, whether or not they are accompanied by beauty.

NOTHING GOES RIGHT.

Nothing goes right while the stomach and bowels are wrong. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is the ideal remedy for all forms of stomach and bowel disorders. It aids digestion, improves nutrition, creates rich, red blood, firm flesh, and makes life worth living. Pleasant to take. al

Testing Wall Papers.

A very careful woman I know who five years ago built a new house before deciding on her wall papers carried home samples of those she liked best. Three or four of those of whose lasting qualities she stood in doubt faded badly after a few days' exposure to the sun, while others gave up much of their beautiful bloom and color when well rubbed with a duster. Her choice, of course, fell on the papers which stood a test, and she assured me they wear finely.—Good Housekeeping.

The Carpet.

Don't buy a bright colored carpet to put into rooms where the furniture is not to be correspondingly toned up. A "cheerful," assertive carpet will often make everything else in the room look faded and itself become a leading object in the room, whereas a carpet should always be background, and consequently lower in tone than the objects placed upon it.

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire, stock brokers, Hunter street, have received the following :—

Toronto, July 17th, 12.30 p. m. — The market was sailing along in fine shape when a heavy selling movement in A.C.P. upset things and led to a decline. The upward trend was again resumed this morning when C.P.I. cut up similar antics and again jarred confidence.

The N. Y. people have canvassed the country and report conditions sound and the public action of views helped the market, but the more business soundness of the country at large, the more pronounced the gloom on Wall Street. The belief is that there is more liquidation to be accomplished and that many stocks must come down to a five or six basis. For this reason we would sell stocks on all rallies and buy only on sharp declines.

LOCAL BOARD OF EDUCATION.

heretofore for whom an allowance had to be made on some one or other subject.

The greatest number of failures occurred as usual in arithmetic. In this subject there is apparently an increasdegree of accuracy in what is termed the "Mechanical Work", but there is much yet to be done before perfection is attained in this respect.

From the teaching of arithmetic the results do not seem to be commensurate with the time alloted to the subject on the school programmes, and it is surmised that there is perhaps too much instruction with not enough practice. It is the subject most of all in which the pupil should be required to do all work himself, the teacher directing where necessary, but with as little lecturing as possible.

(4) Writing.

In your schools, as in most schools throughout the Province, the vertical system of writing has been in use for several years. This system has of late been, somewhat generally, adversely criticised. With all its imperfections, however, it must be admitted that its introduction served a very useful purpose by causing writing to receive that attention which it had hitherto so sadly needed.

The chief points in favour of the system are (1) it is easy to teach (2) it is easy to learn (3) it produces writing which is in a very marked degree legible.

Experience seems to prove, however, that (1) the position to be assumed by the writer is neither an easy one or a natural one (2) the system gives little opportunity for the expression of individuality and (3) it is lacking in speed, due mainly to the fact that the writer uses the muscles of only fingers and wrist.

If you were to watch a class at work with this system you would note that the difficulty experienced in keeping to the vertical line, is so great that the exercise seems to be one rather for drawing than for writing. You would observe, also, that even with the pains taken, there is little really vertical writing, for in more than two out of every three cases, slant would be found, and this slant is invariable backwards.

Still further, you would observe that when the pupils are writing in their exercise books, other than their copy books, they seem to entirely ignore the position laid down for the vertical system for book, arm and body.

It is believed, therefore, that some improvement can be made upon the vertical system and it is here recommended that you sanction the adoption of what is known as the "Medial Slant" which retains much of the form of the letters which gives to the vertical system its legibility, and which at the same time introduces, that free movement of hand and arm and that position of the pen, book and body, best adapted for the attainment of speed.

A "Medial Slant" copy book is herewith submitted for your inspection. It is not intended, however, that these books are necessarily to be used by the pupils. The best results are obtained where the teacher sets his own headlines, using the blackboard for instruction and illustration.

The revised course of study proposed by the educational department will necessitate some change in the limits presented for your different classes. These will be arranged for by the time the schools resume in September.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

DUNCAN WALKER,
Inspector Public Schools.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Gentlemen, — Your Property Committee beg leave to report that with reference to the plans and estimates to be furnished by Mr. J. E. Belcher, they have not as yet been completed. Mr. Belcher says that he has the matter fairly on the way but that he has been so pressed with other business that he has not been able to complete it in a manner that he would consider satisfactory to place before the board. He promises to have the same ready for our September meeting.

Regarding repairs and improvements as authorized to be made during the summer vacation, we beg to advise that the same is under way. The West Ward school is being at the present time shingled. It is very difficult to get carpenters to take up repair work at the present time but we hope to have the whole completed in time for the opening.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

V. EASTWOOD,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

INQUIRY COMMITTEE.

Gentlemen, — Your Committee appointed to inquire into the question of municipal ownership of text books and supplies begs to report. A letter was addressed to the secretary of the School Board of each of the following cities and towns: Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, Hamilton, Brantford, London, Woodstock, Windsor, Berlin, Guelph, Owen Sound, Belleville, Brockville and Chatham. Answers were received from all except London and Brockville. Of those replying, Toronto, Kingston, Hamilton, Ottawa and Brantford, had adopted the system, while Owen Sound and Windsor had the matter now under consideration. You will notice that the most progressive cities and towns in Ontario already provide the text books and supplies in this way. We might say that Hamilton has had the system in use for fifty years or more, and Brantford for about forty years. From information received your committee is strongly of the opinion that it would be to the advantage of your Board to adopt the system, but before recommending the adoption of any particular plan your committee would ask that your board authorize the committee along with the Inspector to visit such schools as they may deem advisable in order hat they may submit to your Board the best plan for carrying into effect the proposed system, as well as the most convenient time for its adoption.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

WM. PRINGLE,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

It was moved and seconded that the Board adjourn until Thursday.

Printers' Picnic, August 1st.

JUNIORS PLAY FAST LACROSSE

Athletics II and T. A. S. II in an Exhibition Game.

Both Promising Aggregations—The Athletics put up a Clever Game—Score 0-0.

Two junior lacrosse organizations, each of which gives promise of developing into a strong senior team, played an exhibition game at the Murray street grounds last night. Athletics II and T.A.S. II were the teams playing, and each put up a good game. At times some very clever combination playing and excellent passing was exhibited, and when the players have become more experienced in shooting on goal, and in taking passes, they should prove rather serious problems for senior aggregations. No decisive victory was achieved by either team, as neither succeeded in locating the nets, although during the last quarter it was only the excellent work of O'Brien in the T.A.S. goal, that saved the latter. At half time Best was taken out of goal, and played his old position on the home, and as a result things became interesting at the T. A. S. goal. He made a number of shots which would have been goals with a less clever man in the net than O'Brien. The play during the first quarter was not particularly fast, and no material advantage was gained by either team, although the T.A.S. seemed to keep the ball at their opponents' end, they lacked accuracy in shooting, only one shot being made which looked dangerous, but Best easily prevented a score.

After this the players put more ginger into their work, and the game became much more interesting from a spectator's point of view. Each man watched his check closely, and although at times the playing was very fast and the players bunched, it was very clean, gentlemanly playing. In the second quarter the honours were very evenly divided; a number of shots were made on both goals, some of which were wild, and the dangerous ones gathered in by the men in the nets.

At half time a change was made on each team. O'Brien replaced Moloney in the T.A.S. goal, and Best exchanged with Kearns on the Athletics. Shortly after the play started, however, Whaley was injured and had to retire, Kearns going off to even up, and Vic. Hamilton went back into goal. The change in the line up strengthened the Athletics materially, and as a result they had decidedly the best of the argument during the last half. As the play progressed the shooting became more accurate, and taking passes was done with greater ease. Galley and Glover in this half did some excellent work, and broke up some dangerous combinations. During the last few minutes play however the Athletics' defence had a rest, as play was confined to the T.A.S. end, and it looked as though a score would be run up by the Athletics, who were then playing much the better game. O'Brien prevented this, and the referee's whistle blew without either team having scored a goal. The playing of both teams was most creditable, and they have material for teams which should hold their own in fast company. The play throughout was clean, only one man being ruled off, Whaley for one minute.

The teams at the face off lined up as follows :—

Athletics II. — Goal, E. Best; point, T. Glover; c. point, G. Galley; 1st defence, V. Hamilton; 2nd defence, C. Kemp; 3rd defence, E. Ford; centre, J. Bowes; 1st home, H. Long; 2nd home, W. Patterson; 3rd home, O. Dumble; outside home, J. Long; inside home, J. Kearn, field captain, Fred Clarke.

A DAY'S DROWNINGS

Miss Burns and Miss Edna Wright Were Precipitated Into the Water as the Craft Upset, But Latter Was Saved—Boy Drowned at London—Floater Found at Port Stanley.

Toronto, July 18.—The Humber claimed another victim last night about 6 o'clock. Miss Sadie Burns, daughter of Mrs. Burns, 285 Seaton street, widow of the late Mr Burns of Dudley & Burns, printers, being drowned in sight of her two companions only a short distance from shore. The fact that the other two young ladies, Miss Edna Wright, daughter of James Wright, 438 Sherbourne street, and Miss Alice Winnifreth, stenographer, with W. P. Sloan & Co., were saved, was chiefly due to the splendid efforts and presence of mind of Syd. A. Heyes, living at 1,405 West King street.

The three young ladies had hired a canoe and proceeded up the river to enjoy themselves, taking with them a camera, which, unfortunately, seems to have played an important part in the disaster which followed.

Miss Winnifreth, at the time of the accident, was on the shore taking pictures of her companions, who were in the canoe, a little from the bank when, in posing for the picture, the two fell into the water, the canoe drifting towards the shore. Miss Winnifreth, almost frantic, jumped into the canoe, and having no paddles, drifted out some distance fortunately to about where the two girls were struggling in the water. Just at this moment the cries and shouts of Miss Burns and Miss Wright attracted the attention of E. H. Hobberlin and Syd. A. Heyes, who were rowing in separate boats, a short distance above. Mr. Hobberlin arrived first, but owing to the fact that he was encumbered with a boat full, was unable to render much assistance. Mr. Heyes arrived a moment later, and succeeded in lifting Miss Wright into his boat. In the meantime Miss Burns had sunk. Her body was not recovered until an hour later. The young woman who lost her life was 19 years of age.

Drowned at London.

London, July 18.—Thomas Irwin, a boy 13 years of age, was drowned yesterday morning in the Thames at the foot of Egerton street. He could not swim and went beyond his depth. His companions were smaller and unable to render any assistance, and by the time he was got out of the water the boy was beyond resuscitation. Edward Irwin, an attendant at the asylum, is the father of the boy.

Found Floating Body.

Port Stanley, July 18.—At three o'clock yesterday afternoon Miss Stella Campbell of London, while walking along the shore near the Fraser House, discovered the body of a woman about 22 years of age, dressed in black, brown hair, straw hat trimmed with velvet, black stockings, lace shoes and sateen waist. She had not been in the water very long.

Both Were Drowned.

Syracuse, N.Y., July 18.—Charles Long and Florence Miller were drowned to-day at Saranac Lake. The two were in a row boat.

THE POPE STATIONARY.

Fear, However, Rests on All—Liquid of Pleura Can Not Be Absorbed by August Patient.

Rome, July 18.—From last night's examination of the Pope it appears that the liquid in the pleura remains at about the same level, which is marked with a dermographic pencil on the Pontiff's side. The physicians think the liquid amounts to about 1,200 grammes. Considering the physical conditions of the Pope, the doctors do not believe it possible that his body can absorb it as might a strong, young, well-nourished organism.

After the visit of the physicians, the new Pope received Cardinal Rampolla, who remained in the sick room only a few minutes. He again gave the Pontiff a full report of the prayers offered in his behalf all over the world. His Holiness, raising both hands, said: "I bless all those who pray to God for me."

THE BULLETINS.

Rome, July 17, 9.05 a. m.—Dr. Mazzoni entered the Pontiff's bedroom at 8.30 o'clock this morning, after Dr. Lapponi had reported to him how His Holiness had passed the night. He found the patient, as Pope Leo himself said, "unrefreshed and tired." His Holiness complained that, while the doctor had promised that his illness would not last long, it is now two weeks since he went to bed. The Pontiff prefers to sit up in bed, as in that position he feels less oppression on his lungs and can breath more easily. Dr. Mazzoni spent much time in examining him. As His Holiness is reduced almost to a skeleton, if a new operation is decided on, it will not be because of any hope of saving the patient's life, but simply for the purpose of rendering the death agony less acute.

9.30 a. m.—The following bulletin has just been issued by Pope Leo's physicians: "His Holiness had during the night some hours of sleep, together with short periods of slight excitement. The level of the pleuric liquid is maintained within the limits already noted without seriously troubling the Pontiff. The personal condition of the august patient presents no noteworthy change. His pulsation is 88, respiration 30 and temperature 36.5 centigrade. (Signed) Lapponi, Mazzoni."

12.20 p. m.—The Pope complained of suffering from soreness, owing to lying down so long, and succeeded in sitting up. He then rose momentarily from the bed and seated himself in his arm chair.

4.10 p. m.—The Pope received Monsignor Pifferi, his confessor, and then had a short sleep. No change in the Pontiff's condition is apparent.

6.15 p. m.—Dr. Lapponi, answering an inquiry on emerging from the sick room a short time ago, said: "I cannot say that the Pope is better, but he is no worse. His condition continues grave, but he may linger for some time."

8 p. m.—The day has been passed calmly enough. The august patient had intervals of rest, and his general condition is a little less depressed. Pulsation, 58; respiration, which is less superficial, 32; temperature, 36.6 centigrade.

July 18, 2.15 a. m.—The Pope is now reported to be in a somewhat quieter sleep than he had last night, although his breathing is perhaps not so easy.

4.10 a. m.—After having some sleep the Pope appeared to be again restless and required the frequent assistance of Dr. Lapponi and his valet, Centra.

A Marvelous Story.

Paris, July 18.—The Rome correspondent of The Galois says that when Dr. Mazzoni entered the sick room yesterday morning and found the Pope seated in his arm chair and feeling less exhausted, he said: "What would you say, Holy Father, if the doctor transformed himself into a photographer."

"By all means, my good Mazzon," replied Pope Leo, smiling. Dr. Mazzoni then produced a camera and took a dozen pictures of Pope Leo, who was taken seated, with Dr. Lapponi standing beside him and his valet, Centra, kneeling at his feet.

THE KOLAPORE CUP.

Canadian Marksmen Shoot in the Gregory, the Steward and the Golden Penny Competitions at Bisley.

Bisley, July 18.—The conditions for shooting yesterday were most favorable, and as a result much better scores were made. The weather cleared and a very light breeze was blowing. Col. Sherwood decided to have the entire Canadian team shoot in the "Gregory," "Steward" and "Golden Penny" competitions, with a view of picking out the squad to fire for the "Kolapore Cup." They are all competing, with the exception of Russell. The following scores were made in the "Gregory:" W. A. Annand, 43rd, 35; John Crowe, 30th, 28; W. Drysdale, 1st, 31; A. Elliott, 12th, 31; T. H. Hayhurst, 13th, 32; J. M. Jones, 82nd, 34; W. C. King, 46th, 30; H. Morris, 28; R. McGregor, C.G.F.C., 27; R. Naughton, 5th, 29; E. C. O'Brien, 30th, 32; J. T. Poddie, 5th, 33; J. H. Simpson, 10th R.G., 30; J. W. Smith, 21st, 33; R. J. Spearing, 53rd, 32; J. D. Stuart, 6th, 32; E. Skedden, 13th, 30; G. H. Vroom, 69th, 33; J. White, 13th, 35.

For the Golden Penny.

Later in the day when firing for the "Golden Penny" the wind changed and became very shifty. The competitors also complained of a very bad light.

While the morning broke fine it afterwards became overcast, although no rain fell. The following scores were made: Annand 27, Crowe 27, Drysdale 28, Elliott 23, Hayhurst 28, Jones 28, King 28, Morris 25, McGregor 25, Naughton 32, O'Brien 31, Peddie 25, Simpson 32, Smith 27, Spearing 26, Stuart 33, Skedden 25, Vroom 31, White 28.

Firing in Bad Light.

While firing for the "Steward" the light was still bad, but some fair scores were made: Annand 31, Crowe 30, Drysdale 29, Elliott 33, Hayhurst 32, Jones 28, King 33, Morris 31, McGregor 31, Naughton 32, O'Brien 31, Peddie 31, Simpson 30, Smith 33, Spearing 30, Stuart 34, Skedden 33, Vroom 29, White 31.

SALVAGE DENIED FOR KING'S BOAT.

Though Furnessia Went to Rescue of Government Boat, It Loses Suit.

London, July 18—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has dismissed the appeal of the Anchor Line and upheld the decision of the Newfoundland Supreme Court, that the Anchor Line steamer Furnessia could not claim remuneration for the salvage of the Canadian Government steamer Scotia, which, while adrift and short of coal, provisions and water, was taken in tow in September, 1901, and brought to St. John's, Nfld., by the Furnessia. The Judicial Committee's decision was on the ground that the Scotia belonged to Canada, and was, therefore, the King's property. The Lord Chancellor, in delivering judgment, suggested that the Dominion Government should nevertheless grant the Anchor Line compensation, otherwise ship masters would hesitate to assist distressed vessels belonging to the King.

More Scotch Mechanics Arrive.

Quebec, July 18.—The SS. Lake Erie, of the C.P.R. Line, from Liverpool, arrived in port at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. On board was a party of about 170 Scotch mechanics. These men are brought out by the Canadian Electric Company, to work at their extensive plant in Toronto.

THE JURY'S VERDICT

Edmund Matthews Died at the Hands of Oliver Richardson.

SHOT WITH INTENT TO KILL.

Matthews Was on His Own Property at the Time He Met His Death—Witnesses Swear Richardson Said Several Times That He Would Shoot the Colored Man — Back to Jail.

Harrow, July 18.—The adjourned coroner's inquest on the death of Edmund Matthews was opened yesterday morning, and the evidence of eight more witnesses was heard. The evidence of the dying man was corroborated by that of his son, who was present at the time of the shooting.

Several of the witnesses had heard Richardson on different occasions say he would shoot Matthews. Matthews had been aggravated intensely and constantly by Richardson in matters of the line fence, but the only witness who stated that he had heard Matthews make any threatening statements was Richardson's son.

The previous owner of the Richardson farm had never experienced any difficulty in getting along with Matthews.

After the jury has been out an hour they brought in the following verdict, which was entirely unanimous:

"Edmund Matthews came to his death on July 11 by a wound caused by a bullet shot from a pistol on July 10 in the hands of Oliver Richardson, with intent to kill, while Matthews was on his own property in the third concession of the Township of Colchester, south County of Essex."

Richardson and his wife were present during the whole sitting of the jury, and took everything very coolly, but always paid good attention to the evidence.

Detectives Campeau and Mahoney were with Richardson and took him back to Sandwich County jail.

Coroner Ordered Post Mortem.

Stratford, July 18.—A great deal of excitement exists here over the strange death of James Smith of Edgecombe Corners on Thursday morning. When the body was picked up a V shaped wound was found on the head which, it was thought at first, had been caused by falling on something. But investigation shows conclusively that there is nothing the man could fall on which would produce such a wound. An inquest was held Thursday night by Dr. Rankin, and he ordered a post-mortem examination. The jury will meet again next Tuesday.

Youth Had Too Many Wives.

Hamilton, July 18.—Yesterday afternoon the police arrested Herman Winger, a young man 26 years of age, for having more wives than the law allows His two wives put their two heads together and set the police after him. Wife No. 1 has three little children, the youngest of which is only nine months old. Wife No 2 is Hattie Stewart, who makes her home with Mrs. Buckingham, near the corner of James and Stuart streets. She has a certificate showing that she was married to Winger on June 20 at Niagara Falls, N.Y. After a brief honeymoon the couple returned to this city, where Winger has been dividing his attentions between them, sometimes living with one and then the other.

Wingham Strikers Fined.

Wingham, July 18.—The trial of the striking moulders for assaulting a man on the 13th took place here yesterday before Mayor Vanstone and Magistrate Dulmage, and on the evidence one of the strikers was fined $10 and costs.

POPE PASSED A SLEEPLESS NIGHT.

Latest Bulletin From Vatican Says his Condition is Unchanged.

Rome, July 18.—9.40 a.m. — Official Bulletin.—The Holy Father passed a sleepless night, but since the first hours of the morning His Holiness had quiet repose. His respiration is calm and not superficial, because the level of the pleuric liquid has sunk. Respiration 28; pulse, weak, 88; temperature, 36.2 Centigrade. His general condition has remained unchanged.

Rome, July 18. — 5 p.m. — The Pope slumbered most of the afternoon, received nobody, and took a moderate amount of nouriahment.

Good Views.

Messrs. Code, students of Queen's University, representing Underwood & Underwood, the largest stereoscopic view firm in the world, are canvassing the town in the interests of their company. We have had the pleasure of looking over their samples and have no hesitation in stating that it is the finest collection of views we have ever seen. The variety comprises everything that one could wish for, including superb views of the South African war, beautiful miscellaneous scenery, choice comics, and a collection of hand paints and coronation views which are models of excellence. Kindly do yourself and Mr. Code the justice of looking at his samples when he calls. ws

A Former Resident.

Mr. J. W. Sheridan, of Brooklyn, N.Y., is in town renewing acquaintances. Mr. Sheridan will be remembered by the older residents of the town as having been in the book and stationery business on George street, and had the distinction of being the first business man to install a plate glass window in his store. He has not visited Peterborough for 10 years, and is much impressed with the substantial improvements everywhere seen. Mr. Sheridan contemplates taking a fishing trip up the lakes before returning to his American home, and expresses the hope that he may be more successful than on previous expeditions when he always succeeded in hooking the largest fish, which, however, usually got back to its native element.

LICENSE LAW ADMINISTERED

Where the Responsibility Really Belongs.

Municipalities and Citizens Have Their Share of It.

The following letter effectively deals with contentions of the Toronto News regarding theer epponsibility of the Government for the local administration of the License Law:—

To the Editor of the News: I will thank you for a little space for a few observations in reply to your editorial published on the 8th instant, headed "The License System."

In a previous communication I have endeavoured to show that many years ago, in obedience to public sentiment, the law had been changed and the power or authority to grant tavern and shop licenses had been withdrawn from the Municipal Councils, and placed in the hands of a more independent body or one less likely to be influenced by the votes of the applicants for such licenses. I pointed out that after a full discussion on the floor of the House the Legislature decided that a board of three persons, to be selected by the Government, would best meet the demands of the people. You do not object to the principle so laid down and embodied in the Act, but you claim that as the members of the board hold office for one year only it is in the power of the Government to appoint annually men who will use their position and their power for party purposes. You do not ask for any change in the law, but you do ask that more independent man should be selected. Your charges are of a very general and sweeping nature, and as such are difficult to answer. You give no specific instances that may be examined and enquired into, but you quote Mr. Raney, who in a few instances disagrees with the opinions entertained by the then Boards of the Yorks, and give an undue weight thereto, because he is a Liberal in politics, and as such exposes the shortcomings of his party. I think I have also shown that Mr. Raney's charges in the case of the alleged fraudulent census, should have been made against the Municipal Council, and not against the Government; and in the other cases, he simply differed in opinion with the boards in regard to their modes of administration. You would seem to imply, because Mr. Raney is a Liberal and expresses his views adversely to the conduct of the board, he speaks from an inner circle, and hence his matter must necessarily carry conviction. It is more than probable that very many other Liberals could be found within the Province who, like Mr. Raney, disapprove of certain actions of the boards in their several localities. This they have a perfect right to do, because it is perfectly well known that men differ in opinion in regard to the most trivial matters of life.

There is probably no law on the statute books that is attended with more difficulties in its administration than the Liquor License Act. It should also be remembered that it must be administered by human aid, and so long as man is created with his many frailties and failings perfection need not be looked for. The best that can be done with the means at command is being done, and, comparing the present with the past, no one can truly say that much good has not been accomplished. It is impossible, in the administration of this law, to lay down rigid rules for the guidance of each board. Public sentiment in each locality must be considered. In practice it is found that a rigid enforcement of the law meets with support and approval in some districts. In others a little more latitude must be considered. A very good illustration of this was met with in the enforcement of the Local Option Act. You will remember at one time that local option was in force in twenty-eight counties. An honest effort was made to enforce it. Offenders were prosecuted and at the trials the court-rooms would be filled with sympathizers of the defendants. On the side of the Crown, the Inspector, with his solicitor, stood alone. Although this Act has been carried by large majorities, these were conspicuous by their absence at the time of trial. There was abundance of sympathy for the defendant, but not for the prosecution. The natural result followed, and the several bylaws were repealed. Notwithstanding this lack of support and consequent failure there were those who blamed the Government.

In view of your sweeping charges against both the Government and the Boards of Commissioners, has it not occurred to you that if all you say is true, the members of the Opposition would have known something of it? They are in intimate touch with all of the constituencies, and if wrongs have been done they would have heard of it locally. What better political capital could be made than by simply substantiating your statements? The floor of the House is the best place to expose wrong doing, because papers and evidence can be called for. What inference is to be drawn from this fact? Again, if true, your charges would have resulted in all, or nearly all, the licenses being in the hands of Liberals, whereas the Conservative holders are in a very considerable majority. You cite one instance, that of a prominent member of the Legislature, who traded off a license for a few temperance votes. I agree with you that this was most reprehensible. But you cite this in support of your general charges against the Boards and the Government. It is weak in this respect, that you have not connected the transaction with either. For aught that appears the member may not have confided his little deal to the Board, and the license may have been attacked on other grounds, and the Board dispensed with it for a very good reason. You ask, who forced the municipal council in North York to take the fraudulent census? I answer, the law. The Dominion census showed a reduction in the number of inhabitants. One license had to go. The Board selected the victim, but Mr. Raney did not approve. Why should Mr. Raney's opinion prevail over that of the Board? I have heretofore pointed out that there is no compulsion on the part of municipal councils to take a census. They did so in this case; that should have been accepted as an evidence of approval on the part of the council of the issue of a third license. You have assumed that the approval had reference to the licensing of this particular house. Have you any evidence that the same thing would not have happened if the Board had decided to cut off either of the others? If you have, it would in a measure, support your contention.

Now, Mr. Editor, I have stated that the administration of the License Act is attended with many difficulties. The Government has no divine agencies to assist them, and they must do the best they can with the material and the law at their disposal. Furthermore, the Government has always been ready to listen to complaints and to investigate charges. It is a rule of the Anglo-Saxon that no man shall be condemned unheard. If you have the facts that support your charges and will submit them here, they will be enquired into, and an effort made to correct wrongs, if they are found to exist. I will, in closing, make a special request. I presume you have all the particulars of the transaction to which you have referred, whereby a license was swapped for votes. Will you kindly furnish them that they may be inquired into? The district and the year should be specially mentioned.

THE DANGERS OF CHILDHOOD.

Summer is the most deadly season of the year for the little ones. The little life hangs by a mere thread; diarrhoea, infant cholera and other hot weather ailments come quickly and sometimes in a few hours, extinguish a bright young life. Every mother should be in a position to guard against or cure these troubles and there is no medicine known to medical science will act so promptly so surely and so safely as Baby's Own Tablets. A box of the Tablets should be kept in every home where there there are little ones, and by giving an occasional Tablet hot weather ailments will be prevented and your Little ones will be kept well and happy. Don't delay until the trouble comes—that may be too late. Remember that these ailments can be prevented by keeping the stomach and bowels right. Mrs. A. Vandervver, Port Colborne, Ont., says: "My baby was cross and restless and had diarrhoea. I gave her baby's Own Tablets and they helped her almost at once. I think the Tablets a splendid medicine for children."

The Tablets are guaranteed to cure all the minor ailments of little ones; they contain no opiate or poisonous drug, and can be given safely to a new born babe. Sold by medicine dealers, or mailed at 25 cents a box, by writing to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Your druggist will refund you your money if you are not satisfied after using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

SOME HAPPENINGS IN THE NORTHERN TOWN.

Personal Mention and Other Happenings of Interest at Lakefield.

A largely attended meeting of the West Peterborough Women's Institute, was held in the Foresters' Hall at Lakefield, on Wednesday afternoon. The energetic and much honoured president, Mrs. Graham, occupied the chair.

The secretary, Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald, read the minutes of the previous meeting, after which the president introduced Miss Morgan, a graduate of the Technical School in Toronto, who gave a number of recipes and demonstrations on how to prepare many dainty dishes. The ladies present were allowed to sample the articles cooked, and they were highly enjoyed and praised by all.

After this part of the programme was disposed of, Mrs. Colin Campbell of Goderich, was introduced. Mrs. Campbell has been an active worker on what has been termed one of the most flourishing institutes of the country, and she gave a very interesting and instructive talk along the line of "Women's Institutes, and how to make the meetings interestings. In outlining the work many suggestestions were given, which will, no doubt, bear fruit in season.

The meeting then adjourned to partake of a dainty luncheon prepared by the members of the West Peterborough Institute.

At eight o'clock the ladies again assembled in the hall when an excellent programme was given.

The first selection was a violin solo by Miss Fitzgerald, which was well rendered.

Mrs. Colin Campbell then gave an address on the "Housekeeper and the scientific cook." Mrs. Campbell pointed out the advantage of the scientific cook and housekeeper over the unscientific. These, she pointed out, were along the line of

1. Economy—three-fold — in time, labour and material.

2. Health — physical, by rendering food more digestible; mental, by the avoidance of worry, caused through ignorance, and,

3. Especially the added interest given by a scientific knowledge of what we are doing.

A vocal solo, "You Tell Me your dream and I'll tell you mine," was given by Miss Doidge, which was much appreciated. Miss Morgan then gave a talk on "Laundry Work," touching on the use of chemicals in the laundry, different methods of washing white clothes, removal of stains, the washing of cloured clothes and flannels, which was highly instructive and interesting. A well rendered duett on violin and harp, was then given by Misses Fitzgerald and Doidge. A hearty vote of thanks to the visitors was moved by Mrs. B. C. Gale, and seconded by Miss Burgess, for their valuable and instructive addresses. Miss Campbell thanked the ladies for their kind vote of thanks.

The ladies are certainly to be congratulated on the success of their meeting which revealed the opportunities and advantages open to the women of to-day, who have themselves to blame if they do not profit by them. It is to be hoped the West Peterborough Women's Institute will flourish even more in future than it has in the past. The ladies who were not present certainly missed a very great treat.

Mrs. Campbell and Miss Morgan both claimed this was one of the best meetings held in the district.

Sunshine Furnace

OPEN DAMPERS—BACK TO BED.

The "Sunshine" consumes so little fuel during the night that plenty remains to make an instant and strong fire when the dampers are opened in the morning. The operator may then return to his warm, cozy bed while the house is heating—heats in 15 or 20 minutes.

Self-acting gas damper works automatically so that disagreeable odors always escape through the gas-pipe — never pass through registers into the house.

The "Sunshine" is simple in construction, easy to operate, requires very little attention and will produce more heat from the same amount of fuel than any other heater.

Costs no more than common furnaces.

MAY SPEAK TUESDAY

Sir Wilfrid Will Then Expound the G. T. P. R. Policy.

REPUDIATED BY THE PREMIER

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Knew Nothing of the Article in the Toronto News—Premier Tells Mr. Borden of G.T.P. Resolutions—City of Ottawa Bill—Mr. Scott Condemns Policy of Abusing Settlers.

Ottawa, July 18.—The conferences between the Cabinet and the representatives of the Grand Trunk Pacific Co. are practically at an end, and it is likely that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will expound the Government policy to the House on Tuesday next. Should this turn out to be the case, morning sittings will begin the following day. It is not expected, however, that the session will close until 1st September, if then. The Opposition say they will discuss the Government's railway policy for a month. The rumors of Cabinet changes have practically ceased with the statement that Mr. Fielding will act as Minister of Railways until the end of the session.

Repudiated by the Premier.

Before the orders of the day were called Sir Wilfrid Laurier read an article which appeared in La Patrie yesterday in the form of a letter, in which the statement was made: "Somebody who thinks he knows informs me that the offensive article which appeared in The Toronto News was inspired by the Premier himself." Sir Wilfrid said that this matter came up incidentally yesterday, and he had only to say that there was no foundation at all for this statement. Neither directly nor indirectly, nor in any shape or form, had he inspired it, and he had not known of its publication until his attention was called to it yesterday.

Wreck of the Monterey.

Hon. Mr. Prefontaine read a despatch published in the press respecting the wreck of the S.S. Monterey, and explained that the fact that the point where the mishap occurred was 140 miles distant from the nearest Canadian territory and in foreign waters exonerated the department of Marine and Fisheries from blame. The ship should not, he said, have been near enough to St. Pierre to strike. Safety could only be secured by giving a good offing to all difficult points.

The Railway Policy.

Mr. R. L. Borden again called the attention of the Government to the extreme desirability of having the railway policy of the Government brought down during the present session, and asked for some information in the first place as to whether or not that policy would be brought down this session, and if so at what date.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, stated that he expected to be able to bring down certain resolutions dealing with the railway policy of the Government some time next week, perhaps earlier, and he hoped to be able to take up the discussion of the subject, perhaps not next week, but probably the earlier part of the week following, because he supposed the leader of the Opposition would require some days to prepare for the discussion. He would not, however, bind himself, and suggested that Mr. Borden renew his question on Monday or Tuesday.

City of Ottawa Bill.

Mr. Fielding's bill to amend the act of 1899 respecting the city of Ottawa was passed through its final stages. During the discussion in committee the question of piling lumber within the city limits was the subject of debate. Mr. Fielding stated that there was no question of absolute right or wrong in this matter, and the City Council was dealing with the matter.

Mr. Fielding's bill respecting Government and postoffice savings banks was also given its final stages.

In Committee of Supply immigration again formed the chief subject of debate, and Mr. Walter Scott took occasion to warmly defend the character of the settlers now pouring into the west. The Geological Survey was discussed during the afternoon. A large block of items were passed. The House rose at 11.20.

Gave His Shares Away.

Ottawa, July 18. — Hon Sydney Fisher was a witness at the Public Accounts Committee yesterday in reference to some accounts of The Montreal Herald. Mr. Fisher said that he had transferred his interests in The Herald, amounting to a good many thousand dollars to his brother, Roswell C. Fisher, after he took office. No consideration was received or asked, as the shares were of no value. Mr. Fisher did not remember whether he had given anything to The Herald in the way of cash since he became Minister. He had previously assisted the paper.

Sir Richard Ill.

Ottawa, July 18. — Sir Richard Cartwright is down with a severe attack of grippe at his residence, "The Maples," Kingston. He will be unable to be in Ottawa for some days yet.

Barn Raising Accident.

Newtonville, July 18.—Four men were injured Thursday at a barn raising at Charles Hancock's, two miles northwest of here. They were standing on a scaffold made by placing planks across three poles, when the middle pole gave way, letting them fall a distance of 20 feet to the floor. Frederick Hancock, Milton Graham and W. J. Robinson received a few bruises and sprained ankles, while Mr. Henning's carpenter from Newcastle had the planks fall on him. It is feared he is hurt internally. The escape of all was miraculous.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. It is especially valuable for summer diarrhoea in children and is undoubtedly the means of saving the lives of a great many children each year. For sale by all druggists.

The Baby in Summer

The heated term is always a trying one for infants: it is therefore of the utmost importance that the baby should be well nourished and its strength maintained and increased, to enable it to withstand the enervating effects of the hot weather. This result can be attained with absolute certainty by the use of FERROL, (The Iron Oil Food.) Babies like it and it always agrees with them.

JAMES INNES DEAD.

Veteran Journalist and Parliamentarian Died of Heart Disease at Sydney, C.B., on His Way to Newfoundland.

Guelph, July 18.—A telegram received here at 3.50 p.m. yesterday announced the death at Sydney, C. B., of Mr. James Innes, ex-M.P. for South Wellington. Mr. Innes was on his way to spend a month with his old friend Mr. Reid of St. John's, Newfoundland. The announcement was most unexpected to his numerous friends in the city, as he went away on Monday last in the best of health and spirits, expecting to enjoy a pleasant holiday. Mr. Innes was a native of Huntley, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, born on Feb. 1st, 1833. He was educated there and at the Aberdeen Grammar School. For five years he taught school before coming to Canada with the family in 1853. After a short time working around he devoted himself to journalism, and was reporter and associate editor on several leading newspapers in those days, including The Colonist. The Toronto Globe under the management of the late George Brown, The Hamilton Times, and The Guelph Advertiser. In 1862, in company with the late John C. McLagan, proprietor of The Vancouver World, he took hold of The Mercury and made it a success in the Reform interests. After Mr. McLagan's retirement from the firm Mr. Innes carried on the business alone for a number of years, when he took into partnership his brother-in-law, Mr. John A. Davidson, and they made The Mercury one of the best local papers outside of Toronto and London. In July, 1898, Messrs. Innes and Davidson retired, their interests being bought out by his nephew, James Innes McIntosh, and Mr. F. W. Galbraith.

Mr. Innes was married in 1873 to Helen Gerrard, widow of Jonathan Dale, Planter, Granada, W.I., also a native of Aberdeenshire. They had no family. Mrs. Innes died four years ago.

Death of Unique Artist Whistler.

London, July 18.—James Abbott McNeill Whistler died yesterday, at his residence, at 79 Cheyenne walk, Chelsea, at the age of 73. His death came unexpectedly, although for some time he had been seriously ill. The papers publish elaborate obituary notices, recognizing the distinguished and unique personality of Whistler.

Dr. Neilson, Ex-M.P.P., Dead.

Winnipeg, July 18.—Dr. W. J. Neilson, member for North Winnipeg in the last Manitoba Legislature, died yesterday afternoon, after an illness extending over several months. He was born in Perth, Ont., in 1854.

MOST DIRECT ROUTE

To the Cemetery That's What Indigestion is Unless Promptly Checked and Cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Indigestion leads to Dyspepsia. Dyspepsia breeds Appendicitis, and so weakens the body that it easily leads to any infectious or contagious disease. The moral is, that Indigestion is the most direct route to the cemetery.

But that's not the worst of it. The disease itself so fills every day with despondency, every night with wakefulness or bad dreams, that life itself is not worth living.

Can't you see why you should stop your Indigestion before it fairly gets going. Can't you realize why you should use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will stop it. Anyone who has used them will tell you so. Alphonse Caron, of Montmagny, Quebec, tried them. He says:

Italian Boy Ate Poison.

Stratford, July 18.—Gasharo Rosso, the little son of Mr. Frank Rosso, the Italian fruit merchant on Downie street, died yesterday morning from the effects of eating some poisonous mixture which he and his two older sisters found near their home. All three were taken sick but the two girls responded readily to an emetic and will recover, but the boy did not and the efforts of the attending physicians were of no avail.

Fell 150 Feet.

Halifax, N. S., July 18.—Jesse Murphy and D. Donovan, while repairing the steeple of the R. C. Cathedral, fell to the ground, a distance of 150 feet. Murphy will die; Donovan is badly injured.

Found Dead.

Stratford, July 18.—Philip Hartling, a retired farmer, living in Gadshill, was found dead in his yard yesterday morning. Death is attributed to heart failure. Deceased was aged 68 years.

Chief Constable Committed.

Milton, July 18.—Chief Constable Bradley was yesterday committed for trial by G. Hume, J.P., for an assault on William Ward on July 9, while making an arrest.

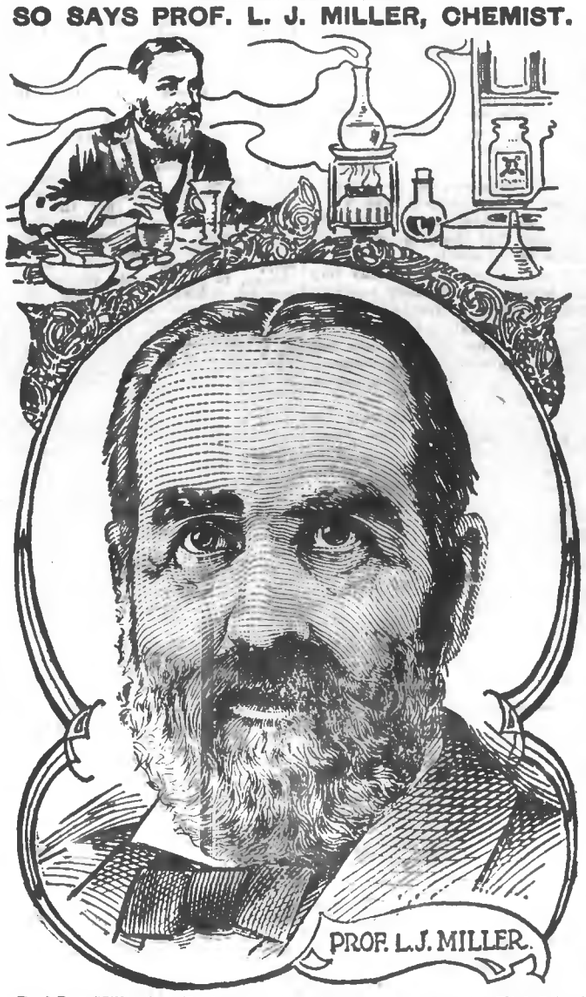
Enormous Growth.

Ever since Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were first introduced to the public the sales have steadily increased, each year being larger than the year preceding. This is probably the best evidence of their remarkable efficiency, as a treatment for derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels. They are invaluable as a family medicine.

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS

Reveals That "Pe-ru-na is Calculated to Tone up the System, Restore the Functions and Procure Health."

SO SAYS PROF. L. J. MILLER, CHEMIST.



Prof. L. J. Miller, late Professor of Chemistry and Botany of the High School of Ypsilanti, Mich., writes from 3327 N. Clark Street, Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"As several of my friends have spoken to me of the favorable results obtained through the use of Peruna, especially in cases of catarrh, I examined it most thoroughly to learn its contents.

"I found it composed of extracts of herbs and barks of most valuable medicinal qualities combined with other ingredients, delicately balanced, calculated to tone up the system, restore the functions and procure health.

"I consider Peruna one of the most skillfully and scientifically prepared medicines, which the public can use with safety and success."—PROF. L. J. MILLER.

"Builds up the System."

Hon. Joseph H. Ridgeway, Secretary of the American Anti-Treat Society, writes the following letter from the Grand Central Hotel, St. Paul, Minn.:

Joseph Ridgeway.

"It is with great pleasure that I endorse Peruna as an honest medicine, competent to do all it claims. I have used it several times and know of nothing that cures so completely, and at the same time builds up the system.

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends and always feel that I do them a service for I know how satisfactory the results invariably are. I only wish every family had a bottle—it would save much sickness and doctor bills."—Joseph H. Ridgeway.

"Feel Better Than for Five Years."

Mr. James B. Taylor, Roberts, Ind., writes:

"I am at the present time entirely well. I can eat anything I ever could. I took five bottles of Peruna, and feel better now than I have for five years. I have doctored with other doctors off and on for fifteen years, so I can recommend your medicine very highly for stomach troubles. I take great pleasure in thanking you for your free advice and Peruna."—James B. Taylor.

"I Enjoy my Meals as I Used to."

Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Wolf Lake, Ind., writes:

"I am pleased to say that I have been cured of catarrh of the stomach by Peruna. I could hardly eat anything that agreed with me. Before I would get half through my meal my stomach would fill with gas causing me much distress and unpleasant feelings for an hour or two after each meal. But, thanks to your Peruna, I am now completely cured, and can eat anything I want to without any of the distressing symptoms. I can now enjoy my meals as I used to do, and it is all due to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful medicine, Peruna.

"It has been one year since I was cured, and I am all O. K. yet, so I know I am cured."—J. W. Pritchard.

Dyspepsia is a very common phase of summer catarrh. A remedy that will cure catarrh of one location will cure it anywhere. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. That it is a prompt and permanent cure for catarrh of the stomach the above letters testify.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

ST. PETER'S T.A.S. TEAM WINS FROM LINDSAY

The Score Was 6-4 in a Rough Game Yesterday.

A Good Crowd Witnesses a Stiff Contest in the Scugog Town.

The T.A.S. Lacrosse Club and about twenty-five supporters journeyed to Lindsay yesterday to give the team of the Scugog town a friendly game, and won a sanguinary contest by 6 goals to 4. It is safe to say that the locals will remember the struggle the rest of their natural lives. There was an understanding between the two teams that the game was to be a clean one in every particular. The T.A.S. men were not in Lindsay very long, however, before they were informed by several residents of the town that they might expect trouble during the game as there was two or more men marked on the line-up who would certainly receive particular attention.

The struggle took place on the Agricultural grounds before about 300 people, and the teams lined up before Referee Peter McMillan as follows:—

T. A. S.	Lindsay.
Goal.
O'Brien	McGinnis
Point.
Derocher	Reesor
Cover Point.
Meagher	Calder
1st defence.
Corbett	West

Crowley	Gregg
3rd defence.
McCoy	Elliott

Doyle	G. Holworth

Parnell	J. Holworth

McCabe	A. Holworth

McNichol	Staunton

Lapierre	Cameron

Rappel	Gillespie

McGrath	Craig

Before the ball was faced the referee took occasion to warn the players that he intended enforcing the lacrosse rules to the letter, and would penalize any player who should prove guilty of questionable tactics. As the game progressed, however, the referee had his hands full keeping the men in line, and while it must be admitted he did his best, still many acts escaped his notice, and the offenders were allowed to go unpunished. Mr. McMillan has had considerable experience as a referee and it is doubtful if he ever tackled a harder proposition than that of yesterday. There were two teams—one out to try and extricate itself from the Lakefield avalanche of May 25th and the other determined to administer a similar snowunder. The Lindsay team was strengthened for the occasion by the addition of several players from Beaverton and Cannington, and their presence on the team it was thought by the Lindsayites would ensure them a victory. The T.A.S. team was practically the same as the line-up on May 25th, with the exception of Larry Doyle, who played centre yesterday and covered himself with glory. There was a change in the playing positions of several of the players yesterday, particularly on the defence. Fred Derocher played point and Billy Meagher held down cover point, with Corbett next in position. Crowley was given a chance near the field. This change in the defence proved to be a good one as the players did splendid work during the game and Crowley made many of his celebrated runs up the field.

Now a word about the game. It was not long in progress before it was apparent that the locals had to play a dozen men in uniform as well as a crowd of jerring hoodlums of the lowest type, who took a day off to see a slugging contest, and whenever a T.A.S. player was mained or ruled off they showed their delight by crowding round him and hurling insulting epithets at his head. Whenever two opposing players would engage in a scrimmage for the rubber the crowd on the line would shout, "Split him!" "Give him the wood!" "Knock his block off!" and many other insulting sentences found in the vocabulary of the gutter snipe and the Bowery bum. To the credit of Lindsay be it said that there was a refined element on the grounds that condemned such treatment, and openly expressed disgust and contempt for the perpetrators. They came to see good clean lacrosse, but were sorely disappointed. At times the players would settle down and the onlookers would be treated to a fine quality of lacrosse, but the rough-house tactics would be introduced, and one or more players would be sent to the line. At one stage of the game the crowd became so violent that Chief of Police Nevison had to clear the field, Corbett and one of the Holworth brothers could not agree on the fine points of the game and at the end of the second quarter the referee decided to allow them to view the balance of the game from the side. Crowley and McCabe, however, were marked men, and these two players certainly played clean lacrosse, but they came in for the largest share of the abuse. The boys did not at any time take kindly to the treatment meted out to them, and whenever they reciprocated it was simply because patience had ceased to be a virtue. The citizens of Lindsay delight to howl about the dirty treatment their sporting organizations receive when they visit Peterborough, but yesterday's exhibition of mud slinging as well as ill treatment, ought to silence such whining on the part of the Scugogites. It was towards the close of the game, however, that the most brutal and cowardly incident of the day occurred. Two players engaged in an altercation, and Jack McCabe stepped in, when the mob began to charge, to separate the players. The referee's whistle had blown some time before, and during the interval one of the Holworth trio rushed in, and with a swing of his stick, felled Jack McCabe with a terrific blow. The latter had the presence of mind, however, to put up his hands, which stopped the force of the blow to a certain extent, but not before his lips were split open and his hands badly cut and bruised. He was immediately hurried to a doctor, who was obliged to put several stitches in the wounds. It was the most dastardly assault ever witnessed on an athletic field, and will do much to kill the national game in Lindsay. Several citizens of the town openly expressed their contempt for the player, and regret that the assault occurred.

The Lindsay team was no match for the T.A.S. aggregation, and was not in their class at any time during the game. True, they tied the score at one stage of the game, but the locals did not exert themselves at any time and the scoring of three goals in succession proves that the Lindsayites were an easy proposition. The T.A.S. home played a brilliant game, Doyle, Parnell, McCoy, McNichol and McCabe dished up a pretty combination yesterday, and Lapierre and Rappel had easy arguments in their men, and both played a faultless game. Jimmy O'Brien in goal, was Jimmy O'Brien, and that is saying a good deal. He played a wonderfully clever game in the flags. Crowley, Corbett, Meagher and Derocher made up a defence of an impregnable nature, and every man played his position creditably.

Of the Lindsay team. McGinnis in the flags and Calder at point, played good lacrosse. The Holworth trio are also good stick handlers as is also Cameron and Gillespie on the home, but the team on the whole lacks that combined team play which is at all times the most effective.

In the last quarter, when the score was 6—3 in favour of the T.A.S., they simply played rag with the Lindsayites, and tossed the ball about the field at will. The team showed splendid condition, while the Lindsayites were winded and in no condition to keep up the fight. Just before time was up Jimmy O'Brien allowed the ball to locate in the nets, giving Lindsay another goal and the T.A.S. the game. Score, 6—4.

NOTES.

Joe Mullison was unable to take his position on the team yesterday.

Chief Nevison attempted to arrest a T.A.S. player yesterday. Mr. McMillan asked him for his credentials and informed him that he was referee.

The bevy of young ladies in the grand stand who sported the red and black knew that victory would come to the colours.

Larry Doyle said yesterday's game was the roughest struggle in which he ever figured. He is a hero of a hundred fights.

Lindsay was determined to win the game yesterday, but they didn't.

Lindsay's field captain administered a rebuke to their goal keeper for allowing the T.A.S. to score. It was not his fault; he is not bullet-proof.

Calder of the Lindsay team, who indulged in fantastic pyrotechnics, lost his head yesterday towards the close of the game and created a stampede amongst the onlookers.

Lindsay will play here in the near future.

THE CHARLOTTE STREET SUNDAY SCHOOL OUTING.

Enjoyed Yesterday at Idyl Wyld and Jubilee Point.

Yesterday was an enjoyable day for the members of Charlotte street Methodist Sunday School. Their annual picnic was held at Rice Lake, and it was in every respect a thoroughly successful one. About 300 passengers boarded the popular "City of Peterborough," and promptly at the time advertised she sailed from the dock with as merry a company as ever trod her decks. After a most delightful morning sail Idyl Wyld was reached and a few hours were spent at that ideal spot. After having taken dinner the party boarded the steamer again and returned to Jubilee Point where the afternoon was pleasantly spent, and an interesting programme of races and other sports was taken up. Each event had a large number of participants, and the utmost harmony prevailed among them. Messrs. R. J. Kidd, J. Giles and Morrison acted as judges for the races and their decisions were unquestioned. The following is a list of the races, etc., with the winners in each event:

Boys', under 9—G. Tovey, A. Hughson, D. Jeffs.

Girls' under 9—G. Edmonson, E. Chambers, G. Huffman.

Boys' under 12—G. Cooney, G. Warham, O. Pedlar.

Girls' under 12—S. Brown, H. Moore, M. Williams.

Boys' under 15—W. Elliott, M. Hughson, G. Cooney.

Girls' under 15—E. Orr, S. Hopkins, L. Stanley.

Girls' over 15—Miss Huffman, Miss Stinson, Miss Thompson and Miss Armstrong, tie.

Men's race — Adamson, Dormer, Wilkie.

Shoe race—G. Tovey, H. Huffman, O. Pedlar.

Lacrosse shoe race—A. Dawe, W. Elliott, A. Hughson.

Tug-of-War — Captain. Galbraith; Jeffs, Morrison, Cunningham, Giles. Captain, Clegg; Kidd, Irwin, Lebar, Carver. Galbraith's team won in two straight pulls.

The event in which the greatest interest was taken was a baseball match between a picked team from St. Andrew's Guild and Charlotte street Guild. There has been a warm rivalry between these two teams for some time, and neither team has been willing to concede to the other the superiority, and each looked upon this as in a sense a test game. Seven innings of fast baseball were played, and the score stood 7—4 in favour of the Methodists. Both pitchers were in good form, and the fielding was very clean, but few errors being recorded against either team. No heavy hitting was indulged in but in the batting honours St. Andrew's led, although by reason of the excellent play of the Charlotte street infield, their batting did not win them the game. A couple of fast double plays were made. In the 6th, Harmer on 3rd, fielded a grounder, throwing to Jolliffe, who put a runner out, and in turn sent the sphere to Fuller at first, the batter being declared out. Again, in the sixth, Sanderson caught a fly, doubling with Fuller. No sensational plays were made but good consistent fielding prevented a big score. Mr. Galbraith umpired the game.

The line up was as follows:

St. Andrew's — McDonald c; Fitzpatrick 2b; A Lang cf; Wilke 1b; S. Lang lf; Foster 3b; Peeling ss; Latimer rf; Patterson p.

Charlotte — Fuller 1b; Thornton c; Sanderson ss; Jolliffe 2b; Roddy p; Hartley cf; Pedlar lf; Adamson rf; Harmer 3b.

After the programme of sports supper was partaken of and an early start was made for home. During the return trip the time was pleasantly wiled away by singing, in which the sweet voices of the members of the choir were heard to good advantage.

Every member of the party had a most enjoyable day and the picnic of 1903 will go into history as being the best ever held in connection with the Charlotte street Sunday school. Mr. R. J. Kidd, the superintendent of the school, seemed to be everywhere at once, and it was largely due to his efforts and those of the other faithful officials, that the event was such a pronounced success. The games were under the direction of the Young Men's Guild of the Church, the members of which worked zealously for the pleasure of the children. "Mine Host" Foley of the Jubilee Hotel, extended the excursionists many courtesies. Capt. Lane, of the "City," also did his utmost to render the trip one of enjoyment for those under his care.

THE BAND IN THE PARK.

A Well Performed Programme Delights Thousands.

There was a large attendance of the public at Victoria Park last night to enjoy the excellent programme presented by the 57th Band. The programme was a good one, consisting of a mixture of "popular" confections and music proper. Special mention should be given two classical numbers, the overture to Zampa and an exquisite excerpt from Verdi's La Traviata. Both of these were treated in a decidedly musicianly manner. Though they abounded in most difficult passages the ensemble never lost its effectiveness. The shading, as usual, was excellent and the general effect delightful. The Traviata quotation was an intricate net-work of music woven round a melody of ravishing sweetness performed in a most sympathic spirit. Of course, there was the inevitable rag-time pieces, and these with all their commonness, were so well rendered by the band as to almost become music. The performance throughout reflected great credit upon the band; their several numbers were heartily applauded and some numbers were re-demanded with more enthusiasm than judgment. These concerts of the band are not only delightful entertainments but they exercise a decided educative influence in a musical direction.

DICKSON COMPANY HAS MODERN MILL

Description of This Progressive Company's Plant. Many new Devices Made use of in Equipment.

On what was but a few months ago a bare common, bordering on the Little Lake, at Burnham's Point, there has been erected, and is now almost ready for operation, a large saw-mill, with supplementary machinery for lath and shingle manufacturing.

On Thursday the steam was generated for the first time in the boilers of the Dickson Company's new saw-mill on the little Lake, and in a week the complete equipment will have been installed, and another large industry will be added to the already extensive list of which the town may boast. Notwithstanding the fact that the mill has been erected in a remarkably short space of time, the stability of the building has in no way been slighted, and, indeed, it has been built particularly strong, all new timber having been used in its construction. When running it will saw [illegible] feet of inch lumber per day of ten hours, but it is not intended to do that class of work, and only square timber and railway ties will be sawn in the circular department, of which the capacity in square timber will be 75,000 to 100,000 feet per day of ten hours.

The company already has a large quantity of logs in the boom, and more will be brought down the river as they may be required to keep the mill in constant operation.

Not only has the mill been built with a particular regard to durability, but many modern labour saving devices have been installed which will make it thoroughly up-to-date. The jack-ladder, on which the logs are conveyed from the water to the 60-inch circular saw, is 100 feet long and is equipped with an extra strong conveyor chain and is capable of handling the largest logs. After leaving this jack-ladder the logs are taken by ingeniously arranged canvered iron rollers, the first of the kind to be used in this vicinity, to the circular saw mentioned above. This saw is operated by a steam feed by the sawyer, and by it the logs may be cut into any required length. In connection with the sawing another new device has been made use of, this is what is known among sawmill men, as a "steam nigger," and is used for turning the logs after a cut has been taken off the side. This is usually accomplished by the use of a friction device, the new steam machine not having come into general use. The timber, after having been squared, is taken by live rollers to the west end of the mill, where the C.P.R. has constructed a spur-line to the saw-mill property, and from where the shipping will be done.

The slabs are also conveyed by live rollers to a trimmer and edger, where they are trimmed and the portions suitable for lath-making taken to the lath mill, which has a capacity of 30,000 per day. This section is equipped with a bolter, trimmer, two saws, and a tying machine.

A shingle mill has been installed on the first floor with a daily capacity of 40,000. Another smaller jack-ladder here brings the logs to a drag saw, where the blocks are sawn to the required length, and afterwards split with a knee bolter, being conveyed to a shingle room and cut into shingles with a Perkins' machine. Mr. Patrick Doris, a saw-mill man of years' experience, has taken the contract to operate the shingle mill.

The saw-mill is a two-story structure, 32 feet by 100 feet, with an engine room 22 feet x 35 feet, containing two horizontal steam tube Inglis boilers, 5 feet in diameter and 14 feet long, with a 100 horse power slide valve engine with cylinder 18 inches x 24 inches, and working under a steam pressure of 100 lbs. A steel saw-dust burner, 12 feet 6 in. in diameter and 75 feet in height has been erected by the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company of Peterborough, from which firm the principal castings and steel shafting have been procured. The pulleys are the Reeves wood split pulleys, manufactured in Toronto, and which are in general use in the large saw-mills. The file room is situated on the second story and contains an automatic Caval Grinder. When the mill begins operations next week it will employ from forty to fifty men, and will run steadily, night and day, it is believed, during the remainder of the season to supply the demand for the class of timber which it will produce.

The company will in this mill cut a large quantity of square railway ties for which there is an increasing demand, and for this work special provision has been made. When running full 2000 ties a day will be sawn. The evident intention of the company in the construction and equipment of the mill has been to obtain a maximum output with a maximum expenditure of labour, and everything has been arranged with this end in view, the result being that it is one of the best mills in this section in point of modern equipment.

All refuse is automatically conveyed to the boiler house and the portions not consumed there are taken to the burner.

With two well equipped mills, the Dickson Company will be in a position to supply almost any demand which may be made upon it.

Be sure to hear the "Spinning Wheel" quartette from Martha, at the opera house Tuesday evening, July 21st.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 35c and 20c.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

THE AGITATION for free postal delivery seems to be at present dormant. The movement for calling a public meeting to discuss the project seems to have failed. This circumstance might not be taken as indicating a lack of popular interest in the proposal, for the popular interest might be still existent, but subordinated by the hot weather, and the general laxity as to things in general induced by the holiday season. The town council, however, has moved in the direction of postal reform, and no doubt a deputation visiting Ottawa will present the needs of the town in this regard with sufficient force to secure improvements in our post office and service, which are urgently needed. One wicket for delivery of letters is not enough by two or three. Three wickets would be better and would constitute freer, if not free, delivery. Then there should be at least two entrances to the post office rotunda; and some provision should be made for forming lines so that patrons of the post office would proceed and retire regularly, and in one direction to and from the wickets, and each get serv-in turn. This would save jostling and confusion, and in the end save time and temper, and women and children would not be crushed and thrust aside. Whether or not we get free delivery we must have a decided and immediate improvement of our post office premises and service. The Government gets a gross revenue of nearly $22,000 from the Peterborough post office, and a net revenue of nearly $17,000, so that the Post Office Department can easily afford to give us improved accommodation and service.

A BANANA peel on the pavement is an innocent looking bit of jetsam but it is capable of serious achievements. Yesterday an elderly lady stepped on a fragment of banana peel and was heavily thrown and seriously shaken. Fortunately the consequences were not as serious as they might have been, but that was not the fault of the peel, or of the careless and thoughtless person who threw it upon the pavement. This may seem a small matter, but its importance consists in the fact that it is a type of a trait of character or disposition vicious in its essence and consequences. By neither divine or human or moral law are we justified in doing anything that would lead to injury of our neighbour. Actions done without regard to the consequences to others may be innocent in themselves, but are wrong in view of such consequences being injurious. A man passing along the street, who flings down a banana or orange peel which may form a trap for the unwary, may be imperilling a life or a limb and the man who carelessly deposits such a trap is morally, if thoughtlessly and untentionally guilty of whatever evil results may ensue. The same spirit followed out, accounts for persons throwing waste paper and other rubbish on our streets, and throwing weeds and rakings of lawns on the streets—they don't seem to care who—else suffers, so long as their purpose or convenience is served. Thus we have slovenly and untidy streets, and generally undesirable conditions. Indifference to the convenience, comfort or pleasure of others is as much a breach of the golden rule as putting a torch to a neighbour's dwelling.

APROPOS, the Council has taken cognizance of the litter left in Victoria Park in the shape of discarded wrappings of luncheons and papers of sweets. With such practice prevalent it is impossible to keep the park in tidy and attractive condition. The provision of baskets as receptacles for such litter will lessen the evil if they are used for the purpose. Such baskets are affixed to the trees in Queen's Park, Toronto, and being used the lawns are quite free from disfiguring rubbish, and the frequenters of Queen's Park are as hundreds to the tens that visit Victoria Park. Our parks are maintained for the public benefit, and it is only by the co-operation of the public that they can be kept in a condition of greatest attractiveness. By the way, no condemnation is too strong of the action of any person—man or woman—who steals flowers from the parks—it is next door to robbing a grave of its floral decorations.

THE BAND CONCERTS in the park are a delight to thousands every night of a performance. The band is now a most effective organization and the excellent, varied and substantial programmes they present indicate how hard they have worked to provide music of the best order both in character and execution. It stands to reason that the band plays to be heard, and that the great bulk of the people go to the park to hear it. That being so, it is desirable that they be allowed to hear. This leads up to a reference to, and a condemnation of, the demoniac racket created at these concerts by small boys and girls — who romp and wrestle, shriek and bump into standing adults, and tramp upon those sitting upon the grass. The effect of the music, especially the delicate passages, is lost, and, at times, even the music of the braying character of a Sousa march is only heard in broken snatches. Now nobody denies that children should have play and enjoyment, but they can have all they can take, without doing it at the expense of others. They have five nights in the week to come to the park and play if they like. If they come to the park on band nights they should be made to behave so as not to defeat the object of the band concerts—to furnish music for the people to hear. If the children would confine their antics and noise to the intervals between selections, it would not be so objectionable. But the children of the present generation are quick at imitating the faults of their elders. Take the average drawing room, filled with guests assembled to listen to some musician — vocalist or instrumentalist — of unusual merit. There is decorous silence, or sotto voce conversation, till the music begins; then the babble breaks out fortissimo, the performer is insultingly ignored, and those civilized members of the company, who wish to hear the music, are deprived of the pleasure. Society furnishes no more flagrant and frequent examples of ill-breeding than the conduct which is so often an accompaniment of music in our drawing rooms. Is it therefore any surprise that children should follow such examples.

BUT the presence of children of tender years abroad at ten o'clock—children of four or five years, unattended by parents—two hours after they should be tucked into their little beds, is the worst feature. From this age up to a more dangerous age, children without chaperones or escorts, are to be seen loosely behaving in the park at these concerts. The lack of parental restraint thus indicated, is the first step in the downward way to many a boy or girl—girl, especially—for a boy may retrace a moral mis-step, but to a girl, the way back to the straight path, is absolutely barred by society, chiefly her own sex. Nowadays, in many cases, children are not brought up, they come up; and to home laxity we can trace thousands of the moral wrecks that strew the sands of life.

Alleged Bigamist Arrested.

Toronto, July 17.—F. C. Thompson was arrested yesterday on a charge of bigamy, preferred by his alleged first wife, Harriet Payne. According to her story she was married to Thompson on May 20, 1898, by Rev. E. E. Rowe of the Euclid avenue Methodist Church and has two children by him. Only a few days ago she heard that he had been living in the city since November with another woman, Florence Gobell, to whom he had been married at Beaverton on Nov. 12 last, representing himself as a single man. Mrs. Thompson No. 1 has laid a charge of non-support and one of bigamy against the prisoner.

Hall Goes For Trial.

Aurora, July 17.—Thomas Hall, who burglarized the store of Wm. Warner on the 18th, was brought from Toronto yesterday on remand to answer the charge. The prisoner, who had been shot three times, once in the head and twice in the shoulder, presented a very pitiful appearance when brought into court. Hall pleaded guilty and was committed for trial.

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his travelling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbours brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

No man will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all druggists.

Canada Was Second.

Bisley, England, July 17.—The Mackinnon Challenge Cup, open to teams of twelve from England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and the colonies of Great Britain, was won yesterday by the English team with a score of 1,408. Canada was second with a score of 1,390; Australia was third, and Scotland fourth. The distances were 800, 900 and 1,000 yards.

Labor Smugglers Sentenced.

Jamestown, N. Y., July 17.—In the United States District Court here yesterday William Kerrys of Toronto was fined $100 for importing contract labor into the United States. George Judson of Buffalo got eight months in jail and $1,000 fine for smuggling Chinese. George S. Hills of Buffalo got six months in jail and a fine of $250 for the same offence.

Marconi's New Idea.

London, July 17.—The Marconi Company announces fresh discoveries which will greatly facilitate the sending and receiving of long distance messages. These discoveries will be applied to the system before it is opened for public use, some months hence. Meanwhile private messages are being sent daily between England and Canada.

Russia Declines Petition.

Note Your Weight.

By noting your increase in weight while using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can prove for a certainty that new firm flesh and tissue is being added to the body. This is the severest test you can apply to any treatment and proves the superiority of this great restorative prescription of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author.

THE BRIDAL COUPLES.

How the Hotel Clerk at Quebec Knows Them at Sight.

"Can I tell a bride when I see one?" echoed one of the clerks at a large hotel, in the ancient city of Quebec, in answer to the query put to him, "well, what do you take me for, anyway?" He sniffed contemptuously. "Think I've been room clerk here six years, and 10 years at Niagara before that, for nothing? Why, I can tell a bride as soon as she steps into the room, and in all my years of experience I have never been mistaken but once," and a reminiscent smile flickered over his face.

"How was that?" asked the Statistician, a little surprised at the willingness with which this confident one admitted having once been mistaken.

"Well," chuckled the clerk, "that was last June. You see," he went on, "I had a letter from this Mr. C—— from New York about two weeks before their arrival, asking me to reserve a room at such and such a date for himself and wife, and giving explicit directions as to certain requirements necessary. When I got that letter I made up my mind at once that this was a pair of honeymooners, and reserved the bridal chamber in the south wing for them, had flowers—bride roses, too—sent in on the night of their arrival, and everything done up brown.

"When they came, I was more convinced than ever, and began to look on the floor for a stray grain of rice. They're always dropping it around," he explained. "Well, she was a corker! Pretty as a picture, young and innocent looking, and an air of hesitation, as if she didn't quite know what to say next; and he was young, appearing, too, and—well, they seemed like a typical bridal couple.

"The next morning he came down to the desk and asked me if I had a room adjoining theirs. 'We like it so well here, that I think we'll stay a few weeks,' he said, 'and I want a room for our two children and nurse; single bed, crib and a cot for the oldest boy, 4 years old. I've telegraphed for them to come to-morrow,' he said, 'so be sure to have it ready.'

"Well, say, you could have knocked me down with a feather! And that 4-year-old had Peck's Bay Boy beaten at the start. But that was the only time they ever fooled me on the brides," he said, as he turned to reach for the register.

"Look here," and his forefinger traveled down the lines of signatures on the page devoted to the arrivals of that day. "Here, and here, and here—they're all bridal couples, and this—and this—see! Here are six couples in from Boston to-day, all on their honey-moon. Five from New York yesterday, four from New York to-day, two from Philadelphia, one each from Chicago and St. Louis, and one from Honolulu; besides, I don't know how many from other places.

"Last Saturday," he said, turning back to verify his statement by pointing to certain little x's marked beside several signatures on the register, "we had 23 couples of 'em, and a handsomer lot I never saw."

"I mark all the bridal couples with an X," went on the loquacious one, "then I can tell in a minute who was and who wasn't; you see, lots of people want to know about this one and that one, and then again it sort of reminds one of a flock of sheep jumping over a wall after their leader; where he goes, they all go. So when a swell girl in Boston, we'll say, gets married and comes up here on her honeymoon, why it rains Boston brides during the next six weeks! They all want to spent their honeymoon where Miss Winthrop Quincy spent hers, because they know she'll do the most swagger thing out; so that's why there's so many, I think.

"Soon as they come, they want to know all about this and that one, and to tell me about the other who will be here in a week. They say all the world loves a lover," he added, "and if that's so, why the world at large can't find a better place than Quebec in which to make its observations.

TROUBLES OF EX-CHIEF OF POLICE

Could not Stand Before Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Charles Gilchrist had Diabetes for Years—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Port Hope, July 13th. — (Special.) —Mr. Charles Gilchrist, Chief of Police here for fifteen years, and afterwards Dominion Fishery Overseer, is always willing to add his testimony to the volume of proof from all parts that Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure any form of kidney disease.

"I am a healthy man. Dodd's Kidney Pills have done the job," is the way Mr. Gilchrist puts it. "When I first started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills I was in an awful state. I had been a sufferer from Diabetes and Kidney Disorder for ten years. My urine was of a dark bricky colour and I would suffer something awful passing.

"I tried everything, and tried the doctors, but could get no help till I was advised to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have made me a new man."

Mr. Gilchrist is getting on in years but he feels young. That's what Dodd's Kidney Pills do for a man.

WEAK AND FAINTING

The Sad Plight Of Anaemic People.

They Have Headaches and Backaches—Are Languid and Unable to Stand Exertion.

From the Sun, Orangeville, Ont.

You can always tell anaemic men and women. They are pale, weak and languid. They have headaches and backaches. They can't eat—or they can't digest what little they do eat. And it all comes from poor blood and unstrung nerves. Banish anaemia at once by enriching you blood and toning up your nerves with Dr Williams Pink Pills. Thousands of grateful women have said that these pills have restored them after all other means tried had failed. Mrs. Josias McIlroy, of Orangeville, Ont., was a great sufferer for several years and spent much money looking for a cure. To a reporter of the Sun Mrs. McIlroy said:—"Several years ago my health gave out completely. I was so weak that I could not do my housework. If I went upstairs my heart would palpitate violently, and sometimes I would faint away through weakness. My nerves were unstrung, and I suffered much from dizziness. I tried many remedies, but they did not help me. Then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to do so. I am glad I did for the pills soon built me up and made me a well woman. My health remained good until last spring, when I was again taken with weakness. I now knew by experience the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and at once got a supply. The result was as beneficial as before and I can conscientiously say the pills have done me untold good. I am grateful for this and hope my experience will benefit some other sufferer."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured more sickly, pale-faced girls and women than any other medicine ever discovered, for they supply new, rich, red blood and so strengthen every part of the body. They are equally suitable for men, women and children, and cure not only anaemia, but decline, consumption, indigestion, rheumatism, St. Vitus' dance, and the special ailments which all women dread. These pills can be had through any druggist, or will be sent post paid at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Look for the full name on every box, so that no worthless substitute may be palmed off on you.

ODDITIES IN PET NAMES.

Cat and Pig Are the Terms Coveted by French Women.

"If a man in this country calls his wife a cat the foundation is laid for a divorce suit," said the man who travels. "But a French woman takes the same word as a term of endearment. It's odd how the choicest phrases in the vocabulary of affection of one people are used for quite an opposite purpose by another nation. One of the most familiar and most coveted phrases of endearment among the French, for instance, is 'my little pig,' and 'my little puppy dog' is also well liked.

"But if the Frenchman were to call Mme. Narcisse 'duck,' as an American husband might lovingly call his better half, she would be very much offended. One of the oddest pet names that I ever heard of was that used by a famous German general, who always called his wife 'my little kernel of coffee.' They were divorced at last, however, and a cynic said that the general's pet name should have been 'my dear little stack of bayonets,' for the lady was said to have had a very sharp tongue. I know a devoted disciple of Walton, who, when writing to his wife while on a fishing expedition, calls her 'my dear little speckled trout.'"

Why Razors Get Tired.

"Do you know why we dip a razor in warm water before we begin shaving, and do you know why some ignorant men say a razon is 'tired?'" asked the barber. "Well, this is all due to the fact that a razor is a saw, not a knife, and it works like a saw, not like a knife. Examined under the microscope its edge, that looks so smooth to the naked eye, is seen to have innumerable and fine saw teeth. When these teeth get clogged with dirt all the honing and strapping in the world will do no good—the razor is dull and nothing will sharpen it. Then is the time the ignorant say it is 'tired' and stop using it, but the wise know it is only clogged.

"The wise, though, don't suffer their razors to get clogged. They dip them in warm water before they use them, and thus the teeth are kept clean. It is because a razor is a saw that lather doesn't soften the beard, as so many people think. It stiffens it, so that it will present a firm and resisting surface to the razor."

One Oculist's Advice.

"So you have been trying to doctor your own eyes," remarked the oculist as the patient removed the bandage, displaying an aggravated case of conjunctivitis. "In many cases you can cure yourself, but if you don't know what treatments to avoid you are liable to do yourself injury. Old housewife remedies are all right in their place, but I would advise you not to use tea leaves. They often give relief, but they bring on other complications. In fact, the 'tea leaf eye' is well known to the profession. The lid is puffy, flabby and lifeless. If you wish to reduce the inflammation in your eyes use hot water with a cloth. That is enough. Yes; you may add salt if you wish, but it is not necessary in most cases. Salt is merely an antiseptic and has no other virtue for eye lotions."

GOOD BLOOD, GOOD HEALTH

Thin Watery Blood is Made Rich by the Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

When the blood is rich and pure there is a healthful glow to the complexion which speaks of the vigour and vitality of the system. There is no more certain way for pine, weak people to attain the glow of health than by the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great food cure which forms new, rich blood and creates new nerve force. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 6

ABE'S LITTLE FLIER

By GRANT THORBURN

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. L. Clare

For years he'd been a power in the Flatbrook meeting house—not during church time, to be sure, nor yet at Sunday school, nor week night meetings, nor Epworth League. It was at other times he shone—at the fairs, and candy sales, and donation parties, and school commencements, for he was a prestidigitator, and he was the regular thing at the village entertainments.

But lately his popularity had begun to wane. The Flatbrookers became tired of the same old card and coin tricks, though Abe Hinchman, through long and careful practice, was an adept at them. They longed for the Indian box trick and the juggler's sword tricks of the metropolis. They did not know that down in the cities the blase members of society, if they ever did attend a sleight of hand performance, always came in when the card and coin tricks commenced and yawned and went out when the Indian box trick came on.

Abe realized that his popularity was on the wane. Even old Doc Clarkson's daughter had grown a bit distraught and cold. So Abe made up his mind. He drew about two-thirds of his bank deposit and started for New York. He was determined to learn a few new tricks, buy some new paraphernalia and come back and astonish the natives and old Doc Clarkson's daughter. It was early winter and there was no farming to be done, so there was no better time or opportunity, and he went.

He occupied a seat in the smoker. At a station near the metropolis a well dressed young man boarded the train, looked around for a seat and finally took the one next to Hinchman. He was a sociable sort of fellow and entered into conversation at once. Abe told him all he knew and many things that he didn't. The stranger was not so communicative and confined himself strictl to fiction, although Abe couldn't know that, of course.

"Now, look a-here," remarked this man. "Don't you go to any hotel. You go to a private boarding house. They won't skin you. I know a good one where they'll treat you right. You come with me." Abe went.

The place was situated in a rather obscure street, but the rates were cheap. Abe's companion, by a singular coincidence, boarded there himself.

After supper they went upstairs into the parlor. A caller was announced, a rather seedy personage. He wanted to see Abe's new companion. They talked together in one corner while Abe sat in another. Then his friend came over to him.

"Say, Hinchman," he began, "do you know anything about diamonds? Any judge of them?" Abe glanced at the other man out of the corner of his eye.

"Somepin," he replied. "Was in a jewelry store up home f'r awhile. Why? What's up?"

"Why, say," continued the other, "here's a friend of mine in a fix. He's got some good diamonds and wants me to loan about $200 on 'em. They're worth $100 anyway. I've seen 'em. Now, I ain't got $200 or I'd lend it to him. S'pose you do it. How much have you got?" This was a superfluous question, for he had discovered on the train that Hinchman had just $250.

"Well, now, here," went on the other, "he says if he don't pay up in a week you can keep the stones, see? He can't pay up, and the stones are the real thing, see? And you'll be in the difference between a couple of hundred and most a thousand, see?"

Hinchman saw. He thought it over and concluded that it was a sound proposition, provided the gems were genuine. He excused himself a moment, went to his room and put $200 in one envelope and something else in another envelope of similar appearance.

They had to go to the friend's room, a few blocks distant up a dark, dingy staircase. The friend produced the jewels. Abe wouldn't touch them unless they went over to some Broadway jeweler and determined their worth and genuine character. This was fair, and they went. It was really superfluous, for Abe could tell by the merest examination that the stones were the real things. There were four of them. The Broadway jeweler looked at them, said they might sell for a couple of hundred apiece, but that he would give $150 spot cash for each of them. Then the three went back.

"Well, what do you think of it?" asked Hinchman's friend of Hinchman. "They ain't worth as much as we thought, but there's a good clear profit in it for you in case my friend here don't pay, and if he does you get your money back, with good big interest and a bonus besides at the end of a week."

The diamonds were again produced and once more examined. From that time on Abe Hinchman kept his eyes, not on the faces of his friends, but on the diamonds.

"I'll do it," he finally announced. He slowly withdrew from his pocket the envelope containing the $250 and a small bag. He counted the money in front of the two men, and they put the diamonds in the bag at his request. After he had counted the money and replaced it in the envelope and once more examined the diamonds and replaced them in the bag, which he did more or less carelessly, keeping up a steady conversation all the time, he laid both upon the table.

"Now, gents," he concluded, "I'm a stranger here, and I rely on your honor not to do me. This here is a fair and square deal on my part, and I s'pose it is on yours. Now, there's your money, and here's"—

There was a loud rap on the door, and a man broke in. He was not in uniform, but he wore some kind of shield, which he exhibited. Behind him were two other men.

"Don't move!" he yelled to the three men around the table. "I arrest the whole gang for robbery"—

Hinchman's two companions sprang to the table, shoved Hinchman aside, grabbed the bag containing the jewels and the envelope containing the money and made for the door.

"Run for your life!" they yelled to Hinchman. "It's the cops! These stones is stolen!" They waited not, but burst through the men at the door and leaped down the stairs. Hinchman was left to face the three men.

"Well, sir," said the leader severely, "we got you anyways. What you got to say for yourself?"

Hinchman told the whole story from beginning to end. The three men evidently didn't believe it, but nevertheless they marched him to the corner of the street and there told him they would let him go provided he would appear at the police station in the morning to prosecute the others. He promised, and they left him. He took to his heels and sprinted for his boarding house. Once there, he gathered up his grip, paid his reckoning and jumped on the nearest trolley car. Eventually he fetched up at the Astor House. There he took a room.

Once in his room, he slung his grip in a corner, took off his hat and wiped his brow with a bandanna kerchief. Then he drew carefully from his inside pocket first an envelope and then a small bag. In the envelope was Abe Hinchman's $200, and in the bag were four genuine stones. The other men, wherever they were, also had an envelope and a little bag, but in the one was simply a roll of green paper and in the other a few dried beans.

Abe Hinchman had merely played it as low down on 'em as he could; that's all. Legerdemain comes in handy once in awhile. He shopped around and sold two of the stones. The other two he kept.

A week later Abe Hinchman stepped off the train at Flatbrook and sauntered down the street. A diamond stud shone in his shirt bosom. He smoked a twenty cent cigar.

"Pretty flip, Abe," remarked a townsman—the jeweler, in fact—as he inspected the pin. "Where 'd you get the dough?"

"Just been taking a little flier in Wall street with the boys," remarked Abe carelessly. Another hailed him.

"Well, Abe," said this one, "you look first rate. What you been doin' down there?"

"Well," returned Abe, "you can just bet that I stood on the steps in front of the Astor House along with the best of them; yes, sir, I did."

"Here's a little thing for you, Millie," suggested Abe to Doc Clarkson's girl that day—"that is, if you'll say 'Yes.'" It was a magnificent solitaire ring. "Oh, Abe!" sighed the young lady in assent.

A week later Abe Hinchman entertained a select audience with the Indian box trick, the sword trick, the clothes basket trick, the cabinet trick and every trick in the business. It was simply great.

IT MUST COME.

As inevitable as the changing seasons of the year is the change which comes to every woman. And just as one anticipates the changes of other seasons it is wise to anticipate this change of season and prepare for it. In this way the discomforts and disasters suffered by many women at the period of change can be avoided or overcome.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine for every season of woman's life, will entirely meet the needs of women at this period of change. It cures the physical ills and relieves the mental anxiety and depression usually associated with this critical period. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

J. S. Carlisle, Esq., of Manchester, Coffee Co., Tenn., writes: "I have been using your medicines for the last sixteen or eighteen years in my Poor-house. I am superintendent of the Coffee County Poor-house and Asylum combined. Your 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' are the best medicines for the diseases for which they are recommended, that I ever used. They saved my wife's life at the time of 'change of life.' I have been recommending your medicine to many afflicted women and have also guaranteed that if it did not cure I would pay back the money spent for it. I have told our druggist that if the people came back and said Doctor Pierce's medicines did not give satisfaction, to give them back their money and charge it to me. I have not once been called upon to refund. I have never found anything to equal the 'Favorite Prescription' for diseases of women."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Unlucky.

"Yes, since Mrs. Gotrox broke a mirror yesterday she is convinced that it is very unlucky."

"How superstitious!"

"Not at all. It was a French plate mirror and cost $400."

What He Preferred.

Magistrate—And I understand that you prefer charges against this man.

Grocer—No, your worship; I prefer cash, and that's what I brought him here for.

KITCHEN HELPS.

Not to wash the plates and dishes soon after using makes hard work.

If a kettle or pot boil dry pour boiling water into it at once, for this will prevent cracking.

Porcelain baking dishes which have become burned or stained should be soaked in strong borax water.

Hot salt and vinegar, old fashioned as it is, will remove tarnish from brass almost instantly. Wash in soapsuds and dry.

Do not scrape a frying pan, as it is liable afterward to burn. Instead rub well with a hard crust of bread and wash in hot water.

In order to keep things from burning in an agate boiler place copper plating on the bottom next to the fire and have this protecting metal extend up on the sides about an inch.

Sometimes a knife with which onions have been cut will keep the odor in spite of scouring. Thrust the blade into the earth a few times and it will be cleansed perfectly.

NECESSARY ELEMENTS.

Strengthen your throat and lungs with Angier's Petroleum Emulsion. It cures chronic coughs, makes breathing easy, cleanses the system of impurities, creates healthy blood, firm flesh, and supplies all the elements necessary for the successful treatment of consumption. Pleasant to take. 25.

Be Cheerful at Home.

If a man should be cheerful at home it goes without saying that a woman should be. Whatever her cares or anxieties the wife and mother must make it part of her religion to live above them. What is most prized in household economy is not a temperament which is gay by fits and starts, up today and down tomorrow, full of hilarity on occasions and heavy as lead at other times, but an even serenity of soul which makes people at ease and happy under the roof. A home in which one treads always on thin ice cannot be tolerable. A cheerful disposition will influence its possessor to make the best of existing circumstances, forget the discomforts of yesterday and anticipate delightful things tomorrow. To live largely in the present, doing one's best, is to maintain an almost unbroken cheeriness of demeanor and of experience.—Margaret E. Sangster in Success.

Young Women Who Succeeded.

A recent paper in an educational journal calls attention to the number of comparatively youthful women who have achieved notable things in their different callings. Joan of Arc at nineteen led the army of victorious France; Patti sang in public before she had entered her teens—how many years ago it was that she made her first great triumph it is not for us to say. At twenty-two Mme. De Stael accomplished an essay on Rousseau; Jane Austen had completed her life work at forty-two, and all of the Bronte sisters died before they were forty. When "Uncle Tom's Cabin" appeared Harriet Beecher Stowe was only thirty-nine, and George Eliot gave "Adam Bede" to the world at thirty-eight. Miss Grace Lathrop Collin and Onoto Watanna, two of the most successful of contemporary novelists, are both considerably under thirty.

Words From an Old Adviser.

In an old fashioned book of recipes it is written: "A woman's hair should smell only sweeter than her skin, and her skin only fresher than her breath. To insure this should be her daily care, for a woman who looks not altogether lovely belies the purpose for which nature created her. Therefore if ye would be ever fresh and dainty in your toilet keep upon your table a bottle of myrrh with which to freshen your mouth, a bottle of benzoin to sprinkle in the washing water and a bottle of lavender water with which to dampen your hair."

NAPOLEON'S CHARACTER.

In character Napoleon may be said to have been not so much wicked as devoid of moral sense. The first principles of morality seem to have had no place in his mind, and it is difficult to see how they could have found entrance there. He had really no country, and consequently no patriotism. Born a Corsican and setting out with bitter hatred of France as the destroyer of Corsican liberties, he never really became a Frenchman. He never learned to write the language, hardly to pronounce it. France was the seat and fulcrum of his power, his throne and the recruiting ground of his armies. Whatever he might say in proclamations, in his moments of sincerity he spoke of the French contemptuously as people who were to be governed through their vanity, which it was necessary to feed with a perpetual course of victories. Domiciled in France, he had consorted with a set of adventurers as profligate as any that the world has seen. The only sort of public morality with which he had ever been impressed was the fidelity of the soldier to military duty.—Goldwin Smith in Atlantic.

Conjuring a Tooth.

Among the negroes the most striking remedies are to be found. Witness the combination of cure and spell described under the name of "conjuring a tooth" in Alabama. Go into a lonely part of the woods with one of the opposite sex, who is to carry an ax. The bearer of the ax chops around the roots of a white oak, cuts off with a jackknife nine splinters from the roots of the tree, then cuts around the roots of the aching tooth with the knife, dips each of the nine splinters in the blood flowing from the cuts and finally buries the splinters at the root of the tree from which they came. While doing this the operator repeats something you don't understand, which is the charm.—Kansas City Journal.

The Knight Rejoiced.

We believe that kissing is an English custom. We read in ancient history of a knight who visited the Field of the Cloth of Gold and who on being invited to a local castle was addressed by the "kynde ladye" of the establishment, who remarked:

"Forasmuch as in England ye have such a custome as that a man may kysse a woman, therefore I will that ye shall kysse me, and ye shall also kysse these my maidens."

"Which thing," adds the old historian, "ye knyghte straightway did and rejoyced greatly thereat."

MUNYON

CURED NEIL O'NEIL.

"I have suffered from Rheumatism for 5 years, principally in the arms and legs. My feet and ankles were badly swollen and I was laid up for 5 or 6 weeks in the Doctor's care. I obtained very little relief and suffered greatly until I procured a trial vial of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure: this did me an extraordinary amount of good. I am now greatly benefited and can work as I did formerly." Neil O'Neil, 183 Simcoe street, London.

If you are sick, if you have indigestion, if you are nervous, if your liver or blood is out of order, if you have any kidney disease, if you have piles, or any ailment, ask your druggist for "Munyon's Guide to Health"; it is free and will tell you how to cure yourself for 25c. Fuel economy is an important feature in a range. Almost as important as good cooking facilities. Every housewife wants to do good cooking but she doesn't want it to cost her too much in fuel. The good cooking qualities of the are enhanced by its great fuel economy. The big scuttle of coal of other style ranges is replaced in Imperial Oxford homes by a smaller scuttle less often used.

The fire-box is evenly proportioned to the size of the oven, so that no more fire needed than the size of range demands —no waste heat. The arrangement of flues and drafts concentrate the heat in the stove — it doesn't lose itself up the chimney.

LACROSSE.

Campbellford and T.A.S. II play a game here on Thursday, night at the Murray street grounds at 6.45.

* * * *

The Athletics with an All-Peterborough aggregation, will go to Belleville on Wednesday to do battle for the C.L.A. championship of their district. The personnel of the team will be practically the same as in the first game. No scouring of the country has been done to secure players from outside places, and in this respect the Athletics are an exception to the great majority of lacrosse teams. The players have all developed their abilities at home, and whether they win or lose, they will do so in the knowledge that in the team management a true sportsmanlike spirit has dominated.

Since the game here witht he Bellevilles the Athletics have been practicing steadily and will give a good account of themselves on Wednesday. Club rates have been secured for all who may wish to accompany the team of whom no doubt there will be a goodly number.

BASEBALL.

The Pullmans with a new battery, are this afternoon laying a City League game with the Excelsiors.

* * * *

It is doubtful if any other town of its size in Canada can boast as many baseball teams as Peterborough, and in the different aggregations there are some excellent players. The City League is the senior organization, with three good teams; the Intermediate League with five teams, whose claim for recognition as creditable ball players, is well founded. The Guild League also has four teams in which there is some good material, to say nothing of numbers of junior organizations, who will some day be heard from.

A good suggestion seems to be that made, to form a picked team from the different leagues and try to arrange games with some first class outside teams. There is a profound stillness in baseball circles just now, and something of this kind would reawaken interest in the game, which among the citizens has a large number of enthusiasts.

A Pretty Bedspread.

An extremely pretty bedspread is made by taking a new linen sheet and with a dinner plate and small dessert plate or saucer making intersected circles with a hard lead pencil at regular intervals over the spread. When this is done the foundation lines are made for a pretty design of wreaths, on which it is easy to draw flowers or leaves. One wreath of wild roses or another of daisies has a good effect. The smaller circle of green leaves and the larger of any simple flower is a good idea. When the flowers have been sketched stain them the color desired with a fast dye. There are several dyes that will stand careful washing—violet ink or red ink, for instance. After the designs have been stained outline them with single zephyr worsted, which washes admirably. Wash silk is pretty and dainty, but it is not so effective and takes more time. The easiest outline stitch is to sew around the design with simple running stitch and then, going over it again, catch each stitch in over and over fashion. This gives a rope effect which looks well.

New Stockyards at Winnipeg.

The Canadian Pacific is establishing new stockyards at Winnipeg. These will be 1,000 x 250 feet, and further expansion, if necessary, will be easy. Their capacity will be 125 carloads of stock. The Canadian Northern is making progress with its car shops, in which, at the present time, about 100 freight cabooses and flat cars are being built. Chicago people are talking of establishing a large meat curing and canning establishment probably at Winnipeg. A Brantford company has bought the woollen mill property at Medicine Hat, and proposes to start manufacturing, with forty hands as a beginning. The sugar beet district sends out favorable reports. About 3,000 acres will be devoted to beets in the Raymond district. A drop in the price of lumber has given great satisfaction in this district.

A Curious Industry.

A curious Manitoba industry is the fishing for catfish in the lower reaches of the Red River. About fifty camps of Indians are engaged in it, and they get four or five cents a pound for the big and easily captured brutes. The fish go to Minneapolis, St. Paul and other American cities, and find a ready sale as "silver salmon." It is said that prices of from fifteen to twenty cents a pound are paid by the actual consumers.

At 2.45 this afternoon he entered into what the learned physicians truly believed to be his last agony. The death rattle was audible to those anxiously waiting outside the sick room.

DEATH OF POPE LEO THIRTEENTH

Epochs in the Career of the Deceased Pontiff.

FATHER McCOLL'S TRIBUTE

His Influence Upon Religion and Education—A Christian Gentleman, a Superior Magistrate and a Beloved Head of the Church.

"Rome, July 20th—The Pope died at 4.04 p.m." is the message which flashed across the wires, and acquainted the world with the death of the respected head of the great Roman Catholic Church. Messrs. E. M. Pousette & Co., received the first despatch in Peterborough at 12.50, p.m. Immediately upon receipt of the news at St. Peter's Cathedral the bell was tolled for one hour, in honour of the departed Pontiff.

Vincenzo Gioacchino Pecci, the good old man who died this afternoon in the Vatican, was born at Carpineto, in the State of the Church, March 2nd, 1810. Pursuing his studies at various seats of learning from 1818 till 1837, he became one of the greatest scholars of the age, qualified to hold the most important positions in the gift of the Church, such as Apostolic Delegate, Nuncio, Bishop and Cardinal. He attained the latter dignity almost fifty years ago, on December 19th, 1853, and on February 18th, 1878, he succeeded Pope Pius under the title of Pope Leo XIII. Enjoying the respect of Emperors, Kings and Presidents throughout the world, Pope Leo has held a place in the affections of the common people, Catholic and Protestant, on account of his sympathetic attitude to the workers on the labour question. It was to him that Henry George addressed one of his books, written in the interest of the wage-earners. In his long life of ninety-three years, Pope Leo has not only guarded the interests of the Church, to which his life has been specially devoted, but he has displayed the qualities of a statesman and an economist. The world will be well content if his successor shall be as great and as good a man as Pope Leo XIII. has been.

While this is the estimate of the Pope as formed by one looking at his life from without the Church, the following tribute by Rev. Father McColl represents the love for him, which is borne by those who have been more immediately associated with him in Church connections: —

"The Church loses by the death of our Holy Father Leo XIII., a great and saintly pontiff. He was very much beloved and reverred by all his children. In our eyes, he was an ideal head of the Church. His was a stainless character. He was possessed of a bright intellect and varied learning and culture. His zeal in promoting education, as well as our spiritual and temporal welfare was intense, but it was a zeal that was prudent and charitable.

He understood thoroughly the wants of this age, the danger and moral needs of Christian society, and laboured incessantly for the betterment and improvement of the human race.

We believe he was not only known, but also honoured and respected by the whole world. His reign has spread a lustre over the Church, of which we feel justly proud."

SKETCH OF POPE'S LIFE.

About seven years ago the publishing house which is generally identified with Mark Twain, the humorist, selected the pope as the subject of a book, and this book among others I have been consulting in order to arrive at a reasonable conclusion upon the work and merits of the superior man just deceased. The tone of this book is excited and partisan, whereas the feeling entertained toward Pope Leo in secular and Protestant circles is absolutely different from the controversial spirit. The fact is that since Leo was depicted by various combative Celtic pens he has himself put a quietus upon that kind of ferocity. In 1892 the world saw with astonishment that the pope of Rome favored the education of the masses and was no opponent of American common school education, and that he was quite willing to have his priests in America follow the usage of the country and on matters of pure politics, taxation and finance choose their own views.

Nothing pacifies what are called religious hostilities like unexpected moderation from the chief of our opponents. The advance of practical science has much restricted the subjects of pure faith. As nearly everything has been more or less explained, as the former wide realm of spirits is but seldom disturbed in these centuries by their appearance as the collegians, especially in the Catholic church, have given minute attention to education, the dividing lines between this world and the next are merged in the general statement that one portion of the people do not know about the future and another portion do know or do affirm their faith.

Science no longer, as in the time of Voltaire, goes hunting for the church. With corresponding civilization and refinement the church welcomes educated men as at least hopeful signs of a better understanding.

It can be shown, I think, that the story of the pope is an exceedingly simple and pretty one. He has been—though the pontiff, as it is called, of the most ancient ecclesiasticism in western Europe—an excellent citizen of our later world. He has been a good magistrate, a superior pastor, a gentleman, and, it may be added, a prince. He was a prince in nature before he was either cardinal or pope.

In the light of worldly temporalities he has been among the poorest of the popes for many a century, but on that very account less subject to criticism and more open to universal sympathy. From the time he was elected pope the city of Rome has been in the occupation of the king of Italy and has indeed been the political capital of Italy, the laws of that kingdom paying no attention to the previous laws and formalities which the secular state supplanted. But the influence of the pope as a spirit of education and of light has extended to the most remote portions of the world. It has particularly grown in the United States and in England and has also become extended in Germany. The powers which in former centuries most vigorously sustained the pope have either declined, like Spain and Portugal and Austria, or have been revolutionized from within, like France and Italy. But the papacy, even in remote periods, has frequently been espoused in times of need by the ultra Protestant powers. When Louis XIV was attempting to reduce the world to one kingdom, the pope became an ally of England and Holland and influenced some reactionary powers to come to the general assistance of civilization and freedom.

Above all other popes, and somewhat beyond his own record in earlier life, Leo XIII has been a liberal politician. He has hailed the future rather than deplored the loss of the past. He has been one of the captains in the movement for universal education and has strived to make education and morals confide in each other. Not a single scandal from Rome in his papacy has been conveyed to the world. A certain worldly Talleyrandish flavor which went forth in the time of his predecessor from Antonelli, a very able man, has not been revived in Leo's day. He has shown a friendly disposition to the world and could himself take place in almost any learned faculty or congress and hold his own in general knowledge with scientists, belles-lettres men and doctors.

What was he?

Elected pope in February, 1878, he was then almost 68 years of age, and he had been for 32 years the archbishop of one quiet city, Perugia, which once belonged to the papal states, but stood high among the old Italian republics or feudalities for its painters and men of gifts. This region, generally called Umbria, produced the highest triumphs of art in Raphael. In Perugia and its province the archbishop was as distinctly the foremost citizen or subject as the late Phillips Brooks undoubtedly was in Boston or Henry Ward Beecher in Brooklyn.

He was born at a mountain town in the Apennines, not far from Rome, called Carpineti, on March 2, 1810. To this little place of about 5,000 people his ancestors had been expelled from Siena about 350 years ago. They were nobles in Siena, but had taken part against their countrymen when the Medici of Florence resolved to conquer and annex Siena. This independent republic, inspired with passionate hatred against Florence, made a memorable defense, but the odds were too strong.

Retiring into the states of the church the pope's family, named Pecci (pronounced Pechi), formed new friendships, and the pope's father was a count who either volunteered or was drafted into Napoleon's service when he overran Italy. The pope's mother was a countess, who brought property to her husband.

They lived in what is called a palace in Italy, a large building rising from the rocks, two stories and an attic high, with flowers and terraces about its base. The Italians, even those of high rank, are generally frugal and live upon small incomes. It appears that the pope

PROGRESS OF THE TEMISKAMING RAILWAY.

The Provincial Railway Being Built Fast.

Rail-laying Machine at Work—A Cow-Moose That has Become Semi-domesticated—New Machinery Employed.

The Globe on the satisfactory progress of work on the new Temiskaming Railway has the following special correspondence:—

North Bay, Ont., July 17th.—This section of Ontario can speak of little else but the Temiskaming railway—a project which, it is generally believed, will open up the country to the betterment of the Province as a whole. A Globe correspondent made a visit along the line of the new railway this week, starting his journey from North Bay, and continuing to the terminus of the line at New Liskeard. There are over 2,500 men on the construction work, and nearly every country in the world has furnished its quota of help. The contractors have evidently done great work so far, and will in all probability finish ahead of the time limit imposed upon them by the Government by at least two months. The contract called for the completion of the first sixty miles before next January.

RAIL-LAYING BEGUN.

There are at present ninety miles being graded, and the rails are laid out fifteen miles from North Bay. Over two and a half miles of siding have been laid. The dry weather has helped the contractors out a lot, and they are confident they will be able to complete the railway by the end of next year.

The following gentlemen, representing the Ontario Government, visited the construction work this week, and expressed themselves as being well pleased with the progress made: Hon. F. R. Latchford; A. W. Campbell, Assistant Commissioner of Public Works; Dr. James, M.P.P., for East Nipissing; Judge Logrin. Mr. W. B. Russell, chief engineer of the work, met the delegation and took charge of it during its tour of inspection. The contractors for the building of the road have some of the most modern appliances employed on the works ever seen in Canada. The Powerful Bucyrus shovel, whose dipper holds 2 1-2 cubic yards, and which cost $10,000, is a wonder to behold. The contractor's plant on the works cost $200,000.

The progress of the work was seen by a run up the line fifteen miles on a flat car loaded with rails, to a point seven miles past the ballast pit. The contractors' work has apparently been well done. It includes about a mile of temporary trestle work, which will shortly be filled in by ballast from a nearby sand pit.

Mr. M. Doheny of Doheny & Donovan is the active man on the construction. He represents A. R. MacDonnell, the contractor, and is here, there and everywhere, directing operations. Mr. Edward Eugene Perreault, assistant chief engineer, also carries a good load of responsibility on his shoulders.

There is wonderful sport along the line of the railway. It is said the trout fishing is unsurpassed in Canada. The different streams are literally alive with speckled beauties.

A novelty on the construction is a new track laying machine, which is capable of doing a mile of work daily. After spending a night at Burk's camp, the correspondent went along to the camp of Doheny and Grant, on the fortieth mile. In the early evening Mr. Doheny called attention to a moose, which walked quietly into the cow shed and joined the cow at supper. The cow-moose is perfectly tame, and first made its appearance in the camp some three weeks ago. It has never missed a supper since. When it has finished its repast it goes out to the woods again. An Italian labourer on the section threatened to shoot it the other day and Mr. Doheny was so indignant that he threatened all kinds of penalties to anyone even attempting to molest the stranger. The only lady on the whole line of construction so far is a Mrs. Grant, whose hospitality is highly spoken of among the various sub-contractors, of whom there are fifteen. Mr. McCaugherty, the chief fire ranger, has charge of the enforcement of the liquor act along the line of construction, and so successful have been his efforts that not a single whiskey peddler is now to be seen around. One of these latter was found with about forty small bottles of whiskey on his person a few weeks ago. These were taken from him and he was forcibly ejected from the camp. He had previously been in the habit of charging $5 for about 15 cents worth of Canadian rye. At Boyce Lake, Mr. Hugh McKinnon, who represents Mr. MacDonnell in that section, and who is a native of Cape Breton, extended the hospitality of the camp. Here it was my privilege to sleep in the first house built of boards since leaving North Bay. There is a saw-mill at this point and a general store kept by Mr. Mulligan. The work from Boyce Lake is all under construction, but it is not yet completed. Ryan and Carlson are the contractors for the bed of the road. Their work is said to be the most progressive on the line. Mr. Ryan is a son of the late John Ryan of Toronto.

SETTLED BY ARBITRATION.

Difference Between Printers and Employers Amicably Disposed of.

The signing on Friday of last week, of the agreement and papers closes the matter of the question of wages between the employing printers of the town and the workmen engaged in the several offices. The matter has been in abeyance for the last two months and while a conclusion was reached nearly a month ago, submission of the form of agreement proposed to be entered into, by the local union to the parent organization, The International Typographical Union of America, for approval, delayed the closing up of the matter.

While not occupying the attention in the public eye, that some other trade disputes attracted, this has been carried on with no less earnestness on both sides. The employees advanced the claim that the increased cost of living in the matter of rents, provisions and other necessaries compelled a higher wage that the increased cost be met Employers urged that, outside competition, the competition of highly specialized plants in the cities, the fact of doing largely a local business, the increased cost of paper and materials, all militated against higher wages being paid, unless prices for advertising and work be advanced to a point which would seriously cripple the output from a printing office. It was admitted by both sides that there was force in the contentions advanced.

It may be remembered that during April, 1902, (the local union having been formed some months previously) that a demand was made on the employing printers for higher wages. After some discussion a conclusion was mutually reached, by which the employees received an advance and at the same time the hours of labour were reduced from 60 per week to 54. This agreement held good from 1st June, 1902, to 31st May, 1903. Previous to this latter date a further demand was made, and a scale of wages submitted, which gave as a minimum wage to a journeymman that which was practically an advance of fifty per cent. over the wage paid during May, 1902. With this latter demand was included the further reduction of the hours of labour from 54 per week to 52 per week; the printers' unions being urged by the American union to strenuously make for an eight hour day, which would be 48 hours per week. At the same time the scale of wages was to be advanced to such a limit as could be gained, despite the fact that to increase the wage and at the same time lower or lessen the hours of labour and so lessen production, was a most serious contingency.

In reply to the demand the employing printers submitted an offer of an advance in wages with hours of work remaining at 54 per week. This was rejected. A second offer was made by the employers, including a still further advance in wages, hours to stay at 54. This was also rejected by the union. After consideration, the employers, taking the initiative, proposed leaving the matter to arbitration. To this the Printer's Union readily and willingly consented, and it was mutually arranged that each side should select an arbitrator, the two so selected to name a third. Mr. T. F. Matthews kindly consented to act for the employers, Mr. Robt. McGregor for the employees, and Mr. E. A. Peck, at request of the arbitrators became the third. The Board was constituted with Mr. Peck as Chairman.

The Board met in the Y.M.C.A. room and held two sittings. The case for the employees was presented, at the first sitting, by Mr. Hugh Stevenson, the International Union delegate and representative, and at the second sitting by Mr. Albert Martin, President of the local union, and Mr. W. Lewis, of the Committee. The employers presented their side of the case in person. The Board went into the matter most thoroughly. Evidence was taken and noted. Both sides left no stone unturned to prove the case from the respective points of view. The arbitrators, with the greatest patience, gave the matter thorough attention and taken altogether the subject was pretty well threshed out. It was agreed that the award, when made, should be accepted without demur. Within a week of the conclusion of the sittings, the Board reported and handed in a decision giving the employees an advance, but not equal to the scale demanded, and keeping the hours of labour at 54 per week. The new scale went into force on June 1st, and provides for a further advance on October 1st, to be final until the expiration of the term, 1st May, 1905.

The thanks of both sides of the controversy are due the gentlemen forming the Board of Arbitration, and it is hoped that the example set in so reaching a conclusion in such a labour dispute, may be adopted by others should the need arise.

A HARVEY WEDDING.

Nuptials of Mr. David H. Coons to Miss Annie Fawcett.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Knox church, Lakehurst, at 7.30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 15th, when Miss Annie, eldest daughter of the late Mr. William and Mrs. Eleanor Fawcett, was united in marriage to Mr. David Henry, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Coons.

The bride, who entered the church with her uncle, Mr. Richard Fawcett, was prettily dressed in white brussels net trimmed with satin ribbon, a white satin sash and a tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Lizzie Fawcett, who was prettily dressed in white organdie trimmed with Valenciennes lace insertion and chiffon, a white satin sash and a picture hat. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. W. R. Smith.

The service of praise was led by the choir, and Hayden's "Hallelujah," was played by Rev. Mr. Pickup, incumbent of the church, who also assisted in the marriage ceremony, conducted by Rev. R. Macknight, B.A., of Peterborough.

The church was appropriately decorated with flowering plants, and was completely filled with the large congregation of guests and spectators, some of whom had come from Toronto, Peterborough, Keene and other places at a distance.

After the service in the church the united guests to the number of about 150, retired to the home of the bride's mother, where the usual reception being ended, an elaborate and delicious wedding banquet was partaken of by all. Till after midnight the evening was pleasantly occupied in sociability. The list of presents was unusually large and exceedingly handsome and suitable and amply attested esteem and good-will toward a couple who have been residents of the vicinity since childhood, and are all to make their home there.

KING'S IRISH VISIT.

Enthusiastic Reception is Indicated Throughout Tour.

THE ADDRESSES OF WELCOME

Irish Cities Generally Will Present Them—Even Dublin's Decorations Are Elaborate, and "Rebel Cork" Will Present an Address and Welcome King Edward on Generous Scale.

London, July 20.—Ireland, whither the King and Queen will go in state to-day, will draw all eyes to herself for the next fortnight. Not for a century has the outlook seemed more pleasing to English eyes. To them a new Ireland appears; an Ireland in which landlord and tenant, Nationalist and Ulsterman, are at peace; an Ireland eager to place King Edward in the void left by the extinction of the old chiefs; an Ireland, in fact, of a new era of social contentment and political loyalty.

The King will probably pardon Col. Lynch and other political prisoners as a special act of force.

The preparations for the approaching visit of King Edward to Ireland are completed, and there is every indication that an enthusiastic reception will be accorded to His Majesty through his tour. In official circles the hope is entertained that good political and social results will follow the royal visit.

The Irish cities generally have agreed to present addresses of welcome to the King. The Conservative press of the United Kingdom declares that the action of the Dublin Corporation in refusing to present an address to His Majesty in nowise represents the general sentiment of the city, where the decorations are unusually elaborate and the preparations extensive, while "Rebel Cork" has not only agreed upon an address, but, like most of the cities included in the itinerary, is preparing a welcome for the sovereign on a generous scale.

The Departure.

The King and Queen will leave Buckingham Palace at 12.40 o'clock the afternoon and preparations have been made in London to give Their Majesties an enthusiastic godspeed. The royal special train will leave Euston Station at 1 p.m., and no stops will be made until the Holyhead Pier is reached, at 6 o'clock, the run averaging 52 miles an hour.

The Victoria and Albert, according to the present arrangements, will proceed to the west coast of Ireland, and the King and his party will re-embark at Borchaven and sail for Queenstown.

The most extraordinary precautions have been taken to protect King Edward through his visit, in view of the attitude of the factions opposing the recognition of the King as the ruler of Ireland, the Nationalist leaders having, since the royal visit was first proposed, stated that the Irish people would not be content to welcome His Majesty to Ireland as King until home rule should have been granted.

Offered to Mr. Aylesworth.

Ottawa, July 20.—The vacancy on the Supreme Court bench created by the death of the late Mr. Justice Armour has been offered to Mr. A. B. Aylesworth. The position carries with it representation on the Alaska Tribunal. It is not known whether Mr. Aylesworth will accept the Judgeship, he having declined the offer on previous occasions. The impression prevails, however, that he would not be indisposed to act for Canada on the Alaska Tribunal. Rumor also connects Mr. Aylesworth's name with a position on the Railway Commission.

Calgary Lockout Over.

Calgary, N.W.T., July 20. — The long-standing lock-out of the Calgary carpenters has been brought to an end. By the terms of the new agreement the contractors can employ whom they like. The contractors refuse to recognize the union, and all men must sign the new agreement as individuals. The terms are that a day's work will constitute nine hours, and the minimum wage shall be $2.50. The losses on account of the dispute were between $75,000 and $100,000 to the contractors in contract work, and over $7,500 in wages to the workmen.

Spain's New Cabinet.

Madrid, July 20.—The King has approved the new Cabinet which has been constituted by Marquis Villaverde, as follows: Premier, Marquis Villaverde; Foreign Minister, Count San Bernardo; Minister of Justice, Senor Buganal; Minister of Finance, Senor Besada; Minister of War, General Martitgui; Minister of Navy, Senor Estram; Minister of the Interior, Senor Garcia Alix; Minister of Public Instruction, Senor Osma; Minister of Agriculture, Senor Gassot.

Artist Whistler's Death.

London, July 20.—It is ascertained that the late James McN. Whistler, the eminent American artist, died under peculiarly distressing circumstances. He had been ill for a year, but his condition had improved to such an extent that he ordered a cab to go for a drive. As he was about to leave his home in Chelsea, he was seized with a fit. He recovered temporarily, but was the victim of another paroxysm, from which he died.

Will Ratify Treaty.

Panama, July 20.—Reliable information received here from Bogota says that it appears probable that the canal treaty will be ratified, making the sum payable to Colombia by the United States $25,000,000 instead of $10,000,000, as proposed by the treaty. Cable communication with the capital has been interrupted since Friday.

AN AERONAUT'S DROP.

Parachute Failed to Work Until He Was Near the Ground.

Montreal, July 20.—M. B. Trussle, a young aeronaut, who is giving exhibitions here in company with Prof. Walcott, had a narrow escape from death Saturday. The aeronauts had ascended at Riverside Park, and when up about 4,000 feet, Trussle attempted to descend with his parachute, which, however, failed to work at first. As it was, he was dashed to the ground, and had his collar-bone broken. He is now at the hospital in this city.

Fell to His Death.

London, July 20.—Geo. McGuffin, a prominent farmer living on Lot 6, Eighth Concession of London Township, was accidentally killed Saturday afternoon while drawing hay from one of his fields. He was working on one of the wagons when he was in some way jolted out and fell a distance of ten feet, striking on the back of his head and breaking on of the large arteries. He died almost instantly.

Tried to Remove Cartridges.

Halifax, N. S., July 20.—Norman Lucas, aged 16 years, was accidentally shot dead at his parent's home, at Lucasville, Saturday night. He was attempting to remove some cartridges from the barrel of a revolver with a pen-knife, when the weapon was discharged and the ball passed through his brain. He lived two hours after the accident.

First an Arm, Then His Life.

London, July 20.—Arthur Brock, a Grand Trunk yardsman, was run over and killed by the International Limited last night. Brock was struck by the same train exactly a year ago and then lost an arm.

SKEDDEN WON THE MATCH.

Makes Seven Bullseyes in the Stock Exchange Match.

Bisley Camp, July 20.—Shooting began Saturday in a perfect downpour of rain, but at 11 o'clock the weather cleared, and an almost tropical heat set in.

In the Stock Exchange match at 200, 500 and 600 yards, Staff-Sergt. Skodden of the 13th Regiment, scored a possible at the 200 range and won the match with a total of 95 out of a possible 105.

The other scores at the 200 yard range were: King, 33; Bayles, 33; Russell, 32; Elliott, 31; Stuart, 30; Hayhurst, 30; Drysdale, 27; Spearing, 26.

Over a dozen possibles were made in this match. There were 40 odd 34's and 55 33's.

In The Daily Graphic match Vroom was the first to finish, with a score of 29 at 200 yards. The men who shot early scored low on account of the bad weather conditions. The Canadians scored as follows: McNaughton, 33; Simpson, 33; White, 32; Smith, 31; Crowe, 31; Annand, 30; Macgregor, 30; Peddie, 29; Vroom, 29.

POLLING DAY.

The Manitoba Elections—Premier Roblin's Speech to French Electors.

Winnipeg, July 20.—There were no very striking features in the Manitoba election campaign Saturday. Premier Roblin, speaking to a French audience at St. Daniel, declared that he had voted against the abolition of separate schools and against the abolition of French as an official language. He has not been making such speeches in the Orange or city districts. The Rob.in supporters are taking no chances on losing the elections, and it is feared corruption will be rampant in their ranks today. With favorable weather there will be a large vote polled between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. to-day.

HIS TROUBLES NEVER CAME BACK

Ernest Grant Took Dodd's Kidney Pills—They Removed the Cause.

He had Backache and Urinary Troubles for Twelve Years Before he Used the Great Kidney Remedy.

Montreal, July 20th. — Special.—Ernest Grant, 287 1-2 Urbain street, this city, is among those who never let an opportunity pass to say a good word for Dodd's Kidney Pills. He has his reasons for this, and here they are in his own words:

"I had been troubled with backache and Kidney Disease for twelve years," says Mr. Grant. "My urine was very dark and high coloured. I would lose my rest at night on account of having to rise so often to urinate. I could get nothing to help me.

"I tried several remedies, but all failed until I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. When I had taken four boxes, I was able to go to bed and take my rest, my Backache left me and I was cured. It has never come back."

When Dodd's Kidney Pills cure, the disease never comes back. They remove the cause.

Murder Is Suspected.

Ottawa, July 20.—A post-mortem examination was held Saturday afternoon on Herbert Jackson, a colored attache of the Pan-American circus, who was found dead early Saturday morning on top of one of the circus train cars at the Union Station. His skull was found to be crushed in. Whether that was caused by a blow from some one or received by a blow from an overhead bridge is to be determined by the police. Murder is suspected.

Against King Charles.

Berlin, July 18.—A despatch to The Cologne Gazette from Lisbon says that a number of officers of the 5th Portuguese Infantry have been arrested on the charge of conspiring against King Charles. They will be tried by court-martial. The instigators are officers who were cashiered some time ago. Other regiments are said to be affected.

Enormous Growth.

Ever since Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were first introduced to the public the sales have steadily increased, each year being larger than the year preceding. This is probably the best evidence of their remarkable efficiency, as a treatment for derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels. They are invaluable as a family medicine.

We are doing one thing extremely well—making Good Glasses. In fact the best Glasses made in Canada to-day. Perhaps you may think this a strong statement, but it is writen deliberately and meant to be convincing.

We examine your eyes carefully, and in our examining room we have all the latest instruments for that purpose. We are Eye Specialists, and our long years of experience make us experts. In the rear of the office is a work shop equipped with the most modern machinery for optical work—the only shop of the kind in Peterborough. Surface grinding of lenses is done on the premises. Fishing at Chemong.

Mr. J. C. Smith, who, with his wife and family is spending the summer at Chemong, met with excellent luck in fishing on Saturday last. He landed the monster safely, and was naturally much elated over his magnificent catch.

Presentation.

PETERBOROUGH BOARD OF HEALTH

Meeting Held This Morning at 11 o'clock.

The Business Transacted—More About Mr. Batten's Well.

A meeting of the local Board of Health was held in the Town Clerk's office at 11 o'clock this morning. There were present Mr. Robert Neill, chairman, and Messrs. Wm. Eyres, Mayor Roger, Drs. McNulty and Burnham, besides Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, and Chief Roszel, Sanitary Inspector.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

A local physician explained to the satisfaction of the Board why certain patients said to be suffering from diphtheria, had been released from the hospital after only three weeks isolation.

It was moved by Dr. McNulty, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that before any case be discharged from the hospital, before the expiration of 28 days, Dr. Bingham, the Medical Health Officer, supervise the taking of the swab, and that the attention of all the local physicians be called to section 8 of the Scarlet Fever Regulations.

The following is the regulation regarding the discharge of persons suffering from diphtheria from the hospital or place of isolation:—

"Every person who has had diphtheria shall be isolated for a period of not less than 28 days from the outset of the disease, unless swabs taken from the throat and nose shall sooner by bacteriolical culture have proved the absence of the bacilli of the disease. In cases isolated, where owing to the presence of nasal, throat and glandular discharges the Medical Health Officer has reason to doubt freedom from the bacilli of the disease, he shall continue the isolation of the person until swabs taken from the discharges shall, after bacteriological culture have shown freedom from the disease."

On motion of the chairman, seconded by Mr. Eyres, it was resolved that Mr. Snowden be notified that unless some action be taken towards the closing of what is known as "Alderman Batten's well," within three days further prosecution will ensue.

The Board then adjourned.

MR. AND MRS. WILMOT MISSED IN ALMONTE.

A Tribute to Admirable Qualities of the Bank of Montreal Manager and Mrs. Wilmot.

The Almont Gazette, under the heading "Good Citizen Gone" speaks of Mr. and Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot in the following terms:—

"During their residence at the Bank of Montreal here both Mr. and Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot became very popular, and in many ways proved themselves useful citizens, and their departure from town is a matter of sincere regret. With the business men Mr. Wilmot ingratiated himself by his uniformly courteous manner and his willingness to meet every patron of the bank on reasonable ground. In the affairs of the town he took a deep interest, and to him is due in a large measure the credit for the fine skating and curling rink which Almonters point to with so much pride. In commercial matters the formation of the Board of Trade is one of the visible evidences of his interest therein. In church and social circles both he and Mrs. Wilmot were useful and esteemed members. They took an active interest in the musical part of the services in St. Paul's church, and to them, but more especially to Mrs. Wilmot, are Almonte lovers of music indebted for many rare treats in that line. On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot were tendered a farewell social at "Pinehurst," the palatial residence of Mr. B. Rosamond, M.P., and during the evening Mrs. Wilmot was presented with a beautiful pendant with diamond and pearl settings by her lady friends of St. Paul's church. Rev. Mr. Read, the rector, in making the presentation, referred in eulogistic terms to the good work willingly done by Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot in the church, and more particularly in connection with the choir. On Monday afternoon a few of Mr. Wilmot's friends waited upon him at the bank, and while County Councillor Stafford voiced the general regret of the community at his removal, Dr. Lynch presented him with a handsome sterling silver shaving set. Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot left for Peterborough on Tuesday morning, and were given a hearty send-off by their friends, who had assembled at the station to see them off. It is no flattery to say that they will be much missed in town."

Mr. Wilmot has assumed charge of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal.

THE OLD BOYS' ASSOCIATION.

First Home Coming on July 25th to 27th.

A Special Excursion Train—The Assembly in the Park—A Souvenir Programme.

Arrangements have been completed for an excursion of the Peterborough Old Boys to the home county, extending over Saturday, Sunday and Monday, July 25th to 27th.

A special excursion train will leave the union station, Toronto, at 7.40 a.m., on the 25th, via the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway, stopping at Markham, Stouffville, Blackwater and Lindsay, arriving in Peterborough at 11 o'clock that morning.

All members and friends will assemble at Victoria Park, Peterborough, on Monday, at 2 p.m., where they will be met by the Mayor accompanied by the Warden of the county, Aldermen, County Councillors and leading citizens from the town and municipalities, who will formally welcome them.

One of the "elect ladies," whom everyone will delight to honour, who will accompany the 'home comers" on July 25th, will be Mrs. Vickers, widow of the late John J. Vickers of Toronto, and eldest daughter of the late Mrs. Susanna Moodie, of Lakefield, the gifted authoress of "Roughing it in the bush," "Life in the "Clearings," and many other books, that did more perhaps to make Canada known to the people of England than any other single thing of the last century.

Many people will delight to do honour to Mrs. Moodie's "Katy," who, at a little past the "three score and ten," mark is the living image of her talented mother.

Every Peterborough County man ought to have a copy of "Roughing it in the Bush." It would give the people who live in these modern times with all the conveniences of railway, telegraph, telephone, electric light, etc., some conception of what it meant to be a pioneer in the early years of the century that has lately passed.

After a few short speeches by prominent citizens and members of the association, a band concert will be given, and the remainder of the afternoon spent in games between home and visiting teams, visiting, etc., leaving for Toronto at 7.30 p.m.

If everyone does something to help the home coming to be a success, it will assuredly be one of grateful remembrance, not only to the Old Boys but to the present inhabitants of the town It is understood that quite a number of persons from as far west as Denver and as far east as Halifax, have signified their intention of being present at this great reunion.

There only remains less than a week for the dawning of that day, which, it is to be hoped, will be an historical one in the annals of this town.

An elegant and artistic programme, printed in several colours on toned paper, finished in the finest style of the printors' art, has been prepared as a momento of the first Home Coming of the Peterborough Old Boys. It will contain historical information, biographical sketches, list of officers and members, specially written songs, with photo engravings of officers, Mayor of Peterborough and Aldermen, Warden and County Councillors, Parliamentary representatives and programme of proceedings.

Hon. Presidents — Rev. J. C. Speer, Hon. George A. Cox, Mr. J. W. Flavelle, Toronto.

Home Committee — Aldermen B. Shortly, Chairman; Henry Rush, Secretary; H. Best, J. Edgecombe, R. F. McWilliams.

From the activity and interest displayed by not only the Home Committee, but by others, it is safe to say that this home coming will be a great success and one of unusual pleasure.

Speaking of the souvenir programme, the Globe of to-day contains the following:—

"The Peterborough Old Boys' Association have issued a very handsome souvenir programme in connection with the home-coming of the Old Boys and Girls on July 25th, 26th and 27th. It is in the form of a booklet of sixteen pages and is very handsomely printed. REV. MR. LEWIS IN MARK STREET CHURCH.

New Pastor Preached Eloquent Sermon Last Night.

Subject was "Divine Presence"—Work of the Church is Prospering.

Succeeding Rev. Mr. Thompson in the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, is the Rev. J. G. Lewis, who at the last session of the Bay of Quinte Conference, was stationed here, coming from Newtonville, where he had spent a full term with success in his work. Rev. Mr. Lewis, since assuming charge of the Mark street church, has created a most favourable impression upon the members of the congregation, who look forward to a prosperous term under the new pastor.

Last evening a large congregation, when the fact that this is the holiday season is considered, greeted Mr. Lewis, who preached a helpful and earnest sermon on the subject, "Divine Presence," from Exodus xxxiii, 15, "If thy presence go not up with me, carry us not up hence," which he said were the words of Moses when about to undertake an important work in the deliverance of his fellow-countrymen, the Israelites, from the bondage in Egypt. He had been a witness to the sorrow and suffering to which they were subjected, and in his sympathy with them in their wretched condition longed to offer help, but felt his inability to successfully carry out what he knew would be an undertaking requiring higher wisdom than he possessed. Following this came the assurance from God "My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest," which proved an inspiration and an encouragement to the man to whom the words were spoken, and should also prove a help to those who are to-day undertaking to perform service for mankind.

The fact that the promise of Divine presence was fulfilled was proven by the miracles performed and the wondrous leadings and deliverances of which the children of Israel were made the subjects.

These facts suggest the thought that God's presence is the need of every life. Indeed, it is the essence of all true success in life; all other means will in the end prove failures. In order to have the conscious Divine presence, the speaker said the price must be paid. There are some things which must be forsaken. All things which hide God from men must be forsaken to have the joyous consciousness of His presence. The fact must be recognized that there are many good men in business and society who are without the pale of the church. Their lives are upright and honest, but in them there is no thought of God, and their plans are not laid with a regard for his will. The speaker emphasized the fact that the Divine presence in man's life was an absolute necessity in order to achieve the highest success. It is the complement or supplement of all human infirmities. Religion fits into all the folds of a man's nature, and gives rest and assurance to the life. In this age of feverish activity the great need of the race is rest, not rest from work, but rest from worry and anxiety which are the cause of the great disorders. The presence of God in the life produces a calm repose which helps the possesser to a more perfect enjoyment of the pleasures of life.

The reverend gentleman then spoke eloquently of the need of God's presence in the home. It is there that the characters are formed and to have the sons and daughters develop pure and noble lives, a good example must be set by the parents at home. His presence is also needed in business life, in social relations and in pleasures of life. He said that young people demand pleasure. This is a natural demand, and one which the church must recognize and seek to supply. It is the duty of the church to provide pleasure which will be innocent and pure, for the young people.

In concluding his forceful and eloquent sermon, Mr. Lewis exhorted all to seek to obtain the presence of God in their lives which was a sure pledge of success.

After the sermon, Miss Courtney sang in a very pleasing soprano voice the beautiful solo, "Face to Face."

The members of Mark street church have bright hopes for a successful year's work, and are supporting their new pastor in his efforts. A Ladies' Aid Society will be formed in the near future.

PROGRESS ON THE CEREAL COMPANY'S DAM.

The Work is Being Rapidly Pushed Forward and Will Propably be Finished by November 1st.

A visit to the Cereal Company's new dam, besides being a pleasant walk, is one of great interest at the present phase of construction. The building of the brick work of the power house is being pushed forward at a great pace as is all the work at present under construction. The concrete work of the power house has been finished and the tail-race has been begun. This, it is expected, will be finished in about a month's time, while the entire structure will probably be ready by November.

There are at present nearly 160 men at work every day on the dam, which may be considered, to use a slang expression, as "a rush job."

A derrick has been placed on the east side of the river and preparations are being made in order that the other abuttment many be begun. It is estimated that the building of the power house will be finished by the middle of next month.

Contrator O'Toole, who kindly gave the Examiner the required information, stated that when completed the new dam will be a really fine piece of artistic workmanship and will be one of the sights of the town.

Walking Canes.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Interesting Sermon by Rev. Dr. McTavish, of Desoronto.

At St. Andrew's church last evening Rev. Dr. McTavish, of Deseronto, preached an interesting sermon on the influence of Young People's Christian Endeavour Societies in furthering the work of the church. The preacher took for his text: 1st Corinthians. Chap. 14, verse 23:—"If therefore the whole church become together into one place and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad? But if all prophesy and there come in one that believeth not or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all."

Rev. Dr. McTavish commenced by speaking of the Christian Endeavour Societies as being instrumental in enticing young persons to attend church and to take more interest in the services. He said that these societies had accomplished the work they entered upon, a work which could not succeed with all congregations. Of course, he added, every organization as well as human beings had its limit and success did not always come unless everyone entered into the spirit of the society.

The preacher dwelt at some length on the better understanding of the different denominations of the church and touched upon the co-operation of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches in the mission field. He said in conclusion that all churches were starting from the same point and steering for the same goal and would profit by being lashed together.

During the offertory Miss Florence Miller sang.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP NOTES.

"The Scribe" Tells of the Experiences of the Boys.

Y.M.C.A. Camp,
Sandy Point,
July 17th, 1903.

On Wednesday last about 3 o'clock in the afternoon we landed and in the name of the Y.M.C.A. for the the sixth term took possession of Sandy Point, a part of Kawartha Park and as large a piece of Clear Lake as possible.

The transportation aarrangements this year differed from the five camps that have preceeded this one, as formerly the journey was made in busses overland. This year the party took the early train to Lakefield, in company with the George Street Choir and spent the morning in Lakefield, while the latter party went on the Alert. We sent one of our party along with them, who with another member of the Y.M.C.A. did their best to take care of the ladies.

The trip on the "Majestic" to camp was a very enjoyable one, and Capt. Young and the management of the craft have the hearty thanks of the boys for a special rate and many other kindnesses shown.

No time was lost after landing in getting up the tents as the weather was very threatening. No sooner was this done than the rain began to fall in torrents.

A "snack" supper was served with emergency rations, to which the boys did ample justice. Later on in the evening Commodore Daly went down to Ayott's (our base of supplies) and his flotilla was almost wrecked on the way back, being overtaken in a heavy shower of rain.

Some of the "Freshmen" were very frightened, including "Frisky" and another little fellow.

True to the traditions of all well regulated camps, there was very little sleep the first night—the boys preferring to talk the big things they intended to do next day.

The entire party is occupying the large tent presented to the Association by Mayor Roger, some five years ago; beside this there is the grub tent and an extra for baggage, etc.

The table was covered by a large canopy.

The party is not as large as usual this year as for the first time only those under 16 years of age are in attendance.

The camp has settled down to system and everything indicates a good time.

All the boys are well and able to sit up and eat and doing their best to get sunburnt.

You will hear from us soon again.

Yours etc.,
THE "SCRIBE.

T. A. S. EXCURSION

Objective Point was Idyl Wyld and Pleasant Time was Spent.

The excursion held on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of St. Peter's T.A.S. Lacrosse Club, to Idyl Wild, by steamer City of Peterborough, was a huge success, and has encouraged the boys to arrange for another, which will probably be run on the third Saturday in August.

The boat was loaded to her full capacity, in fact many were disappointed in not being able to gain entrance to the steamer, and, as a consequence, had to forego the pleasures of the occasion.

The party sailed direct to Idyl Wild and spent a short time there before starting on the homeward journey. Both the trip down and that returning were enlivened by the music provided by a first class orchestra, and many of the young people enjoyed the pleasures derived from tripping the light fantastic.

The whole event was one much enjoyed, and the announcement that a second excursion is being arranged will be hailed with delight.

THE CHURCHES.

ALL SAINT'S CHURCH.

In All Saints' Church yesterday, the Rev. McKee McLennan, of Norwood, preached very acceptably both morning and evening. In the absence of Rev. Mr. Armitage, Mr Jos. Legg has charge of the choir, which yesterday rendered a very effective musical service, in the morning singing "Gently Lord, O Gently Lead Us," and in the evening Sudd's "Evening Hymn."

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

At St. John's church yesterday morning Rev. J. C. Davidson asked the members of the congregation to extend a hearty welcome to the Home Comers on the occasion of their visit. He would extend the courtesy of St. John's church, and would deal with the subject in his sermon next Sunday.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST.

The services at the George street Methodist church yesterday were conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson. The subject of the morning sermon was "Saints," and in the evening Mr. Wilson based his remarks on the story of Naaman, the Leper. The morning anthem was "God of My Life," by Shepherd; and in the evening "O Blessed are They that Love Thee," and "The Mellow Eve," were sung with much expression, Miss Parnell taking the soprano solo in the former.

during all his life has known no want, but has enjoyed a private revenue such as a gentleman of noble descent would be apt to have in any country who had kept his estates.

He was born after the French republicans had overrun Italy and been everywhere victorious, and the greatest change had taken place not only in the Italian people, but even in the priesthood. Most of the revolutions in what are called the Latin countries are abetted by a certain proportion of the priests, for men do not lose their political passions necessarily by belonging to this church or that. The most implacable opponents the pope has had as a bishop and incidental civic ruler have been revolutionary priests, and against these he has more than once spoken in reproof.

The ablest author in Europe and the most indefatigable writer at the close of the last century was Voltaire. His frequent books, written with great wit and pith, were translated and universally circulated through Italy when the pope was a child. In this papacy a Voltaire jubilee has been held in Rome.

The pope himself, Pius VII, had been taken captive from Rome to France and was only returned to Rome at the fall of Napoleon in 1814. He restored the Jesuits, who were the secular schoolmasters within the church, but they had fallen under the hostility of several of the kings and been for some time suppressed. Upon their return they opened schools and gave the city of Rome something of its old clerical and literary character.

In 1817 the late pope's mother took her sons to Rome and the next year put them at school at Viterbo, a city on a hill but a few hours' carriage ride from Rome. This lady belonged to one of the orders of the Franciscans and when she died was buried in their brown cloak and cord. Her death was nearly at the same time with that of Pius VII.

The next pope, Leo XII, branched out as an educator. The Jesuits' college was opened in Rome in 1824 with 1,400 students, and among these were the two Pecci boys, of whom Joseph was a Jesuit. He was three years older than his brother. These boys went home to their mountain town on holidays, and the pope was an active hunter and fowler in the mountains. Rome was to them like any American city to a family which lived in the neighboring country and spent the winters in the city.

The name of the pope was Joachim Vincent Raphael Lodovico Pecci. He always went by the name of Vincent Pecci until at a certain period after his mother's death, when he became generally known as Joachim Pecci.

He became fluent in the Latin and wrote verses and orations in it and gained prizes. After his mother's death he lived with his uncle in the Muti palace in Rome. He somewhat knew Pope Leo XII and chose his papal name with reference to that prelate.

He matriculated in 1830, graduated a doctor of theology in 1832, which was the time that he adopted the name of Joachim, and he entered the diplomatic class in the university called Sapienza, or Wisdom, in Rome. Among his friends and classmates were such nobles as Duke Sforza of the old Milan lords.

He was acquainted with Leo, as well as with Pius VIII, who lived but a short time, and then came Gregory XVI, in whose household he was one of the prelates.

He first attracted special attention during the cholera in Rome in 1837, when he was 27 years old. He had nerve in an unusual degree, and his intrepid services among the cholera stricken people marked him among the more timid ecclesiastics as a man who could be of use to them in the dangerous condition of the country.

The states of the church indeed were then in a dreadful condition. After the fall of Napoleon, when the nature of the long war had demoralized nobles as well as peasants, a system of brigandage overran the states of the church. As the pope had no extensive army refugees came into his territories from Naples and the other adjoining states and were often employed in the mountain castles by the predatory nobles for the purposes of violence or revenge. Some of the most terrible of these persons had at one time been clericals.

Made a full priest in the Church of St. Stanislaus in Rome, Joachim Pecci was made at the age of 28 governor of Benevento, a small state in Naples about seven miles square and only a day's journey from that city. Benevento had given the title of Prince of Benevento to Talleyrand, the celebrated French diplomatist, who in his early life had been a Catholic bishop.

The little state was full of reactionary guerrillas and brigands. The young ruler went there under the general expectation that he would be the victim of violence. Fortunately for him, he was almost immediately taken ill with the typhoid fever, and his death was supposed to be certain. This calamity softened the nature of the people, and they began to talk about this intellectual young priest who had exposed his life in Rome to the pestilence. Instead of antagonizing him they formed processions and went to public prayers in his behalf, and when he recovered it was looked upon as in the nature of a miracle.

They were mistaken, however, as to his worldly force.

There lived in a mountain fastness in the state a celebrated brigand named Pasquale Collatta, who had a band of 14 murderers, and they had committed every species of offense. The priest governor laid his plans well, and one day the people were surprised to see come into the town, manacled and under guard, the chief of the band and every one of his myrmidons. In spite of their threats, promises and penitence they were executed.

Pecci now turned his attention to the lawless nobles who had encouraged such trespasses, and when one of them undertook to browbeat him and threatened to go to Rome and have him so called the governor said, "Marvels be fore you get to the Vatican you shall pass through the castle of St. Angelo." This was the state prison at Rome, and its name was ominous.

A feeling grew that this young man had special powers with the pope. Evildoers hastened to get out of his territory or make their peace.

He searched the lawless castles, began to build good roads, examined and lowered the taxes, made the collection of the revenue effective, and thus spent nearly three years making an orderly state out of a most disorderly one.

Pope Gregory now recalled him to Rome and appointed him governor of Perugia, where he will always be remembered as one of the wisest men who ever took charge of her fortunes. This city stands near Assisi, where is the monastery founded by St. Francis. It was full of Mazzini's revolutionary societies.

The object the papal authorities had was the suppression of these plotting spirits by Pecci, but he commenced in a different way.

Finding that the city was on a high mound or cone above a plain or marsh and had a road to it so steep that no vehicle could climb it without the aid of many yokes of oxen, the new governor set to work and in 20 days built a graded road up the height, over which in a little while rode the pope, much to his wonder and satisfaction.

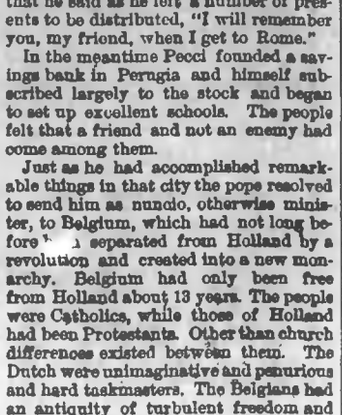
The pope was so delighted with his young engineer governor, then aged 31, that he said as he left a number of presents to be distributed, "I will remember you, my friend, when I get to Rome."

In the meantime Pecci founded a savings bank in Perugia and himself subscribed largely to the stock and began to set up excellent schools. The people felt that a friend and not an enemy had come among them.

Just as he had accomplished remarkable things in that city the pope resolved to send him as nuncio, otherwise minister, to Belgium, which had not long before been separated from Holland by a revolution and created into a new monarchy. Belgium had only been free from Holland about 13 years. The people were Catholics, while those of Holland had been Protestants. Other than church differences existed between them. The Dutch were unimaginative and penurious and hard taskmasters. The Belgians had an antiquity of turbulent freedom and loved the arts and joys.

At 33 Archbishop Pecci, as he now was, appeared in Brussels accredited to King Leopold, who was the uncle of the royal family of England. An interesting account of his gentle yet democratic intercourse is to be found in the "Life of Charles Lever," the novelist, who at that time lived in Brussels and was writing some of his novels. He and the future pope became warm friends. So did the king and queen take most cordially to the nuncio.

He busied himself mainly in rearing up the Catholic schools and universities of Belgium, which had gone into a decline. His acuteness on political affairs was such that Leopold one day said to him, "You are as clever a politician as you are a bright churchman."



GLIMPSE OF ST. PETER'S.

Always moderate and always learning, Archbishop Pecci was also active for his church and raised money in Belgium to found a college in Rome to educate the priests of that country.

Before he returned to Rome in 1846 he visited London with letters to Victoria and Albert and was by them well entertained, and he mingled among the best people in England and took close observations upon the country. This species of intercourse no doubt broadened his mind and made him see that the modern world could not be reduced to the haggard outlines of Italy.

From London he went to France and paid a visit to Louis Philippe, who was then reigning near his fall.

When he got to Rome Pope, Gregory was dying.

Pecci was well acquainted with Cardinal Feretti, who soon became Pius IX, and that pope made him archbishop of Perugia at the age of 36. Nearly at the same time the new pope granted a general amnesty for political offenses and was for a time regarded as a man of liberal intentions.

It was fortunate for Archbishop Pecci that he could retire to a distance from Rome in the mountains toward Tuscany and exercise his prerogatives without becoming involved in the rising political passions at the Eternal City, where very soon Mazzini, Garibaldi and others revolutionized Rome and formed a triumvirate of dictators and had to stand a siege by the French, at the close of which the pope was so heartily frightened that he revoked his liberal dispositions.

Retired to a city of about 60,000 people, the archbishop of Perugia, as has been said, lived there 28 years, or down to the year 1878. He was a universal reader, and among the wise saints in the Catholic age he chose St. Charles Borromeo as a man to imitate, the giver of his riches to alms and education. He thereupon gave his mind to the study of education in Perugia.

He made up his mind in the first place to educate his clergy thoroughly and to see that their habits were industrious and pure. Next he set upon the education of the upper classes, many of whom were contemptibly illiterate. Finally he came down to the children and even paid some attention to female education.

At one time the revolutionary elements in Perugia arose, and a conflict took place between them and the papal troops, who were of all nations, Swiss, German, Irish, and even American, and the populace was worsted.

The archbishop surrounded himself with friends of like tastes with his own, favorable to education and sincerely desirous of seeing morals made voluntary. He had been received in the city, when he returned there the second time, with a magnificent demonstration. As the ruler, both ecclesiastic and civil, he inhabited the palace upon the public square, which had on one side of it the city hall and on the other the cathedral. Among the friends he took to his heart in this place was Mgr. Satolli, the recent legate of the pope in America.

In 1854 he was made a cardinal, and this entitled him to take part in the selection of future popes.

Glancing back for a moment at these dates, we will see that the pope was born in the year after Gladstone; that he became a full priest near the close of General Jackson's administration, and that he became archbishop of Perugia at the time of our Mexican war.

His habits did not differ at any time. He was remarkably laborious, of a spare frame, with a high, capacious forehead, a large mouth, a full, long and expressive nose, and an expression of thorough refinement, purity and acuteness.

Being a nobleman of the best class of Italian descent and of a nation immemorially ardent for knowledge and loving the arts, he was also destitute of scorn ness and had convictions without being opinionated.

None could impeach his private life. He was ever accessible to his priests and to those people who required him as a spiritual friend, but he also had high spirit, and when browbeaten disclosed something like a military power within, and he could use indignant words. He was too worldly wise to be cheated, too discreet to commit himself in either word or deed, except as his judgment and conscience were touched, and after the Italians in 1860 overran his state they found that he was a difficult man to handle, in that he kept on the side of intelligent public opinion.

In short, he was a pope in spirit, representing the antiquity and authority of the church long before it was probable that he would fill the pontifical chair. He rose to this distinction at last by having deserved it.

Though it is probable that he was not unmindful of the honor and influence of that great office, he knew too well that to reach it in this dangerous age he must deserve it by a combination of character, of courage and of wisdom.

In 1866 the French troops were withdrawn from Rome, and the pope was left to such an army as he could himself create. The Italians, however, six years previously had overrun Sicily and Naples, annexed Tuscany and other states, and finally Venice, and were determined to occupy the papal states.

At this time Cardinal Pecci addressed the priests in words which should be common to all churches, saying:

"The moral conduct of the priests is the mirror into which the people look to find a model for their own demeanor. Every shadow, every stain, is remarked by the vulgar eye, and the mere shadow is enough to make the people lose their esteem of priestly worth. It is impossible that a priest who lays himself open to such reproaches or suspicions, who has the name of being self indulgent, interested and of irregular living, should give forth that fragrance of a pure life, that sweet odor of Christ, which witnesses to our worth and to our doctrine. The two great means which the Divine Master declares to be indispensable in our high ministry are holiness and knowledge."

In 1869 he made an effort with the king of Italy to rescue poor clerical students from the military conscription. "The burden of military service," he said, "must inevitably fall on all young men who have devoted themselves to the clerical career. We are deeply saddened by this; we are frightened by the thought that so many parishes will ask us for pastors while we shall have none to give them; that so many pious populations will ask for the food of Christian instruction and the comfort of the sacraments, and that no one will be found to minister to them, and that, such a state of things continuing, there is nothing to prevent religion from dying out in these country places for the very lack of hands to cultivate it."

The government now sequestrated nearly all ecclesiastical property, seizing upon the residences of the bishops and the church revenues and making exceptions where it

At one time bloodshed was threatened in Perugia, when the archbishop came upon the scene and by his courageous and calm interposition prevented a conflict. He pardoned all the malcontents, who had been put down in 1859. When the Swiss garrison of Perugia undertook in 1860 to resist the Sardinians, the cardinal in vain attempted to prevent a battle. He was unable to prevent the execution of one of his officials, who was shot by a court martial for having borne arms.

Soon civil marriage was commanded, with penalties to pariah priests for interposing. In 1862 he was sued because he had admonished some of his priests who had subscribed a cordial address to a republican priest leader.

He issued an address against modern spiritualism, saying that "religion and morality must condemn the use of these mysterious agencies, whatever truth might be in them, by unprincipled, irreligious and interested persons."

ENTRANCE TO THE VATICAN.

A pastoral letter that he wrote on the temporal dominion of the popes, defending their right to their territories, called special attention to him as one of the champions of the church:

"Let us say nothing of the august right consecrated by 11 centuries of possession, of the most ancient and venerated of European monarchies. If such rights are not sufficient to insure respect, then there is no kingdom, no empire, in Europe which may not be destroyed. It is false that any Catholic holds the temporal dominion to be a dogma of his faith. Such an assertion can only have come from the ignorance or the wickedness of the enemies of the church. But it is most true and must be evident to any intelligent mind that there is a very close connection between this temporal power and the spiritual primacy."

In 1861 the Italian minister of worship demanded that the clergy renounce their allegiance to Pius IX, when Cardinal Pecci wrote a joint letter to the pope standing by him.

He protested against the confiscation of the mountain monasteries, which would yield no revenue to the king and turn into the world a parcel of helpless ecclesiastics.

When he was made cardinal, the prince imperial of Germany was present among many distinguished strangers, and when he came back to Perugia all the people turned out to congratulate him. Especially did the Umbrian academy receive him with a literary entertainment. He gave a splendid feast, and the city was illuminated.

When his silver jubilee came around in 1871 and the pope sent his congratulations, the Italian military authorities stood back, really lifting the cardinal. In 1877 the pope held his fiftieth anniversary or jubilee as a bishop.

The Italian parliament, sitting in Rome, brought in a clerical abuses bill, but Pius IX fulminated against it and the government.

The pope now made Cardinal Pecci camerlingo, or viceroy of Rome when the pope should be absent, and this of course raised the highest expectations as to his future promotion, for he had but one step more to go.

Pope Pius IX died Jan. 7, 1878, and the next day King Victor Emmanuel died in the Quirinal palace in Rome.

In some parts of the world it was advocated that a new pope should not be allowed to be elected. Cardinal Pecci altered the old habit of having the pope's corpse lie in the Sistine chapel, where the people would have thronged within a limited area and perhaps called for the interposition of the police.

Cardinal Pecci set 500 men to work to prepare a place for the conclave to meet, and at once closed this conclave to the outside world. Ten days were allowed to expire after the pope's death, according to rule. On Sunday, Feb. 17, the devotions were concluded by a pontifical mass, and the next day everything was ready for the conclave.

But the Quirinal palace was now in the hands of the royalists. Sixty-one cardinals met on Monday morning in the Pauline chapel, only three in the world being omitted—one French, one Irish and one American (McCloskey), the latter being on his way.

Papal elections in the remote past had often been interfered with by the house of Bourbon and others. On this occasion there was no interference.

The second day the door of the conclave's improvised chamber was locked on the inside and the outside, and every portion of the inclosure examined to see that there was no communication with the world.

Cardinal Pecci had a kitchen within the inclosure and cooks and servants ready. Each cardinal sat under a canopy, with a small square table and writing materials before him. Then with folded paper the ballots were dropped into a consecrated chalice. From this chalice they were counted into another one.

On the first ballot there were 23 votes for the viceroy, Cardinal Joachim Pecci.

The balloting papers were burned, and at the sign of the smoke issuing from the stovepipe in a window the crowd outside knew that no pope had yet been chosen. Cardinal Pecci retired to his cell.

Then came an afternoon session. The cardinal himself voted secretly, like the rest. He sat in great distress and responsibility. Persons present say that great tears rolled down his cheeks, and that when he undertook to write his ballot his hand shook so violently that the pen fell to the ground.

This time he had 38 votes, but not enough.

Everything pointed to the probability of his election on the next day, Wednesday.

That day Cardinal Pecci undertook to check the movement toward him, but the third ballot came on, and 44 votes were recorded in his favor, more than two-thirds.

The master of ceremonies went up to his seat and asked him, "Do you accept the election as supreme pontiff of the Catholic church?" He arose and affirmed his unworthiness. At length, however, he bowed.

Then of clapping of hands all the cardinals rose and stood in homage, and the canopies above all their seats were lowered except that above the pope elect.

"By what name do you wish to be called?"

"By the name of Leo XIII."

The pope elect was now taken aside and clad in white cassock, cincture, rochet, hood and berretta and even stockings. His shoes, however, were scarlet, with a golden cross upon them. He advanced from behind the altar to his throne.

The fisherman's ring is put upon his hand. The cardinals come up and kiss his feet and receive his kiss upon their cheeks. This is called the "adoration."

An aged cardinal advances upon the piazza and declares to the multitude: "I announce to you tidings of great joy. We have a pope, the most eminent and most reverend Joachim Pecci, cardinal priest of the title of St. Chrysogonus, who hath given himself for name Leo XIII."

The bells of the churches rang, but no cannon thundered as aforetime, and there was no illumination, though some individuals illuminated their palaces.

Perugia was in delight.

The pope's term has been unusually active, as might be supposed from the diminution of his temporal or prince powers. He has given his active—sometimes too active—head to corresponding with the churches in all nations. As the Italians preferred their national policy to the pope's interests, he has not been as provincial an Italian as his predecessors. His friendly and reciprocal hand has been felt in distant countries. Teaching the necessity of Christianity, which he considered to be his, or the church to human society, he said:

"Let every member of Christian society reform his own conduct and outward manner of living." He made Cardinal Franchi his state secretary, the chief of the propaganda, and sent him to Ireland to keep the National party there loyal, peaceful and orderly. Franchi died suddenly, and Cardinal Nina succeeded him. The pope spoke of being "compelled to see beneath our eyes in this Rome, the center of the Catholic religion, the profession made by heresy, heterodox temples and schools built freely and in great number."

The pope addressed himself to the good will of Bismarck, who really held Italy up. The Italian government sold the property of the propaganda and put the church catechism out of the primary schools. Many pilgrims, however, came to Rome bringing gifts. Leo made a peace, rather recklessly broken by his predecessor, with the emperor of Russia, and some of the grand dukes came to see him. He sent crosses to Asiatic rulers and softened their natures. Deprived of some parts of mountains and ecclesiastic plains, he cultivated far abroad the amenities of society and the human heart not all depraved. He made a hierarchy for Scotland, shrewdly laying in the tone of Walter Scott. "The remains still extant of church edifices, monasteries and other religious structures bear splendid testimony to the piety of the ancient Scots." He stopped the silly feuds between various kinds of refined Christians in the Turkish Empire and gave the Episcopal to Cardinal Di Welsh in 1885, and Mr. Parnell was liable to lead the Irish cause after his social slip. Leo boomed the Catholic university at Washington city, where his vicar, Satolli, now lives.

In Germany eminent Catholics like Dr. Dollinger and Prince Hohenlohe, both of Bavaria, attacked the papal doctrine of infallibility as encouraging rebellion against the civil rulers under Jesuit interpretation. Italy was then the ally of Germany. What was called "the old Catholic church," or Jansenists, was built up to neutralize the Jesuits. The word "kultur kampf," or learning's conflict against sixteenth century Catholicism, was invented. Bruno, the priest philosopher and friend of Galileo, was given a statue in Rome, where he had been burned. In 1878 the Jesuits had been driven out of Germany by Bismarck. But the pope saw the political influence his friends could wield by organization in the German parliament, led by Von Windthorst, and he extended to Bismarck the hand of friendship, which disarmed him. A man like this, who could accept the century, was certainly a great advance upon his impolitic and unskillful predecessors.

Ultimately Leo smote with the broad hand the clericals who assumed in the United States to be more reactionary than himself. He sent his legate to the nation, and with the legate came the pope's bright, happy, active, winning countenance, a fellow man. The world accepted his good will as a pilgrim to higher things, welcoming all joyous and decent travelers upon the road.

The end of the propaganda has been greatly to the strengthening of Catholic education in other parts of the world. The revenue of this see was not over $13,000 a year, and the university at Washington commenced with about that income.

The pope was actually chosen by Bismarck for mediator between Germany and Spain over some forsaken islets in 1885. Leo gave Spain the sovereignty and Germany a naval station.

Such has been the influence on the better angel of the Vatican, whose active and brotherly spirit wore itself out visiting and assisting his fellow men.

The powder puff may help to hide the ravages of time but it avails little to hide the ravages of disease. When the face is disfigured by eruptions, the treatment must go below the surface to the blood, which is corrupt and impure.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disfiguring eruptions which are caused by impure blood. It cures scrofulous sores, erysipelas, boils, pimples, eczema, salt-rheum and other eruptive diseases which impure blood breeds and feeds.

"I was troubled with eczema from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet," writes Mrs. Ella Quick, of Cass City, Tuscola Co., Mich. "Could not walk at times nor wear my shoes. Thought there was no help for me—at least the doctor said there was none. I went to see friends at Christmas time and there heard of the good that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had done for them, and was advised to try it at once. For fear that I might neglect it my friend sent to the village and got a bottle and made me promise that I would take it. I had been getting worse all the time. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and ten vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and used 'All-Healing Salve,' which made a complete cure. It was slow, but sure. I was taking the medicine about eight months.

"I would say to all who read this; try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery before wasting time and money."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire this afternoon received the following dispatch:—

Toronto, July 20th, 1903, 1.30 p. m. — The market opened weak and declined sharply. The western roads leading in the break. R.I. and Atchison were especially weak on report of suspension of betterment work and bad reports of corn outlook. There was liquidation in B.R.T. and the various steel stocks. The financial press over Sunday expressed more hopeful sentiment, but the action of the market shows that liquidation is not yet over. Some strong people and insurance companies are selling good stocks, though not compelled to do so to lend the money at 6p.c.or better in the market. This proves conclusively that stocks should be sold on all rallies.

BASEBALL.

EXCELSIORS 8, PULLMANS 1.

At the Murray street Grounds on Saturday afternoon a game was played between the Excelsior and Pullmans in the City League. The game was played for the most part in a drizzling rain which somewhat dampened the arder of both players and spectators. It was, however, an object lesson of the convenience of having a grandstand on the grounds, for, had it not been available, the game would have been played in a spectatorless field. There were some changes in the line-up of both teams. Manager Whitcroft, of the Excelsiors, was in uniform and played a good game at left field for the champions. As announced in the Examiner Saturday the Pullmans played a new battery, but even this was not sufficient to ward off defeat and after nine innings of play the score stood 8—1 in favour of the champions. Earls, who was in the box for the losers, pitched a good game, and although he was batted rather freely, he fielded his position, and had his support been good the score doubtless would not have shown such a disparity. Crowley is a new man behind the bat and played his position well, his throwing to bases was good and he succeeded in scoring the one run credited to his team. Flaherty pitched his usual effective game, in some innings striking the men out in order, and at all stages was complete master of the situation. Howell at 2nd, also played gilt edge ball, getting everything that came his way, he also used the bat with good effect. Dr. Scott, an old player on the Pullman team, is in town on a visit, and was in the game Saturday, playing 3rd base.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Excellsiors—Sheridan, 3b; Howell, 2b; Belleghem, c; Whitcroft, rf; Foster, lf; Pilling, 1b; Flaherty, p; Jeffries, cf; Wareham, ss;

Mr. Renton umpired the game, his decisions being satisfactory.

• • • •

Joe Wright is coaching the baseball team of the Young Men's Guild down in Peterborough, but he is not the same individual who is stroking the Argonaut eight to victory on each and every occasion. — Toronto Telegram.

• • • •

The Excelsiors expect to have a game on for Saturday with a team from Toronto, or with the Oshawa team, the champions in the Midland League. Manager Whitcroft is making an effort to bring on a series of games during August with some fast outside teams.

• • • •

In the Guild League to-night two games will be played:—St. Andrew's vs. George street on the McDonnell street grounds, and St. Paul's vs. Charlotte street at the Patterson street diamond.

• • • •

In the Midland League on Saturday Cobourg won a five-innings game at Port Hope by 5 to 1, and Bowmanville won at Oshawa by 6to 4. The veteran Tip O'Neil played right field in great style for Port Hope.

• • • •

In the intermediate League two games were played on Saturday, at the Oval. The Shamrocks and Orioles played nine innings, the former being victorious in the close score of 7—6.

Quinlan and Fitzgerald were the battery for the winners, while Pilling, Roddy and Wilson were for the losers.

The second game, that between the Victorias and Y.M.C.A. was called at the end of the third innings on account of rain, the score at that stage being Vitorias, 7; Y.M.C.A., 6; the batteries being Mulhern and O'Brien and Miller and Gillespie.

LACROSSE.

A full practice of the Athletics is called for this evening after which there will be a meeting at the Y. M.C.A.

• • • •

The T.A.S. seniors have arranged to play the Elms of Toronto here on Saturday, July 25th, the occasion of the visit of the Peterborough Old Boys. The Elms is an intermediate teams, and is looked upon as being a fast bunch.

• • • •

It appears that the PortHope-Oshawa game was not as one-sided as the Guide would have us believe. Mr. Brown Jackson, who refereed it says:—"It wasn't great lacrosse, but it was hard, and it was anybody's game all the way. Oshawa scored a goal that would have tied the score if my whistle hadn't blown for a little scrap just a moment or so before."

• • • •

Only one game was played Saturday in the Senior C.L.A., St. Catharines at Brantford, and it was a close call for the leaders, the score at the end of the third quarter being 3—1 in favour of the visitors. The Brantfords, however, pulled themselves out of the hole and in the last quarter scored 3 goals, making the final score 4—3.

STREET RAILWAY ALMOST ASSURED.

Decision Arrived at in Committee of the Whole.

HON. SENATOR COX PRESENT

Mr. Stuart Promises a Thoroughly Modern Equipment and Satisfactory Service.

That Peterborough is to have a street railway is now practically an assured fact, and that it will be in every respect a thoroughly modern one in point of equipment, and in the excellence of its service is the statement of Mr. Stuart of the Cereal Company, and, coming from this high authority, Peterborough people accept the statement, in view of the immense works which have been carried to a successful issue by the Company of which Mr. Stuart is Treasurer.

At the meeting of the Committee of the Whole last evening, Hon. Senator Cox, Mr. Stuart and Mr. Dennistoun were present representing the Railway Company, and the whole question of the Street Railway Franchise was thoroughly discussed and a decision practically arrived at. There are at present but two or three minor points to be decided, but outside of these, the entire membership of the council present at last night's meeting assented to the amended franchise. The meeting was presided over by Mayor Roger, and these Aldermen were present: Messrs. Edgecumbe, Finnie, Corkery, Rush, Batten, Morrison, Clinkscale and McWilliams.

Hon. Senator Cox addressed the Committee and stated that should the franchise receive ratification by the Council, he was prepared to advance sufficient money to place the road and equipment in first-class order, and in such condition that an excellent service would be assured to the citizens.

The few clauses upon which the Company and the Committee at the previous meeting had not been able to arrive at a decision regarding, were then taken up and a compromise was effected which satisfied both parties. The chief point of difference had been the removal of snow from the streets. It was decided last night that during the first five years of the life of the franchise the town shall remove the snow at its own expence, for the second five years the Company will bear one-quarter of the cost and after ten years the cost will be borne equally by the Company and the town.

As to the electrical points in dispute, the Company agrees to reduce the voltage carried to 600, and to insulate all feed wires. Inspection of all underground connections by the Town Engineer will also be permitted at any time to ascertain if escaping current is damaging the Town's water mains and gas pipes. The speed of freight cars run over the lines is not to exceed 12 miles an hour. It is also understood that no tracks shall be laid on Bethune street without first obtaining permission from the council.

These were practically all the points on which a difference of opinion had existed, and the amicable settlement of these assures Peterborough of a street railway service.

Mr. Stuart addressed the committee and said that as soon as the granting of the franchise had been sanctioned by the council he would instruct his electrical engineer, Mr. Birch, to order the equipment, and prepare plans for the road. He explained that owing to the congestion of orders experienced by all manufacturers of electrical appliances it would be necessary to place orders now for cars and machinery to be delivered next spring. He assured them that the company proposed to institute a service which would not be excelled by any city of its size in the country.

The plans of the company include a line to Lakefield, and either the existing Grand Trunk line to that town will be leased or a new road built, so that it will be seen that the company will inject into this enterprise the progressive policy which has characterized it in its other extensive industrial undertakings.

Mr. Stuart, and the company's solicitor, Mr. Dennistoun, in their negotiations with the town council, have showed a commendable spirit of fairness — have been willing to adopt any measures, in reason, to assure the town a satisfactory agreement, and an adequate service, and the citizens generally will welcome the settlement which has been arrived at between their representatives and the Peterborough Radial Railway Company.

The railway will be in operation by July 1st, 1904, if the equipment can be procured in sufficient time.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

Two Bank Clerks Undergo a Thrilling Experience.

Mr. T. Meuburn and Mr. Arthur Hunt, of the Montreal and Dominion Bank staffs, had a narrow escape from death by drowning on Sunday morning at five o'clock. The men were in a small canoe in the vicinity of the lighthouse in Sturgeon Lake, when by some means their craft capsized and they were thrown into the water. They hung on to the canoe, and after being in the water for one hour and a half they were rescued by Mr. Johnston, accountant in the Ontario Bank, who hearing Mr. Hunt cry, "Tommy, I am sinking; I can't hold on any longer," came along in the nick of time. Mr. Hunt was badly bruised about the legs and was in a rather exhausted condition when rescued. The young men will never forget their thrilling experience and it is very doubtful if they will venture out in a canoe again.—Lindsay Post.

DR. SYMONDS PREACHES SERMONS AT CATHEDRAL

The Montreal Herald publishes a half tone cut of Rev. Herbert Symonds, who has just taken charge of Christ Church Cathedral, and has the following in reference to his first Sunday's services:—

At Christ Church Cathedral yesterday, Rev. Herbert Symonds, D.D., the new vicar, occupied the pulpit for the first time, preaching at both morning and evening services.

At the morning service, which was largely attended, he took his text from Acts x., 38: "Who went about doing good," and on these words he built an ideal of Christ, of His spirit, His love and His goodness.

In applying the words of his text, the preacher said that on such an occasion the first time he had preached as vicar of that most important church, the Cathedral church of the largest city in this Dominion, one's thoughts should be turned less to that church as a parish church or as a congregation of people than to the whole Church of Jesus Christ—the vast body of men and women who throughout the world professed and called themselves by the name of their Master.

Rev. Mr. Symonds then made a general application of his text, showing what Christ taught us with respect to the mission of the church by His love and goodness.

George Street Epworth League.

A very interesting missionary programme was given at the regular meeting of the George street Epworth League last night. The subject for the evening was a trip through British Columbia." After a short song service Miss Lewis read a paper of interesting facts about British Columbia," drawing attention to the immense resources and industries of the province. Mr. Bert Turner then followed with a vocal solo, after which a series of questions and answers concerning mission work in British Columbia were presented by a number of the members. Miss Parnell was then heard in a vocal solo, sung with much expression, following which a most interesting talk on Indian Mission Work was given by Mrs. Morrow, who for some years was actively engaged in mission work in British Columbia and was therefore fully conversant with the subject of her address. Mrs. Morrow is a most interesting speaker and was listened to with delight as she presented some phases of the work among the Indians. After a vocal solo by Mrs. McCall, the benediction by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Wilson brought to a close a most enjoyable and intellectually profitable missionary meeting.

SERIOUS WRECK OCCURRED AT GALT.

Collision on C. P. R. Bridge Results in Death to Four Persons.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Galt, Ont., July 21.—A rear-end collision occurred on the C. P. R. about one o'clock, a.m. between two freights on the west end of the long C.P.R. bridge over the Grand River, here. Two cars were thrown into the river. Four bodies have been recovered so far, and there is thought to be one more body still in the wreck at the bottom of the river.

The dead are Hugh McMillan and Donald McPherson, of Dutton, and Thomas Pimhale, of St. Thomas. All are cattle drovers. They were in the caboose of the leading train when it was struck by the engine of the second train and with two cars of waste hurled over the side of the bridge into the river 100 feet below.

Engineer McConnell, of Toronto Junction, who had charge of the second train, was the only railway employee injured and that only slightly. Versions as to the cause of the accident differ.

KING'S ARRIVAL AT EMERALD ISLE.

Made a Welcome Guest by his Loyal Irish Subjects.

Kingston, Ireland, July 21st.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra, and Princess Victoria and their suites, arrived here this morning. A heavy rain which had been falling for nearly an hour, cleared giving promise of fine weather for the Royal entry into Dublin. In reply to an address here King Edward said he shared in the sadness of multitudes of his subjects over the news of the Pope's death. The King added that his visit came at a time when a new era is opening for Ireland. A special performance which had been planned for the Royal Theatre in Dublin, July 24, has been countermanded in consequence of the Pope's death.

NORTH IS NOT AN UNKNOWN LAND.

Route of Grand Trunk Pacific has Been Explored.

Some Idea of the Fertility of the Soil and Timber and Mineral Value of Great Northland.

The Globe.

Pending the publication of the Grand Trunk Pacific agreement in detail, it is possible to clear up some of the misconceptions and correct some of the misrepresentations that do duty as objections to the project, irrespective of its specific features. One of those most frequently resorted to and most strenuously urged is the assumption and allegation that the new transcontinental railway is to be constructed through an "unknown country," and that all estimates, alike of cost and of revenue, must, therefore, be untrustworthy. The disproof of this assertion is easy and complete.

Assuming that the Grand Trunk Pacific is to run from Port Simpson to Moncton by way of Winnipeg, Abittibi, and Quebec, it is safe to say that there are not five hundred miles of the line unfamiliar to surveyors, while much of it is sufficiently well known to enable construction to begin as soon as contracts can be advertised and awarded. This is especially true of the Grand Trunk half of the undertaking, from Winnipeg to the Pacific coast. For thirty years every pass through the Rocky Mountains and every available route across British Columbia have been definitely ascertained as to grades, distances, and termini. Millions of dollars had been spent in making surveys for the Canadian Pacific Railway during the six years, 1871-76, before Sir Sandford Fleming submitted in 1877 his final report on the route of the transcontinental railway. That report, with all its appendixes, descriptions, and calculations, is still available for the location of any line of railway which, like the Grand Trunk Pacific, is to be carried through on the route he finally recommended from Lake Manitoba westward. To speak of such a country as "unknown" is inexcusable nonsense.

Sir Sandford Fleming's account of the explorations in the "woodland" district eastward from Winnipeg, makes the epithet hardly less absurd for that region. From Red River to Nepigon it was not easy to find the best route, and wide explorations were made in order to guard against mistakes. The resulting maps and detailed descriptions are all in the possession of the Dominion Government, to be available when it begins operations. The most cursory reading of the public documents on the subject will suffice to show how comparatively easy the task of finding the best line now is. From Nepigon to Abittibi the line will run through a region thoroughly explored three years ago by ten parties sent out by the Ontario Government. They found the "clay belt" of the Hudson Bay slope is really a great plain, containing sixteen million acres of agricultural land, which produces immense quantities of timber available for railway ties when not reserved for pulpwood. There are no lofty water partings, though there are many rivers, some of them large enough to be important for purposes of local transportation.

Though less systematic exploration of northern Quebec from Abittibi eastward has been done, its general character has been long and favourably known from the accounts of Hudson Bay officers, lumberers and tourists. There is no need for mere conjecture in a country that has been so often crossed in so many different directions for so many different purposes. Lake St. John is connected by rail with Quebec City, and the region about it has been found admirably suited for settlement. From Quebec City to the apex of Maine is for railway purposes as well known as any other part of the province. A like statement is true of central New Brunswick. There is a railway now from St. John to Chipman, and exploratory surveys have been made over the whole ground from the St. Joh nRiver to the Strait of Northumberland. Whatever other objections may lie against the Grand Trunk Pacific agreement when its details are made known, we are not likely to hear it reiterated that a region so thoroughly explored as the one to be traversed by it, is an "unknown land."

SOMETHING TO PONDER OVER.

Sad Plight of Two Young Girls on Street at 3 a. m.

Don in Saturday Night writes: In going about Toronto on late cars or in watching excursionists come in from Niagara, the island and the parks, one cannot but be struck by the young women, who might better be called girls, wandering about with young fellows without any chaperon. Youthful couples can be seen in boats at any hour when both of them should have been spanked and sent to bed, and those little better than youngsters often stand and talk in doorways and the shade of trees free from all restraint except that of the police. I am no prude, but I must admit that I think this is bad business. How this sort of thing sometimes ends when young people go out for a lark was well illustrated under my window the other morning about 3 o'clock. Three young fellows came down Jarvis street from Bloor with a girl who was laughing hysterically and then sobbing piteously: "I darsn't go home without Beryl." They were only twenty-year-old boys, and they did not know what on the face of the earth to do. Finally they went back to Bloor street in search of the missing girl, and Beryl was induced to chase them, as it afterwards appeared, with a long hat-pin. After chasing them for a spell she would go part of the way back, but finally she was landed under my window, a girl of perhaps twenty, shriekingly, fiendishly drunk. They had probably come from a boating trip on a night car around the Belt Line, and the boys no doubt had thought they were having great fun in getting her "full." The hysterical girl endeavoured to pet Beryl, who was probably her sister, and induce her to go home, but whenever she was approached either by her female companion or one of the boys she would leap like a tigress, hat-pin in hand, ready for murder. The three inexperienced youths were entirely unable to cope with her, and stood whispering together, "the bops'll take in the whole bunch of us." They begged Beryl to remember that her shrieks could be heard for blocks and that the policemen would load them all into the ambulance. "I don't give a G— d— for all the police in Toronto," she yelled. They tried every means in their power to get the hat-pin away from her, but she darted at them with such fiendish shrieks that they all took flight. The other girl laughed hysterically at these pranks yet you could hear her sobs almost tearing her heart out. By inducing the girl they called Beryl to chase them with the hat-pin they got her a block or so away, when I could hear nothing but her shrieks of defiance of the police and her parents and of everybody else. The boys dared not leave her for then the police would have got her sure, and the whole outfit would have been summoned to the police court. But she gave them a bad couple of hours that they will never forget, nor should they forget, for in thinking that they were "having fun" with these two girls they proved what contemptible whelps they were. Probably the average unwatched youth goes through a whelphood of this sort, and it may be necessary for young fellows to learn what disgrace and misery they can bring upon themselves and others by such contemptible disregard of kindliness, consideration and even decency. Parents who permit their immature sons and daughters to go about without a chaperone late at night, must expect in a certain percentage of cases that the devil will have charge of the party.

WHAT ROTHSCHILD SAID ABOUT PETERBOROUGH.

A few years ago when travelling through Canada, "spying out the land," a representative of the Rothschild Banking House, of London, England, stated that Peterborough was destined to be one of the greatest manufacturing centres of the continent.

This statement, no doubt, was made on account of Peterborough's waterpowers, shipping facilities and natural resources as regarded grain and minerals in the country contiguous thereto, it being in the heart of the population of Canada, and in the centre of the rich Province of Ontario.

The remarkable industrial growth of Peterborough during the last two years has shown the coming fulfilment of the Rothschild prediction. In fact many new factories have been located in Peterborough recently, three of which are immense works, perhaps the largest of their kind in Canada, and a fourth immense factory is now being constructed.

It would surprise many Canadians to know the vast amount of wealth that American manufacturers have put in bricks and mortar and factory plant in Peterborough of late, in fact there seems to be an exodyus of American manufacturers to Peterborough.

Peterborough's population, with its suburb Ashburnham, is now about 15,000, and is rapidly growing, and so quickly that there is at the present time a house-famine, which condition offers a splendid chance for house-building contractors with capital.

The shipping facilities of Peterborough are unique, being on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Grand Trunk Railway, and the Trent Canal, now rapidly approaching completion, and which will connect Georgian Bay and the Upper Lakes with Lake Ontario by short route navigation to the seaboard. It will be a steam tug canal which will accommodate barges three times the capacity of those of the Erie Canal.

It did not necessarily take a Rothschild to appreciate Peterborough's future opportunities.

Mr. J. Alexr. Culverwell, who is chairman of the Finance Committee of the Toronto Engineers' Club, a young Canadian, and one of the pioneers of the electrical business of Canada, through having promoted the business interests of the Edison Electric Company of New York, from its inception in Western Ontario in 1891, and later helping to build up that business in the province of Quebec before the General Electric Company consolidated the Edison and Thompson-Houston interests in Canada, was so fully convinced of the future industrial prosperity of Peterborough that a couple of years ago he, along with his associates, purchased waterpower properties some eighteen miles north of Peterborough, while other valuable water powers were lying idle on the main street and in the outskirts of Peterborough itself, at the time. Notwithstanding the skepticism of the public and the determined opposition which he encountered, he was foresighted enough to spend thousands of dollars and much energy in drawing the attention of the public to the utility of Peterborough's water powers, which idly washed the rocks of the river, and unused water wheels within a stone's throw of the post office building, thus benefitting his competitors' as well as his own future interests. Now these local waterways are all utilized and great factories are in operation, and an immense market opened at last to his and his associates' water power interests.

From the fact that nature has been so gracious in the natural development of these water-powers, the Central Ontario Power Company, which has been projected by Mr. Culverwell, and of which he is managing director, is offering electric power at Peterborough to manufacturers at remarkably low cost.

The movement for annexing to Peterborough the village of Ashburnham and incorporating both as a city with a population of 15,000, was recently brought to a head by Mr. Culverwell's vigorous correspondence in the local press and has resulted in the councils of both towns unanimously adopting a resolution favouring that union. Peterborough has now assumed the sobriquet of "The Waterpower City."—Canadian Manufacturer.

BRAVE SPIRIT GONE.

Pope Leo XIII. Showed Supreme Courage in His Dying.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY. WHISPERED BENEDICTIONS.

Parting Words Were Not of His Physical Anguish But Blessings to Those Around Him—Papal Power Now in Hands of Cardinal Oreglia—Only General Arrangements For Funeral Yet.

Rome, July 21.—Pope Leo XIII. is dead.

The period of over two weeks that Pope Leo passed in the shadow of death was no less wonderful than his life. The pleuro-pneumonia, with which His Holiness had been suffering, was scarcely so responsible for his death as the inevitable decay of tissue following old age. The emaciated and lifeless frame, which held so brave a spirit lies on the bed in the Vatican beside which almost all the world has prayed. The red damask coverlet rests lightly on the body, the cardinal's scarlet cape is about the shoulders, while on his head has been placed the Papal hood of velvet, bordered with ermine. A white silk handkerchief is bound about his chin, and in the hands, which have blessed so many thousands, has been placed a crucifix. So the body of Pope Leo will remain until to-day, watched by uniformed officers of the guard and rough clad Franciscan penitentiaries.

Pronouncing Official Death.

To-day the sacred college of cardinals will assemble for the impressive ceremony of officially pronouncing Pope Leo dead. After this sad function has been performed the body will be taken to the small throne room adjoining the death chamber, where it will be embalmed. The funeral ceremonies will extend over nine days, the remains being removed to the Cathedral of St. Peter's, where they will lie in state. The ultimate resting place of the dead Pontiff will be in the magnificent basilica of St. John the Lateran.

Pope Leo's final moments were marked by that same serenity and devotion, and, when he was conscious, that calm intelligence which is associated with his twenty-five years' Pontificate. His was no easy death. An hour before he died, turning to Dr. Lapponi and his devoted valet, Pio Centra, he murmured, "The pain I suffer is most terrible."

Unselfish Parting Words.

Yet his parting words were not of the physical anguish that he suffered, but were whispered benedictions upon the cardinals and his nephews, who knelt at the bedside, and his look was toward the great ivory crucifix hanging in the death chamber. Practically all the cardinals now in Rome kneeling at the bedside, watched the passing of his soul. Earlier in the day Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli had impressivley pronounced the absolution in articulo moris.

The condition of His Holiness varied from agony to coma. Of this supreme moment Dr. Lapponi gives an impressive description:

Resigned and Serene.

"Death occurred through exhaustion, although in the last two hours Pope Leo made a supreme effort to gather all his energies. He succeeded in recognizing those about him by the sound of their voices, and his sight was almost entirely lost. Still, he made a marvelous display of his energy, and even his death was really grand. It was resigned and serene. Very few examples can be given of a man of such advanced age, after so exhaustive an illness, showing such supreme courage in dying.

Beecham's Pills.

The Pontiff's last breath was taken exactly at four minutes past four. I approached a lighted candle at his mouth three times, according to the traditional ceremonial, and afterwards declared the Pope to be no more. I then went to inform Cardinal Oreglia, the dean of the sacred college, who immediately assumed full power and gave orders that the Vatican be cleared of all curious persons having no right to be therein. Contemporaneously the cardinal instructed Mgr. Righi, master of ceremonies, to send two Swiss guards from the Clementine Hall to close all the entrances to the Vatican and dismiss all persons from the death chamber, the body being entrusted to the Franciscan penitentiaries."

Cardinal Oreglia.

Meantime events of momentous importance to Catholic christendom were occurring. The death of Pope Leo meant the passage of the supreme power into the hands of the sacred college of cardinals. The perfect administrative machinery of the church provided against the slightest interruption of the governing authority. As the senior member of the sacred college, Cardinal Oreglia, to whom the Pope yesterday solemnly confided the interests of the church, Cardinal Oreglia has become the striking personality of the hour.

Ceremonies to Last Nine Days.

Only the most general funeral arrangements have thus far been made, as the shock of the Pope's death for the moment, occupies all attention. Cardinal Oreglia, together with the members of the sacred college, will determine the details of the elaborate funeral ceremonies, which will last nine days.

GOVERNMENT BILLS PASSED.

The House of Commons Has Settled Down to Business.

Ottawa, July 21.—A large amount of Government business was wiped off the slate yesterday. Four of the five Government measures standing in the name of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries were passed through the final stages, and the Government measure for which the Minister of Finance stood sponsor was also passed. This leaves three Government measures standing on the order paper for second reading, and four, including the railway commission bill, for the final stages. In supply a large number of miscellaneous items in the supplementary estimates for 1902-3, together with the remainder of Mr. Sifton's supplementary estimates, save one item, were voted.

His Last Hope Realised.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his travelling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbours brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

No man will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all druggists.

Printer's on Their Outing.

Probably the most artistic display advertising card ever designed in a local printing office is that which the printers have gotten out from the Examiner Office advertising their annual excursion and picnic on Aug. 1st to Jubilee Point. This is an event looked forward to eagerly from one year to the next, and it would appear from information gained in reference to the programme for this year's event, that past successes will be entirely eclipsed. It will be advisable for all wishing to spend an enjoyable day, to wait for the Printers' Picnic on August 1st.

REPRESENTATIVES OF PRESS ARE BARRED

From Meetings of Committee of the Whole.

A meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council was held last night in the Town Clerk's office with Mayor Roger in the chair. The first business taken up was the question of allowing the representatives of the press to attend the meetings of the Committee. After some discussion had been indulged in, Ald. McWilliams moved that the rule respecting the exclusion of reporters from the meetings be rescinded and that the meetings of the Committee of the Whole be open to the press representatives. This was seconded by Ald. Clinkscale, but was lost on the following division:—

Yeas—Ald. McWilliams, Clinkscale.

Nays—Ald. Morrison, Rush, Batten, Corkery, Finney, Edgecumbe.

As a result of this decision the representatives of the press will in future not be admitted to the committee meetings.

THE HOME COMERS' DEMONSTRATION.

Citizens Should Extend a Hearty Welcome to Visiting Old Boys'.

The "Home-Comers" movement is one deserving the warmest sympathy and heartiest support from citizens of all classes. The event beginning next Saturday in which Peterborough Old Boys will return to the home town and spend a day or two in renewing acquaintances and in reminiscences of by-gone days, is the first occasion of the kind in which Peterborough people will have participated, and it should be made a success in so far as we are able. Peterborough is not by any means an unsociable town, but on this occasion an extra effort should be made to impress upon every Old Boy who visits the town the fact that he is welcome. Rev. Mr. Davidson set an excellent example when in St. John's church Sunday he referred to the homecoming, and said he wished to extend the courtesies of the church. This should be the feeling not only of every church, but also of every home. None but those who are away from the parental roof can appreciate the value of a hearty welcome when the scenes of childhood are re-visited after perhaps years of absence, brushing up against men in business life from whom little sympathy is expected and none received. An extra effort should be made during this "Home-Comers" demonstration to extend heartily the hospitalities of a proverbially hospitable town. It is hoped also that all citizens will decorate their residences as elaborately as possible, so that the visitors will receive a favourable impression of the town.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The fire team was out practising this morning.

—A practice of All Saints' choir will be held to-morrow night.

"Oh, you old buffer!" as the woman said when the engine knocked her down.

—Piano tuning promptly attended to. Satisfaction guaranteed. A. F. Hoover. 'Phone 199.

A mistake occurred in yesterday's Examiner in connection with Mr. John Jameson's personal. Instead of eighteen, it should have read ten years.

—Come with the Printers to Jubilee Point on Saturday afternoon, August 1st. This will undoubtedly be the best trip of the season, and a pleasatn time is assured.

—At the Driving Park yesterday afternoon Dr. Bradd's mare "Fairlawn A." did the mile in 2.26 1-4, a no mean pace. "Keep-a-Bell" took 2.27 to cover the same ground.

—Bob Leary, Peterborough's well known liveryman, last evening received a beautifully matched pair of bay ponies, only 14 1-2 hands in heighth, as well as a grey horse.

—Remember the public meeting in the council chamber on Friday evening to discuss free postal delivery, and postal matters generally. The meeting has been called by the Mayor.

—The Globe states that the Peterborough Old Boys met last night at the Oakham House, with Mr. L. Morrison in the chair, and completed arrangements for their trip on Saturday.

—It was stated the other day that a woman had been seen stealing plants from the vases in the park, and that the police had been instructed to take action. None has as yet been taken.

—Love goes a long way. Yesterday afternoon two young men fought as one had made a remark unfavourable to the lady of his affections. The results, to say the least, were disastrous to both, who will probably in the future banish Cupid from their world.

—The taxes for this year already paid up amount to $1,500. If all or even one-half, of the amount due is paid up by ratepayers before the second of August, two per cent. dicount is allowed, while tardiness results in an addition of three per cent. to the tax.

—The Italian settlement near the corner of Bethune and Hunter streets is not as slow as one would imagine from appearances. As a rule they have three dances, with an orchestra, each week, besides many other entertainments of a more or less civilized nature.

—An amusing story is told at the expense of four young men. A citizen wished to rent a house but the landlord had some objections, as his would-be tenant kept boarders. The citizen replying to the man's objections, "Well, my young men are not like others; when they dress up and go on the street you would think they were gentlemen!"

—Rev. J. P. Wilson has received a letter from one of the officials of the McLaughlin Carriage Company, Oshawa, stating that the employees of the Company have decided to run their excursion here on Saturday, July 25th, and intimates that it will be a large one. Practically all the employees of the firm with their families will be here, making a company of several hundreds.

—Early in June a sewer connection was made with the Brown drinking fountain in the Central Park, and pipe fitting was done so that the long unused fountain might be of some benefit to the public. A contract was also executed to have ice supplied at a cost of $15 for the year. At the time that the pipe fitting was done a cup was attached to the tap by a very light chain, which by the boy marauders who abound in town, was quickly broken, and since then, although the ice is still being placed on the coil the fountain is practically useless because of the absence of any receptacle from which to drink.

Brough-McNaught.

The wedding of Miss Laura McNaught of Bobcaygeon, to Mr. Harry Brough, of town, was celebrated at St. Peter's cathedral last evening at five o'clock by Rev. Father John O'Brien. Miss Millie Brough was the bridesmaid, while Mr. Albert Allen supported the groom. They will reside in town.

REGARDING PROPOSED CHANGES IN POST OFFICE.

Mr. Editor,—As I have lived the most of my life in a town where there was a free delivery of mail, I would like, to speak from my knowledge of the matter to the people of Peterborough, through your paper.

In practical working it has always been found a decided advantage to the merchants of the town, in the security it affords that all communications to or from their patrons will be promptly delivered, instead of being in the Post Office some days, dependent on the chance that somebody will happen to be down town and get the mail. This is at best decidedly uncertain, and in the winter very much so, for people living in the outskirts of the town, or in the south and west districts.

With regard to the general public this is still more important. Valuable letters, whose prompt receipt was very necessary, have been said to lie two and three days in some recess of the Post Office, although the person to whom they were adressed was a box owner. This would be impossible were there a free delivery, for all the mail would have to be sorted out and assigned to its special carrier as soon as it came in. There would be less danger of persons having the same name having their mail delivered to the wrong person, because each carrier would know the names on his route well, and, if a doubtful letter came, could ask, and thus, if it were refused, the letter would at once be turned over to the proper owner, whereas, if it depended on the chance possessor, it might often, through neglect, never be returned to the Post Office at all, and so be lost.

I think that if the people of Peterborough will consider this matter a little, they will find the free delivery of mail is surely not to the disadvantage of any resident of the town.

Yours truly,
RESIDENT.

Peterborough, July 21st, 1903.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 35c and 20c.

THE LATEST NEWS OF LOCAL SPORT.

Athletics off to Belleville in the Morning.

Prospects of Future Games in Town With Outside Sporting Organizations.

LACROSSE.

Manager Clarke, of the Athletics, has made arrangements which will allow all supporters of the team and others who wish to visit Belleville to-morrow, to take advantage of the club rate, which is $2.60 for the round trip. The Athletics will go to the "Bay City" in good shape for a hard game. They have been practicing hard lately and have been perfecting their combination work. A large number will accompany the team and cheer them on to victory. All who can arrange to go should notify Mr. Clarke at once, so that ample railway accommodation may be provided.

• • • •

It's a great race for the championship. There are three teams in it—Brantford, St. Kitts and Port Hope, with Oshawa now strong enough to be liable to put a crimp in any one of them on Oshawa ground. Every game still counts in the race and not a team can afford to let up for a moment.—Telegram.

The Campbellford team which plays T.A.S. II Thursday evening, has been strengthened by the addition of several new players.

The Elms, of Toronto, will come down with the Peterborough Old Boys' excursion, Saturday, and will battle with the T.A.S. team on the Murray street grounds in the afternoon. There promises to be a record crowd at the game.

BASEBALL.

George street and St. Andrew's played their regular scheduled game on McDonnel street grounds last night. The respective teams did not play up to their usual standard although St. Andrew's had rather the best of the argument. The score at present stands 6 to 33 in St. Andrew's favour, George street having two innings and St. Andrew's three innings to play. The teams were as follows:—

George street—Drdege, c; Parnell, p and ss; Warne, 1b; Rossel, 2b; Wood, 3b; Humbers, ss and p; Dredge, cf; Hetherington, lf; Turner, rf.

St. Andrew's—Cowan, lf; Kelley, ss; Wilkie, 3b; Garrow, 2b; Elliott, 1b; Henderson, rf; Cox, cf; Thornton, c; Patterson, p.

PLEASING EVENT AT WARSAW

Mrs. Isbister Presented With Address and Handsome Chair.

The members of the Warsaw Baptist church met on Friday last, at the home of Mr. Wm. Isbister, when Mrs. Isbister, organist of the Baptist choir, was presented with an address and a handsome chair. The pastor, Rev. A. A. Kelly, B.A., read the address, Miss Lena Kidd making the presentation.

A most pleasant evening was spent in music, guessing contests and games, the genial pastor keeping things lively in his usual happy manner.

Following is a copy of the address:

"No one would care to live without friends. Plato, Artistotle and Cicero placed a high estimate on friendship. Plato said,—'It was the ideal of the State.' The lives of Jonathan and David presented a sublime example of true friendship. Johathan forgot his pride and David his ambition. Through the love of God their hearts were closely knit together. Self-centred people cannot keep friends, because unselfishness and frankness are essential characteristics of friendship. The secret of friendship is well expressed by Hugh Black in one sentence,—'The way to get is to give.' In other words, to have true friends one must be a true friend.

"Trust is the first requisite of friendship, and only the one who inspires us with confidence will be sought as a friend. Friends are born not made. Sometimes the growth is slow; we cannot explain just how the life is interwoven with our own, but our own heart is so gladdened that we joyfully accept the relationship. In other cases the friendship comes from sudden sympathies. In either case if worthy of the sacred name of friendship, it must be lasting.

"The more we know of God's spirit the more we possess the spirit of Jesus Christ, the more greater will be our desire to live for others, having their interests ours.

"That is the secret, dear friends of having in our midst this evening one whom we all honour. It is the Christ-like spirit finding expression in her life, which has endeared her to us and causes us to acknowledge her a true friend.

"Her friendship has been shown by her untiring efforts in behalf of our church. Her special labours have been centred in a most important part of our work.

"A large part of the success of a church rests with the choir. The Gospel is oftentimes as effectively sung as preached. The backbone of the choir is the organist. Since coming amongst you I have felt like congratulating you on possessing such an efficient organist. As many of you know there have been times in the past when the choir needed encouragement, and but for the consecrated efforts of our dear sister, Mrs. Wm. Isbister, I fear we would not to-day be privileged to anjoy the good music which we do.

"Music has a power to charm. It speaks of higher, nobler things; it enables us to rise above the narrow confines of our every-day life, and to catch glimpses of the heavenly choir as they sing praises to our God.

"The babe in its cradle is lulled to sleep by mother's lullaby; the boisterous boy is subdued and made thoughtful, as in passing some cathedral, he hears the strains of sacred music; the invalid on her couch of pain, forgets her suffering and finds a deep, sweet peace pervading her soul, as the beautiful cadence of Rock of Ages floats in at the open window; the sinful man through the singing of that old familiar hymn, "Jesus Paid it All," becomes a penitent seeker, and soon a pardoned believer.

"Too high an estimate cannot be placed on the good which results from the rendering of sacred music. We often hear it said, that science leads to God; I would add that music also leads to God.

On behalf of the congregation of the Warsaw Baptist church I wish to express to you, Mrs. Wm. Isbister, our appreciation of your hearty co-operation. Words are inadequate to convey our deep appreciation of your services.

"In love for your Master you and your husband have risen above denominational lines and have shown your willingness to work wherever the open door was found.

"I pray that the God whose you are and whom you serve may shower on you and your husband the choicest of his blessings and give you the consciousness of His abiding presence until the shadows flee away and in the daybreak of eternal day you are privileged to join with the redeemed in that endless song of praise:

"Down by the sea—the crystal sea,
Where all the redeemed shall be;
Where you and I, beloved, shall go,
Our crimson robes washed white as snow
In Christ's own blood. What hymns of praise
In countless ages we shall raise!
There all our loved ones we shall see—
Think what a meeting that will be Down by the sea!"

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. It is especially valuable for summer diarrhoea in children and is undoubtedly the means of saving the lives of a great many children each year. For sale by all druggists.

Notice is hereby given that all accounts due to Dr. T. J. Moher by persons residing in and around Peterborough are to be paid to me on or before the 1st August, 1903. After that date all outstanding accounts and balances of accounts will be turned into court for collection.

NOT MUCH CHANGED.

Standing of the Parties in Manitoba After the Election.

CONS. 20, LIBS. 10, DOUBTFUL 8.

Roblin Government Returned by Substantially the Same Majority as in the House Just Dissolved—All the Winnipeg Contests Were Close—Regret For Hon. Mr. Cameron's Defeat—The Results.

Winnipeg, July 21.—The Manitoba general elections, held yesterday, resulted in the return of the Roblin Government by substantially the same majority as in the House just dissolved. All the Cabinet Ministers are elected, with the possible exception of Mr. McFadden, Provincial Secretary, who is ten behind, with one poll to hear from. All the contests in Winnipeg were very close, the combined majority for the three seats not exceeding 250. Hon. J. D. Cameron's defeat in South Winnipeg is especially regretted, as he stands head and shoulders over his opponent in political ability.

Returns up to late last night give the Conservatives 20, Liberals 10, and 8 doubtful seats.

The G.N.W. Press Returns.

Emerson—Walton (Lib.), leading by five and three polls to hear from.

Gimli—Election July 30.

Gladstone—Wilson (Con.), leading by 100, three or four places to hear from.

Lansdowne—Norris (Lib.), probably elected, 15 majority.

Manitou—Rogers (Con.), leading by 470, with two polls to hear from.

Minnedosa—Waddell (Con.), elected by 80 majority.

Morden—Ruddell (Con.), elected by 88 majority.

Morris—Campbell (Con.), elected, 150 majority.

Mountain—Greenway (Lib.), elected 288 majority.

Turtle Mountain — Johnson (Con.), elected by about 175 majority.

Dauphin—Gunn (Con.), elected by about 130 majority.

Returns from other constituencies are very incomplete. The government claim 27 seats to 4. The cabinet have all been re-elected, with the probable exception of Dr. McFadden, in Emerson, where the vote is very close.

HIS TROUBLES NEVER CAME BACK

Ernest Grant Took Dodd's Kidney Pills—They Removed the Cause.

He had Backache and Urinary Troubles for Twelve Years Before he Used the Great Kidney Remedy.

Montreal, July 20th. — Special.—Ernest Grant, 287 1-2 Urbain street, this city, is among those who never let an opportunity pass to say a good word for Dodd's Kidney Pills. He has his reasons for this, and here they are in his own words:

"I had been troubled with backache and Kidney Disease for twelve years," says Mr. Grant. "My urine was very dark and high coloured. I would lose my rest at night on account of having to rise so often to urinate. I could get nothing to help me.

"I tried several remedies, but all failed until I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. When I had taken four boxes, I was able to go to bed and take my rest, my Backache left me and I was cured. It has never come back."

When Dodd's Kidney Pills cure, the disease never comes back. They remove the cause.

English Injustice.

An Australian tourist traveling in the west of Ireland asked an old woman how far it was to the nearest town. She sadly looked at him, then sighed and said:

"It was five nice miles two years ago, but some English brute came over with chains and made it seven, and our hearts are broke walking it ever since, bad luck to them!"

And she disappeared into the house, leaving him there.—Illustrated Bits.

The More Difficult Part.

"The actor," said Roscius, "should always forget that he has an audience. He should immerse his soul in his lines, and"—

"That's all very pretty," interrupted Horatio Tiewalker. "It isn't half so much trouble to forget that he has an audience as to forget that he hasn't one."

In and Out.

First Officer—Yes, we were marching over a plank bridge when it gave way, and the men fell in.

Second Officer—And what did you do?

First Officer—Oh I ordered them to fall out.

Lifebuoy Soap—disinfectant—is strongly recommended by the medical profession as a safeguard against infectious diseases. 52

NAPANEE MAN KILLED.

Peregrine Presley Slips From a Train to His Death.

Napanee, July 21.—An accident which resulted in death took place Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock at Fredericksburg Station, 4 miles east of Napanee. Peregrine Presley, a young man about 18 years of age, and a cousin, attempted to board a moving train at Fredericksburg, when Presley fell off and was drawn under the cars. Both legs were severed below the knee. The young man died about 11 o'clock Sunday night.

He leaves a widowed mother in Deseronto, of whom he was the main support. His father was killed at the same place about 16 years ago.

COUGHED FOR YEARS.

Dear Mother May Keep on Doing It.

If a mother persists in eating the crusts and building the fires and taking the butt end of every household responsibility and wearing old clothes, she may keep on doing it to the end, with little thanks and probably, finally, the realization that she has fostered selfish and unlovely traits in her family. Her daughters will in their turn make poorer wives and mothers, her sons more selfish and thoughtless husbands for never having been taught to consider her comfort sometimes before their own. She should train the children, boys as well as girls, to be helpful and handy, and let even father taken an occasional turn at the household mill. Then he will learn which bearings are stiff and need oiling with some new conveniences, and not allow the family to get the idea that she is so wedded to the daily round of household tasks that she is never willing to lay down the broom and dishcloth.—Exchange.

SUMMER FANCY WORK.

The Newest Way of Treasuring Perfumed Flower Petals.

New ideas in fancy work are always welcome when a summer holiday is in prospect, its programme including the delights of sitting out of doors in the sultry days, or when a round of country house visiting is in contemplation, for which a new piece of embroidery is at all times a pleasant accompaniment.

Potpourri sachets are a dainty notion which comes very happily with the rose season and the fancy for delicious, old fashioned perfumes. Our grandmothers used to store their potpourri in china bowls and jars, and of late years silver boxes with pierced lids have been added to the available receptacles for it. Potpourri sachets provide a delightful way of carrying about the scented petals and imparting their fragrance to the contents of drawer or portmanteau.

Two charming patterns are illustrated. One is shaped like a square mouthed bag, made in white china silk and embroidered with a design of half opened crimson roses. A separate case sewed into the lining contains the potpourri and can be taken out and refilled at any time with very little trouble. The other is pale blue silk, has round corners and is powdered with small roses in ribbon work. The lining is delicate pink silk, and in this also a separate case contains the perfume. A number of miniature sachets are designed to be laid among linen or handkerchiefs, all daintily embroidered and some incorporating appropriate mottoes. Most makers of potpourri have their own treasured recipe, handed down from mother to daughter through many generations. Some old and well tried recipes advocate the use of rose petals alone or mixed with lavender as the foundation. Others prefer the compound in which the queen of the garden lends her perfume to combine with that of her fragrant subjects, such as the clove, the pink, the lemon verbena, rosemary, bay and orange flower.

BEFORE LAST AGONY

Dr. Lapponi Says the Pope Lies in a State of Coma.

CAN'T SAY WHEN IT WILL END.

Artificial Stimulants Used Continually to Keep Him Alive—Sunday Was an Intense Day, But For the Most Part His Holiness Was Unconscious—Italian Government Rigidly Censures Communications.

Rome, July 20.—(8.30 a.m.)—Now that the supreme last moment in the memorable life and reign of Pope Leo is expected almost hourly, the contrast between the quiet within and the excitement without the Vatican is most striking. In the vast place there is a hushed calm of expectation, the only apparent wakeful people being the Swiss guards. The doctors and attendants of the dying Pontiff speak in whispers and move noiselessly about, so that from the sick room no sound comes except the heavy breathing of the unconscious Pope or his occasional cries for Centra and Dr. Lapponi. His tone is one of fear, as though he felt himself abandoned. In reality, sleep is very far from his eyes. No matter at what hour death comes, the whole palace will spring into sudden life, as though touched by a magician's wand. In the piazza of St. Peter's, on the contrary, all is movement, there being a regular encampment of journalists before the famous bronze doors, which are now closed in their faces, and behind which the regular tramp of the Pope's chamber, overlooking the piazza, while the nearby cafes, especially those with telephones, are crowded. Bicycles ready for use are piled up outside them, and cabs are lingering about in the hope of catching a fare.

The Osservatore Romona, the chief Vatican organ, has received orders to hold itself in readiness to issue almost at a moment's notice a special edition. The only thing wanting to complete the paper is the hour of Pope Leo's death.

In a State of Coma.

Shortly before midnight, Dr. Lapponi said: "The Pope at the present moment is in a state of coma, which may be called a condition preceding the last agony, the duration of which it is impossible to forecast, although everything leads to the belief that this condition cannot last. To be more exact, he is still in a state of torpor and stupor from which, however, he rouses occasionally when he hears sharp sounds, as, for instance, the insistent voice of one of his familiars calling loudly to him. Left alone he relapses immediately into a condition of torpor. At intervals he murmurs in his sleep, continuing to have foreboding that he is being abandoned by his valet. Centra, and myself. These are the symptoms of incipient cerebial anaemia and general exhaustion. He can no longer turn in his bed without assistance, and is being kept alive by artificial stimulants. During the twenty-three hours he has had two injections of camphorated oil, three of caffeine and two hypodermics of salt water, besides drinking stimulants."

Telegrams Censored.

Both the Italian Government and the authorities of the Vatican have made final preparations for the Pope's death. The Government is rigidly censoring all telegrams and telephonic communications between Italy and the rest of the continent. At midnight but few people remain at the Vatican. Dr. Mazzoni and Dr. Rossoni and the cardinals have gone to their homes to await the last urgent summons.

Yesterday each hour added to the gravity of the reports from the sick room of the Pontiff until all Rome waited almost breathlessly in expectation of the announcement of his death. For the first time also the weather was strongly against him. A blistering heat fell upon the city and the great piazza of St. Peter's took up the fierce sun and threw it back against the Vatican until it was like a fiery furnace.

Possibly Last Benediction.

The condition of coma was interrupted shortly after sunset. He lifted his head. Cardinal Vives y Tuto took advantage of the opportunity to approach the bed and tell the Pontiff that some cardinals were in the ante-chamber.

"I, myself," said he, "desire to have your benediction."

The Pope with a great effort raised a trembling hand and in an almost inaudible voice between long pauses gave the cardinal the Pontifical blessing. The effort, however, appeared to have been too much for him and he fell back into a condition of unconsciousness.

THE BULLETINS.

July 19.—9.30 a.m.—"The night was sleepless, with little tranquility. The Pope's strength continues to be depressed. His respiration is calm, but superficial at 34; pulse regular enough, but weak, at 98; temperature 36.5 centigrade. (Signed) "Lapponi. Mazzoni."

6.40 p. m.—The following bulletin has just been issued: "The Holy Father spent the day in an almost continuous state of coma; strength more depressed; respiration 30; pulse, 86; temperature, 36.4. (Signed), Lapponi, Mazzoni, Rossoni."

9.45 p. m.—The Pope continued in a state of coma and his general condition has not changed.

10.15 p. m.—The Pope has had an attack of delirium. The end appears inevitable. Cardinal Vannutelli, Grand Penitentiary, whose duty it is to say prayers for the dying, entered the sick chamber at 9 o'clock this evening. This is believed to indicate that the Pope is in extremis.

July 20, 1.55 a. m.—The condition of the Pope is unchanged and coma continues. It is believed a catastrophe will not occur during the night. A contributing element to the weakness of the Pope has been his inability to take nourishment. When an attempt is made to administer restoratives, although they are placed in his mouth, he does not swallow them. The Vatican has asked prayers for the Pope.

2.45 a. m.—A suspicion has arisen that the change in the Pope's condition is due to blood poisoning, as a result of derangement of the kidneys.

4.05 a. m.—When the Pope is called by his attendants he makes a great effort to arouse himself from the torpor into which he has sunk, but he is soon again overcome.

4.55 a. m.—At this hour it is announced that the condition of the Pope is apparently stationary.

Says His Hour Has Come.

Paris, July 20.—According to a Paris news agency despatch from Rome, Pio Centra, the Pope's valet, is greatly distressed because he is unable to assist his dying master, who does not recoguize any one.

Centra left the sick room several times exclaiming: "It is finished; I can do no more."

The Pope during a lucid interval said to him as he was leaving: "My hour has come. Farewell," and "Thanks, my son."

Cutting His Wheat.

Woodbridge, July 17.—J. J. Marshall of Pine Grove, Ont., one of the largest and most up-to-date farmers in this section of the country, has started to cut wheat, and a fine sample it is.

The name of the company is designated as the Steel Corporation of Canada. The paid-up capital is $2,000,000.

Bridges Swept Away.

Gore Bay, July 20.—A heavy electric storm passed over here yesterday afternoon, followed by a cloudburst, which swept away all the bridges in the south part of the town. Heavy hail accompanied the storm. McAush's barn in Gordon was burned to the ground.

Toronto, July 20.—A severe rainstorm, accompanied by hail, swept over the city Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Elizabeth Dickson, living on George street was stunned by a bolt of lightning, which passed through her house, a barn was struck at Toronto Junction and a few trees were destroyed.

Two Murderers Lynched.

Butte, Montana, July 20.—A special from Basin, Wyo., says that a mob stormed the county jail at that place Saturday night, and took from their cells Gorman and Walters, two condemned murderers, and lynched them. Their bodies were riddled with bullets. One county officer was killed during the attack upon the jail.

Old Woman Missing.

Gore Bay, July 20.—Great anxiety is felt in Burpee over the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. George Martin, over 90 years of age, who made her home with her son, John Martin, near Ellens Bay, but who has not been seen or heard of since Friday noon last. The old lady was of a slightly unsound mind.

Business vs. Biliousness.

The man who is subject to biliousness cannot attend to business—biliousness demands all his attention. Biliousness arises from the retention of waste and foreign matter in the system, natures drainage being clogged.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

goes to the root of the trouble and eradicates the cause—persuades the stomach and bowels, in a gentle but insistent manner, into healthy action, Abbey's clears the bile from the system in nature's own way, bringing health, a clear head, a clean stomach and energy for work.

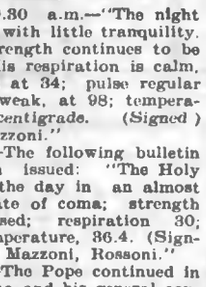
A WOMAN'S PRAYER.

It is notable that in the despondency caused by womanly diseases, there seems to many a suffering woman no way of escape from pain except at the price of life itself. It would be sad to record such a story of struggle and suffering except for the fact that in such dire distress many a woman has found a way back to health and happiness by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.



This great remedy for womanly ills has well been called "A godsend to weak and sick women." It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"Your medicine almost raised me from the dead," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Egypt, Plymouth Co., Mass., Box 14. "My urine was like brick dust, and I had pain all over me and such a dragging feeling it seemed I could not do my house work. I had to sit down to wash the dishes, even. In the year 1897 I was so sick I did not care to live and prayed many times that God would take me. One day I found a little book. I read it and wrote to Dr. Pierce, and in a few days received an answer. I decided to try his medicine, and to-day I am a well woman. I have no backache, no headache, no pain at all. I used always to have headaches previously to the monthly period and such pain that I would roll on the floor in agony. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and was completely cured."

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing just as good.

SPRINGVILLE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The exceptionally fine weather of the last two weeks has enabled the farmers to save their hay crop in first class condition.

Mr. David Wilson has commenced harvesting proper by reaping his fall wheat. The crop is first class. Barley is fast ripening, and several farmers have commenced harvesting their peas. They, too, give promise of good returns.

The sugar beet growers report the crop as making rapid growth. It is thought from present appearances that the results will be to induce many others to grow them next year.

The interior of the manse has been completed. Rev. Mr. Yule has moved in and has become a permanent citizen. He leaves for Montreal on Tuesday, 21st inst, where he expects to meet his sister and party on their way from Dundee, Scotland, to visit him in his new home.

Rev. Mr. Hueston, of Dundee, a brother-in-law of Rev. Mr. Yule, will occupy Rev. Mr. Yule's pulpit the first two Sundays in August.

Our citizens are advocating the erection of a sidewalk from the post office to the church. This would be a much needed convenience, and no trouble should be experienced in securing a sufficient grant from the councils of North Monaghan and Cavan to accomplish the improvement. The liberality of Cavan's council has enabled them to provide sidewalks in all the inland villages in their territory and assist the municipality of South Monaghan in providing the three boundary villages south of us with like accommodation. Springville is the only village in Cavan or on its boundary, that has not a sidewalk. Monaghan's legislators will no doubt take a pride in improving the only village within its boundary. The enterprise of the citizens in improvnig the village by increasing the revenue to each municipality, should receive the support of our councillors. The increase in the value of real estate by such improvements should ere long repay the municipalities for the small investment they are asked to make.

WARSAW.

On July 12th, Rev. Mr. A. A. Kelley preached to the Orangemen in the Baptist church here. The church had been beautifully decorated by the ladies with flowers, etc, and the house was packed with attentive listeners who sat even upon the platform and stood around the doorway. A synopsis of the sermon is as follows:

The reverend gentleman's text was Acts 27, 29th. He said in every avenue of life we see the need of organization; not a mere banding together for selfish purposes but a consolidation, having for its foundation stones, Righteousness, Purity and Truth. Such an organization, he believed, was before him this morning. It is well named in honour of the brave Prince of Orange, who was a master diplomat and organizer. We see that noble young man rise above the disturbing element and by slow but sure conquest so win the love and admiration of the English people that he is at last declared their King.

Ancient Rome presented a splendid example of a well organized army and government. As long as the standard of purity was upheld Rome stood without a peer, and her decadence dates from the decline of righteous living and the supplanting of selfish gain for national loyalty.

The business house that is the best organized meets with the greatest success. The Scriptural admonition is, "Let all things be done decently and in order."

There are certain conditions which tend towards effective organization and he had chosen for his subject, 'Four anchors,' and would ask them to consider with him what they are, and what import they had.

1st anchor—Faith. We all exercise it every day of our lives in temporal affairs. We accept a greenback and never question the solvency of the government back of it. We take a note of a friend, never doubting his promise to pay. Why is it we accept the promises of fallible man on faith and yet hesitate to believe the promises of the infinite God of heaven and earth?

2nd Anchor—Obedience to Christ's command. Abraham's obedience was equal to his faith. Parents demand obedience from their children knowing that their best good requires it. The organization which he had the honour of addressing required the strictest conformity to its rules and usages, and it is right that it should.

3rd Anchor—Patience. It pays in this age of rush and bustle to possess patience—to be able to take a calm considerate view of life. Many a mother fails in the rearing of her family because she does not possess patience. She may be ambitious for the success of her children, but as the flower of patience does not bloom in her life she become care-worn and anxious, thus casting a shadow over her household.. In Romans 5, 5, we read that God is the God of Patience. We cannot doubt the statement when we consider his loving kindness to us.

4th Anchor—Hope. How often we see a pilgrim footsore and weary upheld by the hope that when the starry night of time merges into the glorious morning of the eternal day, he shall stand with the redeemed praising God for the resurrection day. "Let it be said of you, my brethren, as it was said of Gladstone, 'He is an inveterate hoper.' Look for the sunshine, letting its rays enter your life, and then diffuse their brightness around." Christ understanding man's proclivity to worry called attention to the lilies of the field that did not take one thought about themselves, and yet appear in marvellous beauty.

'You, members of the Loyal Orange Association, have been wonderfully prospered. God has showered His richest blessings upon you. Does someone ask why? The answer is found in your constitution. There you honour God, and He has promised to honour those who honour Him. You require as a prerequisite to membership belief in Jesus Christ as the only mediator between a sinful creature and an offended God."

Our only safety lies in having on board the Great Pilot, Jesus Christ. There are rocks and shoals to impede our progress but He can guide us out into the deep waters and when our voyage is over effect a safe landing in the harbour of eternal bliss.

The Victory's Nelson's famous flag ship, as it lies in Portsmouth harbour, England, seeming to speak of the victories won and the deserved rest secured, beautifully typifies the close of a Christian life, calmly waiting for the summons to go home.

DINNER GOWN IN PEAU DE CREPE.

The range for shirrings has called forth charming variations of designs and very attractive is a reception or dinner gown on which this work is introduced. This is represented in old ivory peau de crepe, both bodice and skirt inset with Marechel Niel yellow flowers in applique. Mexican drawn work is introduced on the decollete bodice, and the Shirred costumes will be seen in the numerous crepes, and indeed there is nothing prettier than nun's grey crepe de Chine fashioned in shirred effect, deep around the shoulders, hips and knees, with adjuncts of grey and white lace, the finishing touches being supplied in fringes, tassels, and delicate cords.

TERRIFIC WRECK ON G. T. R. YESTERDAY.

Double Header Runs into a Stationary Train.

The Crew Jumped and Escaped Without Injury—Two Engines and Cars Badly Smashed—Track Clear.

With a crash that could be heard a considerable distance off, two freight trains collided at about a quarter to five o'clock yesterday afternoon, on the Grand Trunk line west of the station, at a point where the railway crosses Rubidge street.

Some time previous to the accident a train laden with a freight of grain came from the west, and stopped between Rubidge and Brock streets, while the engines uncoupled and went to the station to get water, as is the usual custom. This train was followed by another, also with a freight of grain, drawn by two engines, Nos. 125 and 459, the former leading. The semaphore was against this second train, and the two engineers immediately put on the air brakes, which it is stated were only fitted to six out of the 27 cars which followed the two engines. Consequently the train could not be stopped in so short a distance as separated the semaphore and the stationary train, the brakes having practically no power. The engineers, Topley, of No. 125, and William Shields, of No. 459, with their firemen, perceiving a collision was inevitable, jumped and escaped unscathed. The conductor of this train, Mr. W. Hodgins, was standing on the top of one of his cars and jumped on to some cars standing on the William Hamilton Company siding. The heavy train, notwithstanding the fact that steam had been shut off from both cylinders, rushed on, and with a force that drove the stationery train for a distance of about fifty yards, dashed into the end.

The leading engine was pitched clean off the track, and was thrown against Mr. William Blogg's house, No. 505 Rubidge street, doing it considerable damage. The second engine, No. 459, ploughed away over the end car and lodged between that and the end car but one, the tender piled up on the cab. The engine was lying on its left side with its buffer smashed and the steel fittings, etc., twisted into an almost unrecognizable shape. The front of the boiler which sustained the brunt of the force against the standing train, had a hole in it about two feet long and eighteen inches wide. The cylinders were both twisted and cracked, while the top of the right hand one was entirely demolished.

The other engine which had been the leader, and which was lying against Mr. Blogg's house, was not in quite as bad a condition. The smoke box in front was knocked right through, leaving to sight the inside of the boiler.

The two end cars were the only ones of the stationary train that suffered, and a large quantity of grain was lost.

Within a few minutes of the smash-up a large crowd had gathered, which increased as time went on. During the evening the scene was visited by thousands of persons. In fact the crowd was so thick that one woman fainted through the effects of the crush.

For about thirty yards up the line the rails were broken and torn up. In one place at a joint with fish plates on each side, the rail was broken at each end of the plates, showing that the joint itself was stronger than the rail. Many of the sleepers were badly cut up and had to be replaced by new ones.

An auxiliary train arrived in the evening at eight o'clock and immediately commenced to clear the line for traffic. This morning the engine which was before across the track had been placed by the side of the track, which had been cleared of all other wreckage. The men were laying down new rails.

One cannot say who was to blame. Mr. John Londry who works the semaphore from Brock street when spoken to said emphatically that the semaphore was against the second train. This freight may have been going to fast, but on the other hand one cannot conceive how any train should be allowed to run without sufficient power to stop within a reasonable emergency distance.

The most reasonable explanation seems to be that while the engineers were apprised of the danger of a collision by the semaphore, the train of 27 cars loaded, and on a down grade, had obtained such a momentum that the air brakes on the six cars were not sufficient, though at once applied, to bring the train to a standstill, before the obstruction was reached. There does not appear to be any evidence of negligence on the part of the engineers, and the accident must be classed as one of those the cause for which is extremely hard to determine, but which occur even though the usual precautions are observed. If, as has been stated to the Examiner, but 6 cars of the 27 were connected for air brakes, this fact would perhaps be an explanation for the apparent inability to stop the train within a reasonable distance.

Traffic was somewhat demoralized for some hours, the passenger train from Port Hope to Toronto, due here at 5.38, was sent to Lindsay by way of Millbrook, the Lakefield train meeting it at Millbrook. Traffic is now proceeding as usual.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

Will be Given in the Brock Street Rink September 10th and 11th.

Last night at the rehearsal of the Musical Festival chorus in Y.M.C.A. hall, the announcement was made that the Festival would be given in the new rink, on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 10th and 11th, arrangements having just been consummated for the use of the new building. Music loving citizens will do well to make a note of the dates, and reserve them, as the event will be by far the greatest musical performance ever given in this town or vicinity. The large chorus of the best of Peterborough's singers, aided in one concert by a fine delegation of vocalists from nearby towns; the numerous corps of solists, some of them of continental reputation, the presance of Mr. Wodell, as conductor, the splendid works—Hayden's Creation and Cowen's Rose-Maiden — to be given, all combine to put the Festival away ahead of any musical effort ever undertaken here. It is an enterprise which deserves the cordial co-operation of all the citizens, as it will do much to show what thoroughly good talent for singing exists in Peterborough. Then again it will bring hundreds of visitors to the town, and contribute to general business. The chorus is already, at the third rehearsal, becoming enthusiastic over the wonderfully beautiful music, and last night's rehearsal showed that the Peterborough chorus is going to be a surprise and delight to the townspeople. New members will be admitted for a few more rehearsals.

FELL TWENTY-FIVE FEET.

Lindsay Man's Narrow Escape.

Mr. Herbert Skitch had a miraculous escape from death Tuesday morning shortly after 7 o'clock. He was engaged in shingling the roof of Mr. A. Fisher's new residence at the corner of William and Regent streets, and while walking on the roof he slipped and fell 25 feet to the hard ground below, alighting on his right side. When picked up by Mr. Fisher, Mr. Geo. Henley and some others, he was in an unconscious condition. Dr. McAlpine was summoned and drove the unfortunate man home in his carriage. Upon an examination it was discovered that Mr. Skitch's right leg near the ankle was fractured, several bones of the right hand broken, and his face and head badly cut and bruised. Mr. Skitch will be laid up for several months.—Post.

HOW POPE'S SUCCESSOR WILL BE SELECTED.

Method of Choosing Occupant of Highest Office in Church.

The method of electing a pope is like nothing else in the world. When a pope dies the chamberlain or camerlengo immediately enters the room in which the body lies, carrying a small mallet in his hand. He reverently raises the instrument and strikes the forehead of the corpse three times, calling him by name at each stroke. The name used is not the official title but the Christian name and surname. He then draws the signet ring from the dead finger. When the Sacred College assembles, and it must do so within ten days after the death of the Pontiff, steps are at once taken for the election of a successor. The gathering for this purpose is called a conclave and is one of the most solemn offices associated with the history of the Vatican. The apartment in which it is held is shut off from all communication with the outside world. To secure privacy doors and windows are bricked up, leaving only a single entrance. From the time of the assembly until the election is announced the cardinals see only each other. The servants who wait upon them act very much like turnkeys, even the food supply being searched to prevent communication from the outside. The assembly takes place in the Sistine Chapel, where a desk is provided for each cardinal. Three inspectors of election are chosen by ballot. The dean of the college is the first to cast his vote—he writes the name of his candidate upon a slip of paper, folds it, seals it at both ends, and drops it into a bowl. The cardinals follow in order of rank, each one advancing and kneeling before the altar while he deposits his ballot. Each one calls upon the Deity to witness that he chooses for Pontiff the person whose name is written upon the slip of paper. Should none of the candidates receive the necessary two thirds of all the votes cast the papers are mixed with damp straw and burned, the smoke announcing to the world outside that no election has resulted.

The Conclave reassembles in the evening and an opportunity is then given to cardinals from foreign countries to state any objections they may have to any of the candidates. It sometimes happens that the election of a leading candidate is thus prevented, good proof being given that his election would injure the Vatican's influence abroad.

Each day a vote is taken and all the ceremonies repeated until a pope is elected. The final ballot papers are destroyed by fire without the addition of straw and the absence of smoke at the set time announces the fact that the new head of the church is chosen. The successful candidate is approached and asked if he accepts the office. If he does so he is immediately saluted by every member of the Conclave, each one kissing his hand and his foot. He announces to them the name by which he wishes to be known, and as the gathering breaks up the name is made public.

There are several methods of electing a pope but the foregoing is the most frequently used.

Mrs. Anderson, a prominent society woman of Jacksonville, Fla., daughter of Recorder of Deeds, West, says:

"There are but few wives and mothers who have not at times endured agonies and such pain as only women know of. I wish such women knew the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a remarkable medicine, different in action from any other I ever knew and thoroughly reliable.

"I have seen cases where women doctored for years without permanent benefit who were cured in less than three months after taking your Vegetable Compound, while others who were chronic and incurable came out cured, happy, and in perfect health after a thorough treatment with this medicine. I have never used it myself without gaining great benefit. A few doses restores my strength and appetite, and tones up the entire system. Your medicine has been tried and found true, hence I fully endorse it."—Mrs. E. A. Anderson, 225 Washington St., Jacksonville, Fla.—$5000 forfeit if original of above testimonial proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The experience and testimony of some of the most noted women of America go to prove, beyond a question, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all such trouble at once by removing the cause, and restoring the organs to a healthy and normal condition.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 22, 1903.

THE TRIPLE MOTIVE OF THE RAILWAY.

(The Globe.)

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is intended to serve three quite distinct purposes ,and it is admirably calculated to fulfill each of the ends in view in constructing it. It will be wherever it runs, a colonization road promoting settlement and developing local industry. It will be a national road, giving breadth and continuity to the Dominion from end to end. It will be an international highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, forming a very important link in a through transportation route between the east and the west.

As a colonization road running through the very heart of New Brunswick, from Moncton in the southeast to Edmundston in the northwest, it will open up to settlement and productive energy a region of considerable extent, as yet very imperfectly developed. It is not too much to predict that a road managed so efficiently as this Edmundston-Moncton section is sure to be will create a veritable industrial revolution in New Brunswick. The country along the line abounds in timber and water-power, and from its vicinity to the superior ocean shipping facilities at St. John, which is connected with the route by a short railway already in operation, it will be in an exceptionally advantageous position to do a profitable trade. There is no reason why, if properly treated, the forest should not last indefinitely, but there is good agricultural land to fall back on when the timber must be cleared off. We shall be greatly surprised if the city of St. John and the Province of New Brunswick rise in revolt against a trunk line scheme, part of which is of so much local importance to both, while it will be built at the expense of the whole Dominion. Through northern Quebec and northern Ontario for a thousand miles or more the railway will traverse a habitable and arable land abounding in marketable timber, and capable of sustaining for all time to come a large and highly civilized population. The prospect is that it will be the means of adding one-half to the present population of these two Provinces taken together. In Manitoba and the Northwest Territory the railway will follow the route laid out thirty years ago for the Canadian Pacific Railway, but discarded ten years later, when the present company undertook to build the line. The route of the new railway will be through the very finest part of the Northwest, where the land for miles on each side is the natural home of the hard wheat. No part of British Columbia excels in climate and natural resources the region crossed by the new railway from the Pine River Pass to Port Simpson, north of which there is still a third of that great Province.

The effect of the new trunk railway in broadening the central section of the Dominion by carrying settlement through the back country and converting an uninhabited wilderness into a hive of industry is at present incalculable. It will change all our own ideas of the internal geography of the Dominion and strike the imagination of foreigners. It will suppress the race of Canadian pessimists for their jeremiads will find no listeners or readers. While the Canadian Pacific will maintain the continuity of the Dominion as much as it ever has done, the second trunk line will be more than a second railway—it will develop a new region with natural resources sufficient to invite and secure continuous settlement. In the Northwest a similar effect will be produced; the settlement which has its present northern limit in the latitude of Edmonton and of Prince Albert, will soon include not merely the fertile lands west of Lake Manitoba, but the great Peace River valley, which has no superior in soil or climate in the world.

In some respects the most important aspect of this great undertaking is the international one. The Canadian Pacific Railway has done much to make Canada known to the world by establishing a line of transpacific steamers, and adding recently a fleet of transatlantic vessels. The trade of China and Japan has been brought this way to an extent little realized by Canadians generally, and when we have a second transcontinental road serving as part of another through route from the east to the west, this world-traffic will very soon be several times multiplied. As compared with either the Great Northern or the Central Pacific, we have physical geography in our favour and our people may be trusted to make the very most of the advantage conferred on them by nature.

HARVEY'S GROWING FAIR.

A Two Day's Exhibition Will be Held This Year on Oct 1st and 2nd.

Harvey Industrial Fair has outgrown the one day stage, and this year for the first time in the history of the exhibition it will be held on two days. It will take place at Lakehurst on Oct. 1st and 2nd, and from indications at the present time it would seem that the success is already assured.

With good crops and a live Agricultural Society such as that of Harvey, a successful Fall Fair may safely be counted upon. The management, recognizing the fact that the increasing number of the exhibits in the different classes made it impossible to attend to the judging, etc., in one day, has wisely decided to inaugurate a new order, and have by extending the length of the fair to two days taken a long step towards establishing the permanent success of the annual event. The President of the Society, Mr. John Smith, and the secretary, Mr. J. W. Irwin, and the other officers and directors have entered upon their duties with a will and their united efforts will be seen by a decidedly improved fair on Oct. 1st and 2nd. A growing interest in the fair is also being manifest by the farmers throughout the township, and the enthusiasm has even spread to Peterborough. The secretary was in town this week presenting the claims of the fair to the business men and the response which he met with was most encouraging. He states that he is highly pleased with the liberality which has characterized the merchants of the town in their attitude to the Harvey Fair.

OMEMEE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A young couple from Peterborough were married here on Monday, being Mr. J. Dugan and Miss Rose Haron. The knot was tied at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Mr. Locke.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan, musical director of the George street choir, Peterborough, was here for a rehearsal of the forty voices which will render the Rose Maiden cantata, to be taken up at the September musical festival, in Peterborough, and expressed himself as well pleased.

The many old friends and acquaintances of John Kincaid are glad to hear that he is progressing favourably after his accident.

A vote will be taken on Sunday next in the Presbyterian church for the selection of the new minister. Several fine men have been heard.

PROGRESS OF WORK ON GOVERNMENT RAILWAY.

Mr. Latchford Pays a Visit of Inspection.

The Road is Being Pushed Forward Rapidly—Excursion to the North Foreshadowed.

The Globe.

New Liskeard, July 18.—Hon. F. R. Latchford, Commissioner of Public Works, and his party left here this morning for home, after having spent a busy day in connection with the public works of the Temiskaming district, and especially the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, now in course of construction. Mr. Latchford was accompanied by Dr. James, M.P.P., for Nipissing; Mr. A. W. Campbell, assistant Commissioner of Public Works; W. B. Russell, chief engineer of the railway; E. S. Sinclair, solicitor for the commissioners, and Justice Loughrin, ex-M.P.P. The party arrived on Monday. The people of New Liskeard with its 700 inhabitants, the growth of a few years, and one million acres of land surrounding it, entirely taken up, served only with steamboats in summer, and entirely isolated during the long months of winter, have for some time anxiously looked forward to the time when they would be served by a railway. The Commissioner of Public Works having in the Legislature had charge of the measure providing for the railway, the Temiskaming settlers have been looking forward to his visit, that they might express their appreciation of the action of the Government and of his efforts in so expeditiously providing a connection with the railway system of the older section of the country. Hundreds of people from the town and the surrounding district, accompanied by the New Liskeard brass band, gathered on the banks of the Wabbi as the steamer Meteor of the Upper Ottawa service drew into the wharf. Mayor Armstrong read an address of welcome to the Commissioner, and in his reply Mr. Latchford expressed his delight at being so kindly received by the people of the great northland.

On Tuesday the party was taken up La Blanche river about 40 miles, through the settlement, where it is strongly urged the railway should as soon as possible be extended. Upon their return in the evening a complimentary banquet was tendered the Commissioner and his party by the citizens of New Liskeard at the Windsor, a large hotel just opened. Mr. Latchford in the course of an exceedingly well received address expressed his great satisfaction at the rapid and substantial growth of the towns, and the progress made in the clearing and opening up of the district. He said that the work of grading the new railroad was going on all along the line, and 400 men were working outside the town. About twenty miles of rails were laid from the southerly end, and work was being pushed forward as expeditiously as any work of the kind in the history of the country ,and before the close of next season trains connecting with the great railway systems of the country would be running into the town. He expressed the hope that provision would soon be made for extending the line into the great clay belt beyond, in order that those fertile lands might be occupied, waterpowers developed, and industries created for utilizing the vast quantities of raw material of forest, stream and mine to be found there in such abundance.

The party spent Thursday in inspecting the work done in the building of colonization waggon roads, and arranged for the extension of the main arteries to the north, west and east, and it is expected that about sixty miles of new roads will this year be added to the present system.

On Friday the matter of the probable railway terminals at this place, about which there is much anxiety, was considered, together with necessary connections with the steamboat lines traversing the water stretches of Lake Temiskaming and tributaries. An inspection of the grading being done on the section between Montreal River and New Liskeard was made and last evening Mr. Latchford addressed a public meeting at Haileybury.

Cleanliness the Characteristic.

The final drying, or roasting, thoroughly sterilizes the product, and from the time the grain is delivered at the mill until the final sealing of the packages, the food is handled entirely by machinery. THE LAST FAREWELL

Public Will Have Three Days' Opportunity to See Pope's Body.

THE TOLLING OF THE BELLS.

On the Stroke of Eight Rome's Four Hundred Church Bells Began to Toll For the Passing of the Soul of Leo XIII.—A Touching Scene in the Vatican—Interment on Saturday.

Rome, July 22.—The body of Leo XIII. lay last night in the hall of the throne room, a few steps from the room in which his death took place. In the same vestments, the camauro hood, the rochet and the white gown which were put on Monday covered the form, which rests in semi-state surrounded by lighted candles, the noble guard and Franciscan penitentiaries.

This morning the diplomatic body, the high dignitaries and the Roman aristocracy will enter the hall to pay their tributes of respect to all that remains of the Pope.

In the afternoon the body will be arrayed in all the glory of the pontifical robes, the mitre replacing the hood, and at sunset it will be taken into the chapel of the sacrament of St. Peter's, where for three days the public will be given an opportunity of paying a last farewell. The interment will occur Saturday evening.

Formal Recognition of Death.

Yesterday was notable for the impressive ceremonial of the recognition of the death of the Pope, which occurred in the morning in the chamber in which he died. Thereafter only those were admitted who were concerned in the embalming of the body, an operation which occupied six hours. Meantime the authorities of the Vatican proceeded with the preparations for the funeral, the conclave and the acknowledgment of the condolences which have been received.

Throughout the day the Vatican was surrounded by crowds which increased toward night. Several thousand entered St. Peter's at Vespers and joined in prayers for the departed. Among these were many of the Italian officers, whose troops, shortly after sunset, were marched from the Vatican back to their barracks. At no time had their services been needed.

The quiet of the evening was broken by a chorus such as the world has seldom heard. On the stroke of eight, all of Rome's four hundred churches began to toll bells for the passing of the soul of Leo XIII. From the Seven Hills and from every quarter of the city which contained churches came the constant clang until all was one vast reverberation. The harsh jingle of the smaller chapel bells striking quickly and more often, was not drowned by the solemn strokes that came in mourning measure from the great dome of St. Peter's. Except in its common motive and common sorrow it was an amazing discord, which continued an hour and which will occur every night until the obsequies are over.

Nephew's Last Farewell.

There was a touching scene at the Vatican yesterday morning, when the nephews of Leo, with their families, entered the death chamber to take a last farewell of their uncle, for whom they had an intense reverence. The little party advanced on tip-toe, and, circling around the bed, fell on their knees and joined in the prayers of the penitentiaries. Presently the visitors arose and slowly filed past the bed, kneeling to kiss the dead as they passed.

Death Mask Taken.

A death mask of Leo XIII. was taken yesterday by Commendator Galli, director of the Vatican Museum. The delicate work was successfuly executed, and the result is considered highly satisfactory.

King Expresses Regret.

London, July 22.—King Edward has commanded Irish Secretary Wyndham to express to the Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of all Ireland, His Majesty's deep regret at the news of the death of the Pope, and to ask His Eminence to convey to the sacred college His Majesty's sincere regrets.

Condolences Adopted.

London, July 22.—The Irish Parliamentary party held a meeting at Westminster last night under the chairmanship of John Redmond, and adopted resolutions extending condolences upon the death of the Pope, and paying tribute to his noble character and saintly life. Sir Thomas Esmonds, member for North Wexford, and Captain Donolan, member for Cork, were appointed a committee to represent the Irish party at the obsequies.

MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

Latest Returns Show Fewer Liberals in the House.

Winnipeg, July 22.—Official returns received yesterday do not materially alter the Manitoba election results. O'Donohue, Liberal, is leading in St. Andrew's and Kildona, and is undoubtedly elected. Prefontaine, Liberal, is elected in Assiniboia by 17, and Legimodiere, Liberal, in La Verandrye by 27.

Late returns elect Hicks, Conservative, in Lansdowne; Agnow, Conservative, in Virden, and Carroll, Conservative, in South Brandon.

The latest returns of completed constituencies show 28 Conservatives to 8 Liberals elected.

Scrawny People.

People grow thin, scrawney, pale and weak when the blood is thin and watery. What is needed to round off the angles and fill out the form, is not fat but healthy muscular tissue. By enriching the blood and increasing its nourishing qualities Dr. Chase's Nerve Food adds new flesh and tissue to the body as well as new vigour and energy. You can prove this by noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure.

NERVES GAVE WAY— PE-RU-NA CURED.

Mrs. X. Schneider, 2409 Thirty-seventh Place, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"After taking several remedies without result, I began in January, 1902, to take your valuable remedy, Peruna. I was a complete wreck. Had palpitation of the heart, cold hands and feet, female weakness, no appetite, trembling, sinking feeling nearly all the time. You said I was suffering with systemic catarrh, and I believe that I received your help in the nick of time. I followed your directions carefully and can say to-day that I am well again. I cannot thank you enough for my cure. I will always be your debtor. I have already recommended Peruna to my friends and neighbors and they all praise it. I wish that all suffering women would try it. I testify this according to the truth."—Mrs. X. Schneider.

Mrs. Fanny Klavadatscher, of Summitsville, N. Y., writes as follows:

"For three months I suffered with pain in the back and in the region of the kidneys, and a dull, pressing sensation in the abdomen, and other symptoms of pelvic catarrh.

"But after taking two bottles of Peruna I am entirely well, better than I ever was."—Mrs. Fanny Klavadatscher.

MUST SURRENDER OR DIE.

Rebels Slaughtered in Soledad, Venezuela —"Zamora" Stormed and Captured— Jail and Capitol Yet Resist.

Soledad, Venezuela, Monday, July 21.—(7 p. m.)—The fight between the Government forces and revolutionists from 1 o'clock this afternoon has been horrible, and at this hour the only places which resist the onslaught of the Goverment troops are the jail and the capital.

Early in the afternoon, the Government troops, numbering 5,200 men, were ordered to make a general attack on all positions still held by the rebels. At 5 o'clock this afternoon, the "Zamora," called the Sebastopol of Ciudad, was stormed and captured. Ninety-four dead rebels were found inside, among them being Gen. Azanza, one of the revolutionary leaders, whose head had been blown off by a shell. It is impossible to give an idea of the carnage which occurred at this point.

At the same time, Gen. Rivas, Gen. Gomez's chief lieutenant, with 2,300 men, succeeded in destroying a barricade erected around th miranda plaza, the key to the capital, where all the survivors of the revolution were concentrated. All the roads and streets running into the capital are guarded by Government troops, and the escape of the revolutionists after the capture of the capital, which is inevitable, seems impossible. They must either surrendor or die. At 7 o'clock to-night the customs house was taken after ten hours' fighting.

The revolutionists are without provisions and water, the supply pipe having been cut yesterday. Their situation is considered desperate and hopeless. The shops are being pillaged.

Caracas, Venezuela, July 21. —A messenger who has arrived here by steamer and train from Ciudad, Bolivar, reports that the city was captured by the Government troops at 8 o'clock this morning.

CANADA'S TRADE.

For Last Year the Total Amounted to Over $467,637,000.

Ottawa, July 22.—The unrevised figures of foreign trade for the fiscal year ended June 30th were yesterday made public by the Department of Customs, and they show an enormous expansion in the trade and commerce of the country. The showing is one which should be a matter of pride and inspiration to the whole community, and it bears eloquent testimony to the wisdom of the fiscal policy of the Government. The aggregate foreign trade for the year, which embraces the total imports and total exports of domestic and foreign produce, amounted to no less than $467,637,049, which is an increase of $43,750,000 over the trade of the fiscal year 1902. On the basis of imports which actually entered into consumption, and Canadian produce only, exported, the trade for the year amounted to $448,188,999, as compared with $398,811,358 for the previous year, or an increase of $49,377,641. On this basis our trade has more than doubled in the last seven years, as appears from the following figures:—

Trade of 1903 .....$448,188,999
Trade of 1896 220,502,817

A Lineman Injured.

Toronto, July 22.—Coming in contact with a feed wire of the Metropolitan Railway, while working at Richmond Hill, yesterday, Emile Madore, was thrown some distance up in the air and fell to the ground, a distance of over 25 feet. He was brought to St. Michael's Hospital here, but can hardly recover.

3 KILLED IN WRECK.

Canadian Pacific Railway Trains Collide at Galt.

FOUR MEN WERE INJURED.

The Men Killed Were Well-Known Drovers—Cars Were Precipitated Into the Grand River, 80 Feet Below, From the Bridge, and a Big New Engine Was Badly Damaged —McMillan's Fearful Leap.

Galt, Ont., July 22.—Three killed and four lying in the hospital as a result of their injuries; three cars in the Grand River, and a new engine badly smashed, is the net result of a rear-end collision on the Canadian Pacific Railway early yesterday morning. The dead:

Hugh McMillan, cattleman, Dutton, Ont., killed by fall; David McPherson, cattleman, Dutton, died at hospital from injuries to head; Thos. Pinhale, cattleman, St. Thomas, found in river in wrecked caboose.

Into River 80 Feet Below.

An extra freight from London crashed into a through extra cattle train to Montreal, which was taking water, and extended the entire length of, the long bridge which spans the Grand River. Shortly after midnight the London extra, driven by Engineer McConnell, rounded the sharp curve about 200 yards from the bridge. Steam was shut off, as is the custom at this point, but the train had gained such momentum that as the red light of the rear of the standing train loomed up before the gaze of McConnell, all that was left to be done was to reverse steam, open wide the sand tank, and whistle a warning. As the heavy train was within a few yards of the caboose of the standing train. McConnell shouted to his fireman "jump." No sooner had he done so than the crash came. The caboose was jammed flat. Two cars in front went over the bridge, falling a distance of 80 feet into the river, carrying the shattered caboose along.

McMillan's Fearful Leap.

Awakened by the shrieks of the whistle, Hugh McMillan rushed to the platform, and seeing the oncoming train leaped into the darkness, landing on the G.T.R. track beside the river. When picked up his head was crushed into an unrecognizable mass. Pinhale was picked up in the river, having fallen with the wrecked caboose. His leg was broken and skull crushed. David McPherson was taken from underneath the cowcatcher, but lived long enough to be taken to the hospital. On arriving there he became unconscious and died within a few hours. His death was due to a fracture to the base of the skull.

At a late hour last night Dr. Elliott was seen at the hospital and stated he had examined all the injured and found their injuries only superficial. They would all be around in about a week, he thought. Relatives and friends of the dead men arrived about noon and had them sent back to their respective homes.

Coroner Radford, after viewing the bodies and empanelling a jury earlier in the day, released the bodies, that they might be taken home.

Cause a Mystery.

Just who is responsible for the accident is still a mystery. The semaphore stationed at the curve should have signalled McConnell to stop. He claimes he did not see it. The station agent on duty, William Shaw, declares that it was up. Other than the assertion of McConnell, that he did not see it, there is nothing to disprove the agent's remarks. The night was dark and foggy and there is just a possibility that the signal could not be distinctly seen. The London train crew had been working since 10 o'clock on Monday morning.

Killed Well Known.

Hugh McMillan, killed, was a well-to-do farmer and drover living two and one-half miles north of Dutton, with his wife, his father, a man 96 years of age, and his sister. He was about 51 years of age.

David McPherson, killed, resided northwest of Dutton and is also a well-to-do farmer and drover. He was about 32 years of age and was married not long ago to a Mrs. Buchanan.

T. Penhale, killed, is a son of John Penhale, 10th concession of Yarmouth. He lived at Mapleton. He leaves a widow and six children. He is a brother-in-law of C. A. Brower, M.P.P.

Spectacles and Eye-Glasses

—AT—
The Tate Optical Co's

We are doing one thing extremely well—making Good Glasses. In fact the best Glasses made in Canada today. Perhaps you may think this a strong statement, but it is writen deliberately and meant to be convincing.

We examine your eyes carefully, and in our examining room we have all the latest instruments for that purpose. We are Eye Specialists, and our long years of experience make us experts. In the rear of the office is a work shop equipped with the most modern machinery for optical work—the only shop of the kind in Peterborough. Surface grinding of lenses is done on the premises. When you buy a pair of glasses from us we grind the lenses to suit the requirements of your eye. WE DO NOT pick them haphazard from a box of numbered lenses.

Our patients are in all parts of the Dominion. We will be pleased to answer mail orders. Particular care is given to the fit of frames and mounts.

One of our patients, Miss Beavis, writes: "Before coming to you for Glasses I had spent over $50.00 in my endeavour to get satisfactory Glasses, but, thanks to your skill as opticians, I am now enjoying perfect vision and comfort."

The young people also are deeply in love with "Uncle Barney," and when this year "Uncle Fred" also assisted in the entertaining their happiness was complete. SOUTH AFRICAN VETERANS MEET.

An Association Formed With Excellent Prospects—New Officers Elected.

A meeting of the Veterans of the late South African war was held last night in the rooms of the Non.Coms. of the 57th Regiment for the purpose of forming an association for mutual helpfulness. It was well attended and a perfect unanimity of feeling prevailed. Mr. E. O. Bradburn was the first speaker and explained the object in calling the meeting, which was that an Association, composed of all members of the four contingents who went from Peterborough county, be formed. The proposal was enthusiastically taken up and every one present signified his desire to see such an association formed, and promised to become a member of it.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows:—

President—Mr. A. R. J. Hall.
Secretary—Mr. W. S. Hodgson.
Committee to Draft Bylaws.—Messrs. A. E. Miller, G. Hartley, Henderson and the President.

The newly elected president at once took the chair and expressed thanks to the members for the honour conferred upon him in his election to the office as first President of the Association, which he felt would be a great success. He said that he was much interested in the formation of such an Association, and would do all in his power to make it a success.

It was decided to hold monthly meetings, the first Sunday in each month being the day chosen; the first meeting will be held on Aug. 2nd.

The Bylaw Committee will meet next Sunday in the Firemen's Hall to prepare the constitution and by-laws.

The matter of obtaining the land granted by the Ontario Government to Veterans was discussed, but no action was taken.

Mr. Bradburn moved, seconded by Mr. A. E. Miller, that a vote of thanks be tendered the non-commissioned officers for the use of their rooms.

The motion was carried unanimously, after which the meeting adjourned.

PLEASANT EXCURSION DOWN THE RIVER.

Young Ladies Have Pleasant Outing Down the River.

The young ladies of the mantle department of Richard Hall & Son's establishment, held a delightful excursion down the river to Hastings per steamer Water Lily yesterday. There were about 125 persons, some twenty of whom were of the male sex. It is understood that these latter had a highly enjoyable time with so many charming young ladies.

Among the party, which left at 8 o'clock in the morning, and arrived at Hastings about noon, were Misses O'Brien, Primeau, Fair, Thexton, Waters, Guerin, Logan, Burns, Morgan, Meharry, and Mrs. Malone and Strain. Miss Mercier supervised the arrangements, which were perfect in every detail.

The "fair" scenery, and the rippling "waters" made everyone feel happy, in fact the trip was such a "strain" that many did not return to work today. The party took dinner at the "grove," and spent the afternoon in the beautiful little village of Hastings.

A baseball match was played and the girls defeated the boys by a score of 6 to 1. This is the young ladies' version of the match.

The boat commenced its homeward passage at 4 o'clock, and reached its destination about 9. A large crowd met it at the locks, and many of the young ladies got out and walked home.

Perhaps no excursion this year has been more enjoyable than this one and on arriving at the locks three hearty cheers were given for Miss Mercier.

THE KILLIN-KEOUGH STUDENTS' RECITAL.

Clever Peterborough Singers Delight Musical Audience.

Singing of Mixed Quartette an Enjoyable Feature—Good Results of Teachers' Work.

The Killin-Keough Students' Recital held in the Opera House last night was one highly successful and was much enjoyed by those who were fortunate enough to attend, the audience was not as large, however, as the excellence of the programme deserved. These clever teachers have developed some very creditable singers, whose work last night fully demonstrated the teaching abilities of Mr. and Mrs. Keough.

The chorus and quartette work work was particularly good, and while the choral selections were of a classical nature their interpretations were almost perfect and thoroughappreciated by the audience, which, it may be added, was a musical one. The stage was very tastily arranged for the occasion, and the fair singers lent an additional charm to an already pleasing view. The choruses, of which there were three, were all selections from standard composers, the first being, "With Sheathed Swords," from Costa's Naaman. "O Italia Beloved," by Donizetti, was the next chorus and the closing number, and one which was perhaps most enjoyed, was "Faithful and True," from Wagner's Lohengrin. The soloists were all pupils and a surprising talent was displayed in their work. Miss M. A. Curtis was first heard in "Down the Shadowed Lane," and her singing indicates the possession of a fine, artistic taste, her selection being much enjoyed. Mrs. Rehill, in a full mezzo-soprano voice followed with "Angus Macdonald," which appealed not only to the patriotic, but to the musical instincts of her hearers.

Miss Maude L. Brown and Mr. W. A. Greenslade next sang a duet, "I Heard a Voice," which, after a chorus, was followed by Miss Agnes Patterson, who sang a difficult Provencal song, showing considerable talent. Buck's sacred solo, "Fear Not, Ye O Israel,' was the next selection, sung by Mr. A. L. Davis, and his rendition of a beautiful composition was a very pleasing one. It was well suited to his voice and the selection was heartily applauded. Mrs. Metheral was the next soloist and sang "For all Eternity," to the satisfaction of the audience, as the applause which followed indicated. In a fine bass voice, which is at once pleasing and musical, Mr. Bert Turner sang Bizet's Toreador Song, from Carmen. This was followed by a Cradle Song in which the following young ladies took part: Misses Addie Doris, Nettie Lewis, May and Loretta Clancy, Aggie Collins, Florence Corkery, Sadie Rutherford, Annie Hardill and Pansy Kemp. This song was given with the singers at the side of the stage, and the musical effect was very beautiful, making the number one of the most enjoyed.

Probably the selections which appealed most strongly to music lovers were those from "Martha," the first of which was the spinning wheel Quartette, those taking part being —Lady Harriet (Martha) Miss Clara Belleghem; Julia (Nancy), Miss Mary Rush; Lionel, Mr. Herbert Morphet; Plunket, Mr. Alex. Elliott. Their voices blended harmoniously, making the selection a most enjoyable one. Miss Belleghem was heard at her best, and her clear rich voice was highly pleasing, while Miss Rush in the alto showed her possession of a very musical voice, with an enunciation which adds greatly to the charm of her singing. A duet by Miss Belleghem and Mr. Morphet followed in which by both singers a highly cultivated musical taste was exhibited. Two very pleasing solos were then sung, the first, "The Last Rose of Summer," by Miss Belleghem, in which she fully sustained her reputation as a sweet soprano singer. Mr. Morphett's solo, "Like a Dream," was the last selection from "Martha," and the soloist sang to the unmistakable pleasure of the audience, who applauded him heartily.

"Dost thou know that Sweet Land?" was then given by Miss Isabel Best in a very fine voice and with excellent expression. Paul Rodney's "The Old Guard," was the last solo, sung by Mr. Walter Stocker, and in it his well rounded bass voice was heard to good advantage. He sang with an evident knowledge of the spirit of his selection, and was well received.

The following were members of the chorus:

Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Metheral; Mrs. Rebill; Misses Best, May and Loretta Clancy, Wilson, Collins, Crowe, Hardie, Kemp, Best, Payton, Curtis, Huffman, Brundrette, Rutherford, Doris, Pollard, Martin, Flowers, Rush, Belleghem, Hickey, Corkery; Messrs. Turner, Elliott, Morphett, Dawson, Stocker, Lendrum, McAdams, Greenlade. The above list was supplied to the Examiner and is intended to be a complete one, although a few names may have been inadvertently omitted.

POLICE COURT

A Young Lad Charged With Stealing $30.

A youth who gives his age as sixteen years was charged at the Police Court to-day with stealing $30 the property of Mr. Edward Wilson, on or about July 13th. The accused elected to be tried by Police Magistrate Dumble and pleaded not guilty to the charge. He was remanded for one week.

Wm. Jordan is a very forgetful man. He was paid to do some work but he forgot to do it. To-day he was to have been tried for not doing it, but forgot to appear in court.

"Can't depend on that fellow at all," remarked the Chief.

"Perhaps he'd better be arrested," said the Magistrate.

The Chief thought that would be the only safe way to get him to remember to come to court. The case will come up to-morrow—"lest he forgets."

WIDESPREAD INTEREST IN HOME COMING EVENT

Interesting Letter From First White Woman Born in Peterborough.

Alderman H. Rush, local secretary of the Peterborough Old Boys' Association, reports a great demand for the Souvenir Programmes which are being issued. Orders are being received not only from town but from nearly all parts of Canada, and even from the United States, inquiries are being received. The following interesting letter from one of the oldest "daughters" of Peterborough, shows the widespread interest that is being taken in the home coming. Needless to say Ald. Rush complied with the request contained in the letter, sending a programme free.

West Flamboro, July 13th.

To Secretary Peterborough Old Boys' Association:

Sir,—I see you have issued a souvenir programme of Peterborough. Kindly send me a copy and I will send its value to you when I know its cost. I am interested in it as I am the granddaughter of Adam Scott and daughter of James Scott, born in Peterborough town, in November, in the year 1821, and I think the first white child born there.

Yours truly,
MRS. I. B. Barclay,
West Flamboro, P.O.

IRELAND'S WELCOME

Enthusiasm Shown to King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

ARRIVAL AT DUBLIN CITY.

His Majesty, in Replying to an Address Makes Feeling Reference to the Pope's Death—A General Holiday in the Irish Capital—People Massed on the Sidewalks — Dublin Illuminated.

Kingstown, Ireland, July 22. — King Edward and Queen Alexandria, accompanied by Princess Victoria and their suites, arrived here at five minutes past 9 o'clock yesterday morning on board the Royal Yacht Victoria and Albert. Immediately after the yacht took its position in the harbor the royal salute was fired by thirteen vessels of the home fleet. A heavy rain, which had been falling since an early hour, ceased at 9 o'clock, and the sky cleared, giving promise of fine weather for the royal entry into Dublin.

Thousands of persons lined the streets and wharves, awaiting the arrival of Their Majesties. A note of mourning was sounded amid the general rejoicings. It came from the great bell of the Roman Catholic Church of St. Michael, which was tolled solemnly in memory of the Pope.

Their Majesties were rowed from the Victoria and Albert in a royal barge to the Victoria Dock, where they landed at 11 o'clock. They were received by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, the Earl of Dudley, and a number of officials, and were conducted to a pavilion, where an address of welcome was read in behalf of the Kingstown municipal Council.

In replying to an address here King Edward said he shared in the sadness of multitudes of his subjects over the news of the Pope's death. His Majesty said he remembered the kindness with which His Holiness had so recently received him, and the interest which Pope Leo took in the welfare of the English people.

The King added that his visit came at a time when a new era is opening for Ireland.

A special performance, which had been planned for the Royal Theatre in Dublin July 24 has been countermanded in consequence of Pope Leo's death.

Immediately after the ceremony Their Majesties, accompanied by the Lord Lieutenant and a brilliant staff, and escorted by horse guard, drove off in the direction of Dublin amid the greatest enthusiasm on the part of the crowds lining the road between Kingstown and Bull's bridge.

Holiday in Dublin.

Dublin, July 22.—The entry of King Edward and Queen Alexandra into Dublin was made the occasion for a general holiday. The decorations surpassed anything hitherto attempted in Dublin.

The grand stands were crowded, while the people were massed on the sidewalks. Their Majesties bowed their acknowledgments to the warm greetings.

Their Majesties lunched with the Lord Lieutenant and the day's program was concluded with a formal visit by Their Majesties to the Duke of Connaught.

This city was again brilliantly illuminated last night, and dense throngs were parading and cheering "God Save Their Majesties." The King and Queen gave a grand dinner party at the vice-regal lodge.

Land Bill Passes.

London, July 22.—In the House of Commons yesterday Premier Balfour, in the absence of Irish Secretary Wyndham, moved the third reading of the Irish Land Bill. The bill passed the third reading by 317 to 20.

HIS TROUBLES NEVER CAME BACK

Ernest Grant Took Dodd's Kidney Pills—They Removed the Cause.

He had Backache and Urinary Troubles for Twelve Years Before he Used the Great Kidney Remedy.

Montreal, July 20th. — Special.—Ernest Grant, 287 1-2 Urbain street, this city, is among those who never let an opportunity pass to say a good word for Dodd's Kidney Pills. He has his reasons for this, and here they are in his own words:

"I had been troubled with backache and Kidney Disease for twelve years," says Mr. Grant. "My urine was very dark and high coloured. I would lose my rest at night on account of having to rise so often to urinate. I could get nothing to help me.

"I tried several remedies, but all failed until I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. When I had taken four boxes, I was able to go to bed and take my rest, my Backache left me and I was cured. It has never come back."

When Dodd's Kidney Pills cure, the disease never comes back. They remove the cause.

SHADOW RIVER.

"A stream of tender gladness,
Of filmy sun, and opal-tinted skies,
Of warm midsummer air that lightly lies
In mystic rings,
Where softly swings
The music of a thousand wings
That almost tone to sadness.

"Midway 'twixt earth and heaven,
A bubble in the pearly air, I seem
To float upon the sapphire floor, a dream
Of clouds of snow,
Above, below,
Drift with my drifting, dim and slow,
As twilight drifts to even.

"The little fern leaf, bending
Upon the brink, its green reflection greets,
And kisses soft the shadow that it meets
With touch so fine,
The border line
The keenest vision can't define,
So perfect is the blending.

"The far fir trees that cover
The brownish hills with needles green and gold,
The arching elms o'erhead, vine-grown and old,
Reptictured are
Beneath me far,
Where not a ripple moves to mar
Shades underneath, or over.

"Mine is the undertone;
The beauty, strength and power of the land
Will never stir or bend at my command;
But all the shade
Is marred or made,
If I but dip my paddle blade;
And it is mine alone.

"O! pathless world of seeming!
O! pathless life of mine, whose deep ideal
Is more my own than ever was the real.
For others Fame
And Love's red flame,
And yellow gold; I only claim
The shadows and the dreaming."

—E. Pauline Johnson.

HIGH LIGHTS OF FASHION.

Linen Coats, Plaited or Sack Boleros and Various Other Items.

Linen coats are the natural complement of the already well established linen skirts. The plaited linen bolero shown has a stole and collar of stitched linen, bands of which also edge the bell sleeves. The plaits are repeated at the back. A basqued coat is also very smart. The back is quite plain fitting, the fronts cut to stand out smartly from the figure. The sleeves are of the new "coat bishop" order, so cut that the baggy fullness at the back of the wrist is contrived without more than the slightest gathering or plaiting, the seam outward taking its place. This is distinctly a gain where washing has to be contemplated."

Canvas is one of the favorite materials and may be had in cream and many other colors, and a popular design is the plaited skirt with a hip piece of openwork over silk. This model has a sack bolero with short plaited stoles and wide cape collar adorned with vandyked openwork and trimmed with motifs of cream guipure. It has wide bell sleeves and can be worn with any pretty waist.

A Paris correspondent notes as a fact worth chronicling the hold boleros have at present among the most elegantly dressed women in that city of fashion. At all smart gatherings dresses in crape, volle or mousseline display a short plaiting falling loosely above a high draped, close fitting ceinture.

A pretty style is found by those who do not care to adhere to the smart little bolero effects in the full blouse shaped bodice, having a pointed shaped shoulder cape ornamented with silk tassels and cords. A narrow velvet collar of some bright contrasting color is a becoming finish to these attractive capes.

For evening are beginning to be adopted some of the day dress garnitures—namely, ornaments in gimp forming a sort of basque from the center of the waist at the back.

The emerald green shade which has figured so largely in dressy hats promises to appear this season in smart fete toilets. Flame color and nasturtium red are other taking new hues, but perhaps there is nothing that can more certainly be depended upon for style than the universally worn black and white.

A new wrinkle in masculine vanities promises to be the hatband in two or more colors on the straw hat, but probably, except among the youthful contingent, dark blue and black will predominate as usual.

It appears that the broad, straight brimmed shape is to be the popular straw outing hat for women as well as the standard shape for men.

A silk Windsor tie in shepherd's plaid or polka dots is fashionable wear with a woman's linen collar on summer shirt waists.

A flat sole, high military heel and more pointed toe mark the latest summer Oxford ties for women.

We Know What

Is going to happen to the little boy who is stuffing himself with green apples. A grown man couldn't be induced to try that experiment; and yet the grown man will overload himself with indigestible food for which he will pay a greater penalty than colic. It is this careless and thoughtless eating which is the beginning of stomach trouble and all its painful consequences.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other forms of "stomach trouble." It restores the weak and run-down man or woman to sound health.

"Some time has elapsed since I have written you in regard to the treatment I have been taking under your instructions," says Mr. E. F. Cingmars, of Minneapolis, Minn. "When first I commenced taking your remedies I was under treatment of a well-known specialist in this city (and had been for four months), for catarrh, and especially stomach trouble, and I was rapidly getting worse. Got so bad that I could not eat anything that did not distress me terribly, and I was obliged to quit taking the doctor's treatment entirely. I was greatly reduced in flesh. As a last resort I wrote to you and stated my case, and, after receiving your instructions I followed them closely. After taking five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets' I commenced to improve, and decided to continue the medicines and observe your instructions regarding hygienic treatment. It is now nearly six months since I commenced your treatment and I can say that I am well and never felt better in my life. Am very grateful to you for what your medicine has done for me."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

SPEARING MUSKALLONGE.

The Sport Illegal, But Practised Just the Same.

The muskallonge lends itself to spearing because of its courage. Alone among the swimmers of inland waters it seems to have no fear of man, and certainly it has none of a boat. A musky lying half-hidden in the weeds with only the front part of its body projecting from the cover will not stir a fin as a skiff shoots by four feet over it and it will often strike at a spoon trolled not more than ten feet behind the craft.

This boldness by day is increased by night, when all fishes are more approachable, and the great pirate will lie perfectly still while the boat and the man standing in the bow with torch and spear are rowed within five feet of it. The fish thus offers an easy mark for the spear and would be hunted in this fashion even more than it is but for for laws which forbid it.

Like other fish, muskallonge leave the deep holes at night and haunt the shallows, where they find food more plentiful. Often they will lie with the single black fin out of water.

It is not so hard to find and spear muskallonge as it is to land them after they are speared. The fish is immensely powerful and if of large size will put up a fight against a spear that will make most men wish they had let it alone.

The man stands up to deliver the stroke and stands up to make the fight and unless he be an expert he is apt to go overboard in the dark. It is a difficult thing to stand in a narrow-bottomed punt on rapid water and handle a long, stiff pole with a twenty-pound fish thrashing at the other end of it.

For this reason amateur spearers prefer a spear from which the barb detaches as soon as the fish is struck. The pole comes out of its socket and floats along. There is a string tied to the barb and the man handles the fish with the string as if it were a line.

Even so, it is hard to do anything with the fish, as the barb is in its side and it has all of its length to oppose to any effort to drag it through the water. It is the aim of the spearsman to drive the spear clean through the fish as near a vital part as possible so that the shock will prevent it from putting out all its strength.

There is no more picturesque way of taking the fish and nothing more exciting than the scene when a big muskallonge has been speared lightly, just deeply enough to hold and not deeply enough to injure it. Often the torch is knocked overboard and the fight is continued in darkness. If the man goes with the torch he will have to swim for it.

Paddling along the edge of a muskallonge lake or down one of the rivers, it is not difficult to find three or four good fish in an hour, but one good one will be all that a man will care to handle in a night. When he gets through he is generally tired enough to go home.

The Shamrock's Designer.

Mr. G. L. Watson, the designer of Shamrock III., who was married recently at Putney to Miss Marie Lovibond, was born in the year 1851, in which the schooner America captured the now historic America Cup in the celebrated match round the Isle of Wight. Mr. Watson's apprenticeship was served on the Clyde. His first famous yacht was the ninety-ton cutter Vanduara, which beat the hitherto invincible Formosa, owned by the then Prince of Wales, seventeen times in succession during her first season. His first yacht of worldwide renown was the Scottish challenger for the America Cup, the Thistle, and the most successful of all was the King's Britannia. He also designed for Lord Dunraven (who was at his wedding) the three Valkyries, two of which raced for the cup.

Why He Stood in the Washtub!

"A Montreal 'mercantile ambassador vouches for the story of a Barr colonist at Rosthern, who, being much impressed by an accident in which one of his 'mates' chopped off a toe while endeavoring to split a stick of wood, determined to avoid such a possibility in his own case by standing in a washtub while he wielded the axe. This story was founded on an actual fact, and was authenticated by a snapshot of the ingenious hero of the episode in his tub."—J. W. Bengough in The Globe.

HOUSEKEEPING HINTS.

Ingenious and Helpful Ways Practiced in Various Homes.

Different correspondents of Good Housekeeping make the following suggestions:

I noticed a "discovery" which said to turn a tin pail over the gasoline burner to catch the smoke while generating gas, to keep it from spreading around the room. That is very good, but I would like to add my mite by saying that we used such a stove for many years and never had any smoke, as we generated by throwing a good teaspoonful of alcohol in the little cup and setting fire to it. It is a little more expensive, I admit, but very convenient, and then you don't have that big flame and nasty smell.

It does not seem a well known fact that jam should be covered hot. We have covered all our jams and jellies hot for several years and never have a case of mold. As soon as the boiling jam or jelly is poured into the jar a round piece of stout paper pasted on both sides should be put on. The steam rising through this paper stiffens and stretches it and the jam pots look very neat when dry.

In the making of currant or plum jelly if one cup of water is added for each cup of juice and a cup of sugar for each cup of juice and water the result will be a much daintier jelly than where the undiluted fruit juice is used, and at least a half more jelly from the same quantities.

"The proper way to dry woolens," says a large manufacturer of woolen goods, "is to hang the garments on the line dripping wet without wringing out at all. If dried in this way the shrinkage will be so light as to be almost unnoticeable."

At a small table in a certain hotel the people who gather around have a box in which a penny must be dropped at once for every spot made on the tablecloth. This is surely "spot cash." As the contents go for charity no one murmurs.

Left over yolks of eggs, if put at once into a tumbler of cold water, will keep fresh and soft for several days. If dropped into a cup and covered the yolks would be unfit for use the second day.

Camphor, as is well known, is useful in keeping away moths, but it should never be placed near sealskin, as it causes this fur to change color, producing streaks of gray and yellow.

Grind horse radish in a meat chopper. It beats the grating iron and there are no sore eyes.

Sales to noon, 454,700.

Toronto, July 22nd, 1 p. m. — The break in U.S.S. was not sufficient to unsettle the leading rails. Showing that for the moment at least the laer were well supported.

U. S. S. is the wickedest gold brick scheme which has been perpetrated on the Street for years. It is thought prices are discounting the passing or reduction of the common dividend. But that ought to help the preferred stock. But confidence in the whole thing has been so shaken that there is no telling where liquidation in either stock will cease. A rally ought to come after such a break, but there are so many cripples that stocks will come out on all hard spots.

Sell stocks on all rallies and buy back on sharp declines only.

McMILLAN & MAGUIRE.

New York, July 21.—Opening figures to-day were a shade better than last night's close prices. Renewed pressure was exerted on Rock Island, causing a hesitancy in other issues. Heavy selling of steels attracted considerable attention, much of which was done through Harris Gates & Co., but good support appeared around 24 for the common which resulted in shorts covering lines in other issues, put out earlier in morning. Mid-day session was quiet but steady market holding the improvement fairly well. Wall brokers were active bidders for stock evidently profit taking on short contracts. Rock Island appears to be the most despised stock on the list, and absolutely friendless, there appears to be no surprise expressed at its continued downward tendency, and there are a great many who freely predict it will sell 8 and 10 points lower, while this may seem absurd to many, we cannot conscientiously advise our clients to buy it around these figures. Present market is one wherein one must confine their purchases to the best of the standard rails, which have suffered the most by the present decline in values and which at present prices yield not less than five per cent. on the investment.

Purchase of such stocks on a scale down if necessary, are almost certain to be satisfactory. Think the coolers offer the best opportunity to make profits if bought on the recessions and re-sold on a moderate bulge. It is the concensus of opinion should anything serious confront the market, banking interests will step into the breach and avert any possibility of a panic. In meantime market will very likely work gradually lower.

Chicago.—Wheat was quite a bit firmer to-day, and a backing and filling in market may be anticipated for a few days before upward tendency gets in full swing, purchases between 75 and 76 cents, can be made with assurance of good profits and in perfect safety. Corn.—Buy little September, December or May, if they ease off a little to make couple points profit. Oats.—September is low enough to buy absence of cash demand the only bear argument but this will improve.

BABY'S FUTURE

Something for Mothers to Think About

Lives of Suffering and Sorrow Averted

And Happiness and Prosperity Assured by

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills When All Else Fails.

Every child born into the world with an inherited or early developed tendency to distressing, disfiguring humours of the skin, scalp and blood, becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the dreadful fear that the disfiguration is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence, it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the best, the purest and most effective treatment available, viz., The Cuticura Treatment.

Warm baths with Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the skin and scalp of crusts and scales, gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent, to cool the blood in the severer cases, are all that can be desired for the speedy relief and permanent cure of skin tortured infants and children, and the comfort of worn-out parents.

Millions of women use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands, for annoying irritations and weaknesses, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves.

Cuticura Resolvent, liquid and in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., Sole Proprietors.

LATEST FASHION NOTES.

HANDSOME RECEPTION GOWN OF PONGEE.

Pongee gowns are not only practicable, but comfortable and stylish. The one here shown is in pale blue, combined with embroidered pongee, this work being done with Corticelli filo silk. A unique idea is shown in threading the collar of embroidery with a black Liberty silk scarf, which fancifies the front, and extends in long ends completed with ornaments. Hip shirrings are introduced, and shirring is on the upper portion of the sleeves.

Many of the soft pastel shaded serges are made with long, flat plaits in the centre of the back, and some of the newest have the fullness at the foot, extending by means of kiltings let in from the hem, and diminishing toward the waist.

A NEWSY LETTER FROM SANDY POINT.

Y.M.C.A. Camp,
Sandy Point,
Monday, July 20.

Time works great changes in camp life as elsewhere, and of upwards of 200 boys who have attended some one or more of the six Y.M.C.A. camps held in this beautiful spot, only two are here to-day who have attended them all, while there are three others who have attended camp two years. To all the rest camping life is a new yet pleasant experience.

It recalls fond recollections and many varying scenes as we think of those campers of other days, many of them are scattered, and at least three whose names we recall have answered to the great roll call in the life beyond.

Mr. Williamson, who has been leader of the camp during all these years is this year being assisted by H. W. Daly, of Kingston, a former member of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. and a camp veteran. He with Gordon Thornton and the secretary compose the staff of camp leaders.

The crowd this year is a merry bunch, all under 16 years of age, and more than make up in life and fun what the camp lacks of its former numerical strength.

A few of the nick-names of the fellows are very suggestive of this. "Frisky", whose forte is in his witty, pithy speeches; beside him when he is asleep (which is usually in the wee sma hours) is "Murphy" the good-natured Irishman. The two "Angels" is rather inappropriate for the curly headed brothers, but their name comes from their evening full dress, rather than their actions. "Sleepy" is wide enough awake when story telling is the programme. The boys do not forget home, and letter writing is very popular — in fact one boy, "Mike", who has all the instincts of a fast newspaper man, had his first letter all ready typewritten before he came to camp, so there he might post it on arrival. It described the journey to camp in a most graphic style.

There are lively scenes getting down to sleep of course, but when the feat is once accomplished, all hands sleep like saw logs.

The other night one of the "Angels" (the younger one) took to flitting all over the camp ground at a very late hour and led the whole party a lively chase and beat them on the home stretch. "Frisky" joined in the chase but was suddenly compelled to return to camp as he heard the "pink-pink-pink" sound of his granite pail, which the boys were using for a football at the time.

The trip to the store is one of the central features of the day, especially the arrival of the boat on the return journey when a general distribution is made of letters and confectionery.

The camp had three visitors over Sunady—Jim Ellis came up on the Myrtle and Bob Davidson and R. Fitzgerald on wheels.

Sunday was a very quiet day in camp. A trip was made to Young's Point with the departing visitors, and a beacon light was placed on the rocks to pilot the boys home again; they, however, succeeded in reaching port by stealth to the surprise of the watches.

The week began with all well and everyone in good humour and ready for a bi gtime during the remaining days of the camp.

You'll hear more about it again.

Yours etc.,
THE "SCRIBE.

AUTOPSY SHOWS NO CANCER.

Plan of the Great Ceremonies—Removal of the Body of Leo XIII. From the Throne Room to the Basilica of St. Peter's—Description of This Solemn and Impressive Portion of the Obsequies.

Rome, July 23.—The body of Pope Leo XIII lies in state in the Basilica of St. Peter's. Beginning to-day at sunrise, the people of Rome and those of all nations now in the Eternal City will be admitted to pay their last farewell. Opportunity for this solemn tribute will end Saturday.

Until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the remains of the dead Pope lay in the throne room of the Vatican, where the leaders of the diplomatic, clerical and civil world were allowed to pass the bier. The ceremonial last night when the body was conveyed from the throne room to St. Peter's was one of the most striking of all the obsequies. During the day the congregation of cardinals met and decided to hold the conclave under the regulations which obtained at the conclave which elected Leo.

Autopsy Revealed No Cancer.

Dr. Lapponi in the course of the day presented to Cardinal Oreglia, a report of the autopsy which was held, which showed that there was no sign of cancer in the Pope's body. Some hours before sundown St. Peter's was cleared of idle crowds. The massive doors were closed and the throng of sightseers was pushed back to the foot of the great flight of circular stone steps.

Half a hundred carpenters hastily constructed a stout fence five feet high to resist the encroachments of the crowds which are expected during to-day and the two following days.

At 8 o'clock last evening all was in readiness to take the body of the Pope from the Vatican to the Basilica of St. Peter's. The mournful procession gathered around the bier, which was gently lifted by the sediari. The dead Pontiff was clad in all the pomp of his holy office. About him had been placed the sacredotal robes used only when he celebrated a grand mass.

Air Heavy With Incense.

Leading the procession as it passed out of the throne room came the grooms carrying lighted torches. Behind them were the aged mace bearers and other domestics of the Papal household. The picket of the noble guard and all the clergy of the Vatican followed. Immediately in front of the bier the Pontifical silver cross was held aloft. Behind the bier came the three nephews of the late Pope. The air was heavy with incense from the censors swinging constantly beside the body. The Franciscan penitentiaries still kept up the unceasing refrain of intercession. At the Hall of Palafreniere the cortege came to a standstill. There the cardinals who had been waiting in the hall of the consistory, took their places immediately behind the nephews. After the cardinals came the whole diplomatic body accredited to the Vatican and the representatives of the Knights of Malta.

"Libera Me Domine."

The Knights of Malta were followed by various household officials and guards. Led by the cardinals, the prelates and clergy recited prayers and psalms for the dead as they slowly entered the Sistine Chapel, where the chapter and clergy of St. Peter's awaited the procession. The latter formally received the body. From the Sistine Chapel the procession descended the private staircase, still chanting, into the Basilica. The moment the flaring torches which still led the cortege entered St. Peter's, the choir, which was waiting there, commenced to sing in sorrowful cadence, "Libera Me Domine." Monsignor Carcani, the canon of St. Peter's, solemnly sprinkled holy water over Leo's body and pronounced absolution. As it was borne across the threshold the cathedral choir, still singing, took the lead of the now lengthy procession.

Body on Catafalque.

The body was borne down the nave to the chapel of the sacrament. There the candles burned brightly. In the Chapelle Ardente, the body was reverently stretched behind the iron gates and two members of the noble guard took up positions on either side of the bier. The procession then re-formed and returned to the Vatican. The body of the dead Pope lies on the high catafalque with his slippered feet protruding through the gates to be kissed by the faithful when they will be admitted to the chapel to-day and the two following days.

While the remains of the Pope were being carried into St. Peter's last evening the private ceremony of depositing the urn containing his viscera in the church of Saint Vincent and Anastasius took place.

A curious hitch occurred when the solemn procession arrived at the door of the special depository in the crypt. It was stopped, as the key was not to be found. The attendants hunted high and low, and finally were obliged to break down the door. The depository had not been opened since 1846.

SOUVENIR PROGRAMMES

Great Demand for Artistic Souvenir Booklets.

The Examiner has received a copy of the souvenir programme issued by the Peterborough Old Boys' Association, and can fully endorse the complimentary references made to the excellence of it by all who have seen the artistic character of the booklet. On the cover are some excellent photogravures of beauty spots in and around Peterborough, while the body of the publication contains cuts of the members of the Executive Committee of the Association, Town Council, town officials, County Council and officials, and representative Provincial and Federal Parliamentary representatives, and prominent citizens, with biographical sketches of many of them. An historical sketch of the home town is also given in addition to a full programme of the proceedings of the home coming demonstration. The booklet will be prized as a work of art in addition to the matter of local interest which it contains. The secretary states that orders have been received for the programme from all parts of the country, so that early application for copies is desirable.

MR. J. T. BRAUND ENLARGES STORE

A Successful Business Being Done and and Enlargement Necessary.

Business expansion is the order of the day, and it is gratifying to note that Peterborough merchants are feeling the effects of increased business. Mr. J. T. Braund, corner of George and Smith streets, is building an addition to his store, which, when completed, will increase the selling space to over three times that of the present capacity. The addition will extend 20 feet on Smith street and 30 feet on George street, and will be built of solid brick, making a handsome and substantial structure. Mr. Braund proposes enlarging his stock and will branch out into general and staple dry goods, groceries, boots and shoes, and a meat market will also be conducted in connection with it, as at present.

It is pleasing to learn that Mr. Braund's business has been so successful, and with the better facilities which the enlarged premises will provide, a still further business expansion will no doubt be experienced.

A Good Opinion of It.

The employees of the McLaughlin Carriage Works, Oshawa, with their wives and families, and sweethearts, will be in Peterborough in force on Saturday. They are running an excursion here on that day by the G. T. R. which will be a large one. They evidently have been correctly informed regarding Peterborough as their poster announcing the event characterizes it as "The only town between Belleville and Toronto, with the exception of Oshawa, that is surging ahead." The excursionists will spend the day at Nicholls Park, and in viewing the many interesting points around the town.

A New Branch Railway.

Surveyors are now locating a new line from Midland to a point near Cobourg, and touching a point near Peterborough, the object of which is to secure a direct route for the grain trade to the main line. The new branch will be straight as a bee line, avoiding curves and grades, so as to carry with safety the heavy engines which run on the main line. Should this road be built, and there is every likelihood that it will, the heavy traffic will cease over this division of the road between Peterborough and Belleville, as the road has too many curves and grades to run the heavy engines.—Herald.

DEATH OF MRS. GREENWOOD AT JOHANNESBURG S. A.

The sad news of the death of Matilda Florence Greenwood, wife of Lieutenant-Colonel Greenwood, which occurred at Johannesburg, B. S. A., on July 14th last, was received in town yesterday. Her death will come as a great blow to the extensive circle of friends she made in this town, for although her deplored death took place in South Africa, she was a Peterborough resident for several years.

On the outbreak of the "great Boer war," as it has so appropriately been called, her husband was called to the front. At the conclusion of the death struggle Colonel Greenwood obtained a position in the new British territories, where he was joined by his late wife.

One cannot too highly extol her praises. She was a good woman, had been an active member of St. John's church, and always a ready worker where the interests of the church were concerned. The local branch of the Home Reading Circle was organized at a meeting which was held at her residence, Rubidge street. She was one of the most efficient and energetic presidents which it has been the honour of the St. John's Mission Band to have, and in acting in that capacity she displayed her willingness to work in the cause of her church.

The daughter of Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, she was a leader of society here.

Besides a bereaved father she leaves two sons to mourn her departure. It is stated that Colonel Greenwood had obtained four months leave of absence and was about leaving for home when the illness and death of his wife occurred.

THE GROWING TIME.

The Globe.

Canada's record of foreign trade for the year ending with June last shows a still more remarkable expansion than during any of the recent years of phenomenal growth. Our aggregate foreign trade, which includes foreign products exported and imports not entered for home consumption, was upwards of $467,600,000, an increase of more than $43,000,000 over the remarkable record of the previous year. If we exclude foreign goods passing through Canada, and count only imports entered for home consumption and domestic products exported, the total is $448,000,000, as compared with $398,800,000 for the previous fiscal year, a gain of over $49,000,000. The later totals have not yet been revised, but the returns are substantially correct.

This expansion in Canadian trade has been going on year after year under the Fielding tariff until we have ceased to be surprised at the series of records. In 1896 the total trade of Canada, including only domestic products exported and imports for home consumption, was $220,000,000, and the series of records which have since been made have increased the total to $448,000,000 for the last fiscal year, or more than double the best record at the close of the regime of high protection. During eighteen years under the National Policy the total increase in trade was only $60,000,000, and the comparative change in the past few years shows the injurious effects of a policy of restriction. Some of the individual items in the records of imports have an interest as showing the effect of a tariff policy. Raw cotton was imported in 1896 to the extent of 33,479,358 pounds, and last year 97,652,145 pounds. During the same period the value of raw hides imported for the tanners increased from $1,945,914 to $5,661,331. The lesson of a satisfactory record is to leave existing business conditions undisturbed. It is to be hoped that the movement for unsettling the present substantial situation by fiscal experiments will be abandoned before existing confidence is materially shaken.

CHARGE OF MR. MONK

Makes Formal Accusation Against Mr. Loy of Beauharnois.

AN EXPLANATION BY MR. LOY.

Privileges and Elections Committee Will Meet and Investigate the Charge—Opposition Complain of Delay in Introducing the Railway Policy—Sir Wilfrid's Reply—Redistribution Bill.

Ottawa, July 23.—Replying to Mr. Roche of Halifax, the Premier stated in the House yesterday that the Government did not find in 1896 on assuming office that a contract had been signed by the Government or by any Minister on its behalf with the Messrs. Allen for a twenty or twenty-one knot service between Canada and Great Britain. Neither had any Order-in-Council been approved authorizing such a contract. A tender for 225,000 pounds sterling for a mail service had been made by Messrs. Allen, but they placed a construction on the terms and conditions of the tenders inconsistent with the public advertisement.

G.T. Pacific Delay.

Mr. Borden brought up the delay in bringing down the Government policy on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. He said the Government should state that it was not intended to deal with the question this session or present its policy to Parliament forthwith.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the delay was due to the tactics of the Opposition in strongly opposing the estimates and minor measures. The Government had supplied the House with business. The Redistribution Bill might be brought down to-morrow (Thursday), and the Grand Trunk resolutions would in all probability be submitted to the House before the end of the week and discussion would take place next week.

The debate was continued by Dr. Sproule, Messrs. A. C. Bell, E. B. Osler, Kemp, Taylor, and E. F. Clarke, when the matter dropped.

Mr. Monk's Charge.

Mr. F. D. Monk raised a question of privilege. He accused George Loy, Liberal M. P. for Beauharnois, of violating the act respecting the independence of members of Parliament. Mr. Loy, according to the member for Jacques Cartier, sold for $10,000 two lots in the town of Valleyfield, to be used for postoffice sites, the transaction being managed by R. B. Johnston. Mr. Monk, after a lengthy argument, moved that the matter be referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Mr. Loy read a statement to the effect that he gave an option on the property in question of R. B. Johnston about the end of July, 1902, not knowing that the latter intended to sell it to the Government. The transaction was completed towards the end of November of the same year by Mr. Johnston, when the balance of the purchase money was paid. The price paid, Mr. Loy declared, was about to the market value at the time.

Hon. Mr. Sutherland and Hon. Mr. Tarte exonerated Mr. Roy, but Mr. Monk refused to withdraw the motion, which was carried.

Anchor Line Case.

In reply to Mr. Osler, Sir William Mulock said that the Canadian Government had no intention of ultimately refusing compensation to the Anchor Line Company, and the company quite understood this. The defence raised by the Crown was because of some questions between third parties as to insurance and to protect private interests. But it was the intention of the Crown to do what was proper under the circumstances, quite irrespective of the judgment.

The bill to incorporate the Brockville and Sault Ste. Marie Railway was taken up and talked out to the end of the hour.

The House went into committee of supply and the main estimates of the Minister of Labor were passed.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 15c and 20c.

Awakened Spirit of Hope and Enterprise Among His Irish People Was Full of Promise For the Future, and He Hopes His Reign Will Be Coincident With a New Era of Peace and Progress.

Dublin, July 23.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra, accompanied by the Lord Lieutenant, the Earl of Dudley, and Princess Victoria, their suites and other officials, drove from the vice-regal lodge to the castle early yesterday. Crowds along the route greeted Their Majesties with continuous cheering. The King received in the throne room a large number of deputations prior to the levee, which opened at noon.

Replying to the Dublin Citizens' Committee, the King said there was no part of his dominions in which he took greater interest than in Ireland. The Queen and himself had long been in sympathy with the movements tending to advance the social and material well-being of the community, and they hoped now to become acquainted with the condition under which the people lived and to learn what could be done to brighten the lot of the people.

Levee at the Castle.

The Queen after presenting badges to the jubilee nurses drove to Alexandra College. In the meanwhile, King Edward held a levee at the castle, which was attended by a great number of prominent people from all parts of Ireland. After the levee the King returned to the vice-regal lodge, where he was joined by the Queen.

Maude Gonne (Mrs. McBride) hung a black flag outside her residence Tuesday in memory of the Pope, she said, It was pulled down by the police, whereupon Maude Gonne, supported by lady friends, hung out another black flag, and, arming themselves with pokers and boiling water, defied the police, who summoned reinforcements. But they made no further attempt to haul down the flag, which was again displayed yesterday.

Replying to the other addresses, His Majesty said he rejoiced to hear of the awakened spirit of hope and enterprise among his Irish people, which was full of promise for the future. It would be a source of profound happiness to him if his reign was coincident with a new era of social peace and industrial and commercial progress for Ireland. The King visited Trinity College, where he spoke briefly, saying he was proud his name was numbered on the rolls of the college which boasted of Swift, Berkely, Burke and Grattan.

No Protection Needed.

It is understood that when arrangements were being made for the Irish tour King Edward resolutely refused to sanction the proposal of Scotland Yard to send a number of detectives. "I want no such protection," said the King; "all the protection I want I shall receive from the Irish people. On that point I am perfectly satisfied."

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his travelling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbours brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

No man will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all druggists.

An Open Verdict.

Stratford, July 23.—The inquest into the death of the late James Smith, found dead near his home at Edgecombe Corners, July 15, was held at Newton Tuesday. The jury brought in the following verdict: That James Smith came to his death from the effects of a wound on the head, but we are unable to determine in what manner said wound was received.

Leave to Appeal Granted.

Washington, July 23.—The Department of Justice has received a cablegram from Mr. MacMaster, Canadian counsel for the United States Government in the Greene-Gaynor case, who is now in London, stating that the application to the Privy Council of England, for leave to appeal from the decision of Justice Caron of Quebec, discharging the accused, has been granted.

Scrawny People.

People grow thin, scrawney, pale and weak when the blood is thin and watery. What is needed to round off the angles and fill out the form, is not fat but healthy muscular tissue. By enriching the blood and increasing its nourishing qualities Dr. Chase's Nerve Food adds new flesh and tissue to the body as well as new vigour and energy. You can prove this by noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure.

OUR SHOTS AT BISLEY.

Did Some Good Shooting Wednesday and Some Not So Good.

Bisley, July 23.—The Canadians did some very good shooting yesterday and some that was nothing to boast of. At the 500 yards range the scores of the Canadians were a good average. Vroom, Spearing, Peddie and McGregor each made 34 out of a possible 35, but other competitors made 25 possibles, and 40 thirty-fours, which leaves the Canadians nowhere, so to speak, at the present stage. In the first range there were also 28 possibles and 123 thirty-fours.

Private Gray of the London-Scottish volunteers won the bronze medal with a score of 103.

In the All-Comers' aggregate Russell wins £2, he being 61st; Stuart, seventy-second, also won £2. In the "Range Prizes" competition (King's), the 16th man was Skedden, who accordingly wins £1.

In the "Scurry" (King's at 500 yards), open to all comers, five shots each, J. D. Stuart scored a possible, making five perfect bulls. He was tenth and won £1.

ARTIST WHISTLER BURIED.

Simple Funeral in the Old Church at Chiswick.

London, July 23.—The body of James McNeill Whistler, the American artist who died July 17, was interred yesterday morning in the family burial plot in the old church at Chiswick. The funeral services were held at Chelsea, in the old church where he often went with his mother when she was alive. There were no services at the house. The coffin, which was covered with a purple pall, was carried to the church, followed by the honorary pall bearers and relatives on foot. The pall bearers were Sir James Guthrie, president of the Royal Scottish Academy; Charles Freer, George W. Vanderbilt, Edwin A. Abbey, John Lavery of the Royal Scottish Academy, and Theodore Duret.

Bishop Clute Dead.

Winnipeg, July 23.—The death is announced from Edmonton of Bishop Clute of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Athabasca at Lesser Slave Lake, two weeks ago. He was 91 years old, and retired from active work some years ago.

The Right Reverend Isidore Clute was born at St. Rambert, Valence, France, on Feb. 2, 1812. Joining the Oblat Order, he came to Canada and was ordained to the priesthood in 1887. He was soon afterwards sent as a missionary to the Mackenzie River district. He was appointed Bishop of Arindel in partibus in 1867, and has since been coadjutor to the late Bishop Farand and the late Bishop Groard.

Richardson Committed For Trial.

Windsor, July 23.—The preliminary hearing in the case of Oliver Richardson of Colchester Township, charged with the murder of Edmund Matthews, colored, was held before Magistrate Bartlet. The courtroom was crowded with a curious throng, who listened to a repetition of the testimony introduced at the coroner's inquest. The only witnesses examined were Dr. McKenzie and Joe Matthews, son of the dead man. Richardson was committed for erial at the High Court in Sandwich in September.

Your druggist will refund you your money if you are not satisfied after using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

Home-Comers' Service.

The service at St. John's next Sunday evening will be of a special character in connection with the Old Boys' Home-Coming. On Sunday last Rev. J. C. Davidson urged that the congregation and citizens generally should do all in their power to welcome all who should come. At St. John's the sermon will be appropriate to the occasion and the choir will be re-inforced by an orchestra.

"Old Boys" Souvenir Programme.

Copies of the handsomely illustrated Peterborough "Old Boys' Souvenir Programme" are now on sale at the Peterborough Bookstore. It contains over fifty photogravures of well-known faces, besides other illustrations. The booklet is an artistic production, as well as being valuable for the interesting information it contains of Peterborough history. Be sure and get a supply for yourself.

A Suggestion.

An excursion under auspices which should make it a success would be one run by the Retail Clerks. In most cities the clerks make it an annual event which invariably is most successful. The Examiner suggests that clerks in Peterborough might arrange to secure the river steamers and conduct an excursion which would doubtless prove a success, as the retail clerks number among their ranks many by whom an event of this kind could be successfully managed.

Rachel Lewis Stock Co.

"Ingomar, the Barbarian," was the play presented last night by the Rachael Lewis Stock Company, at the market square, and it was played to a good audience, who evidently appreciated the acting of the different members of the Company, some of whom played heavy parts in difficult circumstances, by reason of the order, which at times was not of the best. The Company is evidently trying to present creditable performances, and those who go with a desire to hear the play should not be prevented from doing so in comfort by some thoughtless boys

THE ENGINES REMOVED.

The Two Locomotives That Were Damaged are now on Their way to Lindsay.

The remains of the two engines that were in the disastrous collision near Hamilton's Foundry, on Tuesday evening, have been removed. One of the engines was placed on the rails last evening and taken out of the way. The other engine, which was lying in Mr. Blogg's flower beds, was removed at noon. A temporary track had to be laid to this latter engine. Each locomotive had a pair of trucks placed under its front, while its own driving wheels supported the rear. An official diagnosis will determine whether they will be relegated to the scrap heap or placed in the repair shop to be put into active service once more.

ST. JOHN'S CHOIR OUTING.

Pleasant Excursion to Burleigh and Other Points on the Lakes.

The members of St. John's choir, with a number of the church officials, yesterday enjoyed a pleasant outing on the back lakes. Driving to Chemong, the party embarked on the steamer "Lady of the Lake," and sailed to Burleigh where a stop was made and dinner was partaken of. After having spent very pleasantly some time at this picturesque place, the steamer was boarded again and a sail taken to Pigeon Lake and Sandy Beach, at the latter place tea being taken. The return trip to Chemong was made in the evening and was fully enjoyed by all, in fact the whole day was one of the most pleasantly spent of the season. The committee of the choir which had the affair in charge worked zealously to promote the pleasure of all the excursionists and that they fully succeeded was amply demonstrated. The drive home was made in the evening and all felt that the outing had been the most successful in the history of the choir.

THE EXCURSION DOWN THE OTONABEE RIVER.

Salvation Army S. S. Outing a Great Success.

The Salvation Army Sunday school went down the river yesterday to Highland Park per steamer City of Peterborough, and had a delightful outing. The party left Peterborough at 9 o'clock, and reached their destination shortly after 10. The children played games and ran races, to winners of which events prizes were given. The band, which was present, added greatly to the day's pleasure, as also did the refreshments. Staff-Captain McNamara was in charge of the arrangements, which were perfect.

The excursionists left the park at 5 and reached home about 7.30. About 150 persons were present.

This morning a private excursion, at which a large number of persons were present, went down the river to Idyl Wild per steamer Water Lily. The excursionists have a lovely day and should have a corresponding time.

MONAGHAN SCENE OF A SENSATION.

Discovery of Human Remains has Started Interesting Discussion.

Were the Unfortunates Indians or White?—Different Theories as to Inhabitants of the Grave.

"Dead men tell no tales," but could the bones which are to-day lying in a wooden box in a field in the Township of Monaghan tell of the events, the culmination of which resulted in their being placed in a heap and buried unceremoniously in what was then a pine forest, an interesting history of pioneer days would doubtless be unfolded.

A representative of the Examiner yesterday visited the place where last week Mr. John Patten while engaged on the roadside in improving the public highway unearthed the remains of eight human bodies by ploughing a furrow in the ditch. Mr. Patten thought at first that the bones were those of some animal, but as each furrow turned revealed an increasing number, an investigation was instituted and the decision arrived at was that the remains were those of human beings, though of white men or indians, it was not known. As soon as Mr. Patten had satisfied himself that the bones which he had unwittingly unearthed were human remains he sent for a young man named Williamson, who lives on the quarter-line near Brayley's school house, in which vicinity the discovery was made, so that he might have an authentic witness in case the nature of the discovery were taken into question by any skeptically-minded persons. For the same reason, he summoned one of his employees that the genuiness of his find might be established by reliable witnesses. Both those gentlemen fully coroborate the statements of Mr. Patten by saying that undoubtedly the remains are those of human beings.

On visiting the scene of the discovery and upon interviewing Mr. Patten, the Examiner was shown two boxes, the first contained the remains of five or six skulls of various sizes, and in various stages of preservation, the largest measured 23 inches in circumference, which will be seen to be an abnormaly large one, 22 inches being the ordinary size. Mr. Patten states that skulls were found, which on being touched fell to pieces, which were those of children, and this statement may be believed, when it is known that in the second box which contained probably two bushels of bones, there were rib-bones which were undoubtedly those of very small children. Again upon examination of the skulls, not only was there a difference in size noticed but some were of much finer and more delicate mould than others, which would seem to indicate that the smaller and finer ones were those of women, so that the fact seems to be reasonably well established that in the improvised grave into which these remains had been placed there were those of men, women and children.

The theory of those, whose opinions seem so plausible that they might well be characterized by a more decided expression than that of theory, is that in the days when the red men reigned supreme in this region, a meeting occurred at this spot between two of the tribes who were in eternal strife with each other, and that a battle or massacre took place, the victims of which were buried and these are the bones unearthed by Mr. Patten. Another supposition is that the Indians perpetrated a raid and massacre upon the white men and that one or two who had dared to venture into their red brothers' territory had paid for their daring with their lifes, and that of the members of their families.

While the bones were covered by but a foot or so of earth, they had been placed at a much greater depth, as the soil at that particular point has been removed to be placed on the road, and from the higher ground surrounding this spot, it would appear that at least three feet of earth had at one time covered the bodies of the unfortunates, who were buried there. Mr. Patten's discovery has created a profound sensation in that section and the spot has been visited by a large number, each of whom has expressed his or her view as to the origin of the occupants of the grave. A rather remarkable fact in connection with the condition of the skulls is that in nearly all of them the entire sets of teeth were found to be in a perfect state of preservation. Mr. Patten, it may be added, is not seeking notoriety, and his only motive in giving the facts publicity is that the public may be informed of what may lead to the discovery of an interesting historical event.

"ARMY AND NAVY."

Engraving of Roy's Photograph of Lord and Lady Minto.

In the Army and Navy of June 11th, there appears a reproduction of Mr. Roy's excellent photograph of their Excellencies, Lord and Lady Minto, taken on a specially erected platform outside the Court House, when Peterborough was honoured with a visit from them.

Together with the engraving appears an article written by a well-known citizen in which is related the meeting between Captain Bell, A.D.C. to Lord Minto, and Sergt. Miller, who served for six years in the Third Battalion Scots Guards, of which Regiment Captain Bell was once an officer. At the time Sergt. Miller was wearing two decorations, one the King's medal for continuous active service, and the other a South African medal with six bars.

POSTAL FACILITIES MEETING

To-morrow Night in the Council Chamber.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the meeting called for to-morrow night by Mayor Roger to discuss the proposed postal improvements in Peterborough, and a large attendance will doubtless be on hand. It is a matter which affects every citizen, and this is an opportunity for a free and full expression of opinion as to the best means to employ in relieving what is without doubt a much over-crowded post office building, and an entirely inadequate service.

The advocates of a delivery and those opposed to it will no doubt attend the meeting, and the whole question will be discussed on its merits.

Mr. Langfeldt in Omemee.

The Omemee Mirror, reporting a sermon preached by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt in that village last Sunday says: "The Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M. A., of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, conducted the services in Christ church, Omemee, on Sunday evening and preached an excellent sermon. His theme was the conversion of the sinner, and using the parable of the prodigal son for the basis of his argument, he gave a forcible and logical exposition of the rationale of conversion."

TUG-OF-WAR.

It is evident from the following challenge that the "Quakers" are not to be allowed undisputed possession of the Turf Club silver cup for the tug-of-war championship of Peterborough. A new team, known as the "Force" team, has been organized, and now presents the following:

"The 'Force' tug-of-war team hereby challenges the 'Quaker Oats' team to a contest, to be pulled on August 5th or 6th, best two pulls out of three."

MISCELLANEOUS.

A despatch from Atlantic Highlands says that after her narrow margin of victory on Monday, Sir Thos. Lipton's new challenger yesterday trimmed her trial horse by 33 minutes and 17 seconds in a 20-mile race. Much of her big victory was due to a fluke in which she covered miles of water while Shamrock I. hung idle in a calm. Another thing which the sailors say brought good luck to the new boat as the presence of Sir Thomas on her deck.

The race was to have been forty miles, but a shift of wind spoiled the plan and the boats sailed a close reach east-south-east from Scotland lightship and back, the last five miles about dead to windward. After the regular trial the yachts sailed a broad reach of six miles along the Jersey coast, Shamrock III. outsailing her competitor.

ATHLETICS ARE SUPERIOR TEAM.

Administered Crushing Defeat to Belleville.

GOOD COMBINATION PLAYING.

Big Crowd of Belleville Citizens see Their Favourites Trimmed to the Tune of 7-0.

Once again has victory been won by Peterborough colours, and that on an opponent's ground. Yesterday the Belleville lacrosse team was treated to the biggest kind of a surprise party when the Athletics of Peterborough shut them out to the tune of 7—0 on the Belleville grounds.

The local team with about 15 supporters left here yesterday morning and although no blowing of trumpets was indulged in the locals felt that the trip would result in a victory, and subsequent events proved their opinions well founded.

The boys on their arrival at the lake town registered at the Quinte House, where they received every attention, and, as a result have brought home a good opinion of the quality of Belleville hospitality. The members of the home team also exerted themselves to entertain the visitors and only words of praise are heard for the Belleville lacrosse players.

The game which was played on the Agricultural grounds, was witnessed by a good crowd, all of whom, it might be mentioned, paid their admission fee, and they certainly saw a game worth the money. The Bellevilles had on their line-up the three Indians, who were, it was thought, going to bring a victory to the team, and they had on their strongest team with one exception, Whitty, a good man, was not able to play, though a look at the score will reveal the patent fact that even with Whitty on, a defeat could not have been averted.

The game, while it was keenly contested from start to finish, was very clean although it was characterized by close ,but legitimate checking in the course of which some injuries were received, but there was a manifest desire on the part of the players on both teams to play an honest game.

Mr. John Renwick, of Port Hope, refereed the game and no words of praise can be too strong for the manner in which he performed his duties. His decisions were always eminently fair and no objections were taken to any by either team.

The Athletics started the scoring early in the game and at no stage was the result in doubt. Two goals were recorded in the first quarter, during the course of which Dillon, who was playing point, was unfortunate enough to have two bones in his right hand broken, as a result of which he had to leave the game. His absence was felt as during the play in which he had participated, he played his position well. It is feared that this accident will prevent his playing again this season. Ketchum was moved back to point from first defence and played an excellent game, in fact his work was freely commented upon, and he certainly made good his position.

No scoring was done during the second quarter, and half time was called with the score 2—0 in favour of the visitors. In the next quarter the Athletics, however, rushed matters, and added three to those already scored. The playing of the Athletics home was particularly creditable; they worked well together and all the scores were made by combination plays. O'Flynn played a particularly good game, participating in a running two-man combination from centre field to the goal, where he scored. That there was not a larger score rolled up against the home team was due to the great work of the Belleville goal keeper, who played a star game, stopping many shots which would have gone into the nets with an ordinary player in goal. In the last quarter's play the Athletics located the nets twice, making the total score 7—0.

The playing of the Athletics' defence showed a great improvement over that on the occasion of the game with the Bellevilles here. They refused to be led out; every man stayed with his position and proved an utterly impossible task to penetrate the wall which they presented to the Belleville home.

Cavanah.....	2
Best.....	2
O'Flynn.....	2
Glover.....	1

The teams lines up as follows:

Belleville — Goal, Deer; point, Hitchon; cover point, Leaf; 1st defence, Wallace; 2nd defence, Brown; 3rd defence, W. Ford; centre, E. Ford; 3rd home, Kennedy; 2nd home, Kirby; 1st home, McGuire; outside home, Burke; inside home Allan.

Athletics — Goal, Wilson; point, Dillon; cover point, Morgan; 1st defence, Ketchum; 2nd defence, Howell; 3rd defence, Mein; centre, Dunsford; 3rd home, O'Flynn; 2nd home, Robertson; 1st home, Best; outside home, Glover; inside home, Cavanah. Goal umpire, Mr. J. J. Howden; time keepers and field captain, F. A. Clark, Dr. Wightman, Bruce Rickey.

NOTES.

The grounds were in good shape for playing.

The Athletics claimed a goal that was not allowed.

Dunsford worked hard at centre and had the better of Maguire.

Some four men were, during the progress of the game, ruled off for minor fouls.

The home division is very light, but that did not prevent Best, who weighs about 118, body checking a man weighing 185.

The players say that if Dr. Wightman had had his way the game would be on yet. He made them play six minutes extra time in one quarter.

The two Peterborough players, who were unlucky enough to get a few bumps, were kindly looked after by Dr. Perry Goldsmith during and after the game.

The treatment accorded the visiting team, both by the spectators and players was in every respect satisfactory and the Athletics cherish pleasant memories of the visit.

Morgan plays a somewhat similar game to Jack Brown, and Mein has a style that was peculiar to Borland of the old team. They were good men to have as an example.

The referee blew the whistle for what the Athletics supposed was a foul committed by Belleville. At the same instant a goal was scored. The Athletics' contention being that they should not suffer the loss of a goal for the opposing team's foul. The referee said after the game he blew the whistle for a man who was knocked out, which is a different matter.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 35c and 20c.

HIS GOODNESS GREATER EVEN THAN HIS GREATNESS

Something About the Late Pope Leo Thirteenth.

"None Will Question His Greatness, Just as None can Question His Essential Goodness."

Brooklyn Eagle: Pope Leo XIII came to be universally regarded as a good man. Roman Catholics, of course, always so regarded him. They sincerely believed that his selection to be Pope was due to the influence of the Spirit of God on the conclave of Cardinals who elected him. Among Popes, he made upon Roman Catholics an impression for goodness or spirituality or saintliness less than that of no other pontiff and greater than that of many another. But his status in Protestantism or in the non-Catholic world was more significant than in the papal world. Thanks, in part, to the simplicity and openness of his mind, and, in other part, to the increasing justice and kindness of the mind of the race, Pope Leo XIII. was respected, esteemed and admired by Protestants to a greater degree than any of his predecessors in his office. John Henry Newman, among Catholics, can be said alone to have shared, in the two centuries in which the Pope lived on even terms with him, the approbation of the non-Catholic world. The goodness of the man in the admission of all. That admission is itself a proof that he was good—eminently good. Some of the world may be deceived about a character. All of it cannot be.

PUT GOODNESS FIRST.

We put his goodness in the front not only because it belongs there, but because he would have put such a quality at the front in any estimate of qualities which he might have made, or in any summary of another's character ,which he might have set forth. In itself, and assuredly in his own view of it, goodness is that which on earth creates for the man the estate which he will carry into the heavens. It is not the synonym of greatness, but it is the savor of it and the superior of it. It is that on which and for which the Master of Life looks. he rest under the Divine Lights is but "leather and prunella," except as it may be used for the unlift of man and for the glory of God. All questions about other Popes aside, the goodness of the man who religiously reigned as Leo XIII. was not only unmistakable and undeniable, and it was not only universally admitted, but it was also universally acclaimed. We are aware that it is sometimes referred to as a quality in which anyone can excel, and on that account it is underrated. But it is not underrated by those who appraise standards aright. He from Whom Christianity takes its name put goodness in a place supreme and unique. They who follow Him follow Him near or afar off according as they do or do not so rate it.

STATION MADE IT CLEAR.

We shall not analyze or sub-divide the quality. That is for theologians or phychologists or philosophers or metaphysicians to do. Goodness, the quality as instinctive to the child as it is evident to the widest and most learned, is injured and weakened by analysis the same as would be the perfume of a flower, the silence of the woods, the blandness of the air or the scientific examination of a mother's love. Goodness in itself is as all-embracing and as all-encasing as the atmosphere. It is the spirit of our thought about God. It states and sums God Himself. That idea of the Divine, flawlessly incarnate in Jesus Christ, and making Him not only the target and the antithesis, but best of all the Forgiver of sins, and the Redeemer from them. Is also the one which idealizes life and immortalizes man in proportion as man can embody and outpour it in his own life. Station only made the goodness of Leo XIII apparent and effective. The quality was in him without station. His station, exalted as it was, shed less lustre on the quality than the quality shed on it. The triple crown was something which he could put on or off. The quality of goodness was resident, regnant and radiant in him and is inseparable from him. And all the world came to know this and to rejoice in it. That was the greatest fact of his great reign.

WAS VERY LEARNED.

We not only take it that all other facts were lesser in their moral rating, but were lesser in their mental value and power. He was very learned. He was very patient. He was very wise. He was very firm. He was very consistent. But there were and are his equals in those respects. He made his learning the handmaid of the goodness of his purposes. He made his wisdom the servant of the benignity of his designs. He made his patience the armour in which he defended himself from misrepresentation, and serenly awaited the dissipation of prejudice and passion.

He was constantly felt and seen in functions, conclaves, consisteries and councils. Discount and depreciation had constant opportunity for their work upon him. They could take away nothing from him. And this fact was due, and is due, to the simple, transparent goodness of the man, a goodness greater than his greatness, and the greatest part of that greatness itself.

A WORLD SORROW.

It is this which makes his death a world loss. It is this which has made his long reign quite as much a power for all religion as for that compartment of it of which he has been the head. The spiritual sovereign of the first and, therefore, of the oldest and of admittedly the largest division of the Kingdom of God, organized on the earth, his life has been simple music set to noble words. In the tone has been no discord. The theme has been that of his Master: On earth peace, and to men goodwill.

We speak not of his reign; that is for historians. We speak not of his policy; that is for statesmen or theologians. We speak not of his church; that is for devotees to commend or for sectarians to rend. We speak for those who are large enough to recognize that religion is the greatest force in the world, and that its subdivisions are the great factors in that greatest force; for those who recognize that morally, spiritually and historically the Church of Rome is among the greatest facts and factors in existence, and that the head of it is the supreme exponent of an unequalled human lordship of the conscience and of the heart. Speaking thus, from a height above all disputes of a polemical sort, we are glad to be able to acknowledge the kingship of character which is the kingship of the goodness in this man, and to believe that all non-Catholicism, as well as all Catholicism, will be a sincere mourner at his bier when the silver cord shall be loosened and the golden bowl shall be broken, when the day shall break, when the shadows shall flee away, when he shall know as he is known, and when the white flower of a blameless life and of a pure purpose shall expand into the eternal fruitage of a heavenly felicity in the songs and in the service of the sons of light and of the Sun of Righteousness.

LIGHT ON CAREER.

In considering the career of Leo XIII., it should be borne in mind that his ancestry—or if one wants to put it the other way — his descent, threw light on his career. He entered on his 94th year the 2nd of last March, as he was born on that day in 1810. For, as Brooklynites, it is well to recall that the late Benjamin D. Silliman was born in 1805, and the late Jas. S. T. Stranahan in 1808. Incidentally one may note that Jefferson Davis and Louis Napoleon were born in the same year, and Abraham Lincoln a year later. The sweep of time which a single life thus covered can be suggested. The family of Leo XIII. might almost be called a clerical one. Among his collateral ancestors were three prelates. One became Bishop of Grosetto in 1517, another Bishop of Malta in 1679. Still another became Bishop of Grosectto again in 1710, a century before Leo XIII. was born. The family from which the latter came is named Pecci. The pronunciation of that in English is said to be expressed by the spelling Petchy. The family in the days when rank expressed power as well as distinguished descent, was a noble one in Italy. The Pecci family had the rank of ruling princes in Carpineto, where the most distinguished member of it was born, and had reigned in Carpineto, a pal province or principality, for generations. As far back as Pope Martin V. that family entertained him in its palace, and advanced to him a large loan for his needs. The father of Leo was a colonel under Napoleon I., and died in 1833, 12 years after the death of the Emperor on St. Helena. His wife belonged to a family of distinction living near Rome and died in 1824, when her distinguished son was 10 years old. There were children born to the couple in 1800, in 1802, and in 1807, as well as on March 2nd, 1810. It will thus be seen that the boy, born that day, carried in his blood the traditions of power and the traditions of that power both in the form of prelatical rule and of military conduct.

Without considering whether he was destined for the priesthood by his parents, or whether he gravitated towards it by his own inclination or resolution, we discern that his education up to a certain point was simply that of a scholar and of a teacher, and not especially that of an intending ecclesiastic. He went in Italy to Church Schools which would here correspond to our Grammar and High Schools, and then he went to a college in Rome. There his course was turned towards the ministry, and there he was made a priest in December, 1837. He was then 27 years old, an age considerably in advance of that of men who became priests at that time.

EFFECT ON CAREER.

We have not only seen the influence of his ancestry on the mind of Leo XIII., but we can also see the weight which that fact and his own manifest abilities brought to bear upon the first duties which he was set to do. After a short service as domestic chaplain near to Pope Gregory XVI., in 1837, young Pecci was sent to one of the Italian provinces named Venevento. He was sent there not only as a priest, but as a governor, that being a province under the pope, in the days of the temporal power. There in point of fact he put down brigandage in as stern a fashion as his military father would have done. This led to his promotion to Perugia, where somewhat similar work had to be done and was well done by him. He wound it up about 1843, and for it he was promoted to the post of Nuncio to the Court of Belgium. Thus in six years he had made great strides, and on the suggestion of high authorities he was made Bishop of Perugia three years later, in 1846, and five years after, in 1853, he was created a cardinal by Pius IX, in pursuance of a recommendation long before made by that Pope's predecessor, Gregory XVI.

Thereafter his life and labours kept him at Rome. He was recognized as likely to be the successor of Pius IX because of his leadership of the party of Moderates in the Papacy, provided he survived Antonelli. Pius IX appointed Cardinal Pecci to be the Chamberlain of the College of Cardinals. In that character or capacity it fell to him to attest the death of his patron, and to become his successor. From the time of his institution as Pope to the end of his activities the world felt his touch and acknowledged his power. He certainly contributed a great deal to the history of the world. Only religious students or statesmen of high learning can carry in detail and in succession his significant acts. Some of them were of local or provincial interest. Others of them were of larger than local interest, and some may be said to have been of universal interest.

He first addressed himself as Pope to the composure of Roman Catholic conditions in Asiatic provinces of communities. He gave to them more power and required of them less report to and dependence on Rome than they before had had. Then he addressed himself to the reduction of friction between the government of Italy under Victor Emmanuel and the Catholic Communion, as personified by his own government, within the Vatican. He relaxed in nothing his claim of temporal power as a right, but he indirectly recognized the loss or suspension of it as a fact, when he rescinded the order of his immediate predecessor, that Catholics in Italy should take no part in municipal elections under the royal rule. He told them to take part according to their interests and convictions, and then he brought about that state of things of which a consequence has been peace without a surrender of theoretical claims.

Port Stanley, July 22.—The inquest on the death of Miss Hurkett, whose body was found on the beach here last Friday, was resumed yesterday morning. The doctors' report went to show that death was due to drowning, and the verdict brought in by the jury was that the deceased came to her death by drowning. The body showed no signs of foul play.

GAMBLING IN STOCKS.

House of Commons Debates the Subject on the Motion of Mr. Bourassa—

The House in Supply.

Ottawa, July 22.—In the House yesterday, Mr. Monk complained of the delay in issuing a writ for an election in St. James' division, Montreal, vacant since May 10. Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised to give his immediate attention to the matter.

On motion to go into supply, Mr. Henri Bourassa, Labelle, moved, "That it is necessary and urgent that efficient measures be taken to control the operations of the stock market and place a check upon speculation which disturbs the financial security of Canada and retards the prosperity of her commerce and industries."

Mr. Bourassa made a long speech in favor of his motion, in the course of which he said that nine-tenths of the transactions in the stock exchange are of such a character that neither the broker who sold nor the customer who bought contemplated consummating a deal. He believed the broker only bought the shares at the date of transfer, and this, he declared, was a worse system of robbery than that of the bucket shops.

The debate was continued by Mr. E. B. Osler, Hon. Mr. Fielding, Mr. R. L. Borden, Mr. Jabel Robinson, Mr. F. D. Monk, Mr. Robert Holmes, Mr. W. F. Maclean, Mr. D. Henderson, Dr. Sproule, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick and Hon. Mr. Tarte, after which the resolution was withdrawn.

In his speech Mr. Fitzpatrick voiced the sympathy of the Government and the entire House in any movement to check illegitimate speculation in stocks, intimated that the Government were alive to the danger, and that some remedy to check the demoralising tendency of unhealthy and reckless speculation would be provided at the present session.

Census Items Passed.

In Committee of Supply the census items were disposed of, after a long discussion.

The vote of $150,000 for the Quebec arsenal was taken up. Sir Frederick Borden informed the committee that the amount was required to increase the capacity of the cartridge factory from one million to six or seven million rounds per annum. The item carried, and the House rose at midnight.

For Exchange of Business.

The Railway Committee discussed the question of requiring telephone companies to exchange business under equitable terms, but the amendments were voted down and the clause stands. Mr. E. F. Clarke will move re-insertion when the Canadian Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s bill comes up in the House.

Still Withdrawn.

Ottawa, July 22.—Senator Ferguson's bill respecting the extra judicial employment of judges was debated in the Senate yesterday. Afterwards he withdrew the bill.

MR. A. B. AYLESWORTH, K. C.

Will Represent Canada on the Alaska Boundary Commission.

Ottawa, July 22.—A cablegram has been received by Hon. Clifford Sifton from Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, consenting at act in place of the late Judge Armour as representative for Canada on the Alaska tribunal. The tribunal will meet in London on Sept. 3, when written argument will be presented. It is thought that all the meetings of the tribunal will be held in the English metropolis.

Hon. Mr. Sifton will have to attend the meetings of the commissioners in London, but it is not known when he will leave here. He will probably be required to go about the last week in August. Whether Mr. Aylesworth will accept an appointment on the Supreme Court bench still remains to be ascertained. There is no hurry, however, for this appointment, as the court does not meet until October.

A CYCLIST'S MISHAP.

Galt Man Drops Into Rock-faced Chasm and Is Badly Hurt.

Galt, July 22.—Ralph Rolland, a youth about 20 years of age, was seriously, if not fatally, injured at noon yesterday, while returning from the scene of the railway wreck. He was riding a wheel along a footpath skirting the river and turned off to allow two ladies going the opposite way to pass, but evidently miscalculated the distance between the roadway and a rock-faced chasm 20 feet deep, into which he rode, falling headforemost to the bottom. He was rendered unconscious and on examination it was found that besides being injured internally, his left arm was broken, one rib torn away from the breast bone and his upper lip cut in two. Young Rolland, who came here two years ago from Listowell, is a blacksmith in the employ of J. E. Hilbern.

SWALLOWED PARIS GREEN.

John Logie Suicides Because Wife and Child Died.

Toronto, July 22.—John Logie, marine engineer, an Englishman who has been in Canada for only three months, took his life yesterday afternoon at Munro Park by swallowing Paris green. He was discovered in a dying state early in the afternoon and taken to the General Hospital, where he died.

The explanation of his rash act is that he was despondent owing to the fact that his wife and child had died at his home in Gateshend-on-the-Tyne, a short time ago. He was 35 years of age, and was employed at Polson's Iron Works. He had worked in the upper lakes. His papers showed him to be a high-class engineer, and a man of excellent reputation.

Has an Apostle Spoon.

Galt, July 22.—Mrs. Howell, Water street, has a genuine apostle spoon. It is valuable, worth perhaps $2,400.

GEO. STEVENS
AGENT.

Mirth is an almost infallible sign of good health. A sick woman may force a smile or at times be moved to laughter. But when a woman is bubbling over with mirth and merriment she is surely a well woman.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength. It establishes regularity and so does away with monthly misery. It dries debilitating drains and so cures the cause of much womanly weakness. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures the bearing-down pains, which are such a source of suffering to sick women.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for female weakness," writes Mrs. Susannah Permenter, of Pauls Store, Shelby Co., Texas. "I was troubled with bearing-down pains in my back and hips for six years, and I wrote to Doctor Pierce for advice. I tried his 'Favorite Prescription' and six bottles cured me. I feel like a new person and I thank Dr. Pierce for my health. Life is a burden to any one without health. I have told a great many of my friends about the great medicine I took."

SUMMER FROCKS.

CLEVER IDEAS IN SMART WASHING AND GENERAL UTILITY GOWNS.

The New and the Old in Fashions. Frilly and Flouncy May Be the Chic Woman, but Not Untidily Floppy. Crash and Canvas Costumes.

Summer frocks, already exploited in every imaginable phase, are most alluring. Perhaps we think this every time a change of season comes round with its accompanying change of raiment. Yet there is certainly more than novelty in the attractiveness of our present styles.

By a strange contrariety at the same time that we profess to be searching for the new we are resuscitating the old. Everywhere there is a thirst for the antique. In dress it is called a feeling for the "quaint" or "picturesque."

Although the full skirts, full sleeves and loose boleros give the idea of untidy floppiness nothing is further from the aim and being of fashion as properly understood. Skirts, however full, must be most carefully fitted round the hips, the upper part of the shoulders and chest must be free from fussy details which interfere with the outlines, and the waist must be trim and neat.

This idea of trim smartness is more generally realised in the sporting, outing and utility frocks, such as the old, and now new, favorites in linen and crash.

Simple as it is, the model of the first cut has a distinct chic. Both the coat and the skirt are in natural colored crash, and the linen piping may be of any color preferred. In very pretty taste, too, is the flecked canvas frock of the second cut, which is trimmed with lace insertion.

Washing gowns are also being cleverly made up to depend for ornament mostly upon the lace shoulder cape collars, so easily transferable from one gown to another, a fact which renders them most desirable.

PRETTY FROCK OF FLECKED CANVAS.

Many a so called washing gown is just a charming bit of deception. As likely as not it will no more wash than a satin will turn.

The mercerized washing stuffs are lovely, and their name is legion.

Sunshine Furnace.

REGULATED LIKE A WATCH.

"Sunshine" dampers are so ingeniously arranged and control the fire so perfectly that the consumption of fuel can be regulated almost as accurately as a watch—the operator knows just what time a certain quantity of coal will retain fire and the degree of heat it will produce.

All parts of "Sunshine" furnaces are mechanically correct—the castings are clean and extra heavy, while the steel used in the dome is of the finest quality and is specially made for the "Sunshine" furnace.

Every detailed feature in the "Sunshine" has its purpose, and all combine to produce the most heat from the fuel consumed and distribute it without waste.

Sales to noon, 197,900.

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire have issued the following letter:—

Toronto, July 23rd, 1.00 p. m. — Decline of close yesterday was due to the failure of a large building firm. The market recovered its nerve over night however, and opened fractionally higher. The feeling was nervous owing to the advance in cotton and grain.

It is claimed on the one hand, that everything is covered, on other that large loan must soon be paid off and that Readings strength is fictitous for the marketing of stock.

Call money is very easy but time money is very firm and scarce. The weakness in C.F.I. and T.C.I. was due the calling of loans. There are rumors that the market will be worked a little higher on this movement, but if a further gain materialises stocks should be a sale.

A LARGE FISH

Caught By Mr. Tom Fulton on Tuesday

On Tuesday Mr. Thomas Fulton of Harvey, while fishing, got a bite from a 25 lb. maskinonge, which he succeeded in landing after a hard fight lasting for about three quarters of an hour. The fisherman was in a light canoe and was towed by the large fish from Jacob's Island to the Ennismore shore. Mr. Fulton then worked his fish back to the deep water, but was not able to draw in the fish for some time, when, however, it lost heart and was landed. A person who tasted a portion said that it was excellent.

WEDDING BELLS.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Johnston, "Maple Villa Belmont" was "en fete" on Wednesday, July 15th, the occasion being the marriage of their third daughter, Miss Pearl Viola, to Mr. M. H. Swain, of Havelock.

The bride was prettily gowned in white brussels net over white silk. The wedding veil of white illusion lace was surmounted by a wreath of Orange blossoms. She carried white carnations and roses and was attended by little flower girls—R. Campney, niece of the bride, S. Johnston, I. Rose, G. Brewster and E. Williams. The groom was unattended except by a ring-bearer Howard Johnston, nephew of the bride.

Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Havelock, conducted the ceremony which took place under an arch of evergreens, promptly at one o'clock. The wedding march was played by Miss A. Johnston, cousin of the bride, and Miss M. Denike rendered a beautiful solo. The bride was given away by her father.

At the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. Cunningham, the Norwood artist, who was present, took a snap shot of the assembly. A dainty repast was then served. The tables were attractively decorated with ferns and flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Swain took the afternoon express for Toronto, Niagara, and Buffalo. The bride's going away costume was of green cloth, with silk blouse, white brilliantine jacket and white picture hat to match. The trimmings were ribbon, medallions, and applique.

The numerous handsome and valuable gifts received testified to the high esteem in which both bride and groom were held. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet beautifully engraved. The Methodist choir, of which Mrs. Swain has been organist for some time and Mr. Swain has been leader, presented her with a very pretty silver service.

Life of Pope Leo. XIII

The work of writing a biography of the life of Pope Leo XIII was some years ago assigned to Mgr. O'Reilly, D.D. who was summoned to Rome for that special purpose and decaired by the Pope to be his official biographer and historian. Every facility was afforded him for obtaining authentic information with reference to the life and work of the venerable head of the church. Consequently the work which he has prepared and which has been titled "The Official and Authorized Life of Pope Leo XIII," has received the sanction and approval of the highest church dignitaries in the land. The book is a handsome volume of 800 pages, and contains over 100 illustrations, many of them full page half tone engravings, and will no doubt be much sought after by all who desire an authentic life history of the saintly man who has recently passed away.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Mr. Melrose Gould, of Hamilton and Miss Lottie Smith, Town.

Ceremony Conducted by Rev. Dr. Torrance—The Dejeuner and Reception —Magnificent Array of Presents.

An event of no little interest in the social world of Peterborough, was the marriage yesterday of Miss Lottie Jane Lilian Smith, of this city, to Melrose Goldwin Villete Gould, Esq., barrister, of Hamilton, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. E. F. Torrance, in St. Paul's Presbyterian church, at half past five, in the presence of a large and brilliant audience of relatives, guests and friends. The church was simply but tastefully decorated, and the wedding music was rendered by Mr. Wildgust, organist, in excellent style.

Precisely at the appointed hour, Dr. Torrance, followed by the groom, and his best man, Prof. W. J. Rusk, of Iowa College, Grinnel, Iowa, presented themselves at the altar, and the bridal procession moved forward. First came two ushers, Dr. S. Gowan, of Brockville, and Mr. R. F. McWilliams, of this city. These took their stations at the entrances right and left of the semi-circle in front of the pulpit. Next, walking singly, came the two bridesmaids, Miss Edith Smith, sister of the bride, and Miss Adelaide M. Gould, only daughter of the Hon. Elgin R. L. Gould, of New York City, and niece of the bridegroom. Both looked charming attired in white voile gowns, trimmed with hand embroidery and Cluny lace. Their hats were of white chiffon, trimmed with roses. Each bridesmaid carried a white parasol bedecked with smilax and white roses.

The maid of honour, Miss Georgiana Smith, a tall and stately brunette, was appropriately costumed in a dress of white voile, becomingly lined with yellow satin. Her hat and parasol were similar to those of the other bridesmaids. All of the bridesmaids and ushers wore gold Maltese crosses, crescent pins, studded with pearls, gifts of the groom.

It was the general consensus of opinion that Peterborough has not sent from her midst many more charming brides than Miss Smith. Gracious and dignified in bearing, her face revealed the happiness of the occasion. She was artistically and becomingly attired in an elegant and dainty gown of heavy silver sequins and Brussels net over ivory satin. The bridal veil of silk tulle was caught up with orange blossoms. For ornaments she wore a beautiful cross of gold and pearls, the groom's gift and a handsome gold bracelet set with diamonds and sapphire, a legacy from the groom's only sister who died nearly three years ago.

As she moved down the aisle on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, she was the cynosure of all eyes, and her many friends sent after her a silent "God speed."

The last members of the bridal procession were two five-year-old children, Master Tully Smith, youngest brother of the bride, and a niece of the groom, Miss Mary P. Gould, only daughter of Clarendon J. T. Gould, Esq., of Baltimore, Maryland. This little bridesmaid looked particularly interesting in a dress of white organdie and lace and French hat of tourquoise blue with pink roses and long chiffon streamers. As they took their places immediately behind the principals, the junior ushers, Mr. Clarence Smith, one of the bride's brothers, and Mr. Kenneth Shuck, moved forward to the flower gates, and the picturesque arrangement of the whole party was complete.

At the conclusion of the ceremony and after the register had been duly signed and attested in the vestry, the procession formed anew led by little Miss Gould and Master Smith, who strewed flowers in front of the newly married pair, and moved down the main aisle to the accompaniment of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Thus ended an exceedingly pretty wedding and one which will long be remembered by those who had the good fortune to be present. After the wedding a delightful dejeuner was served upon the lawn at Mr. Smith's residence. There were some fifteen small tables tastefully arranged and very prettily laid with Japanese serviettes. The centre table was occupied by the wedding party, and the scene was a very charming one. The excellent collation was served by Mr. Harry Long. A reception from six to eight was held at the residence, and at nine o'clock the bride and groom left for their honeymoon in the Thousand Islands and Quebec.

Miss Smith is the eldest daughter of our well-known fellow townsman, William Smith, Esq., Principal of the city public schools. She is well educated, entertaining and very popular among her friends. About five years ago, while taking an advanced course in Kindergarten training she met Mr. Gould and they have been lovers since.

Mr. Gould is the youngest of the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gould, of Oshawa. The eldest, the Hon. Elgin R. L. Gould, occupies the post of chamberlain of New York city, the highest and most responsible position, involving, as it does, the care and custody of the public moneys of the city, within the gift of the mayor. He is one of the best known and widely respected citizens of the American metropolis, as was attested by a public dinner given in his honour by five hundred of the leading citizens of the city about eighteen months ago. The second son, Clarendon J. T. Gould, Esq., is the President of the Central Trust Company, Baltimore, Maryland, and one of the leading figures in the financial and legal circles of this most interesting of southern cities. The bridegroom, Melrose G. V. Gould, is a practising lawyer, a member of the firm of Farmer & Gould, of Hamilton, Ont. He is a graduate of arts and law of the University of Toronto. As a boy he was noted for precocity of intellect, graduating in the Chautauqua course at the age of twelve, the youngest who ever performed this feat, and later in his University career winning scholarships and fellowships. His professional prospects are of the best.

Conspicuous among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Smith, the latter attired in a dress of black crepe de chene, trimmed with white silk applique. They occupied the front pew to the left.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gould, father and mother of the groom sat in the first pew on the right hand side.

Mrs. Gould wore a silver grey brocade trimmed with rich sequins, and a bonnet of white violets and aigrettes with heliotrope flowers and streamers of diamonds and opals.

Other relatives of the groom present were Hon. Elgin R. L. Gould, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarendon J. T. Gould of Baltimore. Mrs. C. J. S. Gould was tastefully dressed in old rich crepe with Duchesse lace and blue velvet. Her ornaments were diamonds and pearls.

Others present from a distance were Geo. Ingles, Esq., Ex-Mayor of Lindsay, and his niece, Miss Rhoda Sleight; Miss Jessie Murdock, Stratford; Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Millbrook; Miss McDonough, Toronto; Dr. Gowan, Brockville; Prof. W. T. Rusk, of Iowa College; Misses Tina and Edith Hall, of Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mount Pleasant; Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Smith, Springville, and Mr. Harry Smith; Mrs. E. C. Crompton, of Brantford, sister of the bride; Mr. Clarence Smith, of the Bank of Commerce, Port Perry, a brother; Miss Nora Hunt, Cobourg, and Mr. Kenneth Shook, Blackstock.

The wedding invitations numbered over four hundred.

BISHOP OCONNOR'S LETTER TO ALL HIS PRIESTS.

Restriction Regarding Observance of the Pontiff's Death.

The following letter has been published by Bishop O'Connor to his priests in regard to the recent death of His Holiness Pope Leo XIII:

Rev. and Dear Sir,—You are already aware of the saintly and edifying death of Our Holy Father Leo XIII., who has been one of the most distinguished and esteemed Pontiffs that sat on the chair of St. Peter.

As loving and dutiful children of that Church, which he governed for more than a quarter of a century, it is our duty now to pray for the welfare of his soul. Our daily prayer should be that perpetual light may shine upon him and that he may receive the reward of the good and faithful servant, who has employed to the best advantage the talents given to him.

In all parish churches and chapels of religious communities a Solemn Requiem Mass will be celebrated, as soon convenient after receipt of this letter.

Besides the duty of praying for the eternal happiness of Leo XIII., there is the other important obligation of offering up fervent prayer, that Almighty God would deign to appoint a worthy successor to the chair of Peter. DARING ATTEMPT TO ROB MANITOBA BANK.

Bank of Which Mr. E. C. Complin is Manager Entered by Burglars.

Brave Work of Manager's Assistant—Burglar Left no Clue as to His Identity.

A dispatch from Carman, Man., reports a daring attempt to rob the branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, of which Mr. E. G. Complin, formerly of the local bank staff, is manager. The Globe's report is as follows:—

"Carman, Man., July 23rd.—An attempt was made about 1.45 a. m. to burglarize the Canadian Bank of Commerce at this place. Mr. E. B. K. Watson, assistant clerk, who sleeps in the manager's office, was awakened by the opening of a trap door communicating with the cellar, and grabbing his revolver, hurried to the counting room in time to see a man raise the trap. Watson fired at the intruder, and the bullet struck the floor, a little to one side. The burglar returned the fire, but fortunately missed his mark. The bullet, passing close to Watson, went through the office partition, and cut a hole in a coat which was hanging over a chair. Watson next raised the trap and started down the cellar stairs for his man, when he was again shot at by the desperado, but again came off without harm, although the light from the room made him a fair mark, while his assailant was hidden in the darkness. Without considering his danger, he still advanced in the direction of the retreating burglar, and got two more shots at him as he made his escape by an outside stair from the cellar, but missed him. There is no clue.

Manager Complin was in Winnipeg. Mrs. Complin and her sister were sleeping in their apartments, and were awakened by the shooting. Both ladies were frightened.

Mr. Butler of the Electric Light Company heard the shots, and was in time to see three men jump into a rig at Naylor's corner, a few blocks east of the bank, and make off south. The affair has startled business men here, as, so far, Carman has been free from burglars."

There is no clue.

Manager Complin was in Winnipeg. Mrs. Complin and her sister were sleeping in their apartments, and were awakened by the shooting. Both ladies were frightened.

Mr. Butler of the Electric Light Company heard the shots, and was in time to see three men jump into a rig at Naylor's corner, a few blocks east of the bank, and make off south. The affair has startled business men here, as, so far, Carman has been free from burglars."

THE BRITISH PHYSIQUE.

The Globe.

A widely prevalent belief that the people of the United Kingdom are physically deteriorating has induced the British Government to institute an inquiry among the leading medical practitioners, with a view to ascertaining accurate data regarding the national physique. Laudation of the good old days is as old as or older than our most ancient literature. Man's best physical development is in early youth, and during the long subsequent period of deterioration he fancies the whole race is growing weaker. The necessity of lowering the standard of height for the army in Britain has been advanced as a proof of the physical decline of the nation. But a growing reluctance for military service by restricting the field of choice would have precisely the same effect, even if no pyhsical decline had taken place.

Another superficial indication is the greater number of weaklings, imbeciles, and physical degenerates noticeable in every city and town. The actual increase in urban population would account for this, even if they did not make up any larger proportion of the population. Advancement in medical and sanitary science, a growing feeling of pity for the weak, and greater benevolence on the part of the wealthy have lessened the law of elimination. The defectives who formerly died in infancy are now kept alive and cared for, and their presence in the community is apt to be regarded as an evidence of degeneracy. In savage tribes many weakly and defective children are born, but they cannot survive. As a nation draws away from conditions of barbarism a larger proportion of defectives are able to live and to affect the average of physical strength. These considerations serve to discredit conclusions based on superficial observation, and to justify the course of the Government in seeking accurate data that may serve to direct corrective efforts, if they are found necessary.

The most obvious influence affecting the physical condition of the British people is the cityward migration. The progress of mechanical invention has lessened the number that can be profitably employed at farming, and more than proportionately increased the possibilities of successful work at urban industries. The cradlers of the harvest field have given place to the workers in implement factories. In 1851 the urban population of England and Wales was 5,990,000 out of a total of 17,927,000, or about 50 per cent. This proportion has changed to 25,000,000 out of a total of 32,000,000, in 1891, or about 77 per cent. The altered proportion shows a great cityward movement, which cannot fail to have an effect on the average physical condition of population. The urban population are subjected to a more severe mental and nervous strain. They have less fresh air, less sleep, less intermissions of work caused by climatic conditions, and a less nourishing diet. The resultant lowering of the physical standard must be in proportion to the extent of the migration.

Another change which is regarded in Britain as affecting the physical condition of the rising generation is the compulsory school law. For nine years of the growing period of life the minds, and not the hands, are trained and exercised, and it is regarded by some observers as a severe nervous strain on many whose forefathers never learned to read. School life has not injuriously affected the children of the more wealthy class, and it is reasonable to infer that such degeneracy towards physical weakness as has developed among the school children is due rather to insufficient food and bad sanitary conditions than to the mental and physical strain of the required attendance. The proposed investigation may help to impress the truth that the national physique is the most important question that can engage the attention of the people or Government. No gain can repay the sacrifice of a nation's physical strength.

TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING.

From Hardware and Metal.

In these days of keen competition no advertiser can afford to conceal true facts, either about his business methods or his merchandise. Everything must be open and above-board.

The most successful policy which can be adopted in writing any advertisement is to so word it as to win the confidence and respect of the reader. If you can make such an impression on the reader's mind that she will believe that you are sincere in what you say—that you really believe it yourself—that you are laying the case before her in a plain, business-like manner, without any exaggerations or attempts to mislead, you are pretty sure to get that person's trade.

If you believe what you are saying you are more apt to express yourself in a convincing manner than if you are simply trying to praise up some value that does not exist. There is only one sure way in which you can gain the confidence of the public, and that is to invariably stick strictly to the truth. Advertising that flatters your goods is most undesirable advertising.

It is best to use a few simple words easily understood, than to revel in many high sounding adjectives, which in themselves would imply that you are trying to exaggerate. Be modest and gentle in your expressions. Do not try to claim the earth, either for yourself or for your goods.

Never make a promise that you cannot fulfil. Always fulfil every promise you make. You may for a moment attract attention by a particular advertisement, but if the promises you make are not carried out—if you misrepresent any part of your business—it is sure to react in the future, and the loss in the long run will be much greater than the temporary gain which you may make.

When a retailer's announcement is read, it is perhaps for the moment believed by the reader, but if she afterwards comes to the store and finds that what you have said is not true, she will not only believe you have told a falsehood in this case, but will most likely be suspicious of the truth of future statements. If, however, she finds the full truth has been told, she not only has faith in that one particular statement, but you have clinched your argument and won a customer for many days to come.

It is a good idea to be conservative in your published announcement of a sale, bargain, or special offer of any kind leaving something of the true value to be discovered on a visit to the store. Tell a part of the "good news"—sufficient to gain interest,—and it will prove doubly interesting to the would-be customer should she come to the store and find you had underestimated the true value of the offer you make.

Be particular that you emphasize the proper thing. There are some goods in which the price is the proper thing to make prominent; everything else is of minor importance. Other goods there are in which price does not cut much of a figure; the quality should be emphasized. Cheap goods sold at a popular price should have that price brought into particular prominence, for it is usually the case that only a very low price will interest people in a low grade of goods. Finer goods—goods of durability—goods which are sold more particularly for their known excellency than for anything else—should be pushed on a quality argument. It is better to dwell upon the desirability of the article than upon the price, for on really standard and first-quality goods the price is pretty generally the same everywhere.—"Hardware and Metal."

CANADIAN TRADE STILL INCREASES.

A Most Satisfactory Condition of Affairs as Compared With Former Years.

The Government's Fiscal Policy Results in Largely Increased Trade.

The Customs Department has announced the foreign trade returns of Canada for the fiscal year which closed with June, and the statement is one which should serve as an inspiration to the business interests of the country. The total imports and exports together amount to $467,037,019, which is a gain of $48,750,000 over the record of the previous twelvemonth, and far the largest foreign commerce the country has ever known. Taking only the goods entered for consumption and the exports of domestic produce, the return is $448,188,999, as against $398,811,358 for 1902, an increase of $49,377,641. On this basis our trade has expanded from $220,502,817 in 1896 to $448,188,999, or in other words, about doubled. The Government would not pretend that this gain is entirely due to legislative policy and administration of public affairs, and yet it is worthy of note that under Conservative rule in the eighteen years from 1878 to 1896, the gain was only sixty millions.

The domestic exports have expanded from $109,915,337 in 1896 to $214,401,674 this past year. The gain over last year is $18,381,911.

Some of the items which go to make up this excellent showing of exports are worthy of attention. For instance, the exports of animals and their produce reached $114,441,863, as against $96,313,897 in 1902, and $50,591,002 in 1896. This means a development of one hundred and thirty per cent in one branch of industry alone. The increase in this line between 1878 and 1896 was $18,000,000.

Of Canadian foreign produce we shipped abroad this past year $36,380,015, which is an increase of four millions for the year and an increase of nine millions over 1896.

Our exports of manufactures last year amounted to $20,024,967, as $18,462,970 in 1902, and $9,365,384 in 1896. This gives an idea of how Canadian factories have prospered under the existing fiscal policy of the Dominion. This output has more than doubled in the last seven years.

Of free goods, imported largely for the benefit of Canadian manufacturers, we bought last year, less coin and bullion, $38,023,738, an increase of ten millions in the last year, and of fifty millions over 1896.

There have been immense increases in the imports of raw materials, such as raw cotton, which reached 67,652,145 pounds in 1903, as against 33,479,358 in 1896; in raw hides and skins, which amounted to $5,061,331 last year as against $1,945,914 in 1896; of crude rubber, which amounted to $1,532,998 as against $852,095 in 1896. Besides this, over one million tons more of bituminous coal was imported free into the country, chiefly for the advantages of railways, manufacturers, etc., than in 1896.

The exports of Canadian produce last year amounted to $37 per capita, as compared with only $13 per capita in the United States in 1902, the last year for which the return is available.

Canada's foreign trade last year was $81 per capita, as against $31 per capita in the United States in 1902. If a further comparison of our trade with that of our neighbours is justifiable it may be pointed out that our foreign trade with a population of between five and six millions is larger than that of the United States in 1850, whenthe latter's population was twenty-three million souls.

For the month of June the exports of domestic produce were $25,026,050, as against $23,093,818, and the imports $31,082,031 as against $22,027,763. — Montreal Witness.

SWIFT-FOOTED JUSTICE.

(Toronto Globe.)

Four years ago a woman was murdered in England and her body was found and identified less than three months ago. Her murderer was indicted, arraigned, tried, convicted and executed within that interval, and now American journals are calling attention to the contrast between such a method of administering criminal justice and the tedious and uncertain procedure so common in that country. More than one of them expresses the opinion that the tediousness and uncertainty explain, though they cannot excuse, the frequent resort to "lynching" by mobs, who have a well-founded conviction that if a murderer is to be punished at all the only way to be certain of it is to inflict the penalty informally and summarily.

The "law's delay" is just as general, as persistent, and as provoking in civil as it is in criminal cases. Adjournments and appeals are granted to suit lawyers by Judges dependent on them for election to the Bench. Litigants lose heavily when they win their suits, and they are ruined when they lose them. The Supreme Court of New York State is said to be three years behind its work in ordinary civil cases, and the accumulation of arrears goes steadily on.

Our neighbours across the line will some day understand, in the light of such instances as the "Moat House murder," why Canadians, new and old, feel a decided repugnance to casting their lot in with a nation so backward in one aspect of its civilization. Not long ago a murderer in the Yukon district was, after months of sleuth-hound work and at enormous cost, convicted and executed. Our administration of justice in every Province and Territory is prompt and certain, and we do not like to take chances of reversion to barbarism.

Enormous Growth.

Ever since Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were first introduced to the public the sales have steadily increased, each year being larger than the year preceding. This is probably the best evidence of their remarkable efficiency, as a treatment for derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels. They are invaluable as a family medicine.

MRS. J. J. FOY DEAD.

Drowned on Thursday While on a Trip to Hamilton.

FELL OFF STEAMER MACASSA

Nobody Saw the Accident, Which Occurred Near Oakville—Mrs. Foy Was Rescued in Ten Minutes, But the Shock Was Too Much For Her and She Died Before the Boat Reached Hamilton.

Hamilton, July 24.—Mrs. J. J. Foy, wife of J. J. Foy, K.C., M.P. P., of Toronto, in some mysterious manner fell overboard from the steamer Macassa yesterday afternoon and was drowned before aid could reach her.

An air of mystery was thrown over the sad affair by the nurse who accompanied Mrs. Foy on the boat from Toronto, giving her name as Mrs. Pringle. This was corrected later removing a serious misapprehension. The names of the two nurses who attended her gave their names as Miss Pringle and Miss Clement.

Mrs. Foy, who had been ill for some time was taking a trip to Hamilton intending to return by the 5 o'clock boat. Having expressed a wish to go to the stern of the boat she left her attendants. Shortly after the warning cry of "man overboard" brought the attention of those on deck to Mrs. Foy struggling in the water. The steamer righted about, and in ten minutes after the alarm had been given she was picked up and brought aboard. Life was still manifest, but from the shock of falling from such a height, aided by the large quantity of water she swallowed, all efforts to resuscitate her were unavailing. Mrs. Foy died before reaching Hamilton. The sad affair occurred just after the Macassa had passed Oakville.

Miss Pringle, who at first gave the name of the drowned lady as Mrs. Pringle, explained that she did so on the spur of the moment without any definite reason. On reaching Hamilton word was at once set to Mr. Foy, who hurried to the side of his dead wife. He returned with the remains on the 8.10 C.P.R. train last night. Coroner White was notified of the accident. He viewed the remains, but did not think it necessary, under the circumstances, to hold an inquest.

ANOTHER WHEELING ACCIDENT.

Alexander Sims Collides With an Engine and Is Badly Hurt.

Toronto, July 24.—While hurriedly riding a bicycle in from Toronto Junction, Alexander Sims, an employe at the Pulley Works, ran into a passing engine at the Bloor street G. T. R. crossing, which a line of freight cars had hidden from view. He was thrown from his wheel and fell with one leg across the west track and the hind truck of the engine severed the leg a little above his ankle. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital, where the physicians are confident of his recovery, unless there is some internal injury. His home is at 210 Bathurst street.

Rolland Passes Away.

Galt, July 24.—Ralph Rolland, the young blacksmith, who was so seriously injured on the 21st by accidentally falling into the 25-foot rock-faced chasm while coming from the railway wreck on his bicycle, died last evening at Galt Hospital. An operation was performed Wednesday, which showed that he was injured internally, and so severely that death was inevitable. His widowed mother, postmistress at Henfryn, Ont., was with him when he passed away.

Fell From Roof to Death.

Barrie, June 24.—Henry Tuck, a young farmer of Edenval, sixteen miles north of here, was almost instantly killed Tuesday afternoon. While at work upon the roof of a big barn belonging to his brother, Alfred Tuck, he slipped and fell to the ground, receiving injuries from which he died shortly afterwards. He was about 20 years of age and unmarried.

John Hayman Killed.

London, Ont., July 24.—John Hayman, jun., contractor, of Dundas street, fell from a building on Clarence street about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and died from the injuries he received at 7 o'clock at Victoria Hospital. Hayman was one of the firm of John Hayman & Son, contractors.

Child Out of Car Window.

Belleville, July 24.—As the C.P.R. train approached the station yesterday afternoon, a child was seen to fall out of one of the windows. It proved to be the four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Genest of Winnipeg, who was coming to visit friends here. The child was standing near an open window, and when the train rounded a sharp curve the jolt caused her to fall out of the window. She was badly hurt, but less seriously than might have been expected. No serious results are feared.

Car Track Broke.

Mount Forest, July 24.—The afternoon mixed train on the Grand Trunk going to Durham Wednesday jumped the track between Holstein and Varney. The passengers received a severe shaking up, but no one was injured seriously, although Conductor Lavelle did not feel well enough to go on duty yesterday morning. Eight cars left the track.

MURDER AT PICTON.

Colored Man With a Circus Meets Death Violently.

Picton, July 24.—A colored man named Wm. Johnson, an employe of the Pan-American Circus, was stabbed near the heart by another colored employe about 2.30 o'clock Wednesday night, and he died in about 20 minutes. Edward Clark of Columbia, Mo., commonly known as "Side Show Shorty," was arrested, charged with the murder. Four colored men and several other circus employes are detained in town as witnesses. The murdered man is about 30 years of age. Clarke, the man held, is about the same age. A coroner's inquest was held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and adjourned to meet in the county buildings, Monday, July 27.

Murdered in California.

Victoria, B. C., July 24.—Captain Tom Howard, paymaster of the Red River expedition and first Provincial Treasurer of the Clark Government of Manitoba, has been found murdered in California.

WAS THE MAN MURDERED.

Dick Mann, a Farmer, Terribly Pounded With a Stick.

St. John, N.B., July 24.—(Campbell, N.B.)—Word was received last night of a murder committed at Cross Point, Que., opposite this town. The body of Dick Mann, a farmer and lumberman, belonging to Main River, Restigouche County, N. B., was found last evening. He had been terribly pounded with a very heavy piece of wood. There are suspicions as to the perpetrator of the crime.

REVIEW IN DUBLIN.

Twenty Thousand Troops Parade Before the King—Record Muster of Soldiers Witnessed by Enormous Crowd.

Dublin, July 24.—King Edward yesterday reviewed 15,000 troops and 5,000 men of the Naval Brigade in Phoenix Park. When the ground was packed by tens of thousands of spectators it made by far the most brilliant scene of the many witnessed since Their Majesties' arrival in Dublin.

It was the largest muster of troops ever seen at a review in Ireland. The Duke of Connaught was in command.

The King was attended by the Lord Lieutenant, the Earl of Dudley, and a numerous suite. Prior to leaving the vice regal lodge His Majesty presented colors to the Royal Hibernian Military School.

It was after midnight when the day's festivities closed. The King and Queen held court at the castle last night, and in the famous St. Patrick's Hall, which was gorgeously decorated and illuminated for the occasion. Their Majesties entered the hall at 10.30 p.m., with all the accompaniments of state and took their places near the throne, which was the centre of a brilliant group. There they received the most representative body of the Irish nobility, and the Irish people, which has been seen at the castle in years.

Even during the warmest weather Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is pleasant to take, and agreeable to the stomach. For this reason it is the ideal remedy for consumption. Cardinals Will Pursue a Middle Course re. Temporal Power.

NOTE TO DIPLOMATIC BODY.

It Is Thought It Will Lead to Better Relations With the Italian Government —Mgr. Merry Del Val Will Draw Up Document For Submission— Leo Lying in State — An Italian Guard.

Rome, July 24.—From sunrise until sunset yesterday thousands passed before the body of Leo XIII. lying in state in the Basilica of St. Peter's. It was originally intended that this opportunity to publicly view the remains should extend through three days, but to-night the Associated Press correspondent learns that the time is likely to be curtained and that the funeral may occur Friday instead of Saturday, owing to the evidences of decomposition. This is due to yesterday's severe heat.

Leaves All to Church.

The will of the dead Pope was opened at yesterday's meeting of the congregation of cardinals. It consists of 36 pages in the handwriting of Leo XIII. and leaves all his property to his successor for the use of the church. To each member of his family he leaves a present, to be chosen from the valuable objects in his apartment. Similar presents are bequeathed to his physicians. The total amount of his property is not yet known.

The prevailing impression of those who yesterday passed before the iron gates of the chapel of the sacrament to view the remains was one of intense pity, combined with a certain

A CHINESE PUZZLE.

Four Detained at Buffalo and Have No Ticket-of-Leave.

Ottawa, July 24.—Four Chinamen are in custody at Buffalo, and the telegraph wires between Bridgeburg, on the Canadian side, and Ottawa are now hot with messages concerning them. The men claim that they have been living in Canada, three in Toronto and one in Picton, and went to the United States for a trip. They fell into the hands of the customs officers on the other side of the line, and at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon were to be formally handed over to the Canadian officials. The latter, however, will not accept them until they are satisfied as to their identity. Declarations and photographs to confirm the statements of the Chinese are on their way, but will not arrive until this morning. In the meantime, the question is, what to do with the four men, who, if they are re-admitted, will have to pay $100 poll tax to the Canadian revenue for leaving the country without a ticket-of-leave.

VERDICT RENDERED.

Jury Fails to Fix Blame For the C.P.R. Galt Disaster.

Galt, July 24.—The jury returned a verdict at midnight to the effect that Hugh McMillan came to his death by being killed in a rear-end collision on the Canadian Pacific Railway at Galt, while sleeping in a van on the 21st of July, and added: "We would recommend that the semaphore on the west side of the station be placed further west, and that no cars should be allowed to remain on the bridge." Engineer McConnell of the second train said he saw the red light against him too late to stop his train.

Scrawny People.

People grow thin, scrawney, pale and weak when the blood is thin and watery. What is needed to round off the angles and fill out the form, is not fat but healthy muscular tissue. You can prove this by noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure.

Britain and Cunards.

London, July 23.—It is announced that the Government has completed the agreement with the Cunard Steamship Company, and that it will be shortly submitted to Parliament and the shareholders. It is understood that the Government will pay considerably over $5,000,000 for the construction of two additional steamers, and that the whole fleet of vessels will be at the Government's disposal as cruisers.

City of Peterborough Inspected.

The City of Peterborough was inspected yesterday by Government Inspector of Hulls and Equipment, Davis, while her boiler was tested by Mr. T. P. Thompson, who applied a cold water test of 400 lbs. to the square inch, which is a most severe test, as not more than 200 lbs. of steam are ever carried on this boiler. The hull and equipment were also found to be in excellent condition, and the Inspectors were pleased with the entire equipment of the boat. It will be a satisfaction to travellers by this time to know that the owners are fully meeting all requirements, and that the patrons' comfort and safety are being well considered.

PREPARATIONS ARE MADE FOR OLD BOYS.

Local Committee in Readiness to Entertain the Visitors.

Programme of the Three Day's Visit—A Large Number of Old Boys Coming.

To-morrow Peterborough Old Boys, from all parts of this country, as well as from Uncle Sam's domains, will gather in the home town to revisit the scenes of their childhood, and renew acquaintances with boyhood chums.

The following is a brief outline of the programme as arranged for the different days:—

A special excursion train will leave the union station, Toronto at 7.40 a.m., to-morrow, via the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway, stopping at Markham, Stouffville, Blackwater and Lindsay, and arriving at Peterborough at 1 a.m., where the greater number of excursionists, no doubt, will leave the train to spend the interval until noon on Monday with friends in the town and over the county. The remainder may continue on to Lakefield where a steamer will be in readiness to convey them for an extended trip over the lakes calling at Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Viamede, Glenwood, etc. The steamer will return to Lakefield in the evening, but any of the visitors for whom arrangements are made may remain over Sunday on Stony Lake, and come to Lakefield by the Monday morning boat.

Sunday will be spent visiting old time friends and places. The churches will be glad to welcome all the visitors, and in some special services will be held appropriate to the occasion.

The [illegible]r know that a union exists and [illegible]r as the men can judge, no [illegible]mination is made against un[illegible]an in the various shops, in a [illegible]deference for their wishes is highly pleasing to the men, [illegible]pressed by the employers. As [illegible]ustration of this, it was that in a certain shop a man [illegible]om the union took objection, [illegible]d for a position. The Superi[illegible]ent, upon learning of this, and [illegible]g the objection well founded, [illegible]ted to the wishes of the un[illegible]

Mr. [illegible] committee will meet the special train on its arrival to-morrow morning, and extend the freedom of the town to the visitors, whom it is expected will number four or five hundred at the least.

The citizens, and the business men particularly, are showing a very commendable spirit of enterprise in the decorations which are everywhere in evidence, and when the home-comers arrive in town to-morrow a pretty sight will present itself to their view.

This ceremony is one to which all are invited, and as the occasion will be one of special interest a large number will doubtless be present. Many of the members of the Clergy from the surrounding parishes have been invited and will be present participating in the ceremony.

Comptroller of New York Here.

Hon. E. R. L. Gould, Comptroller of New York City, and Mr. C. J. T. Gould, of Baltimore, Md., are in town, where they came to attend the wedding of their brother, Mr. Melrose Gould to Miss Smith, yesterday. During yesterday afternoon Mr. Robert Fair entertained the gentlemen to a drive around the town, visiting the lift lock, the new Cereal dam and other interesting points. They were much impressed with the lift lock, the novelty of the method of its operation interesting them greatly. They expressed themselves as being very favorably impressed with the sights which were presented to them, and thought it compared favourably with American cities of even greater size. Mr. J. L. Gould of Oshawa, father of the above gentlemen, is also staying in town.

MEETING IN COUNCIL CHAMBER

Special Citizens' Meeting to Discuss the Postal Improvements.

The meeting in the Council Chamber to-night to discuss the proposed postal improvements promises to be one of special interest. THE T. A. S. DEFEAT CAMPBELLFORD.

"Total Abstainer's" Prove too Fast for Visiting Team.

The Score 8-1 Indicates the Playing Abilities of the Teams—Good Combination and Stick Hadling.

T.A.S. II and Campbellford lacrosse teams played a game last night on the Murray street grounds, witnessed by a goodly number of enthusiasts who were inclined to be fair minded in their criticisms and good plays whether made by the home team or the visitors were applauded. The Campbellford team was a rather formidable bunch for a junior team to run up against, and that the T.A.S. were able to defeat them by a score of 8-1 is considered very creditable. Pope and Reesor, two of the Campbellford's defence players, are about as good as any in the business and it was only by the cleanest kind of combination playing that the T.A.S. penetrated the visitors' defence. The game throughout was fast and clean, but few men being ruled off, and none for serious offences. The home team was entirely outclassed in point of weight, but showed better stick-handling and combination work, which combined with the fact that they were always in the play and watched their checks closely, won them the game.

Only three periods were played, during the first the T.A.S. scored two goals by some very fast combination work. J. O'Brien located the net after taking a well placed pass, Alcott for Campbellford secured the first and only score against the locals after 10 minutes' play, another for the T.A.S. by L. McCoy, ended the scoring during this period. In the second neither team succeeded in locating the nets ,although the visitors made some fine attempts. Reesor, a number of times secured the ball and made some rushes down the field in an attempt to score, but the T.A.S. defence was impregnable, and each attempt failed.

I nthe 3rd perkod the locals added one, the trick being done by Gorham. During the last part of the game the play was confined almost entirely to the Campbellford end although an occasional break would be made and the ball travel down the field the scene of action was speedily transferred to the visitors' defence field and only by the most strenuous efforts of the visitors, was the score prevented from growing.

LAKEFIELD BOY'S CLOSE CALL

Roy Henderson has a Narrow Escape From Death.

The Lakefield News has the following: Master Roy Hendren, son of Mr. A. Hendren, had a narrow escape from being killed on Wednesday afternoon last. It appears that Roy was riding a bicycle down Reid street on his way home. Just before he reached the railway crossing, a G.T. R. engine came along, and before he could stop the wheel struck the engine between the two large driving wheels. The shock threw the young lad off the wheel, and away from the engine, which passed over the front wheel of the bicycle, smashing it completely. The escape was a very narrow one, and the young lad was badly frightened, but was not injured beyond a severe shaking up.

REPORTS OF TROUBLE ENTIRELY UNFOUNDED.

President of Machinists' Union say men are Satisfied.

Newspaper Reports Misleading—No Trouble Exists, and none is Anticipated—Plenty of Work for all Good Machinists.

A persistent effort is being made to create trouble between the labour unions in Peterborough and the employers. That this attempt is being made by those not connected with either the men or the bosses seems evident from an interview which the Examiner had with Mr. Joe Wright, who is the President of the local branch of the International Machinists' Association. An article appeared in the Toronto Globe stating that information had been gained which went to show that there was a feeling of unrest among machinists here and that trouble was anticipated in the near future, as members of the International Machinists' Association were being discharged and their places filled by members of the British Amalgamated Society of Engineers. This article was republished in some of the local papers.

Mr. Wright stated to the Examiner that the assertions made in the article referred to, are entirely erroneous. No trouble exists at the present time between the machinists and the employers, and there are no indications of trouble in the future. The members of the trade work 55 hours a week which is entirely satisfactory to them and no demand is made for shorter hours. The wages paid are also equal to those paid in any town of its size in Canada. Not only this, but, Mr. Wright states that the employers and men are in perfect harmony. The former know that a union exists and so far as the men can judge, no discrimination is made against union men in the various shops, in fact a deference for their wishes which is highly pleasing to the men, is manifested by the employers. As an illustration of this, it was stated that in a certain shop a man to whom the union took objection, applied for a position. The Superintendent, upon learning of this, and finding the objection well founded, consented to the wishes of the union.

It is true that, as the Globe states, Mr. A. H. Holmes, Canadian Vice-President of the International Machinists' Association, was in Peterborough, but on an entirely different mission from that attributed to his visit. His work here was wholly that of organizing, and only one meeting was held, which was an open meeting at which many members of the Amalgamated Society were present. Mr. Holmes was here securing members for the union and his visit had no further significance. He has no authority to order a strike, and the men have no occasion to strike as everything is satisfactory. The individual members of the two unions are working in perfect harmony and good will. There is abundance of work for all good men, and all who apply for positions who are good reliable men whether union or non-union are given employment. The men have no desire to dictate to the employers as to whom they shall engage or discharge and on the other hand, the employers recognize the right of the men to organize if they so desire, trusting to their good sense and spirit of fairness to conduct the union upon lines best calculated to produce a feeling of friendliness between employer and employee.

No good cause can be served by stirring up strife between two factors, upon the mutual good feeling of which depends to a large extent the prosperity of our country, and as Mr. Wright very sensibly said, it is soon enough to talk of trouble when it really exists, without making efforts to induce a feeling of unrest where none prevails. It is certainly most gratifying to know that the machinists refuse to be influenced by such misleading newspaper reports as have been published, and for the sake of the future progress and prosperity of the town, the manufacturers and the men themselves, it is to be hoped that the same liberal minded spirit will continue to prevail among the members of the different trades as characterizes that of the machinists.

THAT CURSE CALLED RUMOUR.

Between the Incendiary who fires neighbour's barn in secret vengence, and the Worthy who starts a "run" on a Bank with malicious gossip, there is only a technical difference.

Gossip-with-a-purpose has too often been used to stab character and to wreck fortunes, and it is a great pity the law cannot better reach those who employ such intangible and insidious methods to achieve their ends.

Scarcely any enterprise, or individual, no matter how deserving, is safe from the subtle daggers of the Gossip-monger, and human nature so loves a morsel of such "news" that it can be relied upon to "push along" a rumour when once it has been judiciously started.

A vivid illustration of the gross injustice such a rumour can do is seen in the "Force" Food Company's advertisement of this date, wherein a reward of $5,000 is offered for the conviction of the parties who initiated the suggestion that "Force" was drugged.

A further offer of $5,000 for evidence that a single package of the fifty million sold contained anything except Wheat, Barley and Table Salt is, of course, a complete refutation of the rumour, even if the State Supervision of Foods was not in itself ample protection.

People who love fair play in business, as well as in other matters, will read with indignation that it has cost The "Force" Food Company over $50,000 to publish a refutation of this "rumour" in the newspapers of the United States and Canada, and, probably, as much more in loss of sales resulting from the baseless gossip which did the harm.

The absurdity of the rumour is apparent when it is known that the public has consumed fifty million packages of "Force" without a single instance of any ill effect upon anyone of the users.

The "Force" Co. are evidently suffering the usual penalty for success.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 35c and 20c.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Jas. White of Otonabee cut off in Prime of Womanhood.

The death occurred yesterday in Otonabee of Elizabeth Mary Moore, the late wife of Mr. Jas. White, at the age of 26 years. It is a sad cutting off of a young and promising life, and Mr. White has the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends in his bereavement. The deceased lady had been married but four years and leaves, besides her husband, two children, the eldest fourteen months old, the second an infant, for which she gave her young life.

The funeral will take place tomorrow at two o'clock, from the family residence, lot 30, concession 1, Otonabee, to the Westwood cemetery.

Not only will Mrs. White be missed from the home which she had made bright and happy by her presence, but in the entire community a severe loss will be felt. She was before her home duties prevented, a very zealous and efficient worker in the Presbyterian church, and many had learned to love her for her many admirable qualities

Two Year old Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Collinson Died on Wednesday.

Little Delmear Fleming Collinson, the two year old son, and only child, of Mr. and Mrs. J. Collinson, of 205 King street, was called home on Wednesday, after an illness of only one day's duration, his death being due to convulsions. The little lad was a very bright and pretty child and his loss is very severely felt by his almost heart-broken parents, to whom he was a joy. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery, and the sorrowing father and mother are left to mourn the loss of the little lad who had brought so much pleasure into their lives.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Last night the Rachel Lewis Company who, owing to the fact that there is no opera house in Peterborough, had to perform under canvas, presented "Little Miss Nobody," a comedy drama in three acts.

The company had to play under extreme disadvantages, as it was unable to use any of its own scenery, and the actors and actresses had to make shift as best they could with the stage, if it can be so called, which visibly shook. Notwithstanding all this, however, the performance was a good one, and one which appealed to the audience, judging from the amount of applause with which it was greeted from beginning to end.

Miss Rachel Lewis, in the role of "Little Miss Nobody," displayed, as she ever does, her artistic talent, as did the remainder of the players.

A feature of the evening was the playing of the accompanist, Mr. Ernest Hyde, whose rendition of popular music, showed him to be a musician of no mean standing. The fingering in many difficult passages he accomplished with transparent ease and cleverness, and, it is felt, scored a distinct success.

It is understood that this evening the company, which avoids plays of a vulgar nature, will present one of its most successful pieces.

CONCILIATION OFFERED.

Proceedings in the Senate and House of Commons and in Various Important Committees on Thursday.

Ottawa, July 24.—In reply to Mr. R. L. Borden yesterday, Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised to lay on the table of the House at its next sitting a letter he had received from Sir William Van Horne declining the chairmanship of the Railway Commission.

In reply to the charge made in the stock speculation debate the other day that Mr. Henri Bourassa had been put up by the Government to kill time, Mr. Bourassa said he acted in good faith and on his own initiative.

Conciliation Offered.

Mr. Ralph Smith asked if the Minister of Labor had had representations made to him regarding the moulders' strike in Toronto. He understood the importation of men from the Old Country had aggravated the trouble.

Sir Wm. Mulock in reply repeated his statement of last evening, that no application had been made to the Department of Labor by either party to the trouble for conciliation or intervention. Suggestions having been made in the House last night that the department should intervene, the services of the department had been offered to each party to the trouble, but whether the offer would be accepted or not time only would tell. The member for Winnipeg, however, stated in the House last night that the Canada Foundry Co. were not free agents in the matter, and could not withdraw from their position without the consent of the American organization." If that were the case, he did not know whether the company would be free to accept the services of the department.

Mr. Fisher's bill respecting the inspection of seeds was taken up in committee of the House.

The Indian estimates were passed and those for the Yukon were taken up. After having passed all the items for the Yukon, the House adjourned at 12.15.

Mr. Tarte Takes Responsibility.

Ottawa, July 24.—The Committee on Privileges and Elections commenced this morning an inquiry into the charges made by Mr. F. D. Monk in the House of Commons Wednesday respecting the purchase of a site for a postoffice at Valleyfield of property owned by the sitting member, Mr. Geo. Loy.

Mr. Tarte testified. While Minister of Public Works, he decided to purchase Mr. Loy's property without that gentleman's knowledge. Accordingly, he instructed Mr. Dandurand, a real estate broker at Valleyfield, to purchase the lot, but to conceal from Mr. Loy the fact that the Government was the purchaser. In order to accomplish this effectually, Mr. Dandurand purchased the property through a third party named R. B. Johnston, who, Mr. Tarte said, was an entire stranger to him. The price paid, $10,000, was not, he thought, unreasonable, and the Government could make money out of the purchase to-day if the lot was sold. As far as his knowledge went, Mr. Loy had no idea of the identity of the purchaser. In taking this course, Mr. Tarte said he believed that he was in no way rendering Mr. Loy amenable to the provisions of the independence of Parliament act, as he was an innocent party to the transaction.

The committee will meet again this morning, when Mr. Loy will be heard.

The Redistribution Bill.

The Redistribution Committee held a final meeting last night. The proceedings were purely formal. Some minor corrections were made, and the schedules were put in shape for the bill, which will be shortly submitted to the House.

Mr. Borden moved an amendment to the schedule approved by the Liberal majority on the committee for each province. These amendments were declared lost.

Postoffice Bill Passed.

Ottawa, July 24.—In the Senate yesterday the bill to amend the Postoffice Act and the city of Ottawa bill were read a third time and passed.

CHIEF JUSTICE KILLAM.

Head of the King's Bench in Manitoba Selected For Appointment as Supreme Court Judge.

Ottawa, July 24. — Mr. A. B. Aylesworth being averse to accepting a Judgeship, it is understood that Chief Justice A. C. Killam of Manitoba will be appointed to succeed the late Justice Armour on the Supreme Court Bench. The west has been pressing for representation in the Supreme Court for some time past, and apparently the movement is about to meet with success. The judiciary of the west could not have a better representative than Chief Justice Killam. He is a wise, upright and clever Judge, and his urbane and courteous manners render him extremely popular with the Bar and also with the general public.

BULGARIAN REVOLUTION.

Four Assassinations in Prince Ferdinand's Palace Guard.

Vienna, July 24.—The Stampa and other Belgrade papers publish rumors of a revolution in Bulgaria, and that Prince Ferdinand, on the advice of his Government, is about to flee, or has fled to Belgrade. Thus far the rumors have not been officially confirmed. It is said at Belgrade that there have been four assassinations, mostly of soldiers on duty in Prince Ferdinand's palace guard.

BALFOUR'S DEFENCE

Government Has an Open Mind on the Fiscal Question.

PUT THE COLONIES FIRST.

And End Disabilities Under Which They Suffer—Duke of Devonshire Declares Chamberlain's Impeachment of Fiscal Policy Well-Founded and Advocates Changes — "Our Ally Japan Uneasy."

London, July 24.—The educational campaign on the tariff question, which Colonial Secretary Chamberlain has vigorously launched by means of leaflets and circulars issued under his supervision, though not bearing his name, came in for serious criticism in the House of Lord yesterday afternoon.

Earl Spencer, the Liberal leader in that House, complained that Mr. Chamberlain, was practically violating the Government agreement, namely, that the fiscal discussion should be postponed until October. He said the distribution of such literature looked on its face as though the Government had taken up Mr. Chamberlain's views. Earl Spencer added that if Mr. Chamberlain remained in the Cabinet it would be almost impossible to disassociate his views from the policy of the Government as a whole.

The Duke of Devonshire, Lord President of the Council, and Conservative leader in the House, retorted that while he gathered from the remarks that the Premier ought to tell Mr. Chamberlain to resign, he feared this was a rather illogical procedure, since though the Government had by no means yet adopted the views of the Colonial Secretary, the Government's investigation, so far as it had proceeded, had convinced the Premier and his colleagues that Mr. Chamberlain's impeachment of the fiscal policy was well founded, and that changes ought to be effected.

Puts Colonies First.

When the House of Commons was in committee yesterday on the Foreign Office vote, Sir Charles Dilke (Advanced Radical) assailed the foreign policy of the Government.

In the course of his reply, the Under Foreign Secretary, Lord Cranborne, denied that Great Britain was getting the worst of it in Manchuria, where, he said, Great Britain recognized the open door policy. Referring to the Canadian tariff question, Lord Cranborne said they must put their own colonies first, and an end must be put at once to the disabilities under which they suffered.

In reply to Joseph Walton, Lord Cranborne said: "Our ally, Japan, is becoming uneasy at the prolongation of the occupation of Manchuria, and we are equally anxious for some kind of a settlement. There are certain elements out of which an agreement ought to be possible, and if Russia is prepared to give due weight to our treaty rights and commercial interests, she will not find us irreconcilable to the compromise."

Premier Defends Chamberlain.

Addressing the Primrose League at a dinner last night, at the Hotel Cecil, Premier Balfour warmly defended Colonial Secretary Chamberlain against unreasonable attacks, because he had given expression to the views of the colonies on the fiscal questions.

Mr. Balfour reiterated his previous statement, that the Government approached the question with an open mind, and said it was folly to expect the Ministry on a moment's notice to produce a formulated scheme on such a great subject.

First Reading in Lords.

London, July 24.—The Irish land bill passed its first reading in the House of Lords yesterday. The second reading was fixed for August 3.

UNDER THE SOUTHERN CROSS.

Death of a Daughter of Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere.

Peterboro, July 24.—Word was received in town Wednesday morning of the death of Mrs. Greenwood, which occurred at Johannesburg, South Africa, on July 14, of pneumonia. The deceased lady was the daughter of Sir Henry Joly ds Lotbiniere, Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, and she resided in Peterborp for a couple of years, before leaving to join her husband, who had gone to fight the battles of the Empire in South Africa.

French Fisheries Suffer.

St. John's, Nfld., July 24.—The failure of the French fisheries on the Grand Banks this season has been the worst for a decade. Many large vessels returned not a quarter filled, and the average of the fleet was hardly half a catch. Fifteen vessels were lost, two foundering with their entire crews. The outlook at St. Pierre is most distressing.

Wholesale Car Robbery.

Niagara Falls, July 24.—Warrants were issued last evening for the arrest of twenty more New York Central Railroad clerks as the result of the robbing of freight cars on the Central road early Wednesday morning. Five clerks pleaded guilty and implicated many more.

TURKS TRIED TO STARVE HIM.

Professor Tenekjian Is Not Likely to Survive Tortures.

Boston, July 23.—Word was received by the American Board of Foreign Missions yesterday that Prof. Tenkojian of the Euphrates College, inmured in a Turkish prison, is not likely to survive the tortures and privations to which he has been subjected. The Turks, it is said, have been trying to starve him into confessing that American missionaries are plotting against the Sultan's life, but he had nothing to confess, and could not satisfy them. He is so stricken by the tortures that he is likely to die before he can be reached by Consul Norton at Harpoot and have a trial. The interference of the State Department has resulted in the admission of American missionaries to the prison, and they have tried to cheer him. The other members of the Euphrates faculty are alarmed for their own safety.

IS IT PREJUDICE?

That Makes you Suffer From Dyspepsia When Others Tell you Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Cure it, Sure.

"I have always had very strong objections to patent medicines, but the cures of Dyspepsia by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are wonderful. For two years my life had been a burden. I could not take the simplest food without having a pain across the stomach. Doctors did me no good. One box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets completely cured me. The Dyspepsia has never come back."

This in brief is the statement of Maria Ann Bujold, of Maria Cap, Bonaventure County, Quebec. Does it not strike home to you? Are not your prejudices against the so-called "patent" medicines causing you misery? Can't you overcome your prejudice and your Dyspepsia at the same time?

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will assuredly cure any case of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. They will digest the food themselves, giving the stomach a chance to rest and return to its normal condition.

Thomas Hancock, eight years old, was struck by a piece of shafting blown from a wrecked building which completely severed his head from his body. One house was blown down, more than a score of buildings were unroofed, and havoc was done to trees, fences, signs and awnings. At St. Joseph's Hospital the patients were thrown into a panic.

Saskatoon, N. W. T., July 23.—Hugh McIntyre, foreman of the bridge gang of the Canadian Northern Railway, was accidentally crushed and instantly killed by the falling of some timbers in a scow which he was building.

DANGER SIGNALS.

No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. What the danger was he might not understand, but he would take no chances. It is different with the average man or woman. They attempt constantly to run by the danger signals of Nature and that attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the appetite becomes irregular or entirely gives out, when sleep is troubled and broken, when there is a loss of flesh, when there is a constant feeling of dullness and languor, Nature is hoisting the danger signal. The stomach and its allied organs are failing in their work and the body is losing the nutrition on which its strength depends.

Such a condition calls for the prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh.

"Your kindness to me I can never forget," writes Mrs. Josie E. Clark, of Enterprise, Shelby Co., Mo. "I cannot express half my feelings of gratefulness to you. I had despaired of ever getting well. I had been in bad health for twelve years. Had aches all through me, numb hands, cold feet, and everything I ate distressed me; bowels constipated, was very nervous, depressed and despondent. In fact, I can't express half my bad feelings to you. When I first wrote to you I thought I could never be cured. I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and my health is now good. You have my honest recommendation to all sufferers. I think there is no medicine in the world as good as Dr. Pierce's."

If constipated use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They cure constipation, biliousness and sick headache. They do not produce the "pill habit."

Toronto, July 24th, 1903, 1.00 p. m. — The worst wave of liquidation since the downward movement commenced, struck the market at the opening this morning. The entire list was affected, but Penna., C.P.R., N.Y.C. and Atchison and several others did not break so badly as the rest. There was heavy selling for Boston, where the failure of Norcross Bros. made a scare.

A.C.P. and R.I. made a new low record. T.C.I., C.F.I. and Sloss were particularly weak, the last named on Canadian selling. The hot weather in the west was deemed by good judges to be just what the corn crop needed.

Wall Street is trying to find out who is doing the selling, and several prominent names are mentioned.

But the selling is general; banks and commission houses calling loans and customers by wholesale and selling stocks regardless of price. In times of such demoralization, such stocks may be bought for a turn but profits should be taken on next rally.

McMILLAN & MAGUIRE.

UNCLE SAM'S NEGROES.

Over 9,000,000 black skinned people are now living in the United States. They have about doubled in numbers since Abraham Lincoln signed the emancipation proclamation. Counting in the dark-skinned inhabitants of Uncle Sam's insular possessions, 18,500,000 coloured people are living under the Stars and Stripes.

The negro population of the United States own more property than is generally supposed. Nearly four per cent. of the total assessable property of Virginia belongs to them. In Georgia alone they are assessed on $15,000,000 worth of property. Of the 1,400,000 heads of coloured families in the entire country in 1900, 261,000 or nearly one-fifth of them all, own the houses and farms on which they live, where forty years ago they did not own even their own persons.

In forty years more, if they go on increasing as they have done since 1863, there will be about 20,000,000 of coloured people in the United States, not counting those in the islands.

THE LATEST NEWS OF LOCAL SPORT.

Shall Lacrosse be Semi-Professionalized? is the Question.

Comments of Belleville Press on Lacrosse Game—Flaherty won Game for Lindsay.

LACROSSE.

Mr. "Rod" Finlayson, the well-known defence player of the Shamrocks, of Montreal, was in town yesterday, and was taken in hand by several T.A.S. men. Mr. Finlayson, who was on his way home from Toronto, stopped over in town for no other purpose than to entice Will Crowley to Montreal, as a recruit for the Shamrocks ranks. He expressed his opinion that from what the club had learned of Crowley, with good training and more experience he would prove a valuable man for the Irishmen next season. "Billy" is at present in Montreal, and "Rod" Finlayson left for that city yesterday.

• • • •

Reesor, who played last night on the Campbellford twelve, is an old player. He figured on the Markham aggregation and other well-known teams, and in a contest at one time with the Tecumseh-Elms he had his cheek bone broken. He bears the marks of the accident yet.

• • • •

The Elms, who play T.A.S. to-morrow afternoon on the Murray street grounds, have several good men on their line up, and intend putting up a stiff fight with the locals.

• • • •

Fred Pope, who plays point for the Campbellford team, gives promise of being one of the best players this district ever produced. He is cool and steady in his position and his style of playing reminds one of Fred Lynch.

• • • •

The Lindsay team have received word that the first game of the semi-finals in the C.L.A. junior series will be played in Lindsay on Aug. 7th, the opposing team being the fast Orillia boys.

• • • •

The Belleville Ontario commenting on the Belleville-Athletic game says: "The game was too one-sided to be very interesting, as the vistors displayed superiority over the home team at almost every point. The locals were deficient in combination work, especially in covering the goal, and their shooting was below the average. The boys, however, contested the game stubbornly, but their best work was unavailing against the steady and comparatively cool combination work of the boys in blue, who as a general rule were on hand when needed.

Those who saw the game, state that the Belleville team played a better game on their home grounds than they did on the occasion of their visit to Peterborough.

• • • •

The Athletics are a fine lot of boys, and took away with them the respect and good wishes of Belleville people.—Intelligencer.

• • • •

This morning the "Examiner" received a letter from one signing himself "Inquirer," asking how many games the Senior T.A.S. lacrosse team has played with Port Hope.

Two exhibition games have been played this year between Port Hope and the T.A.S. both of which unfortunately ending in the defeat of the local team, on the first occasion by a score of 4 goals to 2 and on the second by 6 to 5 goals.

• • • •

The advisability of admitting semi-professionalism in lacrosse will be considered at a special meeting of the Board of Governors of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, to be held in Montreal a week from to-day. This is a result of a communication from the National Amateur Lacrosse Union to the C.A.A.U., and is the outcome of Mr. Foran's attempt to have the lacrosse body adopt a measure to limited professionalism. And as far as senior lacrosse goes it begins to look as if they might cut off the "semi" and make it purely professional.—Telegram.

• • • •

If Port Hope could get their team together for a few good practices they should give Brantford a great game Saturday. The Ontarios have the material all right. They demonstrated that when they led St. Kitts for half the journey and only got beaten by a single goal right in the Garden City. But teams that practice at distances ranging from 25 to 60 miles apart, are liable to make an in-and-out team. They may do well in Brantford and they may not. And in the meantime the lacrosse world is wishing them all kinds of luck.—Telegram.

The Peterborough Golf Club will send a team to Toronto to-morrow to play a game with the Toronto club. The following players will represent Peterborough: Messrs. Hamilton, Burnham, Lawrence, Ray, capt., Burnett, R. Neill, McGill, A. H. Stratton.

CITIZENS SPEAK IN FAVOUR OF DELIVERY.

Representative Meeting to Discuss Postal Improvements.

FREE DELIVERY A BOON TO WORKINGMEN

Resolution Asking Council to Urge Upon Postmaster-General Claims of Town for Free Delivery Unanimously Supported.

In response to a petition signed by 500 citizens of Peterborough, Mayor Roger called a meeting last night in which to discuss the need of providing improved and enlarged postal facilities for the town. The meeting was held in the Council Chamber and was well attended, the room being filled with an intelligent company of citizens, who evidently knew what they wanted and knew how to express their wants. The chair was taken by the Mayor, who in opening explained his action in calling the meeting. He was pleased to preside over a citizens' meeting, in which a free expression of the opinions of those present would be welcomed. The following resolution was presented and its adoption moved by Mr. C. B. Robertson and seconded by Mr. R. E. Layfield:—

"Whereas the present postal facilities in Peterborough are inadaquate and inefficient to meet the needs of the citizens and;

"Whereas in the opinion of this meeting the growth and development of the town in industry and population, demand that a free mail delivery be inaugurated. Be it therefore resolved that we, the citizens of Peterborough in mass meeting assembled, hereby call upon the Mayor and Council to take the necessary steps to have the matter brought to the attention of the Postmaster-General and urge upon him the advisability and necessity of initiating the changes herein suggested."

Mr. Robertson in presenting the resolution said that the meeting was composed principally of those who lived at some distance from the post office, and who had a practical knowledge of the necesity for the establishment of a free delivery. He said it was most difficult for men who had to work 10 hours a day to obtain their mail, and referred particularly to the difficulty the men employed at the works of the C.G.E. Co., (of whom there were nearly 900) experienced in getting mail. On a Saturday afternoon it is an almost impossible feat to get even near the single wicket and he himself had found it necessary to wait half an hour for mail. He thought it was time such conditions were improved. Peterborough was a progressive and growing town and has a large floating population, who have no other means of getting their mail than through the general delivery at the office. The post office receipts for Peterborough last year amounted to $22,000 and the expenditure about $8,000, probably, thus it could be seen that the Government was reaping a considerable revenue from this office and could well afford to spend the amount required to conduct a street delivery, and meet not only the wishes, but the needs of the people. He said that the merchants of Peterborough do not represent the people of the town. They represent a certain few who are depending for sustenance upon the citizens, if it were not for whom the merchant would not cut any considerable figure in town. The citizens had a right to be shown some consideration by those in authority. Questions had frequently been brought up which the merchants had said were not in their interests, the result being that they had opposed them and their opposition had had its effect. In this case the speaker thought that the wishes of the majority of the people should govern.

PEOPLE SHOULD BE CONSULTED.

Mr. R. E. Layfield expresses his pleasure in seconding the resolution. The question had been very freely discussed during the few weeks in which it had been before the public by the Retail Merchants' Association and other organizations. All were agreed that the situation of the post office facilities must be relieved, and the question is, should that relief be denied the great bulk of the population for the sake of about 300 who represented the members of the opposition. The meeting was a representative one and its decisions should carry considerable weight. The people must be heard and they wished the Council to rescind the action of a few interested parties, and grant what the people requested—a free delivery. The claim had been made that if a free delivery were given it would result in an additional expense to the merchants of the town. Mr. Layfield did not think this would be the case to the extent claimed, and, if any expense were added the people generally would have to bear their share of it as a merchant always adds his expense account to the selling price of his goods. The opponents of a free delivery had stated that the doubling of the drop letter rate would mean that in some instances merchants would be compelled to pay $100 per year additional for postage. Mr. Layfield pointed out that this would mean 10,000 letters at one cent each, and he doubted if any retail merchant in town sent out that number of letters in one year. He expressed his pleasure at being able to second the resolution, as he considered the improvements which it advocated decidedly in the interests of the people generally. He thought that a strong deputation should be sent to interview the Government and, to use his own words, "Talk straight from the shoulder." Mr. Layfield's remarks were frequently applauded, and it was evident that the majority of those present fully endorsed his words.

PETERBOROUGH'S IMPORTANCE DEMANDS IT.

Lieut.-Colonel Miller following Mr. Layfield, said he was pleased and gratified, that the council had given this important matter their consideration and had asked the opinion of the citizens of the town. The groundwork of the resolution suited him to a nicety. The change suggested in it is right in line with the advance citywards which the town is taking. That there was opposition to it was no surprise to him, because every improvement had opponents. When gas was first talked of for illuminating purposes people opposed it because they said it would be too expensive. The same was true of electricity, granolithic walks, etc., but they had all materialized and are now necessities. The same would be true of free postal delivery. Peterborough is riding upon the crest of a wave citywards, and no opposition can stop her progress. Free postal delivery is a necessity of city life, and the time is ripe for its inauguration here. This is a movement which will be a decided benefit to the general public and he said that while the opinions of those opposed to the measure should be respected, it would not do to help the few at the expense of the many. He regretted that by the institution of a delivery system some merchants would have to pay an additional amount for postage, but he thought that a system which should be such a great boon to so many should not be denied because of the fact that a few would be called upon to pay a little extra. Any one who will go to the post office and sees the crush which surrounds the single wicket cannot help recognizing the great need which exists for some radical improvement. He hoped that strong representations would be made to the Government, and that the delivery should be established.

THE PEOPLE DEMAND IT.

Mr. C. F. McGill was next speaker, and he, like those preceding, was entirely in favour of the inauguration of the delivery system. He said that until coming to Peterborough he had always been accustomed to a delivery, and he felt that if the system were once put in force here the citizens to a man would not revert to the old plan of calling for their mail, and, particularly, with such a manifestly inadequate post office building as that which Peterborough boasts. He thought there was one phase of the matter which perhaps the merchants in their opposition to the proposal had overlooked. He thought that it surely was important to a business man when he sent out a letter to have it delivered promptly, which would be the case were the delivery plan adopted. This was a progressive move, and it was bound to come; he thought it a mistake for any business man to oppose it, as it was evident that the very great majority of the residents of the town were in favour of it. He stated that in the State of New York, not only in the cities and towns were there free deliveries, but rural delivery had been established, and had proven successful. Opposition must be expected to this proposal, even as electric light and water works had met with opposition, but he thought that the wish of the majority of the people should be complied with. Speaking of the number of deliveries, he said that he had no doubt that that matter would readily adjust itself, and that the delivery would be adequate. He felt safe in making the assertion that four to one of the people were in favour of a delivery.

A voice — "Yes, a hundred to one."

"CORNER GROCERY" METHODS OBSOLETE.

The speaker following Mr. McGill was Mr. A. B. Cunningham, and he presented an able plea for the proposed improvement. He said that he thought all the ratepayers appreciated the action of the council in seeking to obtain an expression of opinion from the different sections of the community. He had been disappointed though in the attitude which the majority of the business men had taken on this question. One would naturally expect men of business to be public spirited, but upon reading the reports of the speeches given by the merchants at the meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association, he had failed to find one which exhibited a public spirited feeling. Mr. Cunningham said that he considered the claims of the one class, and for the community to one class, and for thec ommunity to be denied what was such an almost inestimable advantage would, he thought, be bordering ona n outrage. He understood that when the matter had first been talked about nearly all the merchants were in favour of the delivery, but later there had been what he characterized a stampede amongst them, which, he considered, indicated a decided lack of progressiveness. This was an essentially industrial town, and was not composed of men who had plenty of leisure time. Men were busy and could not afford the time necessary to go to the post office, and wait the length of time necessary to be supplied with their mail. He closed a practical speech by saying that "corner grocery" methods should not be allowed to rule the destinies of a growing and wide-awake town like Peterborough.

GREATEST GOOD TO GREATEST NUMBER.

Mr. J. W. Bennet, who followed, said on rising, that he would like to add a few words to those already spoken in advocating the free street delivery of mail. He said that there were a number of reasons why such a system should be inaugurated. The first was that if it were adopted the proposed post office enlargements would then be unnecessary. The present building would be of ample capacity to handle the business for some time to come. Free delivery, he said, must come some time, and he was of the opinion, as evidently the majority of those present were, that the time was now. It would give the town a modern and progressive appearance, which he thought, would be beneficial to the town, as it would impress visitors, and especially those having capital to invest, that these people were prosperous. It would also be a God-send to the army of working man and women to whom it was a positive hardship to have to submit to the present state of affairs. By a conservative estimate, 6,000 people would be benefited by the establishment of a delivery, whereas there are but in the neighbourhood of 300 business men who would be at all injuriously affected. This was a proportion of twenty to one, and he thought that the rule, "The greatest good to the greatest number," should govern. He considered that to oppose a plan which was so obviously in the interests of the general public was not only short-sighted, but selfish.

BUSINESS VIEW EXPRESSED.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin was the next speaker, and he expressed his views, looking at the matter from the standpoint of the business man. He said that there were two classes that were affected; those who received a number of letters, and sent but few, these would be in favour of a delivery; and the other class, who both received and sent a great many letters. These were opposed to the institution of a delivery. "Free" postal delivery, was a misnomer. The proposition made was not free; on the other hand it would make those who used the mails the most pay double. If a delivery were to be instituted which woud be free to all classes, he felt sure that the merchants would heartily support it, but he thought it hardly fair to accuse the merchants of being selfish. The citizens who had everything to gain and nothing to lose, naturally were in favour of what would probably be somewhat of an advantage to them, but the business men would be called upon to bear the greater burden of cost and it would be no advantage to them.

AN ALDERMAN'S OPINION.

Alderman McWilliams followed, and as a member of the town council, said that he was glad that the citizens had asked for this meeting. He thought it a good thing to have a thorough discussion of the different aspects of the question. He was sorry however to hear attacks made against the merchants as a class. They were, he thought, not deserving of the charge of unprogressiveness which had been made against them. He had been making enquiries at the post office with a view of ascertaining to what extent the free delivery would affect the town and found that the revenue of one cent stamps amounted to about one-sixth of the entire revenue oft be local office, which for this year will be about $25,000, so that he had come to the conclusion that to institute a delivery system would add about $3,000 to the amount which the business men would have to have each year. The question, he said, is, is it worth $3,000 a year for delivery?

A voice—"Yes, it is."

Mr. McWilliams said he did not wish to be misunderstood; he was not advocating either one system or the other, but simply trying to present the matter in a fair light. No one could say that the post office facilities here were entirely adequate, and some change must be made which will relieve the situation. If the present system is retained two or three wickets will have to be given; a double entrance and an increased number of street boxes will also be necessities. In any case, he said, any enlargement made to the building will be but a temporary relief, as it is only a matter of a short time until a delivery will have to be provided, and the opposition presented now will always be in evidence, only in an aggravated form. He had felt that the town should urge some substantial improvement upon the Government, but he was not prepared to say just what form the improvement should take.

A LITTLE DISCUSSION.

Mr. McGill, speaking again, said he understood it was the custom of the Post Office Department to give a free delivery to a town when the revenue reached $20,000. If this were true he thought Peterborough had every encouragement to ask for the delivery.

Mr. Adam Dawson added his advocacy of the proposed improvement. He said that he considered it one of the best moves the people of the town had ever taken, and he was surprised that there should have been any opposition taken to it. He thought it high time that the citizens should rule, and not the merchants, who were now bearing less than their share of the financial burden of the town. Mr. Dawson's speech was frequently applauded, and showed that his views coincided with those of his hearers.

Mr. Layfield, when asked if he wished to reply to any of the arguments in favour of a continuance of the present system, said that he had not heard any good arguments presented against free delivery.

Mayor Roger said that he had been pleased with the clear cut way in which the matter had been discussed, and could assure them that the deputation which the council would send to Ottawa would endeavour to represent the citizens generally.

Mr. Layfield, replying, said he felt that if the deputation was not prepared to urge upon the Post Master General and the Government the claims of the delivery proposal the meeting should appoint a deputation which would represent the views of those who were so strongly in favour of free delivery. He thought the council should take the responsibility and decide which of the two classes had presented the strongest arguments and decide accordingly.

Mr. Dawson said, amidst applause, that he could guarantee the Mayor that ninety per cent. of the citizens were strongly in favour of the improvement, as suggested by the speakers at the meeting.

The Mayor again assured the meeting of the interest of the council, and declared that the deputation appointed by it would do its utmost to secure the very best thing for the town.

The resolution on being put to a vote, was supported unanimously, thus indicating unmistakably the attitude of at least that portion of the citizens.

Young Mothers

Young married women must remember that the experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation.

A capable mother must be a healthy mother; the birth of the first child is an especially trying experience, and nature needs all the help it can get. Correct and practical counsel is of the most vital importance to the would-be mother. Mrs. Pinkham's advice at such times, together with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have guided many a young woman through this trying experience with the happiest possible results. Her advice is that of a mother with an experience with thousands of such cases, and given entirely free.

By special permission we publish the following three letters, showing the absolute necessity of proper care and advice at the time of maternity. That of Mrs. Sexton illustrates the dangers of maternity. That of Mrs. Hanson the suffering during the period; and that of Mrs. Massey the troubles that may beset a young mother after child-birth; and they all illustrate the wonderful value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Mrs. Lilie Sexton, Ashland, Ky., Boyd Co., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wrote to you in Sept., 1900. I had been married two years and had two miscarriages, one at six months and one at seven. My organs were very weak. You advised me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I began at once and used 13 bottles.

"In June, 1901, I again expected to become a mother, and now I have a fine baby girl, two months' old. I took the Compound all the time during pregnancy. I cannot praise your remedies enough."

Mrs. Karianna Hanson, Box 343, Worthington, Minn., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to send you my sincere thanks for your kind advice and for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and your letter of advice have done me.

"When I wrote you I did not see a well day. I was to become a mother, and had headache, dizziness, poor appetite, was nervous, had pains and cramps in abdomen and swollen feet.

"After following your advice I soon began to feel better. When I had taken four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt real well. My baby when three months' old weighed over twenty pounds.

"I cannot praise your wonderful medicine enough, and would advise all suffering women to write to you and use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. M. M. Massey, Sulphur Springs, Texas, says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I will tell you what I think about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I think it is a wonderful medicine. I believe it saved my life.

"When one of my children was just five weeks old I took a set-back and came near dying. I was in bed two weeks. The doctor attended me about a week and I got no better. My bowels would nearly kill me at times, only easy when under the influence of opiates. It seemed at times there were knots in my bowels as large as my fist. I had such pain in my left side. I suffered as much as I did when my baby was born.

"I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound one evening, and by the next day I was nearly easy. I will always praise your medicine."

Surely such endorsement should dispel doubt from the minds of all hesitating women. After reading such letters, if any woman is willing to remain sick, we can only say it is her own fault and she deserves to suffer; for the medicine that has benefited these women and a hundred thousand others will surely help you.

THE END OF MONOPOLY.

(The News.)

We have from time to time drawn attention in these columns to the general air of distrust with which economists regard the inflated capitalization of recent years. It has been pointed out that enterprises have been capitalized on the basis of the profits of a series of exceptionally good years, and that the only theory upon which such figuring can be defended is that a monopolistic trust is not subject to lean years. This is a rather large assumption. There are few even of the best-organized monopolies, which can, when raw materials go up and credits become dear, compel the public to take their product at a proportionately increased price. Competition at such times assumes a wider sweep. The monopoly may have crushed every other producer of its own line of goods; but in the lean year competition comes from a broader circle; it comes from anything that will entice the public's limited money away from your own till. Almost any product to-day is liable to be cut out by a "substitute." Any product is liable to have its consumption cut down enormously in a time of stringency. And it must be remembered that even the stricter class of competition, that of the rival producer of the same article, can seldom be permanently killed, and that the bigger the weight of water capital the concern is carrying, the more inviting it is to attack.

The great middle class are looked to by Mr. James B. Dill, who, as a prominent corporation lawyer, cannot be dismissed as an anti-capitalist crank, to take action eventually to check combination on both sides of them. For, while capital is milking off the profits of monopoly on one hand, labour is endeavouring to do precisely the same thing with its own commodity on the other—to erect a complete monopoly of a given class of skill, and to proceed to exact for its use the uttermost farthing. "We shall have legislation, if nothing worse," says Mr. Dill. If by the "worse" he means anarchy, we may hope that in Canada at least we shall escape that possibility. He may, however, mean merely a natural financial process, resulting from failure of the attempt to maintain monopoly. Of that we are likely to have our full share. Unfortunately the innocent will suffer with the guilty. Forced liquidation of the enormous excess of capital in the trusts would involve in the crash not merely the millions of the promoter, but the small savings of the widow.

LATEST FASHION NOTES.

GOWNS SHOWING INCRUSTATIONS OF VENISE.

In addition to the collars of Venise or Irish lace, the tendency is to appliques and incrustations. This latter form of trimming is introduced on a gown of hydrangea blue voile, displaying the popular mutton-leg sleeve. Incrusations of white Venise in floral pattern add richness and beauty to both skirt and bodice. The stitching at the head of the plaits, which vary the sleeve and skirt, is done with Corticelli stitching silk. The rounding neck is a feature of late designs for warm days.

We shall not entirely depend on Irish lace or whole dresses this year. There is a coarse make of thick lace, between Cluny, Maltese and Yak, which is adapted to the same purpose. Chiffon is employed much for evening gowns, and one of its adapted uses is as a bridal veil, seen on the Continent, but not as yet here. It is a material that lends itself to soft bouillonnes and infinitesimal tuckings. Tulle blends best with silver for evening wear and tassels fall everywhere.

ORCHARDISTS MUST ORGANIZE TO SELL.

Good Advice to Fruit Growers by Mr. W. A. McKinnon.

A New Blight Which Affects Fruit Trees in Ontario—Best Methods of Dealing With it.

The English merchant does not like to handle small lots and experimental packages, says Mr. W. A. McKinnon, Chief of the Fruit Division, Ottawa. He wants thousands of barrels, all uniform in quality, variety, packing and package. This uniformity, however, cannot be secured where packing is done in small quantities in orchards. The time has arrived in the history of the apple trade in Canada, when large packing houses must be the order of the day. Whether these large packing houses are controlled by co-operative associations or by capitalists who have a knowledge of the apple business, is a matter of comparative indifference. It does, however ,seem quite possible for intelligent growers to unite in co-operative associations, and secure all the advantages that accrue to the capitalist, as well as those that come by packing in large quantities. These store houses are not necessarily expensive buildings. They should be frost-proof and large enough to accommodate the full crop of the patrons. It is not at all difficult to get plans that have worked well in other parts of the country. The aim should be to secure as large a quantity of good stock as possible, to grade it uniformly, mark it honestly, according to the requirements of the Fruit Marks Act, and sell through any medium that may offer the greatest advantages. There is not the slightest doubt that if such an association were formed in any of the fruit districts, and such a packing house established, it would attract buyers from every market, and the apples could be sold for spot cash. It is sincerely to be hoped that the good business men among the apple growers will take this into their serious consideration. It is not merely a question whether their own apples will be sold at the proper figure or not. They should be, even for their own sakes, deeply interested in the sale of their neighbors' apples. A careful analysis of the conditions of the trade will show that prices in fruit especially are often sadly depressed for the want of selling ability on the part of the small grower. It therefore behooves the more intelligent and larger grower, to interest himself in the fruit of his less fortunate neighbor.

Apple Blight.

A number of reports from widely separated districts, complaining of the ravages of the apple blight, have been received by the Fruit Division, Ottawa. Mr. Peter Anderson, Hepworth, Ont., thus describes the situation in his locality:—"Apples, both early and winter, are suffering from a new disease here. A blight struck the blossoms when in full bloom and withered them as if they had been scorched by fire. It is now withering the small twigs and limbs in the same way. The tops of the trees look as if fire had been applied to about one-half of the smaller branches, until the leaves were all crisp and brown, and even the wood, as far as this extends, is evidently dead." Mr. Arch. MacColl, Aldboro, Ont., writes that many orchards in his locality are almost completely ruined by blight, and that many trees will have to be cut out.

It is difficult to explain the origin of this trouble, but it is evidently of a bacterial nature. It appears to live over the winter just in the margin of the affected part, near the healthy wood, and not in other parts of the tree or in the soil. Mr. W. T. Macoun, of the Experimental Farm, agrees with Mr. McKinnon, Chief of the Fruit Division, that the only remedy is to cut out the blighted branches well eblow the affected part, say one foot below any appearance of blight. The knife used for this purpose should be thoroughly cleaned or sterilized before being again used on healthy wood. It is fortunate that the disease somewhat dies out of its own accord, especially in the case of the body blight. It is said to be conveyed from tree to tree by bees and insects, which would account for the great increase at blossoming time. The blight appears to develop very rapidly, and the maximum amount of damage is done almost as soon as the attack becomes noticeable. It will probably be found that the fall is the best time to cut out the affected wood, as the damage will not be much, if any, greater then than at present, and in the fall one may make sure of getting all the blighted portions.

As anything which stimulates an undue growth of succulent wood is conductive to blight, it would be well for the orchardist to cultivate and manure so as to produce a medium growth of strong healthy wood.

BABY'S VITALITY.

The vitality of infants and young children is at its lowest point during the hot weather. More children die in summer than at any other season. This is because the little ones suffer more from bowel troubles, are nervous, weak, sleepless and irritable. Prompt action often saves a valuable little life, and troubles of this kind can be promptly met and cured by giving the little ones Baby's Own Tablets, which should be kept in every home, ready for emergencies. These Tablets speedily relieve and promptly cure all stomach, bowel and other hot weather ailments and give sound refreshing sleep. Mrs. P. Ferguson, 105 Mansfield street, Montreal, says:—"My baby was attacked with dysentry and was hot and feverish. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and they promptly cured him. Before this he had been rather delicate, but since using the Tablets he has been better and stronger in every way.

These Tablets can be given with an absolute certainty that they will do good to all children from a new born babe upwards. They contain no opiate or poisonous "soothing stuff." Sold by medicine dealers or mailed at 25 cents a box by writing direct to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LETTER ON CANADIAN HORSE BREEDING.

Thoroughbred Horses Should be bred More Extensively in this Country

The following letter to the Toronto News deals with a matter of considerable interest, as the subject is one which effects a large proportion of our people:—

To the Editor of the News: There is no country which has such great advantages for the breeding of horses as Canada, and yet, strange to say, the demand of the Dominion alone for good high-class hunters, harness, draught horses, and polo ponies is far greater than the supply. Further than this, there are buyers in England waiting for good Canadian horses. In support of this statement, I have seen contracts to ship per month two hundred weight-carrying hunters, four or five years old, to England. But this class of horses does not exist in any quantity here. If they could be found they would average $300 each. Surely the cost of producing these horses should not be more than $150 apiece. Now the question is — are you going to remedy the present state of affairs; and, if so, how? If the Government would set the example and prove that these horses can be bred and then sold to average, say $250 each, at four years old, I venture to think that there will be many capitalists, both in the Dominion and elsewhere, who would be interested in the matter, and would undoubtedly follow the lead of the Government.

I would suggest that the Government run a stud farm (not a large one) for ten years, with sixty carefully-selected sound mares and two stallions — one thoroughbred and the other a shire or Clydesdale. At the end of that time, with the ordinary luck of escaping disease, if they put the farm on the market they would find that they had made a very large profit and had greatly benefitted an industry which would become a very valuable asset of the country.

I know that the demand is greater than the supply; that good Canadian horses are wanted in England; and that you have the best facilities for breeding them. Why not rise to the occasion? Surely no one could seriously suggest that the Government, by taking this matter up, would be crippling private enterprise. On the contrary the good example set would induce capitalists to follow and the result would be a great gain of reputation and funds to the Dominion, whose interests we should so jealously guard.

I should like to impress on those gentlemen who take an active part in the management of horse shows that they should insist on every prize-winner being absolutely sound as far as hereditary disease is concerned. Otherwise breeding animals from unsound animals is encouraged—a fatal mistake. I am induced to say this because at a big horse show held in the Province of Quebec in May last, I noticed that several animals, which were without doubt, unsound in wind, received prizes. Surely no one will dispute that such an unsoundness is most hereditary.

A suggestion has been made, and I think it a very good one, that the Government should give premiums for thoroughbred stallions on the same line as those given by the Royal Commission in England. These premiums could be competed for at a show, to be held in the early spring, and would be productive of much good.

It was suggested to the Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Quebec, that in view of the fact that prizes were being given to unsound horses at shows, and that the improvement in the breed of horses is necessary, the Government should appoint a supervisor in the department of horse exhibits at the annual agricultural exhibitions. After kind and careful consideration he replied: "The breeding of horses has not yet reached a degree of great importance in this Province, and when the encouragements given by our department have aroused a closer attention amongst our farmers on that important matter the time will come for such an important appointment." Now, why has this subject not aroused closer attention? Is it not from the very fact that a supervisor has not yet been appointed? If he had been the greater part of his duty would have been to constantly travel about amongst the breeders and farmers and to create such an interest in the subject amongst them that the subject desired would have been easily attained. I hope the Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Quebec will forgive me for being obliged to differ from him, inasmuch as the time has come to move in this matter from the very fact that the demand is present, and the supply is wanting.

Many members of the various British Chambers of Trade, who are to visit the Dominion in August, are greatly interested in this subject; and I feel sure that when they have seen the amount of beautiful land which you have for disposal at such a nominal price, and which is so suitable for the breeding of horses, they will be astonished to find how few good ones are produced in the country.

The great advantage we have over the English breeders is incalculable, as land and food are here so very much cheaper. Such being the fact, it should be very easy to induce capitalists to come here and settle solely for the purpose of breeding high-class horses. The exportation of cattle has largely increased during the last twelve months, partly owing to careful breeding and the support of the Government. On the contrary, the exportation of horses has decreased to the amount of $15,000 for the year ending June 30th.

I cannot find language strong enough to impress upon those in authority the absolute necessity for immediately taking up this question of horse breeding in Canada. The initial outlay the Government would have to make would repay the country a thousand times. There is no doubt that if this question were taken up quickly and worked on businesslike principles, Canada would become, in the near future, the greatest horse breeding country in the world.

I trust this letter will be read in the spirit in which it is written, namely, an unselfish desire to promote the breeding of good horses in this country, and as coming from one who has had considerable experience, and has seen the good results obtained in England from breeding in the right way and the careful management of agricultural shows.

NEW PACIFIC ROAD.

Contract Receives Approval of Grand Trunk Officials.

THE REDISTRIBUTION BILL.

Important Measures Before the House of Commons—Bounty on Binder Twine—The Measure Advanced to a Third Reading—Grand Trunk Pacific Policy Not Yet Announced—Grain Act Amendment.

Ottawa, July 15.—The details of the contract between the Government and the Grand Trunk Company for the construction of the new transcontinental line formed the subject of discussion last night at a conference in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's room. The Prime Minister himself was not present, but Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick represented the Government. On behalf of the Grand Trunk there were present: Messrs. C. M. Hays, Wm. Wainwright; G. F. Shepley, K. C., Toronto; F. H. Chrysler, K. C., Ottawa, and W. H. Biggar, K. C., Montreal. It is understood that the contract was thoroughly discussed and finally received the approval of the Grand Trunk officials. Notice of the Government's propsition will be given between now and the next meeting of the House, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier will early next week make a detailed statement of the Government's policy.

THE HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The Redistribution Bill Brought Down and Will Soon Be Discussed.

Ottawa, July 25.—Mr. Sifton introduced a bill in the House yesterday to amend the Manitoba Grain Act of 1900.

Deputy Commissioners are to be appointed to assist the grain commissioners, buyers are to take out licenses, a time limit is to be placed on warehouse occupation, and owners of grain in elevators are to have power to order cars for shipment. The bill was read a first time.

Mr. Borden asked whether the personal of the Treadgold concession commission had been determined upon.

Mr. Sifton replied that the Treadgold Commissioners would be Judge Britton and B. T. A. Bell, secretary of the Canadian Mining Institute.

The Prime Minister laid on the table of the House a letter in which Sir William Van Horne declined to act as chairman of the proposed transportation commission.

Mr. Borden again urged Sir Wilfrid to definitely inform the House as to when the transcontinental railway resolutions would be brought down.

Sir Wilfrid replied that he expected to put the motion on the order paper yesterday.

The Redistribution Bill in its amended form, with the schedules of the various constituencies as adopted by the special committee, was presented to the House, and will be on the order paper for discussion at the first available opportunity.

Bounty on Binder Twine.

Mr. Fielding presented the resolution authorizing the payment of bounties to Canadian manufacturers of binder twine. He said that for some years binder twine had been on the free list, and on the whole he believed the industry had prospered. Action on the part of the Dominion Parliament became necessary on account of certain legislation passed by the United States placing an export duty on raw material used in the manufacture of binder twine shipped from the Philippines. It was to compensate Canadian manufacturers for the disadvantages under which they are thus placed in competition with American manufacturers that a bounty equal to the export duty was to be paid them. The bounty will be equal to the amount paid as export duty in the Philippines on Manila binder twine in Canada. The bounty is limited to three-eighths of a cent per pound on the Manila fibre used in the manufacture of binder twine. About fifteen million pounds of binder twine were imported from the United States last year, while there were practically no exports.

Hon. J. Israel Tarte said that for the past two years the binder twine industry in Canada has lived by favor of the American manufacturers. They were required to limit their production under penalty of having the Canadian market made a slaughter-house by the American rival.

"What we want is a protection policy. Canadians should not be called upon to take money from their pockets and pay it over to individuals. As was stated once before this policy is an expedient, not a principle, and it is not calculated to inspire confidence in our manufacturers.

Mr. W. F. Maclean said the country would hear with regret the announcement of the Minister of Finance that the Government would do nothing more along the line of tariff revision than pay bounties on binder twine, lead and steel. The United States, he said, had reached the crest of the wave, and that nation was preparing to make a slaughter house of Canada. Every effort would be made to break down the Canadian tariff and turn the Canadian market over to the American manufacturers. This was an alarming situation, and we should have an out and out protection policy.

Mr. Roche of Halifax urged that it was not desirable to invite reprisals from the United States. Increasing the duty on binder twine, he feared, would lead to that result, and the principle of bounties was, therefore, the one which should be applied.

Mr. Clarke said he would apply a customs duty that would give the farmers of Canada binder twine at ten cents, instead of fourteen cents, which they pay now.

Dr. Sproule said the payment of the bounty would merely put the Canadian manufacturer on the same level as the American manufacturer. It was nothing more than a half way measure. Americans would be still in a position to throw their twine into Canada.

Mr. John Charlton upheld the Government's proposition. He said that he had opposed a revision of the tariff this year for the reason that important negotiations are pending with the United States. Mr. Charlton repudiated the charge that he was pro-American and ready to bow to the dictation of the United States. During the eighteen years he had been in the Dominion Parliament he had consistently advocated the interests of Canada. He had always opposed export duties and always would.

Mr. Maclean described John Charlton's speech as a significant announcement. We were about to enter into negotiations with the United States. We have the small end of the stick. It was not policy, Mr. Maclean declared, to go to the Americans with a low tariff; we should have met the Americans long ago with tariff for tariff. Then we would be in a position to maintain our rights. As it is, Canada is going to Washington with its hands tied to beseech the Americans to enter to a reciprocal arrangement.

Mr. Heyd expressed the opinion that the tariff should not be opened now. He said that he never could understand why binder twine was singled out for the free list. He had tried to induce the Government to maintain the duties and when the time comes for tariff revision Mr. Heyd will renew these efforts on behalf of a suffering industry.

Mr. Schell of Glengarry thought it better that the Government should pay $56,420, than for the farmers of the country to pay $5000,000 in increased prices on binder twine.

Mr. Tarte urged protection of Canadian industries generally, pointing to the fact that the United States, with a protective duty of 40 per cent. was able to undersell Canadians with binder twine in the free Canadian market.

The resolution was adopted, and the bill giving effect to its provisions was introduced, passed through the committee stage and stands for third reading.

The House adjourned at midnight.

Scrawny People.

People grow thin, scrawney, pale and weak when the blood is thin and watery. What is needed to round off the angles and fill out the form, is not fat but healthy muscular tissue. By enriching the blood and increasing its nourishing qualities Dr. Chase's Nerve Food adds new flesh and tissue to the body as well as new vigour and energy. Relief is almost instantaneous.

Given Up by Doctor and Mother.

MRS. MAXWELL BARTER, Grand Cascapedia, Que., writes:

"I take great pleasure in telling you what Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has done for me and mine. year ago my little girl, now nearly three years old, was attacked by Cholera Infantum. It was in the hot season and she was teething at the time. The doctor gave her up; in fact, I did so myself.

"I finally decided to try Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry. I procured a bottle and it did her so much good that I got another bottle and by the time it was finished she was completely cured. As for myself, it has saved me from inflammation of the bowels several times. I always keep a bottle in the house and cannot recommend it too highly."

INDIGESTION'S SLAVE

Is Sallow, Languid, Thin and Down Hearted.

Troubled With Wind, Biliousness, Headaches and Sharp Internal Pains.

No one deserves more sympathy than the sufferer from indigestion. A light meal lies like lead upon his chest—a good meal gives him hours of agony. The dyspeptic's slavery can't end until he builds up his system with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They strengthen the stomach, stimulate the liver and sharpen the appetite. There never was a case of indigestion that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills could not cure if given a fair trial. Proof of this is given by Mr. Gustave Emond, of St. Jerome, Que., who says:—"I suffered from dyspepsia for five years. The agony I endured at times can only be understood by those who are similarly afflicted. I tried a number of home remedies and advertised medicines but they did not help me. Then I decided to see the family doctor, and I took for a long time the medicine he gave me, but the results were no better; in fact I was getting worse. Some days I could not eat at all, and when I did eat the meal was followed by violent pains and cramps in my stomach that made life almost unendurable. Then I stopped the doctor and again began trying other medicines, but the result was always the same—no cure, and scarcely even temporary relief. And so the trouble went on for years, until last winter I met a friend from St. Scholastique who asked me if I had ever tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not but after some persuasion consented to do so. This was the biginning of the end of my trouble. Before the first box of pills were finished the pains after eating were less severe. I continued the Pills for a couple of months and at the end of that time I was wholly cured. I can eat as hearty a meal now as anyone, and never have the slightest return of the pains and cramps that so long had made life miserable. I have proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure this trouble when all other medicines fail, and I would strongly urge other dyspeptics to give them a fair trial."

These pills will cure all troubles due to poor blood, or weakened nerves, such as neuralgia, rheumatism, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, heart weakness, and the ailments that burden the lives of so many women. If you do not find these pills at your dealer's send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be sent post paid at 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. Do not let any dealer persuade you to take soemthing else.

ATLAS LOAN COMPANY.

Liquidators Want to Sue Metropolitan Bank to Recover Securities.

Toronto, July 25.—The affairs of the Atlas Loan Company were gone over again yesterday before Thomas Hodgins, Master-in-Ordinary, at Osgoode Hall. The National Trust Company, liquidators under the winding-up order, made an application for leave to enter an action against the Metropolitan Bank to recover certain securities of the value of $91,991, and payments of $25,000 and $5,098, which are alleged to have been handed over to the bank when the company was in an insolvent condition. Some months before the failure, Mr. Wallace, president of the Atlas Loan Company, secured an advance of $115,000 from Manager Bailey of the Metropolitan Bank without giving any security. A short time afterwards one of the bank directors became anxious regarding the loan and a request for security was complied with by the turning over of a number of mortgages, as collateral, which are now the subject of this action. The liquidators hold that the loan company was insolvent at the time the two payments were made, and the securities turned over, and that the bank has no right to rank any higher than an ordinary creditor. President Wallace was examined and swore that the company was insolvent in April when the transactions occurred, but that he was not aware of it at that time. The Master reserved judgment on the application.

ANOTHER BLACK FRIDAY.

It Followed the Smash of Two Firms in New York.

New York, Sept. 25.—The announcement on the Stock Exchange late yesterday of the suspension of the firms of Talbot J. Taylor & Co. and W. L. Stow & Co. was the sequel to the period of excited selling of stocks and wide cuts in prices which had not been equalled since the present movement to liquidate set in. It was a veritable Black Friday, but stocks rallied a little before the close.

Blew Open the Safe.

Berlin, July 25.—Early yesterday morning burglars blew open the safe in Jacob Kufman's lumber factory office with nitro-glycerine. The explosion shattered the safe. The burglars were not well repaid for their work, as only about $10 was in the safe.

Given Christian Burial.

Picton, July 25.—The murdered employe of the Pan-American Circus was given a Christian burial here yesterday in the cemetery by the Mayor. Rev. Mr. Shorey officiating. The manager of the circus forwarded funds to the Mayor for the burial.

Rural Dean Will Retire.

Kingston, July 25.—It is understood that Rural Dean F. T. Dibb, rector of Bath, will resign from the ministry and retire to private life. He will take up residence in Napanee, having purchased the residence of the late Judge Wilkinson.

British Journalists Here.

Quebec, July 25.—Nine British journalists arrived here yesterday on the C.P.R. steamer Manitoba. They will proceed to the far west as the guests of the Government.

Dr. Morin Dies Suddenly.

IRISHWOMAN GOT AWAY.

Mrs. McKee, Wanted in Ireland For Forgery, Escaped From Sandwich Jail by Aid of Pail Handle.

Windsor, July 25.—Just before going to her evening meal on Thursday night, Matron Sparks of Sandwich jail, opened the door of the women's ward, leading to a narrow court surrounded by a 15-foot stone wall, and bade her prisoner, Mrs. Ellen McKee, who is awaiting transportation back to Ireland on a charge of forgery, to avail herself of the fresh air, then said "good night," and the matron left Mrs. McKee to enjoy her little liberty.

Left to herself in the prison yard, Mrs. McKee saw a pail standing in the yard, and wrenching the wire handle from it, she made a hook at one end and proceeded to climb to the top of the great door which was swung outward against the stone wall. As she reached the top of the door she hooked the wire into the iron netting above the doorway, and in this way pulled herself by sheer force to the top of the wall. How she let herself down on the other side is not known, but it is presumed she leaped to the ground, 15 feet.

Her absence from the jail was discovered at 7 o'clock, and Governor Sparks spent the entire night in searching for a trace of the woman, but without avail.

THE KING IN DUBLIN.

Visited Homes For Work People, Entered the Tenements and Talked Freely With the Inhabitants.

Dublin, July 25.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra separately visited a number of public institutions yesterday. His Majesty first visited the dwellings built for working people by Lord Iveagh (Cecil Guinness) and others. He was met there by Lord Iveagh and Lord Ardilaun (Arthur Guinness) and accompanied by them and Irish Secretary Wyndham, entered the tenements and talked freely with the inhabitants. His Majesty expressed pleasure at the excellence of the plans.

The King then went to the famous St. Patrick's Cathedral and received an address from the chapter.

Thousands Go to Hear Campbell.

Toronto, July 23. — Bond street Congregational Church, even in the palmiest days of Dr. Wild, never knew such an eager, pressing mass of people as gathered last night to listen to the great apostle of the English Noncomformists, Rev. R. J. Campbell of the City Temple, London, England. At 6.30 o'clock, a crowd was clamoring at the church doors, and an hour before the service began every seat in the edifice was occupied, and thousands of late comers were turned away.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy.

It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. It is especially valuable for summer diarrhœa in children and is undoubtedly the means of saving the lives of a great many children each year. For sale by all druggists.

Peculiar to Summer Pe-ru-na Gives Prompt and Permanent Relief.

C. S. Rhoads, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"For the past two years I have hardly known what it was to have a sweet, restful night's sleep. Cares and overwork seemed to weigh me down more than it should or would had I been able to get my proper rest. My doctor was unable to help me and ordered me South for a complete rest and change. As this was simply out of the question, and as I had heard several of the men under me speak of how much Peruna had helped them, I decided to try it and am glad indeed that I did. Six bottles made a new man of me. I eat well, sleep well and get up feeling refreshed and rested.

"My official duties are not half so hard and I certainly have good reasons to heartily endorse Peruna."—C. S. Rhoads.

Judge Wm. T. Zenor, of Washington, D. C., writes from 213 N. Capital street, Washington, D. C.:

"I take pleasure in saying that I can cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna as a remedy for catarrhal trouble and a most excellent tonic for general conditions."—Wm. T. Zenor.

Mrs. Amanda Morrill, 120 Reid street, Elizabeth, N. J., writes:

"I have been sick over two years with nervous prostration and general debility, and heart trouble. Have had four doctors; all said that I could not get well. I had not walked a step in nine months, suffering with partial paralysis and palpitation of the heart every other day, and had become so reduced in flesh as to be a mere skeleton, weighing only 85 pounds.

"Up to this date I have taken Peruna for seven months. It has saved my life as I can safely testify. I have not felt so well in five years, having walked over one mile without ill result, and have also gained thirty pounds since commencing to take Peruna. In fact, I cannot praise it too highly."—Mrs. Amanda Morrill.

Peruna never fails to prevent systemic catarrh or nervous prostration if taken in time. Peruna is the most prompt and permanent cure for all cases of nervous prostration caused by systemic catarrh known to the medical profession.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

"OLD BOYS" OWN THE TOWN.

Visit Scenes of Former Days and are Heartily Welcomed.

CANADA AND UNITED STATES REPRESENTED.

Special Train Brings Large Quota of Home-comers.

THE OLD TOWN DONS GALA GARB

Special Train Brings Hundreds, While Many Come by Regular C.P.R. and G.T.R. Trains.

How dear to this heart are the scenes of my childhood,
When fond recollection presents them to view.
The orchard, the meadow,, the deep tangled wildwood,
And every lov'd spot which my infancy knew.

Peterborough Old Boys to the number of several hundred, are today revisiting the old home, and were welcomed with the heartiness for which Peterborough is proverbial. Ever since it became known that the Old Boys away from home, were planning to return to the scenes of former days, the citizens have been arranging to make their visit a pleasing one. The organization in Toronto was of a very complete character, and the Peterborough Old Boys, there fell into line readily, the result being a most enthusiastic reception of the proposal to revisit the home town. About three hundred at once identified themselves with the new Association. A strong committee was formed composed of old residents of the town and county, and correspondence was entered into with old boys in all parts of Canada and even the United States, with the result that to-day visitors are here from not only Toronto and Montreal, but from Denver, Colorado; California, Michigan, Assinaboia, British Columbia and all parts of Ontario. A special train came from Toronto by Port Hope, but many came in by C.P.R. and the regular G.T.R. trains.

When the special train pulled into the G.T.R. station the visitors were warmly greeted by many hundreds of citizens who as they recognized a familiar form grasped the homecomer by the hand and with profuse words of welcome greeted him. The local reception committee was on hand but its work was light, as the citizens took matters into their own hands and the old boys were rapidly taken in hand by their many friends. Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mayor Roger, with Ald. Rush, Ald. Edgecumbe, Ald. Shortly, Ald McWilliams, and a number of prominent citizens formally extended a welcome to the officers of the Association, and gave them the freedom of the town.

The following is a list of the officers present:—President, Mr. L. Morrison; Vice-President, Mr. John Braden; Secretary, Mr. R. A. Cardwell; Treasurer, Mr. R. A. Savigny; Executive Committee, Messrs. Clarence Bell, O. B. Shortly, Geo. McBurney, W. A. Allison, Bert. Roberts, Fred T. Weir, A. J. Gough, W. Bryce, J. H. Hall and Dr. H. B. Anderson.

Hon. President, Rev. J. C. Speer, will be in town Monday and will, with the President, take part in the exercises on Monday afternoon.

Hon. Geo. A. Cox, also an Hon. President, is unable to be present. He asked the President to express his regrets to the friends in the home town, and to the old boys, that business prevented him from participating in the pleasing functions of the home coming.

Mr. J. W. Flavelle, the third Hon. President, also wrote to Mr. Morrison, expressing his regret that he would be unable to join the Old Boys in their trip. He had just returned from a three months' visit abroad and business matters demanded his presence in the city at the present time.

About one hundred of the Old Boys took the train for Lakefield, and will spend Sunday on the picturesque shores of Stony Lake. The great majority however will remain in town, the guests of friends and relatives.

To-morrow special reference will be made in the churches to the visit of the Old Boys. The president has received an invitation from Rev. J. C. Davidson, to attend the service in St. John's church to-morrow evening, which will be of an especially interesting character.

On Monday an early start will be made from all over the county for a gathering in Peterborough. The exercises will be held in Victoria Park, where at 2 p.m., Mayor Roger will act as chairman of a great home gathering meeting, the vice-chairs being taken by the Warden of the county and the president of the Old Boys' Association. The Mayor will deliver an opening address and will introduce one of the prominent citizens, who will, in an address, welcome the Old Boys home again. This will be followed by Warden Crowe, who will introduce Dr. S. P. Ford of Norwood, to speak on behalf of the county, and welcome old friends and visitors. The President of the Old Boys' Association, Mr. Llewellyn A. Morrison, of Toronto, will respond, accepting the welcome and hospitality of the citizens, and Rev. J. C. Speer will speak of the pleasures of home coming. An original song, "Homing," will be sung by the Old Boys, which will be followed by a band concert given by the 57th Regimental Band.

The 57th Regimental Band, under the direction of Mr. Glidden will play the following selections in Victoria Park at the reception to be given the Peterborough Old Boys on Monday July 27th, from two o'clock till five o'clock:—

March, "Distant Greeting"... ... Doering
Overture, "Zampa" ... ...Herold

The president of the association, Mr. Morrison, was born in the township of Dummer and spent his early life there, teaching school up to the year 1868. It is a singular coincidence that Rev. J. C. Speer, Hon. President, was at one time a scholar of Mr. Morrison's. The President left Dummer in the year 1869 for the United States, returning shortly afterwards to Canada, living in Toronto ever since. He has attained considerable prominence as a literaturist, and is the only living Canadian Hymn writer, and has hymns published in 26 different hymn-books. A new book is now being published which will contain 30 or 40 of his compositions. A new patriotic song "Fair Canada" has also been written by him.

HONORARY PRESIDENTS:

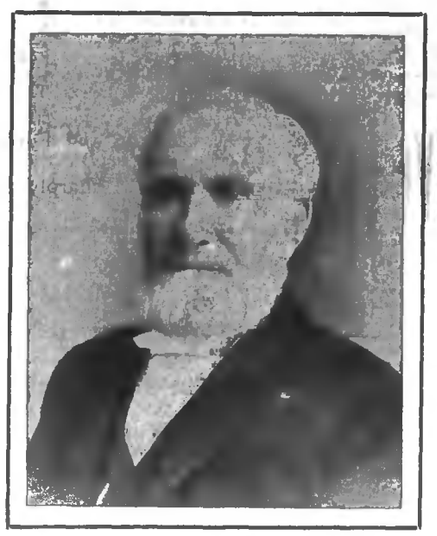
SENIOR HONORARY PRESIDENT:



THE LATE REV. EDWARD HARTLEY DEWART, D.D.

MR. LLEWELLYN A. MORRISON, President.

MR. R. A. CARDWELL, Secretary.

MR. R. A. SAVIGNY, Treasurer.

Among the visitors are many interesting characters, some who lived here when what is now a prosperous and busy city was a small country village, surrounded by the pine forest, which has long since disappeared, to be replaced by busy factories and handsome residences. One of these is Mr. W. Arnott, who left here thirty-five years ago, Mr. Hayter, who was one of the first newspaper men in the town, was editor of the "Dispatch," and has many interesting experiences to relate of the early days in Peterborough journalism. Others who are here are Dr. Rose, A. C. McCallum, W. White, J. C. Kemp, Chas. Rabey, M. Leplante, Toronto, John Smith, Orillia, Frank Clark, Warkworth. Mr. Armstrong, Belleville, and many others from various places. Many expressions of astonishment were made by the visitors upon the improved appearance of the town and the city-like air which it has assumed. The visitors were also favourably impressed with the decorations which were made in their honour, and many complimentary references were made on the gay appearance of the streets and business places. A more complete list will be published in Monday's issue of the Examiner.

A LARGE EXCURSION RUN FROM OSHAWA.

About Five Hundred Visitors From That Town.

The employees of the McLaughlin Carriage Works of Oshawa, with a fair galaxy of wives and sweethearts, not to speak of children, are here today viewing the sights of the most wide-awake town in Ontario. A special G.T.R. train of nine coaches, drawn by two engines, arrived this morning at 11 o'clock, having on board five hundred excursionists, who are now "doing" the town. They were accompanied by the Dominion Organ and Piano Company's Band of Bowmanville, of eighteen pieces, and it is now charming the musical tastes of the visitors. Immediately upon the arrival of the special, a number of those on board were claimed by friends, who were waiting to receive them. The balance went directly to the Nicholls Oval, where an immense basket picnic will be held.

Accompanying the excursion are a large number from Bowmanville, including Mr. and Mrs. Trenouth and daughter, and W. A. Trenouth, jr., Mr. Jos. Pye, who is an old resident of Peterborough, and Mr. and Mrs. Powell.

During the afternoon the visitors spent a delightful time at the Nicholls Oval, indulging in sports of all kinds, including running, etc. The band, a musical organization of no mean merit, enlivened the Oshawa people as well as local persons, by playing many popular selections. The excursionists, who came to have a good time, fulfilled their object, and it is felt that there was no one who did not enjoy himself.

Many are visiting friends, who will be sorry when 7.30 o'clock comes, as that is the hour for the return of the visitors to their own town.

The committee who planned the affair consisted of Messrs. T. Humphrey, chairman, W. Webster, secretary, and Thos. Hawks, treasurer.

The Oshawa people could not have seen Peterborough on a better occasion than to-day, as the town is very gaily decorated, and the day of the right kind to visit the sights, such as the lift lock, the Little Lake cemetery,, Jackson's Park, and the other beauty spots.

PASSED TO HER REST.

Lamented Death of Mrs. William Cumming.

Last night Mrs. Wm. Cumming, a most highly respected and worthily esteemed resident of Peterborough for nearly half a century, passed away at the age of 70 years. The deceased lady's last illness was of about seven week's duration. At the last she passed painlessly and peacefully away. The late Mrs. Cumming, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Moffatt, was born in Roxburghshire, Scotland, in February, 1833, and came to Peterborough at the age of about 20 years. In 1860 she was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Cumming, for many years a valued and efficient official of the town, who passed away thirteen years ago last May. To this union were born four children; one son, John, who died in British Columbia, and three daughters, Mrs. Alex. Elliott, Mrs. W. H. Bradburn and Miss Ina Cumming. Mrs. Cumming was a lady of most estimable character and fulfilled with unobstrusive and gentle dignity, the various relations of life, as a faithful wife, an affectionate mother unselfishly devoted to the happiness of her children, and as a neighbour and friend with qualities of kindness which won universal love and esteem. Mrs. Cumming was a member of St. Paul's church for nearly fifty years.

OBITUARY.

Death of the Late Mrs. Peter Gillespie of Hastings.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gillespie, of Hastings, have been deeply grieved to hear of the death of the latter which occurred in Hastings no Monday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock.

The circumstances under which the death occurred were particularly sad as a baby boy was born on Saturday morning, but died soon after. Mrs. Gillespie lingered in great pain and weakness until Monday afternoon, when death came to set the sufferer free.

The funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday morning at 10.30 o'clock and were attended by a great number of the sorrowing relatives and friends of the deceased.

Rev. D. A. Thomson, pastor of the church, preached a most impressive sermon from the text—"Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord, for they rest from their labours and their works do follow them."

Mr. Thomson began his address by explaining the meaning of the word blessed, and the happy state of those who died in the Lord. In speaking further on the resting from their labours, etc., he spoke most feelingly of the high Christian character borne by Mrs. Gillespie, and her affectionate disposition as shown to her husband, parents and the other members of the family, by all of whom she is deeply loved and will be much missed.

The choir under the leadership of Miss Lizzie Fowlds also assisted in the service with suitable music. Miss Fowlds herself deserves special mention for her beautifully rendered solo, "Thy Will be Done," and the feeling manner in which she played the Dead March in Saul.

At the close of the service Mr. Thomson requested all who wished to view the remains to come up the right hand aisle and return by the left aisle in order to prevent any confusion. Needless to say nearly all present joined the solemn procession to have one more look at the face so well known and so much loved by all. The coffin, which was covered with plain black cloth with copper trimmings, was quite covered with beautiful floral tributes from relatives and friends.

The funeral procession which was very long, left the church about eleven o'clock and proceeded to Fife's burying ground in Otonabee, where Mr. Thomson read the burial services and consigned to the grave all that was mortal of Mrs. Gillespie.

The sympathies of all are deeply moved by this sad death and one and all wish to extend heart-felt condolences to the young husband whose home is thus left unto him desolate, but who we hope is resting in the blessed hope of a re-union beyond death and the grave.

The deceased Mrs. Gillespie was the youngest daughter of Mr. James Nelson, of Otonabee and was married November 12th, 1901.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her aged father and mother, two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Tucker, of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. Hasty, of Allandale, Ont., and Mr. Robert Nelson, who lives on the homestead.

A memory of twenty months of unalloyed happiness is all the comfort left the young husband. But we do not doubt that he feels the truth of the quotation from Tennyson of which Mr. Thomson made use in his closing prayer:—

I hold it true what e'er befall
I feel it when I sorrow most
'Tis better to have loved and lost
Than never to have loved at all.

The following tribute was received by the bereaved husband:

To the sorrowing Husband and Friends of the late Mrs. Peter Gillespie:

It was with much sorrow that we learned of your sad bereavement, and we have taken this opportunity of expressing to you our sincerest sympathy in this time of trial. To lose the partner of one' slife is well described by the prophet as taking away the desire of thine eyes with a stroke.

You can take comfort from the fact that she was well prepared for the great change, and because of this she is not lost, but gone before. You are not of those who sorrow without hope, if we believe that Jesus died and rose again even so, them also which sleep in Jesus, will God bring with him. As friend after friend departs, each departure should be as a link in the chain of life uniting u sto the better land. May the God of Comfort sustain you; may His grace be sufficient for you and His strength made perfect in your time of trial.—Com.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

WELCOME, thrice welcome, with a "tiger," the Peterborough Old Boys. We welcome them for their own sake, and for the sake of old associations. Most of the older residents, and many visitors, were boys together with us; they were school mates, and the visit, somewhat in a body of the old boys, revives many memories. They were school chums, and together they spent the careless, happy days of boyhood—they robbed orchards together, they flirted with the pretty girls, since grown into staid heads of households, mothers, with pretty girls of their own. The meeting of old friends of boyhood days will recall all these things, and delightful conversations will grow out of them, and reminiscences of the happiest days that come to any man, however fortunate or successful—boyhood days.

WE WELCOME the old boys, because they have been an honour and a credit to the town. Peterborough boys are scattered far and wide over this Dominion, and the neighbouring Republic. Wherever they are found they are by no means at the tail end of the procession of energetic, respected, upright and trusted citizens. Wherever they may be we don't look for the names of Peterborough boys in the records of wrong-doers, but in the lists of honoured and respected citizenship of their several communities. We welcome them, because they reflect credit upon their old home. Though their voice may be silent, yet they speak eloquently in praise of Peterborough, their former native or adopted home, by their upright lives, and the trustworthy qualities exhibited in their daily walk and conversation.

WE WELCOME them, because we feel that, with reason, the home-comers will be as proud of Peterborough as we are of them—that they will see that Peterborough has fulfilled the promise of the days when they knew the town. They will see that we have progressed—that we are the best town in the broad Dominion to-day—that our commercial, manufacturing and general material condition has greatly improved, that our manufacturing establishments give employment to thousands. They will see the old landmarks—the humble buildings of former days—replaced by stately structures. They will see the old play-grounds of bygone days invaded by factory buildings, and the roar of machinery replacing the boyish shouts and laughter to which they contributed their happy quota. They will see twigs, that many of them, perhaps, had a share in planting, grown into stately trees, over-arching with umbrageous leafage, streets flanked by handsome homes amid verdant lawns glowing with flowers. They will see hundred of places grown and improved out of recognition. They will, in a word, see a live, progressive and happy town, of which they will be proud to renew for a day, their citizenship. They will meet, we trust, everywhere the friendly outthrust of the "glad hand" — they will be made glad that they came home to the good old town, and we are sure they will feel that no matter where they have cast their lot, they have not found a dearer and better spot than Peterborough, and that nowhere do they find better all round conditions than are to be found under the institution of Canada and the flag of the Empire. Welcome to the Old Boys!

It remains for our citizens to do their share of the welcome. In one sense the occasion is a family reunion, let us join to make the home-coming of our brothers—the Old Boys—all the happier by a hearty welcome, and a warm hospitality. Though the home-comers are not prodigals, let us kill the fatted calf and carry out the figure of speech by our prodigality of welcome. Let us give such a welcome that the home-comers will carry away with them as happy recollections as those revived by their visit. Welcome, thrice welcome, to the "Old Boys."

* * *

FREE POSTAL DELIVERY has been pretty thoroughly ventilated. A short time since the opponents of the idea presented their views and were reported at length in these columns. Last night the popular side was heard, and the sentiment of the meeting, which may fairly be regarded as representative, was as decidedly in favour of free postal delivery as that of the business section was in opposition to it. These opposing positions place the Aldermen, as representing the people as a whole, in a somewhat difficult position. The Council feels that it cannot, as a body, no matter what the individual feeling of the members may be, espouse either cause and the middle way is selected. The Council proposes to have a deputation of its own members proceed to Ottawa, to lay the views of both parties to the controversay, to the Goverment. It is felt by the Council, not knowing what views the Government may have in regard to the improvement of postal conditions in Peterborough, that it would be unwise to press any particular course. The popular meeting wishes the Council to define its attitude and present one side or the other, preferably its own side. It is obviously fair, that both sides be placed before the Government. If the Council can be trusted to do this fairly, and they should enjoy that much confidence of the people, it will save both other parties concerned a great deal of expense. In view of the meeting last night the Council may see fit to revise its attitude of neurality on the question. Something definite must be done. It is not in the public interest that the present unsatisfactory and inefficient condition of our post office facilities and service should continue. Whatever may be the result to the positions of the two contending parties, something must be done and care must be taken that in the pending controversy the town shall not meet the fate of coming to the ground between two stools. It is possible, unless some common ground of action is decided upon that the Government may cut the gordian knot of conflicting opinions, by taking a course of inaction, which, however, under the circumstances cannot justly be done.

EDMONDS TO WRESTLE BURNS.

Canadian Featherweight Champion has a Good Bout at Peterborough.

Art Edmunds, the Canadian featherweight champion wrestler, has secured a match with Farmer Burns, the undefeated champion lightweight of Ohio, to take place at Peterborough on August 5th. The match is best two out of three falls, and a side bet of $50, with a purse of $100. Edmunds is conceding Burns about ten pounds. The bout should prove a most evenly matched affair, but the Toronto lad is confident he will be returned the winner. He is now in active training for the match. He will leave for Peterborough to-morrow morning to finish his training on the spot.

As a preliminary to the Edmunds-Burns match, Johnny Jackson, the Toronto heavy weight will wrestle George Gauthier of Peterborough, best two out of three, and "Hockey" Jones of Toronto, will box Nick Collins, of Ottawa, eight for a decision. —Toronto News.

THE PASTOR IS APPRECIATED.

Reception to Rev. F. A. Leitch at Oak Orchard, Maine.

The following clipping from the press of Old Orchard, Maine, will be of local interest as the Rev. F. A. Leitch is well known here, having married Miss Lyda Elliott, sister of Mr. J. J. Elliott, of town.

The vestry of the Washinton avenue Methodist church, Old Orchard, was the scene of a most enjoyable occasion on Monday evening. The parlours of the church were decorated with bouquets and potted plants.

The parishioners and friends of the church gave a most hearty welcome to their pastor, Rev. F. A. Leitch, who has been retained for another year, and to Rev. B. C. Wentworth, the presiding elder of the Portland district. A committee of young ladies escorted the pastor and his wife, the presiding elder and his wife to a bower, where Mrs. Israel Luce received and presented the guests to the pastor and elder and their wives. At the close of the reception Fred J. Luce, superintendent of the Sunday school, took the chair and called upon Rev. Israel Luce to welcome the pastor in behalf of the church. Mr. Luce's words were very cordial and aptly expressed the sentiment of the congregation for their pastor. Prof. Wright, in a few well chosen words, in behalf of the citizens, expressed his pleasure at the return of Mr. Leitch to Old Orchard, also extending words of welcome to Elder Wentworth. Mr. Leitch, in a tew felicitous remarks, responded to the words of welcome and was followed by Mr. Wentworth, who expressed his pleasure at the cordiality and the good wishes shown by the congregation towards himself and wife.

A musical programme was rendered, selections being given on the piano by Miss Pauline Morse Mrs. Lizzie E. Colley; a reading by Mrs. Montrose Hill and Miss Ollie Pilsbury; a solo by Miss Perkins; after which refreshments were served, and a social evening spent by the guests and the church members.

A biographical sketch of the pastor of the Old Orchard Methodist church lows:—

Mr. Leitch is a university man and entered the ministry well equipped mentally. From the high school at Newcastle, he entered Belleville College in 1880, and McGill University and Wesleyan theological college, in Montreal, in 1892. In 1898 Mr. Leitch registered with the Wesleyan University of Illinois, as a post graduate student for his degree of doctor of philosophy, taking up the study of political and social science under the department of sociology, which course was completed in 1902.

Prior to entering the Ministry Mr. Leitch had charge of the shipping department of a wholesale boot and shoe establishment in Winnipeg, Manitoba, which position was left in order to become private secretary for one of the divisional superintendents on the Canadian Pacific Railway, which position was held until 1888.

Mr. Leitch is a self-made man. With only sixty dollars and pluck he fought and won his way through college and university, paying all expenses with but little assistance apart from his own efforts.

SECOND DAY, 30,000.

Greater Crowds Than Ever View the Late Pope's Body.

IN EXCELLENT PRESERVATION

Interment Will Take Place This Evening With Most Impressive Ceremonies—Italian Soldiers on Guard Again—Solemn Requiem Mass Celebrated — Probabilities of the Conclave.

Rome, July 25.—Again yesterday the body of Leo XIII. lay in state in the Basilica of St. Peter's, and about 30,000 persons passed before the catafalque during the day. This is an increase over the number who viewed the remains Thursday, and the augmentation was due, doubtless, to the widely circulated reports that yesterday would be the last upon which the public would have an opportunity of looking upon the body of the Pontiff. These reports proved to be incorrect, and the body will continue in the Chapel of the Sacrament, at least during the greater part of to-day.

With impressive services the body will be interred this evening in a sarcophagus at St. Peter's, where it will remain until taken to its final resting place, in the Church of St. John Lateran.

Italian soldiers again yesterday preserved order inside St. Peter's. The day was notable for the solemn masses celebrated for the repose of the soul of the late Pope in St. Peter's, which was largely attended, despite the pathetic ceremony which was occurring at the Basilica.

Interest is now largely engrossed with the coming conclave, and its result. The gossip of the day may be summed up briefly by saying that Cardinal Gotti's chance of election seems to have improved in comparison with those of other cardinals who have been mentioned as likely to succeed Leo XIII., although there still exists a strong feeling that some one, hitherto scarcely talked of, may wear the tiara.

The congregation of Cardinals has not yet decided whether the note which the sacred college intends to address to the powers concerning the situation of the papacy at Rome shall be presented to-day when the reception of the diplomatic body occurs. The diplomatists accredited to the Holy See will be presented by M. Martins d'Antas, the Minister from Portugal, who is dean of the corps. Monsignor Merry del Val will reply as acting Secretary of State.

At the meeting of the congregation yesterday Cardinal Satolli asked when the conclave would be opened. Cardinal Oreglia replied that he thought that on the evening of Friday the 31st, all the Cardinals might enter their cells and be ready for the first meeting of the conclave August 1, a week from to-day.

Mgr. Farabulini, the famous Latinist, whom Gladstone often consulted and of whom the German Emperor requested advice concerning Latin, has been requested to write oration previs, the Latin eulogy, upon the late Pontiff, which will be buried with him.

Charges Fell Flat.

Hamilton, July 25. — Inspector Lawlor's inquiry into the charges laid by James Wier, Toronto, against W. F. Miller, collector of inland revenue, fell very flat, and the investigation was closed quite abruptly yesterday. The collector is again perched on his official stool, and the inspector has gone to Ottawa to make his report.

When Embargo Is Removed.

Washington, July 24. — United States Secretary of Agriculture Wilson yesterday issued an order removing the prohibition against the exportation of cattle, sheep and other ruminants, and swine from the port of Boston on account of the existence of foot and mouth disease. Shipments will be resumed as soon as the British Government removes the embargo, which it has had in force against New England ports.

$2,000 For the Carnival.

Hamilton, July 24.—The Finance Committee last night decided to recommend a grant of $2,000 to the carnival fund.

No More Plugs.

Windsor, July 23.—The Windsor customs department has received orders that in the future no horses shall be permitted to enter Canada unless they are valued at $25. This will revolutionize the heavy horse traffic done by many people in the neighborhood who buy old plugs in Detroit for $4 or $5 and take them over the border upon payment of 20 per cent. duty. As a result the countryside is flooded with useless horses. A fee of $30 is charged by the American customs on every horse brought in from Canada.

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his travelling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbours brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

No man will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all druggists.

Died From His Injuries.

He was out driving when his horse shied and he was thrown out, sustaining serious injuries to his head and shoulder. He went to Dr. Whitely and after being bandaged up proceeded with the same horse to drive home, but feeling ill he called for a friend to drive him. Soon after this he became unconscious and died shortly after he reached home.

An Infant Strangled.

An inquest was held last night at the morgue, where the evidence of Dr. Rowan, who conducted the post-mortem, went to show that the child had died from strangulation shortly after its birth.

FROM LAKE TO LAKE

A MAGNIFICENT STRETCH OF PARKS AND AVENUES.

Along the Niagara River From Lake Erie to Lake Ontario—An Important Announcement Made by Chairman Langmuir, of the Niagara Falls Park Commission, on the Occasion of the American Commissioners' Visit.

On the occasion the other day of the visit of the Park and Outdoor Association's visit to Niagara Falls, including the American Park Commissioners, Chairman Langmuir of the Canadian Niagara Falls Park Commission delivered an important speech, in which he said in part:

The luncheon over, Mr. Langmuir bade the guests welcome in the name of the commission, and said they had done a great deal of good. He welcomed the American commissioners and regretted that they did not see them oftener. He had been set down for a paper before the association, so he would take this opportunity of reviewing the history of the park on the Canadian side of the river, more especially as its financial basis differed from that of any other park in the association. The State of New York had purchased the lands for their reservation and also made an annual appropriation for improvements and general maintenance, thus relieving the commissioners of all financial anxiety. New York's action stimulated public opinion on this side, but, the Dominion refusing to act, it was not until 1885 that three commissioners were appointed by the Province, of whom he regretted he was the only survivor, to select and appraise lands for a Provincial park. The area was consequently limited to the strip lying along the river from the Clifton House, one mile south. Nature had, however, defined a wider area for park purposes, and on the commissioners' recommendation the strip was widened to the bluff and lengthened to two and one-half miles, debentures for $600,000 being issued to pay the cost. The whole expenditure to be met by the commission then reached $40,000 per annum. To meet this an admission fee was at first proposed, but fortunately abandoned. The alternative chosen was to grant franchises, and against the objections raised he confidently asserted that no violence would be done to the most advanced aesthetic taste. First an electric railway was permitted, at a rental of $10,000 per annum. This was a vital necessity to enable the public to view the scenic grandeur. Another franchise for a similar amount was granted for supplying meals and taking photographs. The third class was franchises for the generation and transmission of electrical power, which now brought in $60,000, and which would be increased to about a quarter of a million when the various plants were completed.

Apart from the question of whether the commissioners could thereby be charged with desecrating the sacred grounds committed to their care, he admitted they and the Government of Ontario could not reasonably ignore the imperious demand of public sentiment throughout the country, that the waters of the Niagara River should be in part utilized to develop power for commercial purposes. The sites granted for these power plants were distinctly outside the territory which was originally intended to be expropriated for park purposes. Had however, that property not been expropriated, it would long ere this have been converted into a manufacturing district overlooking the park, with all the defacement and other objections incident to such surroundings. Instead of that there would be plans, approved in every detail by the commissioners, for the greatest electrical development in the world, especially designed to do the least possible violence to the environment of the great cataract.

"And now, in conclusion," said Mr. Langmuir, "will you permit me to venture to take an outlook into the future, the near future, I hope, and picture in your mind's eye the completion of all the plans and projects of the Park Commissioners on the Canadian side of the river. It is doubtless known to some of you, at least, that the river bank from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario is vested in the commission. This reserve, now in the process of being made the full width of 66 feet at all points, will be completed, the bank of the river protected from erosion by the construction of an electric railway on the shore line from Fort Erie to the park, a well-constructed and well-kept road, ornamented with shade trees along the entire bank of the river, forming an avenue to Queen Victoria Park. Within the park the works of construction in connection with power plants completed, with only two artistically designed power buildings in sight, the river bank along the upper roads, the Dufferin Islands, and the entire grounds above the Falls restored and beautified to correspond with the finished portion of the park overlooking the cataract. The unsightly buildings overlooking the Falls, in one of which we are now sitting, torn down, and a fine, artistic structure for shelter and refectory purposes erected, and the whole of the grounds, roads and walks in the park brought up to the highest standard of aesthetic taste. Then, passing from the park surrounding the Falls to the lower gorge of the river, with its magnificent grandeur from the base of the cataract until its majestic banks and rushing waters merge into the quiet scenery of the lower river, we come to the Niagara Glen, immediately north of the whirlpool, comprising 100 acres of territory, unique in its unrivalled and primitive wildness, which by the construction of roads, walks and means of access will have become one of the most fascinating resorts in the gorge, as well as a very paradise for botanists. The Queenston Heights Park, with its grand panoramic views, will be completed and restored, from the historic monument on the summit to the shores of the river below, with the whole river gorge, from the Falls to Queenston, improved and restored and its magnificent views and vistas opened up. In fine, the whole shore of the Niagara River, from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario, will be restored and converted into one continued series of avenues and parks for the recreation and enjoyment of the millions of overworked and tired humanity, where they can come for a time from the turmoil and toil of their busy and wearing lives to this mecca of peace and quietness, to commune with the majesty of nature and the eternal."

LIGHT AND DARK,

Day and night, sunshine and shadow are not more different from each other than a healthful from a sickly woman. The healthful woman carries light and sunshine with her wherever she goes.

The woman who suffers from ill-health casts a shadow on her own happiness and the happiness of others. She cannot help it. Those who suffer cannot smile and sing.

Ill-health in woman is generally traceable to disease of the delicate womanly organism. Many women have been restored to happiness by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

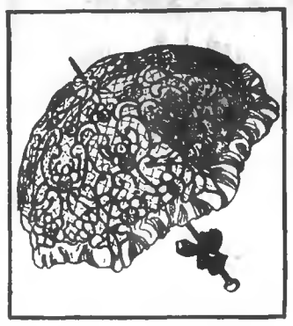
"I feel it my duty to inform you that I had been a sufferer for many years from nervousness with all its symptoms and complications," writes Mrs. O. N. Fisher, of 1851 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. "I was constantly going to see a physician or purchasing medicine for this or that complaint as my troubles became unbearable. In the spring of 1897 my husband induced me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After taking one bottle and following your advice I was so encouraged that I took five more bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and then I did not take any more for several weeks as I felt so much better, but still I was not completely cured. I commenced taking it again and felt that I was improving faster than at first. I am not now cross and irritable, and I have a good color in my face; have also gained about ten pounds in weight and one thousand of comfort, for I am a new woman once more."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Parasols of the Season.

As protectors from the sun must be in keeping with the dress it is not surprising to find the champagne tint a prominent one, white and red both high favorites and green not unknown in parasols.



SILK APPLIQUE AND CHIFFON PARASOL.

The chief points in the latest models are that they are larger and more domed in form. Some are diminutive as to shade and long in the handle. The example in the illustration is a grosgrain of champagne hue, with lace appliques in which medallions are introduced and a frill of the champagne tinted chiffon at the edge.

Chine muslins are pretty summery things for country use, while grass lawns with black velvet dots are elegant of aspect.

Jewels in the handle add to the beauty of many shimmering gossamer affairs for fete use.

How to Hang the Hammock.

A hammock hung firmly according to the following directions will be safe and comfortable, says a Good Housekeeping correspondent: The rope that secures the head end should be twelve inches or less in length, while that at the foot should measure four and a half feet. Arranged in this way, the lower part only will swing free and the head be kept nearly stationary.

Fashion's Echoes.

Pipeclay figures largely this season as a cleanser for white linen suits, white parasols and white shoes.

One inch and two inch tucks have become a dominant note in fashion.

Anything more charming, fashionable and exacting on the purse than the entire white suit, hat, veil, parasol, gown, gloves and shoes, would be hard to invent.

A sheer white linen shirt waist suit represents one of fashion's present fascinations.

Boas of tulle and plaitings of lace or quilled taffetas mingling among flowers are Paris fancies.

Skirts are less clinging and more profusely trimmed at the hem than last year.

Red is a violent but fashionable color of the season in gowns, hats and parasols.

Many evening gowns have the skirts kilt plaited and veiled, or not, as the wearer pleases.

Beautifully embroidered stockings are a feature of the season.

Cool and natty are the white canvas shoes for outing wear.

IS IT PREJUDICE?

That Makes you Suffer From Dyspepsia When Others Tell you Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Cure it, Sure.

"I have always had very strong objections to patent medicines, but the cures of Dyspepsia by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are wonderful. For two years my life had been a burden. I could not take the simplest food without having a pain across the stomach. Doctors did me no good. One box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets completely cured me. The Dyspepsia has never come back."

This in brief is the statement of Maria Ann Bujold, of Maria Cap, Bonaventure County, Quebec. Does it not strike home to you? Are not your prejudices against the so-called "patent" medicines causing you misery? Can't you overcome your prejudice and your Dyspepsia at the same time?

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will assuredly cure any case of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. They will digest the food themselves, giving the stomach a chance to rest and return to its normal condition.

The clerk looked up with a quiet smile and answered, "I believe not, sir."—London Globe.

FRUIT DAINTIES.

Including Candied Cherries and Strawberry Jelly.

The Morello cherry is one of the best for the purpose of making candied cherries, according to Table Talk, in which the following recipes occur. Any slightly tart cherry, however, will do for this conserve:

Pit and weigh the fruit, allowing one-half of a pound of granulated sugar for each pound of fruit. Spread in alternate layers in an earthen or granite pan, and let stand overnight. Drain off the juice and undissolved sugar, heat and boil slowly for thirty minutes. Drop in part of the fruit at a time and simmer for fifteen miutes. Skim out and spread on large platters. Stand in the sun, covering with fine cotton or wire gauze to protect from insects. Boil down the sirup until very thick. Each night bring in the dishes and set in a cool, dry place. In the morning turn them into the bowl of sirup, stir up till well moistened, then skim out again on the dishes and place in the sun for the day. If stormy, do not expose to dampness. By the time the sirup is used up the cherries should be quite dry. Let stand in the sun for another day, then pack in small jars or in boxes lined with waxed paper.

The Gandy is the best variety for making strawberry jelly, although it is usually the latest in the market. For canning and preserving the dark colored fruit is much superior to the light, even if the berries are smaller. Underripe rather than overripe should be the rule, and for jelly especially it is advisable to have the berries still a little green at the tips. Use firm, perfect fruit. Lay aside about half, and press the juice from the rest. Strain, and to each pint of juice allow one pound of sugar. Weigh the berries, put aside and add to them the same weight of sugar. Boil the juice about twenty minutes, add the sugar, which should be heated in the oven, and boil fifteen minutes longer. Add the mixed fruit and sugar to the jelly and simmer a few minutes longer. Seal when cold.

Only fresh, firm, perfect strawberries should be selected for canning. Hull, wash and drain, but handle very carefully, not to crush the fruit. Measure the berries after they are hulled. Allow a teacupful of granulated sugar to each quart of fruit. Put the sugar and berries in layers in a preserving kettle and allow it to stand an hour. Then bring slowly to the boiling point and let simmer two minutes. Do not stir the fruit. Seal at once.

Weak and Exhausted.

"Though weak and exhausted I was often unable to eat. After taking Angier's Petroleum Emulsion for two weeks I was able to eat and enjoy three hearty meals a day, and and the nervousness has left me entirely." — M. E. Nesbitt, Toronto, Canada. 6a

Whether Simple Scrofulous or Hereditary

Speedily Cured by Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills.

Complete Treatment for All Kinds of Humours.

In the treatment of torturing, disfiguring, itching, scaly, crusted, pimply, blotchy and scrofulous humours of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills have been wonderfully successful. Even the most obstinate of constitutional humours, such as bad blood, scrofula, inherited and contagious humours, with loss of hair, glandular swellings, ulcerous patches in the throat and mouth, sore eyes, copper-coloured blotches, as well as boils, carbuncles, scurvy, sties, ulcers and sores arising from an impure or impoverished condition of the blood, yield to the Cuticura Treatment, when all other remedies fail.

And greater still, if possible, is the wonderful record of cures of torturing, disfiguring humours among infants and children. The suffering which Cuticura Remedies have alleviated among the young, and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents, have led to their adoption in countless homes as priceless curatives for the skin and blood. Infantile and birth humours, milk crust, scalled head, eczema, rashes and every form of itching, scaly, pimply skin and scalp humours, with loss of hair, of infancy and childhood, are speedily, permanently and economically cured when all other remedies suitable for children, and even the best physicians, fail.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

The band concert last night was perhaps not quite as largely attended as usual, although the number present was a very large one. A very pleasant time was spent listening to the excellent programme which was presented. Two new pieces, both encored, and both worthy of mention, were a waltz, "Homage to the Ladies" and a euphonium solo by Mr. Cronk, "The Old Folks at Home," with variations. Other selections, such as "Hiawatha," and "Dixie," were enthusiastically applauded. The band played in its usual excellent manner and made quite a pronounced impression upon the minds of the audience.

* * * *

The Rachel Lewis Company last night, played "Should she have left him?" with remarkable success, before a good house. Mr. Hyde's playing provoked considerable applause, and his selections received well merited commendation. Miss Lewis, as usual, was the central figure, and played her role with great success.

The company will this evening play "Under Two Flags."

AN ADDITION TO MT. ST. JOSEPH.

Corner Stone Laid Yesterday by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor.

ELOQUENT SERMON BY ARCHDEACON CASEY.

A Training School for the Sisters Before Going out to Teach and Dispense Charities of the Church.

That the work being performed by the Sisterhood of St. Joseph is a worthy one and deserving of hearty support no one can gainsay, and it is pleasing to know that the high educational standard set by the institution is being recognized by the people as evidenced by the support that is being accorded the Community. The beautiful property belonging to the Sisters was formerly known as "Inglewood," and was for many years the residence of the late Mr. Sherwood, but about 11 years ago was purchased and transformed into a training school for Nuns. The work, small at first, has gradually grown until the original building was found to be too small for the demands made upon its space, and an enlargement was decided upon. This was made necessary, as Bishop O'Connor explained, by the fact that schools had been established in different towns, throughout the Diocese, notably at Fort William, Port Arthur, Sault Ste. Marie, Lindsay, Cobourg, besided an Indian school at Fort William, and the teachers for these schools had to be trained at the Community of Mount St. Joseph. The growing work constantly demanded new teachers, for the training of which there was not sufficient room in the original building, hence the erection of the addition, which is being built by Messrs. Rutherford Bros., & Sheehy, with Mr. J. E. Belcher as architect.

THE ADDITION TO MOUNT ST. JOSEPH.

The new building, the corner stone of which was laid yesterday by his Lordship Bishop O'Connor, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, of Lindsay, and Rev. Father McColl, Rector of the Parish; Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Rev. Messrs. Kelly and McFadden, will be 44 x 70 feet, three stories in height, a third story will also be added to the building already built, which is 30 x 40 feet, a two storey kitchen, 18 x 42 feet, will be built at the rear. The first floor of the new structure will be used as a chapel and the 2nd and 3rd floors will be for additional training accommodation and living rooms.

The ceremony in connection with the laying of the corner stone which took place yesterday afternoon, was attended by several hundred persons, among whom were Hon. J. R. Stratton, Ald. Corkery, Ald. D. O'Connell, and many others.

A procession formed in the Community, led by Rev. Mr. McFadden bearing the cruicifix, and altar boys with lighted candles, with the Bishop supported by Rev. Dr. O'Brien and Rev. Father McColl, proceeded to the wooden cross, which had been erected on the spot on which the altar will stand in the completed building; this was blessed by the Bishop and holy water was sprinkled, with the usual ceremonial exercises. The laying of the corner stone was next accomplished, by his Lordship Bishop O'Connor. A glass jar containing copies of the Toronto morning papers of Saturday date; the Catholic Record, the Catholic Register, Antogonish Casket, Catholic True Witness, the Peterborough Examiner and the Peterborough Review, with a set of the current coins of the realm, medals, a document certifying to the death of the Holy Father Pope Leo XIII, and a list of the names of the King, Governor-General, Mayor, the Bishop performing the ceremony, the Archdeacon who preached and the Parish Rector, Rev. Father McColl, was placed in a receptacle prepared for it, and the stone was well and truly laid by His Lordship.

SERMON BY VEN. ARCHDEACON CASEY.

The sermon was preached by the Ven. Archdeacon Casey, of Lindsay, who took for his text, "As the Father hath sent me, so send I you." The Archdeacon said that the occasion which called the gathering together was one which found in itself the fulfilment of the mission of Jesus Christ to the earth. Just as after the death and resurrection of Christ the disciples were sent by Christ to emulate the example of their Lord, and went about doing good, leaving no sorrowing one without consolation and curing all the afflictions of which flesh is heir to, so the Sisters, who are represented by the members of the Community of Mount St. Joseph are doing all in their power to provide the necessary means for the eternal salvation of those entrusted to their care.

The speaker said that they witnessed the laying of the corner stone of the "Mother House" for the Sisters of Mount St. Joseph, who are doing all they can to help the Kingdom of Christ by performing works of mercy, by caring for those who are friendless in the world, the orphans, and thereby emulating the attitude of Christ who said "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not." When disease falls upon man they are ready to help and seek to relieve the suffering by the establishment of hospitals, without endowment, and supported only by public charity, while the Sisters give their work free.

When men by misfortune or, perhaps, by their own sin, are stricken with sickness, they are watched over tenderly by the Sisters, again imitating the life and wonderful charity of Christ.

THE SACRED WORK OF TEACHING.

Not only do the Sisters dispense charity, but they also teach the youth of the church. The house is a training school for nuns that they may be prepared to perform the sacred duty of teaching. But, first of all, they are required to leave the world, and all that belongs to it, and to live a holy, chaste life, accepting Christ as their spouse. The Lord said, "Blessed are the poor in spirit." The nuns, when they enter upon this work, abandon the wealth of the world, and follow their Master, of whom it was said, "He had nowhere to lay His head," that they might be the dispensers of the offerings of those who are blessed with an abundance of this world's possessions.

One of the first lessons taught them is that of obedience to the will of Christ. They have "no will but to do the will of Christ," and are prepared to share their lives with the poor. The chief end of their training is that they may be fitted to teach the young. Nothing is causing as much discussion to-day as the teaching of the children. He said that in the first place the education of children belongs to the parents. God had ordained it so. Parents should have the first thought for their children, and care for them, physically, mentally and morally. God had instilled into the parent an immeasureable love for the child, which is stronger than anything else in the world.

PARENTS SHOULD HAVE RIGHT TO EDUCATE CHILDREN.

It was unjust to take from the parent the right to educate the child. Next to the parent the church should have the responsibility, because the command to it was, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel, teaching and baptizing," etc., therefore the church has a high place in the education of the children. The church was instituted for the salvation of mankind, and as it has been said that as a twig is bent so it will grow, the church should early be given the care of the child to train it properly.

STATE SHOULD LEAVE EDUCATION TO THE CHURCH.

At the beginning of the reign of the church schools were erected, which, as the buildings were multiplied, and some of the greatest universities of to-day were founded in the old monastic times. He said that history showed that wherever the church had supervision of the schools education prospered. Sometimes the state interferes with the church in her educational endeavours, and this interference was unjust. He said that the church had a right to demand that the children were properly taught, but it had no more authority to say what a child should be taught than it had to say what it should wear. He was glad to say that in Canada Separate schools were allowed, which was a great boon to the church, because in them the necessary religious education was given. As a proof of the truth of the assertion that the church should control the educational institutions, the speaker said that in many of the universities to-day education, and not Christianity, was being taught.

OBJECT OF MOUNT ST. JOSEPH.

The object in view when the building, the corner stone of which had been laid to-day, had been planned, was that in it the daughters of the church should be properly trained to teach the children the practice of the Holy Religion. It was of great moment that this building should be erected and maintained, as from it would come the saintly women who would in the schools through the diocese instruct the children of the church, and dispense its charities.

He concluded his eloquent address by appealing to all present to do all in their power to help the good Sisters in their work.

BISHOP O'CONNOR TELLS OF THE WORK OF THE DIOCESE.

Bishop O'Connor added a few words to those of the Archdeacon, and said he was pleased to see so many present. It was an encouragement to the Sisters in their unselfish work. He spoke briefly of the need which had existed for an enlarged building, and hoped that the works of mercy which the Sisters had undertaken would be heartily supported by all the members of the church, a number of them sisters and daughters of the citizens of the town, and he believed that more would devote themselves to this work, and the amelioration of the ills of man. His Lordship then spoke of the different towns throughout the Diocese where schools had been established.

After this the ceremony of blessing the building was performed by His Lordship, the entire foundation being sprinkled with holy water.

An offering was then taken for the building of the structure, which was liberally contributed to.

THE KING'S MESSAGE

Kindness of the People of the City of Dublin Acknowledged.

A TRIBUTE TO WARM HEARTS.

Farewell to Dublin on Saturday—Their Majesties Accorded a Hearty Send-Off—Last Act Reviewing Thousands of Children in the Rain—Royal Party Heartily Greeted at Other Points in Ireland.

Dublin, July 27. — King Edward and Queen Alexandra left Dublin at noon Saturday to visit the Marquis and Marchioness of Londonderry at Mount Stewart, Newtownards, County Down. They halted on their way to the railway station to review thousands of children who had assembled in Phoenix Park. Although it was raining at the time Their Majesties passed in open carriage. The streets were lined six deep with spectators. The enthusiasm which heretofore been displayed was fully maintained.

Before leaving here King Edward gave £1,000, which is to be distributed among the poor of Dublin.

The following royal message has been issued in the form of a letter from Mr. George Wyndham, Chief Secretary for Ireland, to Earl Dudley, the Lord Lieutenant:

The King's Large Wish.

"The King, before leaving, commands me to beg you to convey to all his people in Dublin his deep appreciation of the loyalty and affection with which he and the Queen were surrounded during their stay. Their Majesties forever will cherish the memory of these days, during which every incident but confirmed their belief that the inhabitants of this illustrious city may, under God's providential guidance, confidently look forward to blessings commensurate with the keenness of their intelligence and the warmth of their hearts."

The King and Queen had a rousing welcome at Newtownards. Later they took an automobile to Portaferry, where they crossed Strangford Lough aboard the gunboat Hebe and visited Lord De Ros, the oldest peer in the realm. Although the district is strongly Nationalist, the people gave Their Majesties a most hearty reception.

A BIG BLAZE.

St. Catharines Firm Sustains Heavy Loss —Origin a Mystery.

St. Catharines, July 27.—George Wilson & Co.'s large lumber yards, situated on the north side of Niagara street, was again visited by fire at an early hour yesterday morning. The fire started in the eastern end and soon spread westward, covering the entire yard, which was heavily stocked with choice lumber. Two large sheds, each 800 feet long, went up like paper. A large amount of stock was manufactured and ready to go out and is a total loss.

The firemen, with the help of a west wind, saved the main mill, box factory and offices. A small house on Page street side caught fire and was completely destroyed. The Warran Else Co.'s plant was in great danger and was saved only by hard work. The firemen worked heroically and saved a number of frame houses situated all around the yard. The origin of the fire is a mystery. F. W. Wilson estimates the loss at between $45,000 and $50,000; partly covered by insurance.

JUDGE ARMOUR'S FUNERAL.

Notable Men in Law and Other Circles Will Attend.

Cobourg, July 27.—The remains of the late Chief Justice Armour arrived in Cobourg by special car Saturday evening at 6.30. The funeral takes place at 11.45 this morning from St. Peter's Church. All places of business will be closed from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. The flag on the town hall will be at half-mast until after the funeral. The casket will not be opened at Cobourg.

The following will act as pallbearers: Sir Wm. Mulock, Hon. Chief Justice Chas. Moss, Hon. Chief Justice Sir Wm. Meredith, Hon. Chief Justice W. G. Falconbridge, Hon. Mr. Justice Wallace Nesbitt, W. R. Wadsworth, manager Bank of Toronto.

BRUTALITY TO SOLDIERS.

Over 400 Members of a Regiment Prostrated by Heat.

Vienna, July 21.—Details received from Budapest regarding the suffering of an infantry regiment from the extraordinary heat during a manoeuvre match from Trebinye to Bilek last Monday, on which about 430 men were prostrated, indicate that bad handling of the regiment was largely responsible for the men being overcome. Before reaching Bilek the men fell out of the ranks by scores. Nine died immediately and 22 were carried off insensibly, six of whom died soon after reaching the hospital and 70 others are in a serious condition. During the march the thermometer registered 125 degrees in the sun.

SHE WAS TERRIBLY BITTEN.

Mrs. Ellen McKee Recaptured on Verge of Collapse.

Windsor, July 27.—Mrs. Ellen McKee, the woman who escaped from Sandwich Jail, where she was confined, awaiting extradition on a charge of embezzling $2,500 from the Irish postal authorities, was recaptured by Chief Masters of Sandwich Saturday morning. The poor woman has been wandering at large since 6 o'clock Thursday night. She has been terribly bitten about the face and hands by mosquitoes and is on the verge of collapse.

ANNOUNCEMENT THURSDAY.

Some Minor Points in Grand Trunk Pacific to Settle.

Ottawa, July 27.—(Toronto Globe special.) — Consideration of the Grand Trunk Pacific contract occupied the attention of the Cabinet at the sessions held Saturday morning and evening. Most of the details have been agreed upon, but there are one or two features upon which further light is needed. It is not expected that any difficulty will be encountered in adjusting these points, as Mr. Hays has shown a most reasonable disposition throughout the negotiations. The delay involved may prevent the Government from bringing down to-morrow the resolutions affecting the project. It is now said to be almost sure, however, that the Prime Minister will explain the enterprise to Parliament on Thursday next.

Collector of Customs Dead.

Napanee, July 27.—Thomas E. Anderson, collector of customs at Napanee, died at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, after an illness of about six months. Deceased was about 48 years of age, and leaves a widow and family.

MONETARY TIMES ON PETERBOROUGH.

The Financial Paper Says That Peterborough is Very Much Alive.

The Monetary Times of yesterday has the following article on the progress of Peterborough:—

"Situate on the river Otonabee, and almost in the centre of that chain of beautiful waters known as the Kawartha Lakes, Peterborough is wonderfully well situated for furnishing water-power. This was seen when the town was founded in 1825. It is not long since a prominent Englishman, member of a big banking house, declared Peterborough destined, in his judgment, to be one of the large manufacturing centres of the North American Continent. Seventy miles north-east of Toronto, on the main line of the C.P.R. to Ottawa and Montreal; on the Grand Trunk Railway, which radiates from it east west, north and south; on the Trent Canal, which bears larger boats than the Erie—what better facilities for handling freight could any town possess? A recent visitor tells us of extent of its water-power facilities and the greater cluster of industries which are now congregated there. He says: "Besides the Auburn Woollen Mills and the Canadian General Electric Works, large concerns both—the latter putting up new buildings—there are some very extensive factories of more recent date. The Cereal Company's works are of enormous extent, and use much water, both in the shape of power and for processes of manufacture. And the cordage works, into which $400,000 to $500,000 of Canadian capital has been put, are doing extremely well. Then there is a beet sugar plant projected and the walls being raised. It is further reported that the Cereal Company is about to re-open the street railway."

Everything in and about the town appears to be booming at the present moment. And it may not be inappropriate for us to mention that a reunion of Peterborough "Old Boys" is to be held from Saturday to Monday next, which from the programme promises to be a most enjoyable affair. Peterborough and Ashburnham contain between them some 13,000 to 14,000 of a population; and the assessment valuation was last year $4,750,000. Houses are greatly in demand for dwellings, a fact which better than any other illustrates the industrial activity of the place. An enterprising man named J. Alexander Culverwell was some years ago impressed with the value of water-power in and around Peterborough. He was instrumental in forming the Central Ontario Power Co., of which he is managing director. It is offering electric power at Peterborough to manufacturers at remarkably low cost. We understand further that Mr. Culverwell, who is an electrical expert, in 1901 or 1902 bought over water-power properties, outside of the city limits. He deserves to do well, and get a good return for his enterprise. The whole county of Peterborough is uncommonly blest with resources of value. Much of it is fine arable land whose cultivators are thrifty. If its timber wealth is mostly a thing of the past, there are treasures of a mineral nature that only need developing. Finally, the surroundings of Peterborough as a resort for summer pleasuring are difficult to excel. Stony Lake is a scene of enchantment, and a trip on the waters traversed by the steamers of the Trent Valley Navigation Company will give the passenger his fill of summer beauty."

OTONABEE COUNCIL.

Legislation on Many Matters—Accounts Presented.

The following is the report of the meeting of Otonabee Council recently held:—

The Clerk was instructed to notify all Pathmasters, whose road lists are not returned by the 15th of August, that unless they are returned by the 1st of September, or evidence that the work is done, the amount of statute labour will be put on the Collector's Roll. The Council is taking this step on account of some of the Statute Labour not being done, and if the property changes hands, the labour is lost to the Township.

A communication was received from Ashburnham Clerk, stating that their Road and Bridge Committee had been appointed to confer with a committee from Otonabee, to consider the repairs to the Ashburnham and Otonabee boundary. The Reeve, and Councillors Porter, Moore and Fife were appointed to meet with Ashburnham; also to see about a ditch at Coldspring watering trough.

A resolution was passed to close the old angled road from the north east corner of lot 12 to the Campbleton Wharf, as soon as the new surveyed road is made to the satisfaction of the council.

In view of the increasing expenditure on the roads to keep them in an efficient state, and the increase of cost of material, the council decided to levy 1-10 of a mill more on the dollar, making the rate 2 mills instead of 19-10 as for the last few years.

Complaint has been made that the brick-makers and others are taking sand and soil off the road allowances in some places making them unsafe for travel. The Clerk was instructed to bill Heap & Butcher with 40 loads; Curtis Bros., 50 loads and Thos. Walsh 10 loads, at 10 cents per load, and forbidding all persons from removing any soil off the roads unless by permission of the council.

The Clerk was instructed to notify John McKenty and Wm. Fitzgerald to remove their fences off the road at Fitzgerald's swamp, on the 2nd line.

MILLIONAIRES SCORCHED.

Rockefeller Family Fortune Has Shrunk $100,000,000 by Recent Slump.

New York, July 27.—The Herald says: By conservative men in Wall street, and by men who most closely follow the trend of affairs financial, the estimate is made that the Rockefeller family fortune has shrunk $100,000,000 in value under the influence of the recent slump in securities.

The apparent loss to the friends of J. Pierpont Morgan has been great. William C. Whitney, and those who are allied with him, have suffered reverses that have hurt. John W. Gates and the other members of the "Chicago crowd" are nursing wounds that will be long in healing. James R. Keene admits a loss of $1,500,000. Some believe Mr. Keene's fortune has shrunk much more.

CROWDING IN TROOPS.

Indications Point to How Things Are Shaping in Far East.

London, July 27.—The Standard Saturday morning prints a Tien Tsin despatch, which says that the New Chwang trains are crowded with Russian troops going in the direction of Port Arthur that these trains are taking precedence over normal traffic and that heavy guns and other artillery are also being sent.

Race War in Illinois.

Danville, Ill., July 27.—This city is in the throes of a race riot. One negro, J. P. Mayfield of Evansville, Ind., who Saturday night shot and killed Henry Gatterman, white, has already been lynched by a mob of 600 men. The mob later was fired upon by the sheriff and three men were wounded. It was then clamoring for the life of another negro named James Wilson, who has confessed to a brutal assault on Mrs. Thomas Burgess, wife of a farmer. Some negroes are arming themselves and others are preparing for flight. Wilson is still in the hands of the sheriff.

Danville is now under military protection. Four companies of the 7th Illinois Infantry arrived yesterday from Springfield. The jail was placed under military guard on the arrival of the militia, and this guard was doubled last night.

Burnt Girls to Death.

Vienna, July 27.—Die Zeit reports one of the most shocking crimes ever known in these parts. According to the paper a number of laborers attacked a number of young women employed on the same farm, and the bailiff had to be called upon. He locked the girls, thirty-three in number, in the barn in order to protect them from the men. This, however, seemed to enrage the laborers and they set fire to the building and all of the girls perished in the flames.

The Sealing Question.

Washington, July 27.—The determination of the question whether seal life shall be protected in the Behring Sea, and to what extent, or whether all the seals on the rookery proposed at the last Congress, is to be shall be destroyed at once, as be referred to the High Joint Committee when it convenes next fall.

UNDER THE WATERS.

Many Drownings Reported in Canadian Waters.

A WAITRESS CAPTAIN'S DEATH

Boat of Miss Farley and Miss Mahon Upset in Lake Rosseau — First Was Drowned and Latter Rescued— Adam Birney's Death—Walked Into the Canal — Double Drowning at Montreal.

Royal Muskoka, July 27.— A sad drowning accident occurred here Friday afternoon, in which one life was lost. Miss Agnew Farley of Brooklyn, N.Y., captain of the waitresses here, and another waitress named Miss Annie Mahon, left here Friday afternoon in a rowboat for Rosseau, and were returning about 5 o'clock. When about a mile from Rosseau, the boat was accidentally upset. Miss Mahon clung to the boat, and was rescued, but Miss Farley sank immediately and never came up. The body lies in 100 feet of water, and has not yet been recovered.

Adam Birney's Death.

Hanover, July 27.—The waters of the old Saugeen River, at this place, claimed another victim Saturday evening, in the person of a young man named Adam Birney. He with two other young men, went in bathing about 7 o'clock. He jumped into the water and swam out about the middle of the stream. It is thought he took cramps, for in a moment he sank beneath the water. His body was recovered about two hours after, but life was extinct. He was a turner in the Knechtel Furniture Company's factory, and took a lively interest in lacrosse and football circles. He was about 21 years of age, and unmarried. His parents live near Enniskillen, in the County of Bruce.

Two Men Drowned.

Montreal, July 27.—A fatal boating accident took place on the St. Lawrence, near Nun's Island, yesterday. A boat was upset and two men, Lee Rogers and Thomas Harte, were drowned.

Walked Into Canal.

Port Colborne, July 27.—A young Italian laborer, aged 19, was drowned at Humberstone Saturday evening. He had just arrived in town and did not notice that the swing bridge was open and walked into the canal.

HIS BACK CRUSHED IN.

How Lieut. Whelen of Ottawa Met His Death.

Ottawa, July 27.—The body of Lieut. Hume Whelen, son of Mr. P. Whelen, manager of Shepherd Morse Lumber Company, who was killed at Quebec on Saturday, was brought home yesterday. He was 18 years of age, and had been sent by his father with a raft of square timber to learn that side of the lumber trade at Quebec. Before dawn he heard the whistle of the tug blow for the harbor, and, springing from his bed, he went out, and from what can be learned, saw some small craft in danger of being crushed against the raft. Seizing a pole, he shoved against the boat, and the pole slipping, he fell into the water. Two men ran to the rescue, and in pulling him out of the water the boat crushed in suddenly, catching him in the spine, crushing in his back. Death was instantaneous. He was an officer of the 43rd Regiment, and will be buried with military honors.

Burned to Death.

Winnipeg, July 27.—John Walker, employed as stable hand in H. Griffin's livery, was burned to death Saturday night in a fire which destroyed the stable. Several horses were cremated and several injured.

Died From Blow on Temple.

Toronto, July 27.—Elijah Cowling, aged 53, died at the General Hospital yesterday morning from an injury to his right temple and eye. The death blow was received during an altercation with his sons, and there is a great deal of mystery about the affair. An inquest will be held.

SELF-EFFACED.

"Attend to the Other Fellow," Said a Dying Youth.

Kingston, July 27.—Southbound train No. 18 on the West Shore Saturday night struck and killed Clarence Sherwood, aged 21, son of the Rev. Mr. Henry Sherwood, and probably fatally injured William J. Turck, jr. They were riding in an automobile at Saugerties road crossing, when the accident occurred. They escaped a northbound freight train, but did not see the approaching southbound passenger. When Sherwood was approached by Dr. Sadler, who was near the scene of the accident, he said. "Attend to the other fellow, I'm too far gone."

Killed by an Engine.

Quebec, July 27.—A well-known citizen of Quebec, Mr. Alberos Darroch, for many years a very prominent and prosperous flour and provision merchant in Quebec, was struck by an engine about 10.30 o'clock yesterday morning on the Louise Embankment, and died twenty minutes after the accident in the ambulance. Deceased was sixty-five years old.

Indian Found Dead.

Jordan, July 27.—The body of an Indian was found dead on the G. T. R. tracks, one mile east of Jordan Station. He is supposed to have been struck by a train. The body is almost unrecognizable. His name is David Laforn of Hagersville. He was about 26 years of age, and unmarried.

Crew Failed to Wait on Siding.

Worcester, Mass., July 27.—One dead and 48 injured are the results of a head-on collision between two cars on the Boston & Worcester Street Railway near Westboro yesterday. The accident, it is said, was due to failure of the crew of one car to wait the order on the siding.

Four Persons Killed.

St. Paul, Minn., July 27.—In a head-on collision between a passenger train and a freight train on the Chicago Great Western Railroad yesterday, four men were killed and about 25 passengers injured.

The dead include:—Engineers Merkert and Helman, Fireman Coger and Fred Horton, a passenger.

Horton, it is said, was standing in the vestibule of the front sleeper talking to a friend when the crash came. He was instantly killed, while his friend escaped injury.

This is the second time Davis has won the King's Prize, a feat which has been accomplished only once before in the history of the competition. Pte. McCallum of the 1st Stirling Volunteers was second, with a score of 310, and Sergeant Galloway of the 2nd Ayrshire was third, with 308. The weather was bright, but the wind was very strong and variable.

The following members of the Canadian team were placed in the King's hundred:

TO ITS LONG REST.

Body of Leo XIII. Interred in St. Peter's Cathedral.

THE CEREMONY IMPRESSIVE.

Though Austere and Simple, It Was Calculated to Touch the Imagination —The Sorrowful, Sighing-Like Miserere Echoed Far and Wide— The Last Function—Leo XIII. Private Will—The Conclave.

Rome, July 27.—A note common to humanity was struck at the burial of the Pope Saturday night. The office for the dead heard daily in the churches was repeated as if Leo XIII were neither a visible head of the church nor a sovereign, but an ordinary man, from the "Miserere" to the "In Paradisum" and from the "Ingrediar" to the "Queen Admodum Desiderat," There was a solemn office with a requiem chant and Psalm which might have been heard at the burial of the lowliest Catholic; yet here at last, after a three days' exhibition of a dead Pope in pontificals and gold mitre before throngs of scrambling sightseers, there was something austere and simple, weird and profoundly impressive to touch the imagination — something worthy of the historic basilica and the noble life of the greatest of modern Popes.

Two Thousand Spectators.

The vast spaces of St. Peter's were dimly lighted when the diplomatic corps, the Papal court and seven hundred invited guests, representing chiefly the old nobility, were admitted. There were two thousand spectators, men in uniform or evening dress and women in black, but they were lost in the shadows of the cathedral. Guards were still watching with halberds and drawn swords beside the dead Pope, and around them was a radiance of yellow candle light. There was also a misty light in the Chapel of the Choir, and ninety-five gilded lamps were burning around the marble balustrade of the confession of St. Peter. In soleman stillness the approach of the long procession from the Hall of Consistory was awaited. It was a mournful file of ecclesiastics and soldiers, tramping slowly into the basilica, but more melancholy than the sombre vestments was the sorrowful, sighing-like "Miserere," echoing far and wide with unearthly and weird pathos.

When the cardinals, in their violet robes, had paid their final tribute of homage and loyal obedience, the coffin was uplifted by the guards, and the procession passed slowly toward the altar, with the Miserere as an accompaniment. It was a mediaeval spectacle, deeply impressive. Several hundred men and boys were seen by the light of the flaring torches. Choirsters, ecclesiastics, canons and students were in violet and black, the Noble Guard in red, the gendarmes in green and rhe dignitaries of the court in mediaeval costume.

Confession of St. Peter.

The body was carried across the church to the confession of St. Peter, where the Pope had often prayed at midnight by the traditional tomb Here the coffin was lowered to the ground for absolution, and then was carried back through the church to the Chapel of the Choir, where the burial office was repeated in the presence of the cardinals and the diplomatic corps. Tradition was followed in almost every detail. Purses containing coins and medals were placed in the coffin, with a parchment record of the pontificate. The majordomo drew a silk scarf over the face and hands of the dead, and the coffin was sealed by six great functionaries.

When the last requiem was sung, and "I Am the Resurrection and the Life" had rung out in Latin, the coffin was raised in a sling and slowly swung into the niche over the sides of the door, the lights disappearing on the altar from stage to stage, until the last one was extinguish. The last function was performed by the masons, who bricked up the opening and set a marble plate with the name of "Leo XIII" in front of the sarcophagus.

About thirty-two cardinals were present, Cardinal Gibbons not being among them. It was a unique mediaeval ceremonial, in a temple consecrated to traditions and mysteries, but the music was the most impressive feature and saddened the heart of the most joyous spectator.

Leo XIII. Private Will.

The Pope's private will disposes of the story that he left large sums to relatives. It says: "Of gifts received during my Pontificate I claim none. They were given to me as head of the church, and they belong to the church. My nephews and other relatives know my sentiments. They will have to content themselves with my family estate at Carpineto. This they shall divide among themselves.

"It is my wish that my trusted servant, Pio Centra, receive for life a pension of 2,000 lire, which my heirs shall pay him. All my other belongings shall go to the church."

To Decide in Two Days.

The ceremonial of the conclave established by Gregory XV. is to be followed at the coming meeting. The cardinals have decided during the conclave to eat in common in order to facilitate their work.

A local paper quotes the response of Cardinal Svampa to a question as to whether he believed the conclave would be of lengthy duration, as follows: "On the contrary, I think it will be very short. I believe that two days will suffice to reach an agreement."

Premier's Tribute to the Pope.

Ottawa, July 27.—Upon the late Pontiff's death Sir Wilfrid Laurier sent the following letter to the Apostolic Delegate in Ottawa:

"I beg you to convey to his Eminence the Cardinal Secretary of State the deep sense of sorrow which has been caused in this country by the death of his Holiness Pope Leo XIII. Canadians of all classes and denominations have had many reasons to appreciate the broad, wise and enlightened statesmanship with which he guided the Church, and which now calls forth a spontaneous tribute of admiration from the world. I have the honor to be your Excellency's obedient servant,

"(Signed) Wilfrid Laurier.

"To his Excellency Mgr. Sbarretti, Apostolic Delegate, Ottawa."

Surest Way of Discouraging Japan's Aggression.

RUSSIA'S CYNICAL EXCUSE.

St. Petersburg Correspondent Says There Is No Likelihood of War If Russia Has to Take the Initiative—Financial Reasons and Important Domestic Reforms Engrossing the Attention of Russians.

London, July 25.—A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from St. Petersburg, dated July 20, says: "The attitude of Japan and the warlike tone of the majority of the Japanese press have attracted much attention in official circles here. It is declared by the best informed people that there is no likelihood of war, certainly not upon Russia's initiative. It is said that Russia has every motive for desiring peace, chiefly for financial reasons, with which are wound up desire for extensive domestic reforms which the Government considers the most efficious manner of disarming internal discontent and nipping the revolutionary propaganda in the bud.

"It is believed to be impossible from the Russian view point for Japan to embark in a contest with Russia single-handed, and it is not thought she will secure the material support of Great Britain or the United States.

"Nevertheless Russia is taking every precaution to strengthen her military and naval position in the Orient, believing this to be the surest means of discouraging Japanese aggressions.

"M. Lessar's Port Arthur conference is said to have dealt chiefly with these measures, though they are declared to be entirely precautionary, war being the farthest thing from the wishes of the Russian Government."

Berlin, July 25.—Notwithstanding the semi-official denial that Prince Ferdinand's departure from Sofia amounts to a flight, The Vossische Zeitung, which gets well authenticated private information from Bulgaria, says it believes that the rumors of the Prince's flight have some basis, and the paper regards it as probable that he has left the country till the existing excitement subsidies. The Vossische Zeitung yesterday prints a special despatch from Sofia saying that it is openly asserted that an attempt against Prince Ferdinand's throne is not impossible, Servia's example having had a profound influence in the Prince's country

Scrawny People.

People grow thin, scrawney, pale and weak when the blood is thin and watery. What is needed to round off the angles and fill out the form, is not fat but healthy muscular tissue. By enriching the blood and increasing its nourishing qualities Dr. Chase's Nerve Food adds new flesh and tissue to the body as well as new vigour and energy. You can prove this by noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure.

Cooking Utensils.

At house cleaning time brighten tins and other cooking utensils, put them all in the wash boiler and place on the fire with plenty of water and a liberal amount of washing soda. Let them boil for twenty minutes, remove the wash boiler from the fire, but do not take the tins out for three hours. At the end of that time they will be when washed bright and new looking.

Water Colors.

Water colors appear to the best advantage when encircled by a gold mat, the deep yellow setting bringing out the coloring of the aquarelle with richer effect. For occasional subjects, such as an orchard scene with apple trees in bloom, a white mat makes an admirable frame, but the golden setting is the better in most instances.

BRITISH EGYPT.

Wonderful Transformation of an Oriental Country Into a Modern Civilized State in Twenty Years.

There is a very great difference between the Egypt of Khedive Ismail, spendthrift, and the Egypt of Lord Cromer, administrative expert. When the British "occupation" began, in 1882, with the crushing of the Arabi rebellion, (the outcome of Ismail's prodigacy,) financial chaos ruled in Egypt from the Soudan frontier to the Mediterranean; the people were saddled with a staggering debt, the nation's credit was at so low an ebb that public securities could be sold for scarcely half their face value, and corruption, dishonesty, and confusion stalked in practically every public office.

For the first few years Britain's work was aptly described as "a race against bankruptcy." When success began to appear reforms were taken in hand, and first and last every branch of the country's management has been reformed and modernized. To convert an Oriental country, possessing features of government antedating the Bible and honeycombed with corruption, to a condition of administrative perfection worthy of a European State was a gigantic undertaking. But apparently this has been done.

Egyptians used to be overtaxed; but while the peasant was flogged into paying, the influential landowner usually escaped by adroit bribery of officials. Lands formerly were arbitratily taxed; now they are assessed upon productive capacity assured by public irrigation facilities, and every landowner pays his equitable share. Modern systems of auditing and accounting make dishonesty in Government offices well-nigh impossible, and favoritism is frowned upon. The corvee, or forced labor, is a thing of the past; the public debt has been reduced in recent years, and several issues of bonds have been funded at rational rates of interest. On European bourses to-day Egyptian securities rule at prices nearly as high as British consols, when the yield of the securities is considered.

Lord Cromer's latest report shows that to pay interest on outstanding bonds and to run the Government in 1902 required $57,160,000, and that revenue from all sources was $60,740,000. With the exception of but one year this was the largest income in the country's history. and would have been greater had the Nile risen to its normal height. The reforms incident to 1902 were the abolition of octroi duties at Alexandria and Cairo and the opening of the Nile to free navigation. Forty-five per cent. of imports in 1902 were from Great Britain, and exports thereto totalled 52 per cent. Trade follows the flag in Egypt, certainly.

Until recently the common people in Egypt had no knowledge of banking. If they borrowed money it was usually a clandestine operation with a usurer. There is now a national bank, with branches in large towns. An agricultural bank, likewise under Government control, lends to farmers at reasonable rates of interest. To encourage thrift a postal savings bank system was established two years since, which already has 14,000 depositors, of whom a quarter are petty Government officials. Almost every public service has been cheapened, with vastly extended uses as the result. Lighthouse dues have been lowered, and the salt tax has been reduced by 40 per cent., causing the use to be doubled. Postal rates a few years ago were cut in half, and this branch of the Government's service has quadrupled. Last year 17,256,000 letters were handled. A like increase in the number of telegrams attended the reduction in the cost of sending messages. The Egyptian Postoffice Department is as up to date as any in the world, if it has any scandals the public never hears of them, and last year it earned a profit of $125,000.

Important reductions have been made in railway charges—the lines are State owned, with receipts pledged to creditors of the Government—and increased traffic has been secured. Last year the roads carried 13,040,000 passengers and 2,975,000 tons of freight. Lord Cromer admits that a private corporation might conduct the lines on "more strictly commercial principles," but is opposed to intrusting the railways to a company. He states that competing lines being out of the question, control would amount to monopoly, and the public consequently could not benefit by a change.

In the twenty years of English control the receipts of the Mixed Courts have expanded from $1,000,000 to $2,605,000. These international tribunals, wherein civil causes are promptly adjudicated without ruinous costs, earn yearly for the Government upward of $1,750,000.

While Egypt has advanced rapidly in population and the condition of its people has improved greatly, it is gratifying to know that the sum spent on its army has gradually decreased. Twenty years ago the rate of taxation per head of population was $5.26; last year its was practically $4.

Why He Never Married.

The late Paul du Chaillu was on one occasion asked why he had never married. "Well, once upon a time," he answered, without a smile, "an old African King who was very fond of me offered me my choice of 853 women as a wife. 'Your Majesty,' I replied, 'if I should marry one of these beauties of yours there would be 852 jealous women here.' 'Well,' replied the King, 'that is easily settled. Take them all.' That was a little too strong for me, however, and as I have never had such a field to choose from since I am still a bachelor."

THE TOWN MADE GLAD BY HOME COMERS' RE-UNION.

They Gather From Many Climes to Visit Again the Old Town.

DELIGHTED WITH THE PROGRESS TOWN HAS MADE.

Many Interesting Features of First Annual Home Coming—Addresses of Welcome This Afternoon—Fine Weather and Genial Crowd Make an Ideal Re-union.

Peterborough "Boys" are we from every line of trade,
Finance, farm and factory—a resolute brigade;
On a common level, with our dues and carriage paid;
Home again with songs and rejoicing.

LLEWELLYN A. MORRISON.

The homes of the residents of the town have since Saturday been thrown open to receive the returning sons and daughters, who come bearing marks of achievement in other lands, but still cherishing a strong love for the land which gave them birth, and never has a welcome been more spontaneous or hearty than that which Peterborough citizens accorded to her sons who come home in well-dressed throngs on Saturday and again to day. A conservative estimate of the number of visitors in town Saturday places the number at 2,000, those were not all old boys; about 500 were excursionists from Oshawa and other towns along the lake, but the vast majority of visitors were genuine "Old Boys" home to renew the old time acquaintances and to revisit the scenes of happy bouyant youth. The home-comers, as they left the depot and scattered through town, some, and the great bulk of them, to the homes of friends, many were the expressions of amazement as the evidences of the solid prosperity of the town was noticed. Many of them had left it when it was a struggling little hamlet, and but few in those days had even hoped that it would ever assume the dignity of a city, and, although many of them had heard rumours of a growing community, they were not prepared to find a city of fine business places, industrial establishments and luxurious residences, and their surprise at once found expression in words.

There were numbers of former residents who had not stepped on Canadian soil for many years. Many of them were met by friends and relatives, and they lost no time in leaving the depots. Some warm handshaking took place, and one old veteran was heard to say, "Well, the old town is apparently in the same place, but it looks more like a metropolis." The Reception Committee had little to do because the great majority of visitors had friends by whom they were captured as soon as the trains arrived.. In fact the members were rather disheartened because of the small amount of welcoming which they were able to do. They had no sooner taken an "Old Boy" by the hand to greet him than, recognizing some familiar face, he would immediately exclaim, "Well, well, if that isn't Bill ——. Hello there Bill, how are you?" etc., and that would be the last the committeeman would see of that Old Boy.

The down town streets were crowded Saturday night, and the consumption of ice cream was tremendous. The rain which fell later in the evening drove more of them from the streets, but it was only to continue the pleasing pleasures in the homes and hotel corridors.

No one can say that the "Old Boys" did not receive a hot reception, the weather man attended to that and did his work well. Saturday was an ideal day and was made good use of by hundreds of visitors. About 100 of the Home-Comers proceeded to Stony Lake, spending Sunday there and returning to town this morning to participate in the exercises of the day. The first sight which greeted the home-coming contingent on emerging from the G.T.R. depot, Saturday, was a streamer stretched across Charlotte street from the Queen's Hotel with this hearty, if somewhat "sporty" welcome, "The Town is Yours, Paint it Red," which they proceeded to do, though not in the way suggested by the usual acceptance of the expression, for a more orderly or well behaved crowd has never visited Peterborough. In this they exhibited the result of their early training, no doubt.

The business men and citizens generally had been profuse in their decorating, and seldom has the town presented a more handsome appearance. The merchants on George street excelled themselves and almost every one had some distinctive decorative scheme. Among those which had a generous display of flags and bunting were:—H. LeBrun & Co., Bank of Toronto, Oriental Hotel, Review Office, Ormond & Walsh, Robt. Neill, Richard Hall & Son, Ontario Bank, Town Buildings, Palace Hotel, National Hotel, Snowden House, Queen's Hotel, J. J. Turner & Sons, City Hotel, Henry & Co., T. Barrie, and J. C. Turnbull Co., who had a most effective dual scheme, Gough Bros., Grafton & Co., J. Sutcliffe & Son, Robt. Fair, Cressman, Munro House, Crown Inn, Sons of England Hall, Canada Life Office, Pete. Simons, & Co., The T.A.S. Rooms, Examiner Office, A. H. Stratton & Co., and F. R. J. MacPherson, who had a very pretty electrical display of white and coloured lights.

HOW SUNDAY WAS SPENT.

The "Old Boys" are good church goers and in all churches yesterday, the red badge proclaiming that its wearer was a home-comer, was in evidence, and in all the churches reference was made to the event. At St. John's church, the Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson made the event an occasion for a special service to which the officers of the Association as well as the members had been invited. Many accepted the invitation and last night a regular "Old Boys" service was held. Many expressed their appreciation of the interest manifested by the Rev. Mr. Davidson. The majority, however, spent the day quietly with friends in their homes, enjoying the rest and homelike hospitality of the citizens.

THE PROCEEDINGS TO-DAY.

This morning bright and early the streets were thronged again with the visiting old boys, all wearing happy smiles and intent upon enjoying the day to the full.

The noon trains brought many who were unable to come in on Saturday, among these the Hon. President, Rev. J. C. Speer.

At two o'clock this afternoon the "Old Boys" and many friends, gathered in Victoria Park to learn what they had been informed unofficially—that they were welcome. The Fifty-Seventh Regiment Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Gliddon, rendered the following programme, interspersing the addresses:

March, "Distant Greeting"... ... Doering
Overture, "Zampa" ... ...Herold
(a) Intermezzo, "Cavalleria Rusticana", Mascagni
(b) Soldiers' chorus, "Faust"...Gounod

Mayor Roger was chairman of the gathering, and delivered the following address in opening to welcome the visitors:—

Mr. President, Peterborough Old Boys and Friends,—It is my privilege on behalf of the present citizens of Peterough to extend to the former residents and their friends, who have favoured us with a visit upon this auspicious occasion, the most cordial welcome which the good and hospitable old town of Peterborough is capable of giving. We are pleased that your recollections of former experiences and acquaintanceships here, are of that gratifying nature, which makes a renewal of them pleasurable to you, and we trust that the many changes which you find are not such as to disappoint, or in any way diminish your loyalty to the Town, because, loyal to Peterborough we are sure you have always been and always will, we trust, have reason to continue to the end. Saddening blanks and changes you must of necessity find, but such will be off-set by the signs of vitality, vigor and progress, which on every hand display themselves. The village of the youth of many of you has developed into the first town of the Province, and the town is fast taking on the dignity and proportions of a city. The old carding mills, carriage shops and various other minor industries which constituted our manufactories in the primitive stage, have disappeared, but their places have been taken by manufactories of world-wide celebrity and utility, employing hands by the hundreds and thousands, where formerly dozens served the purpose, and circulating money by millions, where previously business was largely conducted by means of trade and barter.

Peterborough canoes have become so famous the world over and their manufacture so increased that the home market uses but a small part of the output.

The advent of electricity as an industrial factor with its ease of transmission and diversity of application has given to our magnificent water powers, a new and enhanced value, and instead of being compelled to erect our mills and factories at the source of power, and scatter them along the banks of the creek and river, as of old, the power is now transported and delivered at the points most convenient for labour and shipping facilities, thus natural growth the development of science, and the enterprise of the people, contributing to maintain for Peterborough, a creditable eminence amongst the most progressive of Canadian municipalities. Peterborough, on the other hand, is, and has every reason to be justly proud of her old boys, who have enhanced abroad the good name which we have endeavoured to maintain for her at home. The successes and achievements attained by them in many walks of life, which have redounded to the honour and credit of the town, as well as to them, are watched with natural pride and satisfaction by us. We take the same interest in you that you take in the old town.

We rejoice to have had the privilege of welcoming you here once more. We thank you for the visit; we trust that you may have enjoyed it, and that you may be disposed often to repeat it.

Mr. D. W. Dumble was then called upon to address the "Old Boys," but owing to an unavoidable absence, was not able to respond. Mr. Carnegie, however, spoke in his behalf and extended the welcome of the town to her returning sons. This was followed by an address from Warden Crowe, also one by Dr. S. P. Ford, of Norwood.

The responses from the visitors were then heard.

MR. O. B. SHORTLY, Cor.-Sec.

The President of the Old Boys' Association, Mr. Llewellyn Morrison, of Toronto, on being called upon to speak was received with most enthusiastic cheering, which lasted for some minutes. When the applause had subsided, "the song, "Going Home," composed by the President was sung by the Old Boys in a very hearty manner. Mr. Morrison said, that he desired to thank the people of Peterborough for the exceedingly hearty welcome home which had been accorded the visitors. He thanked them on behalf of the Old Boys of Peterborough County, whether members of the Association or Peterborough "Old Boys." He said,— I speak for a constituency which bands the Continent, as far north as that cosmopolitan Dawson City on the Yukon, and as far South as where Bro. Nesbit sells clams and hardware by the Sunny Gulf; from as far west as Vancouver and Tacoma, and as far east as where the waters of the Atlantic wash the shores of Cape Breton at Sydney, where the greatest iron industry of British North America is slowly forging into shape, owned to a considerable extent by a Peterborough boy.

We are not all home. We all serve either ourselves or the conditions that surround us, and cannot all obtain a holiday at the same time. Some also are not here because of infirmity.

We were born, many of us in this County, some of us in trough-covered shacks. Our youthful days were spent amidst hardship, privation and want; and some of us remember when there were no railways, or telegraphs, or even stone roads, or anything but wagon trails around stumps or roots and through the mud. We remember indeed when this metropolitan town of Peterborough had stumps on the main street, for the speaker stood with two others on Hunter street on a pine stump in 1860 to witness the Prince of Wales pass by. Some of us can remember when three or four days time was necessary to carry on an election, it was so difficult to get voters to a central point.

We were born, many of us with the germs of unrest in our blood. We saw the sun set in the west and remembered the pictures that our fathers and grand-fathers had read to us from the story of Aladdin and his lamp, Robinson Crusoe, and their own experiences, and somehow the throb of adventure stirred us. We heard voices calling us from beyond the cramped horizon and, yearning for the trail that led to the outer world, went out.

I wish I could picture to you how some of us went out. I am thinking of one boy who passed through this little town in 1848 with his all tied up in a red bandana handkerchief and carried by a Dummer blue beech across his shoulder, on his way to the Normal School at Toronto, and the larger world that called him. There was not much cash in their pockets, and the bare feet touched the cold clay; but the sound of his footsteps has reached the confines of the continent and the world because of the purpose in the brains above them.

Yes, the boys were lonely, too, as they went out; how lonely, only God and their own hearts can ever know. It was lonely enough for father and mother at home, but they had duties that kept them busy, and faces all around them which they knew, but these boys had none, and they were often out of work and struggling hard with penury and difficulty, yet, unwilling to hurt father and mother, they never spoke of the bitter, desolate lonliness that came to them. They were leal and brave; they had gone out to noble purpose and with faces "set as a flint," they went on and on, and now they return, not prodigals who have wasted the Divine substance in wantonness, not as mendicants who come back in a pitiful way to old time places and friends but they come because they love the place. There is no spot in all the earth that is so dear to them as the hills and valleys of Peterborough County; there are no hearts or faces they love so well as the ones that are here. They come, too, because in many a quiet, silent God's acre all over this county the sleeping dust of father, mother or friends, are laid away, and some of them will have sorrow in the coming, for they are "strangers in a well-remembered place where time has left scarce one familiar face they knew long years ago."

There's a corner of earth that is dearer and fairer
To every leal heart than all others besides—
Where the lilies are whiter, where the roses are rarer
And life, love and lasting enjoyments abide;
On the hill it may be, in the vale or the wildwood, —
We hope to return howsoever we roam;
'Tis the "Island of Rest" by the dream-shores of childhood
Which now and forever we cherish as "Home".

Mr. Morrison's then introduced one of the Hon. Presidents, Rev. J. C. Speer, D.D., of Toronto, who delivered a very eloquent address as follows:

Gentlemen,—It is with no small degree of pleasure that I respond to the address which you have been pleased to present to the Home-Comers at the time of their return to the place of their birth and childhood days. Some of us are of a later generation of the people of this county, but we have not forgotten the fathers, many of whom have gone to their long home, while a few, we are glad to see, still enjoy the blessings of this life.

There is one class of people whose memory should be ever kept green, and whose deeds of peaceful valour ian has yet written, we are here to say that these were a generation of heroes and heroines than whom the world never saw grander. The men of warlike fame were not more courageous than were the pioneers of this county, who, facing a wilderness, without experience, without wealth, and ignorant of the best methods of success in this wild land, nevertheless awakened these hills and valleys, covered with virgin forests, till the echoes of their keen blades sung the song of the present golden age.

But while the men felled the forests, and made the roads, and built the bridges, and made the laws of our land, it is due to say that the mothers of this country were after all the most mighty factor in the upbuilding of the people.

Their's was the harder task, but they did it well, and although few of them may live in the literature of art of the world they are deathless for they are ever present in their moral influence upon the lives of this generation What a privilege it would be to have for an audience these elect women who came to this county in the early days and side by side with their husbands fought out the battles of life in the loneliness of the forest clearing.

The historian we trust will some day dip his pen in the fires of a lofty enthusiasm and write in golden chapters the glory of these mothers.

I trust, though no one may arise to write her fame, nor rear a monument of stone to the memory of these pioneer mothers, that the sons and daughters in the success they have achieved, and in the general uprightness of their characters, whether they have remained at home, or travelled world-wide, shall reflect the honour due to these heroines, so that we may be a living witness to their faithfulness of character. It is certainly due very largely to the home influences of the people of this county that there have been but few criminals bred on this soil; and also that those who have gone forth into the strenuous battle of the world, have steadily reflected the greatest uprightness of character. It is to the honour of this county that, from the earliest times, defenceless innocence could walk abroad fearless of evil, because protected by the high moral standards of the people, and by the unseen but ever-present power of the law, well and justly administered by the public officials. I am glad to think that the men who have been reared in this county and have gone into the various parts of this and other lands, have, for the most part, been no disgrace to the home from which they went. The limestone in the south and the granite in the more northerly portions of the county, seem to have entered into the bone and nerve of the boys of Peterborough, just as the beauty of the flowers which ever bloom in such profusion in your forests and gardens, have their best reflection in the lovely forms, and beautiful faces, of the daughters who have been taken to grace the homes and social circles in the towns and cities of this and other lands.

It is much to the honour of this town and community that the sons who have gone into callings, professions, general business and politics, have made, not alone a success, but I think I may say they have been no discredit to those who were left behind.

Senators and Judges, Merchants and Mechanics, Farmers and Manufacturers, Educators and Ecclesiastics, have gone forth from the old County of Peterborough, and, under

REV. W. BEATTIE AT ST. PAULS CHURCH.

A Thoughtful Sermon Preached by Visiting Divine.

Christ's Temptation in the Wilderness Subject of the Address.

In St. Paul's church yesterday morning Rev. W. Beattie, of Cobourg, preached a most helpful and instructive sermon from the text found in Matthew 4; 8-11, the subject being—"Christ's third temptation in the wilderness." Before proceeding with his eloquent exposition of the text, the speaker briefly reviewed the temptations to which Christ had been subjected to preceding this third and most severe temptation stating that in them Satan had used all the strength and substility which he commanded, but all unavailingly, Christ defied the temptation by declaring His trust in God, and refused to exert His Divine power to satisfy His own hunger or to save Himself from danger. The second temptation was to presume upon the love of God. This, the speaker said, had grown common in our day. As an excuse for not seeking forgiveness, men say, "How can God, who is a God of love, punish those whom He claims He loves?" Speaking to the text the reverend gentlemen said that the temptation contained in Satan's suggestion was one which appealed to the natural ambition to possess power, and because of this, was especially hard to withstand. But Christ looked out upon the Mediterranion Sea and saw the white ships bearing their burdens of commerce, and, looking into the future saw the same ships bearing the Ambassadors of the Gospel of Peace, which His mission on earth was to establish.

That the long looked for evangalisation of the world has not been ere this consummated is because of the enormity of the power of evil in the world which is beyond comprehension. Think of the kingdom of which the devil holds sway, of the blighted beauty, desolation and death, for which evil is responsible. The evils of the world are many but the evil of the world is one. The "Prince of the Power of Darkness" is responsible for the misery and wickedness in the world. Darkness may be the absence of light, but sin is not simple the negation of good it is a powerful positive force. The speaker continuing said that people liked to think of the world as moving on to a higher plane of moral living. The world, he said, is both becoming better and growing worse, for the evil which continues to exist in the face of all the powers combatting it, must be growing more and more acute, and the good which survives the forces for evil working against it is becoming stronger and purer. Evil must be counted upon as a force in the world. He said we should beware of things which were in themselves not wrong, but which produced results, detrimental to the best development of a good moral character. The indulgence of even the best things in life to a certain degree weakens the capacity for rendering the highest Christian service.

The temptation presented to Christ to establish an earthly kingdom, for which His supporters were clamouring, is precisely the temptation which comes to man to-day. To put earthly pleasures and earthly possessions first, is a growing tendency among men, and the result is a degeneration in public morals. He said that this was the age of compromise. A healthy and strong desire for success is commendable, but the strong temptation is to pay the price which the world is demanding for success, which is a compromise with the instincts of man's best self. The world tells the editor to never look at the faults in the men of his own party, but to magnify those of his opponents. To the merchant it says, pay attention to the fruit at the top of the barrel, and never mind the rest. To the preacher the temptation comes to condone the faults and sins of his congregation. It is right to try to see the best traits in our fellow men, but defects must not be lost sight of, and exoused or justified. The best success can only come by an effort to remedy the wrong, and cannot be obtained by a smooth compromise. He exhorted all his hearers to emulate the example of Christ and thrust temptation from them, and the result would be, as was that in the case of the Master, an exhiliration, which comes from a knowledge of right-doing, and ministering angels who shall supply comfort and cheer.

THE TORONTO ELMS MET WITH DEFEAT.

A Splendid Game of Lacrosse Saturday Afternoon.

The Score was 6-2 in Favour of T. A. S. —A Large Crowd at Game.

St. Peter's T.A.S. lacrosse club, acting in conjuction with the Peterborough's Old Boys' Committee, arranged an interesting number for the programme of proceedings in connection with the home coming of Saturday, in the shape of an exhibition lacrosse game with the speedy Elms of Toronto, and it proved to be one of the most enjoyable features of the occasion. The game, which was pulled off on the Murray street grounds, before 700 people, was a clean one in every respect, and Mr. Will Patterson, who refereed the game, only sent one man to the fence during the afternoon, and that was for two minutes.

Both teams went in to play a good scientific game, and the large gathering certainly witnessed beautiful lacrosse — in fact many were sorry that the game ended so soon. The struggle was remarkable for the clever combination work exhibited by the teams; at no time did the play lag or become loose or ragged.

The Elms have a splendid system, but they fail to get it working properly in order to produce effectiveness. They are splendid stick handlers but have a tendency to hold the rubber too long. However, they are a gentlemanly lot of players and put up a clean game on Saturday.

The T.A.S. players, though still suffering from the effects of the recent struggle on the banks of the Scugog, put up gilt-edged lacrosse. Jimmy O'Brien, in goal, guarded the nets like a Roman centurion, and "gaited" several shots that looked like "notchers." Derocher and Meagher also shone up brilliantly on the defence. Corbett also played a very strong game on Saturday, but he has a tendency to desert his position and carry the ball up the field thereby endangering his own goal. He is, however, a splendid defence man. Jack McCabe changed his position and played defence on Saturday, putting up a most effective game, and keeping that section of the line-up well in.

In Muldoon the locals possess a first-class man, cool and clever, and always reliable. "Wally" Parnell, who held down centre on Saturday, is playing a very fine game this season. The same can be said of Frank McCoy, who is a splendid man on the home, very accurate in shooting and a fine stick handler. Eugene McNichol is playing great lacrosse this season, and Saturday's game showed that this player is in prime condition. He is a valuable man, indeed. "Billy" Whitty, late of Belleville, but now a resident of town, and the latest addition to the T.A.S. team, had a chance on the home on Saturday, and although not in the best condition, showed himself to be a fine stick-handler and a good all-man. Lapierre, who plays a very important position, is putting up a fine quality of lacrosse, and is a dangerous man when in possession of the rubber. "Tommy" Rappel is a tricky home man, and when he shoots on goal he generally scores. In Saturday's match, however, although he played a good game, his supply of wind was limited and he lacked the condition that is necessary in a good stiff game.

The struggle on Saturday was a good work our for the locals who were certainly given a good game by the speedy aggregation from Toronto. The line-up was as follows:

T.A.S.	Elms.
Goal.
O'Brien	Stuart
Point.
Derocher	Johnston
Cover point.
Meagher	Simons
3rd defence.
McCabe	Wilson
2nd defence.
Corbett	Sinclair
1st defence.
Muldoon	F. Chapelle
Centre.
Parnell	A. Chapelle
3rd home.
McCoy	Tyler
2nd home.
Whitty	McKinnistry
1st home.
McNichol	Stewart
Outside home.
Lapierre	Warner
Inside home.
Rappel	Patterson
Field captain.
McGrath	Hames

The game was played in four quarters of fifteen minutes each in order to allow the visitors time to catch their train. The first quarter was exceedingly close and ended with each team scoring two goals.

In the second half the T.A.S. settled down to business and by good combination work succeeded in netting two more goals, making the score 4—2.

With a lead of two goals the locals went in to add one or two more, and although the Elms played fine lacrosse and resisted the attacks with tenacity their defence was penetrated, and the third quarter ended 6—2 in favour of the T.A.S.

The last quarter was replete with splendid stick handling and combination work by both teams, but the game sounded for time before either team succeeded in locating the nets.

The Elms expressed themselves as delighted with the treatment they received, and are anxious for the T.A.S. team to give them a return game in Toronto.

Tells of Doings of Boys at Y. M. C. A. Camp.

The Annual Field a Red Letter Day Event—Many Things the Boys are Learned.

Y.M.C.A. Camp,
Sandy Point,
July 23rd, '03.

The sixth Y.M.C.A. camp goes merrily on; the first week has passed only too quick. After to-day only four more remain, for the party will return by the Majestic on Tuesday 28th, according to schedule.

The daily rains since our arrival reached a climax yesterday, when the morning broke the rain was pouring in torrents, and only ceased long enough for breakfast to be prepared—it continued all day long with only a few minutes cessation now and again.

It was a refreshing change to see bright sunshine this morning, and to give us an opportunity of getting our outfit dried out after such a long period of dampness.

The dark damp weather has had but little effect on the bright spirits of the camping party, and it has only tended to modify the form of amusements.

A mock Police Court was the programme for last evening, and created loads of fun for both participants and spectators. The first case was the Crown vs. Sleepy. The charge being that the accused had failed to eat all the prunes put on his plate at supper time. He was found guilty and ordered that the prunes be eaten in court, which was done. What was not eaten was daubed on the face of the prisoner at the bar.

The second case was one in which "Frisky" charged a fellow camper with assault. A long string of witnesses failed to convict the prisoner—as this was the decision of the learned judge, Sir Maximus Dobbinus.

"Frisky" entered an appeal that the judge had been unduly "influenced".

An exploring party crossed the lake this morning and upon entering a field were encountered by a herd of cattle. Murphy was the cause of the trouble, of course, but more particularly his red sweater, which he soon took off and put in hiding, and the more adventuresome of the party continued the advance.

Several of the boys have learned the new art of camp washing, and by the liberal use of sand producing clean? white? garments.

The McGregor-Sawyers Black Lake camping party gave us a call on Tuesday night, and camped on the Point. The boys enjoyed a well-told bear story (a tame one) of early days told by Mr. McGregor. Some of them dreamed they saw bears all that night.

Two new men were welcomed to camp this morning. Mr. Ross Dobbin, a '99 camper, and Mr. Wheatley, who come for a first taste of camp-life with Y.M.C.A. men.

They have already shown effect of their presence on the baseball field and in the boats.

NIAGARA FALLS.

"Fidelis" writes in The Globe: On a recent trip to Niagara Falls I was shocked to perceive the extent of the devastation which has in an incredibly short time utterly and literally defaced the Canadian bank of the Horseshoe Fall. At first sight as one wanders through the beautiful Queen Victoria Park, everything looks unchanged. The silvery sheet of the American fall still throws its silver fleece down the brown rocks. Opposite the rich verdure of Goat Island still rises amid the tossing rapids, that make the little green islets look like emeralds set in silver, and for a quarter of a mile of lovely park we can still enjoy the majestic sweep of the great horseshoe before us. But the moment the Dufferin Restaurant is passed the scene is changed, and the true lover of Niagara Falls gazes in speechless astonishment and indignation at the utterly defaced and mutilated shore. The point where the electric cars used to set down their passengers to enjoy one of the most unique points of view, just on the verge of the falls, is now an almost impassable mass of rocky debris, the whole bank being cut away, like the opening of a drain, for about a quarter of a mile along the edge. Where formerly the traveler enjoyed a delightful walk or drive amid the fresh verdure of spruce and cedar till he reached the lovely little sylvan islands between which darted the leaping miniature rapids that kept their foliage ever moist and green, he now mournfully surveys the desolate waste that might belong to the purlieus of a Birmingham, an "abomination of desolation" of excavation and debris, of great iron pipes and cylinders, of dams and sluices, which he has every reason to fear will soon visibly diminish the translucent depth of exquisite green, which for countless ages has delighted the eyes of the seeing world. The trees have been ruthlessly cut away to make room for a gigantic excavation, as big as a Colosseum, which it is to be supposed is to become a "power-house," and when at last one raches the little "Sister" islands it is to find that they are islands no longer, that their leaping rapids have been drained off, and that the luxuriant vegetation that draped them bends drooping over dry channels, brown and unsightly. The devastation can hardly be more complete.

It is impossible not to ask, by what right has this spoliation of our great national wonder been perpetrated? We are told often that this is a utilitarian age, and none can doubt it, and that merely natural beauty must be sacrificed to the temporal needs of man. But there is a higher law, and a point at which the pursuit of mere "utility" becomes desecration, profanity in fact. Man does not live by earthly bread alone, and a national possession like Niagara Falls is one of the mighty influences that tend to nourish the imaginative faculty and raise the soul of man to communion with that Infinite and Eternal Soul, "whose dwelling is the light of setting suns," is a priceless gift of God, and should have been preserved sacredly undespoiled. I know nothing of the influences that have brought about this destruction, which every public-spirited Canadian must resent. No plea of necessity can be sustained, no amount of "power" gained can make up for the loss, and, by the way, our "utilitarian" neighbors, in all they have done in this direction, have not defaced their share of the falls themselves. Ontario should have been the faithful guardian of a national trust. How will she answer to future generations for the way in which she has discharged it?

Successful Marconigram.

On a recent Saturday morning the son of A. M. Featherston of Toronto—formerly of this city—boarded a Hamilton steamer bound for this port. Later Mr. Featherston found that it was important that he should communicate with his son immediately, making an appointment with him on his arrival in Hamilton. The wireless telegraph was appealed to, and the job was undertaken with the result that the young man on board the boat promptly received his father's message, correct in every particular. There have been some who have had some doubt about the wireless business here, and as a matter of fact, the public "tests" could have been worked without any wireless business whatever. It was thought that perhaps the projectors might be simply making pretence, that they might hold the lake signal stations for sale to the Marconi or some other company. But this experiment by Mr. Featherston removed all doubt of the bona fides of the local wireless telegraph system. It is the real thing.—Hamilton Spectator.

"Grant's Luck."

I did not go out to see the surrender of General Lee. I remember well the event of General Grant's return after the surrender. I think there were not more than three persons present when the general came in and took a seat at a table to write. He looked up with some expression of animation and remarked:

"More of Grant's luck!"

This was an allusion to the newspaper critics who had been in the habit of calling his success luck.

This little comment on the surrender of Lee was the only word of exultation I ever heard from the victorious soldier.

It was a very slight expression of triumph to follow such a stupendous achievement, but wholly characteristic.

Royalty and Chess.

Cards have been the amusement of kings and queens for centuries, superseding latterly the royal game of chess, which filled up the leisure moments of William the Conqueror, Queen Elizabeth and Charles I. The latter was so absorbed in his favorite pastime when the news reached him that Scotland had determined to sell him to the English parliament that, though well aware what the intelligence boded, he calmly played the game to the end. Queen Victoria preferred chess to cards, though during her old age she found diversion by playing "patience." A keen chess player, the great Napoleon would not submit to be beaten, and if he found his skill ineffective would throw board and chessmen angrily on the ground.

HOME DECORATION.

SOME NEAT ARRANGEMENTS OF THE MODERN BEDROOM.

Position and Clever Draping of the Bed—When There Is No Closet In the Room—Dresser, Washstand and Toilet Table.

The bed, which is the principal piece of furniture in the sleeping chamber, should be given the choice position, so that there may be a complete circulation of air around it, yet the occupant not exposed from direct draft. This can be easily managed even in a small room by the use of swinging rods and draperies, as shown in our first illustration. The rods or poles may be obtained in brass or wood and may be hung in such a manner that they may be pushed to and fro as readily as a door. The draperies are suspended from these on brass or wooden rings and may be looped back in the daytime, but at night hang straight down, cutting off the draft from the sleeper's head yet giving it free access to his lungs.

A bedroom without a closet—a good large closet at that—is a mistake, but fortunately not an irretrievable one, for there are many ways to make up for this deficiency, none, of course, quite as handy as the genuine receptacle.

An arrangement pictured consists of four crosswise boards held by two upright ones, the latter forming the sides and the others the top and bottom of the closet, and two shelves, one for hats and the other for shoes. The upper shelf is twelve inches deep, the lower one ten. This frame, being pushed close to the wall, needs no backing, nor is it necessary to screw hooks into the wall, as narrow cross strips of wood may be nailed across the back from upright to upright and the hooks put in these. Any preferred style of curtain which harmonizes with the other furnishings may be hung on a rod across the front, but the open back, although the closet is placed against the wall, requires something to keep out the dust, and this something can consist of a piece of thick linen or bedticking tacked closely over the opening. This may be washed when desired. A molding may give a finish to the top of the closet or the top may be used as still a third shelf. Whatever portion of frame is visible should be painted to match the woodwork of the room.

Dressers, as bureaus are now called, are made low and wide, and the newest design has the swell front and a large round, oval or square mirror. Washstands, when the room is occupied by two persons, are made large enough to accommodate two sets of toilet china. In some bedrooms the bureau is dispensed with altogether and a high, wide chiffonier and a toilet table used instead, or in a very large room the three articles of furniture appear.—Designer.

Jewelry Fashions and Fancies.

Variations on the fob for both men and women never cease.

Fans in the Louis XV., Louis XVI. or empire style are much sought for.

A man's tie clip, very much up to date, has a green heart shaped stone, surrounded with brilliants, sunk in its face.

Turquoise and pink tourmaline in alternation furnish a pretty color scheme in the decoration of gilt purse frames.

Sweet peas, roses or a cluster of flowers of several kinds, tied with a ribbon bow, represent a pretty brooch in enamel work.

A bracelet that illustrates the fad for green consists of green balls alternating with rondelles of gold open work.

College seals in rose gold or enameled finish, to be worn on the fob, furnish a fresh and taking ornament. They are also made with a pin attachment that permits them to serve as a lady's brooch.

A tidy home is a joy beyond description, and a neat person is better to look upon than a handsome one lacking that essential.

One day's rest out of seven is said to be the secret of beauty and youthfulness prolonged into middle age.

Midsummer Housecleaning

At the Central Boot and Shoe Store.

After a very successful spring season's trade, we find lonelies and broken lots in many lines. Anxious to see their departure, we will offer them at prices that will assure us their speedy exit. Some of these can be used to good advantage when holidaying. Others will save the good pair you wish to reserve for fall wear. Men, women and children can be fitted for a small fraction of the original price.

PIONEER LIFE.

Some Phases That Are Now Almost Forgotten in the Province of Ontario—Country Life in Canada.

Recent events have caused the thoughts of many to turn back to early times in Ontario. One of the best known historians of that period is Mr. Cannif Haight, whose book, "Country Life in Canada," is a treasury in its way. The author's memory uncoils like a cord to the time of the Mackenzie rebellion. The distant past is magically summoned by the author on the first page, when he merrily remarks that he does not remember being born, though present at the time. He does remember how his father threshed the wheat when the writer was still a baby, and tells of the settler turning the sheaves over and over on the barn floor, while the horses and oxen were driven round and round. He recalls, too, a barn raising, and the custom of hurling an empty bottle from the top of the building to the ground. If it was picked up whole, it was a good omen, if not, well, it had probably struck something hard. The settlers were a cheerful lot, and did not permit the hardness of the life they led to make them pessimists. He mentions the lavish hospitality universal in the early days, and tells how the plate of a chance visitor would be buried under the rude abundance of hearty fare. To toy daintily with the victuals was to disparage the host, to have no appetite an insult. In this connection the absolute social equality of master and man is mentioned. They ate at the same table, and one would not go farther than the other in comments, favorable or the reverse, on the meals before him. It was the custom for girls to go to neighbors to live if their own parents could get on without them. In effect, they were servants no more than at home, except that they were paid for their work. The idea of the girl's social inferiority to her mistress never entered the head of either. As Mr. Haight says: "The fact of the girl going out to work did not unfavorably affect her position. On the contrary, it was rather in her favor, and showed that she had some ambition about her." Indeed, in those days it was rarely the case that a girl shrank from domestic service in order to be a typewriter.

Visiting on Sunday.

Sunday was the great day of the week fifty years ago. Only a minority of the settlers could go to church, but all could attend to one or two social duties for which the busy week days had left no time. Visits were always paid on Sunday to friends near or far, and one can readily imagine what a visit meant to people who, as likely as not, had not seen a neighbor's face for a week. Those who did go to church sat on one side if they were men, and on the other if they were women. This fashion prevailed whether in school or meeting-house, and continued for many years after. A married couple who would dare to sit side by side would have been considered "no better than they should be." The visiting coach of the pioneers was the lumber wagon, though there was a general improvement in most conveyances when the steel spring came into use, about 1840. For long journeys everyone rode horseback. Women traveled hundreds of miles this way, some of them carrying children before them on the saddle. It was an age of bees. The men had their raising bees and their logging bees, where whiskey flowed like water (the best could be had for 40 cents a gallon), and dogs fought as long as they could stand up. Quilting bees were popular with the ladies of the period, and one of their favorite amusements was to catch a luckless man and toss him on the quilt. Apple bees, too, were great fun. At these functions apples were peeled, cut, cored, and strung to dry, and to eventually appear as apple sauce. These social gatherings always ended in a dance, unless the religious scruples of some objected, in which case the time had to be killed in kissing games, such as "postoffice," "measuring tape," "lady's slipper," and "button, button."

Recreations of the Time.

Coon hunting was popular then, as now, and spearing fish by torchlight often kept a sportive pioneer up all night after a hard day's work. Wild pigeons were so numerous, and so easily killed or caught, that one could hardly call the proceeding sport. They were so daring that they would swoop down on the seed grain before it had reached the ground after being cast by the sower's hand. Game of ever sort abounded. One who did not enjoy hunting or fishing must have had trouble in finding pleasure or recreation after the day's work. If he loved reading, and had access to a backwoods library, he could plunge into Buchan's "Domestic Medicine," Brown's Union Gazetteer, Ricketson on Health, Jessy Kerzey, "Memorials of a Deceased Friend," reports of the British and Foreign Bible Society, Job Scot's Journal, or Lewis' "Dispensatory," all of which would be at his disposal. If these tomes did not attract, he could often hie himself to the school-house and plunge into a debate on the subject, "Which is the more useful to man, wood or iron?" or "Was Wellington or Napoleon the greater general?"

Success in Canada.

"Birkenhead" writes to The London Daily Mail: "My son, who was then sixteen years of age, said to me twelve months ago: 'Father I am tired of office work. Give me £5 and I will go to Canada.' He worked his way out on board a steamer, paid his railway fare to Winnipeg, got immediate employment on a farm, and has already remitted most of the money he took away. He writes that the climate is splendid; that he enjoys the life, and is developing into a big, strong fellow. As soon as the harvest is over he intends taking up a grant of 160 acres. These are facts, and show what an English lad with grit can do in a new country."

Only Dodd's Kidney Pills are Doing Similar Things Daily.

Reuben Draper's Gravel was Cured Three Years Ago—It has Never Come Back.

Bristol, P.Q., Quebec, July 27th.—Special.—Reuben Draper, well-known here, tells a story of his cure of a bad case of gravel that would be considered miraculous if similar cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills were not being reported almost daily.

"About three years ago," says Mr. Draper, "I was taken ill with what I thought was gravel. I was suffering great pain, and the doctor I sent for gave me but little relief. Another doctor I tried failed to cure me, and I was getting weaker all the time.

"Then a man advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills as they had cured his mother, and I did so. In just one week after I started using them, I passed a stone as large as a small bean, and in four days after, I passed another about the size of a grain of barley. That is two years ago, and I have not had any trouble since."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all ailments of the bladder and urinary organs.

WHERE DEATH LURKS.

Hints Which If Followed Will Lessen the Number of Drowning Accidents—The Man Who Can't Swim.

Drowning accidents have been very numerous this season. Indeed, one does not pick up a newspaper nowadays without seeing the account of some drowning accident. Those who could swim, seem to have been little more fortunate than those who could not. Alike, they have perished, sometimes meeting their death alone, sometimes sinking to rise no more in view of their friends. It is almost with a feeling of hopelessness that one ventures to repeat the platitudes of safety. The blame for an overwhelming majority of drownings must be placed on the victims themselves. Sometimes, reading the account of a fatality, one doubts the sanity of the person who perished. Truly wisdom seems to have no abiding place on the face of the waters, nor prudence a habitation within sound of the deep.

Defying Law of Gravitation.

It is a pity that every man before going in for a swim, does not reflect for a moment on the nature of the feat before him. He should bear in mind that he is about to set himself in opposition to one of the greatest of nature's laws. He is about to defy the law of gravitation, and, in principle, is in exactly the same position as the lunatic who tried to fly off the top of a house. The mere recollection of this fact would save many lives, for when a man realizes that he is "bucking" against an immutable law, he will proceed with some circumspection. He will enter such a contest only when every chance seems to be in his favor, and, if he be a sensible man, will neglect no precaution. For instance, he will not take his plunge immediately after a meal, knowing, as he must know, that the store of vitality on which he must reckon to bear him safely through is not in the best condition to respond to a call at that time. Nor will he take to the water when hungry, lest his weakness betray him. He will on no account dive in a strange river. Many a strong swimmer has met his death for violating this rule, for the treacherous weeds he did not suspect have held him fast, while only the bubbles on the surface of the stream have borne witness to the tragedy below. A folly which is the peculiar property of experts consists in high diving into unknown waters. Let there be a good "take-off," and some of them ask no more. The possibility that a rock may lie but a few inches under water is disregarded as often as not. It would not be exaggerating to place the number of swimmers killed in this way at many hundreds. Most of them have been stunned and drowned. Others have simply dashed their brains out.

The Man Who Can't Swim.

Under no circumstances has the non-swimmer any business in water that comes up to his neck. Foolishly, he imagines that as long as he can stand and keep his head above the surface he is safe. So he walks around and enjoys himself, until he slips on a stone, stumbles and disappears. Water as high as his chin is plenty deep enough to drown this man. When he bobs up his lungs are half-filled with water, he is nearly choked, and quite panic-stricken. Unless help is at hand the probability is that he will sink again, unable to get a foothold, and drown as ignobly as Clarence in the Malmsey Butt. This kind of accident can happen in swimming places where no holes exist. Where there are holes, however, death awaits, knowing no disappointment, for there is a victim for every hole. The swimmer sometimes loses his life in them, his arms being impeded by the death-trap in which he finds himself, and the bather who cannot swim has not one chance in a hundred.

Boating Accidents.

Boating accidents are about as common as any kind of drowning. The "rock-the-boat-idiot," hounded by comic and serious journals for a decade, is not so common as he was a short while ago. Sometimes a summer goes by without him having murdered anyone, so that the hope is entertained that he may have perished with his last victim. But still he looms up occasionally. He should be hit on the head with an oar as soon as his presence is detected. Changing seats in a rowboat is a favorite form of suicide. Usually a girl is responsible for this. Nothing could be more dangerous. Many a brave fellow has been drowned by his escort trailing her fingers through the water, suddenly grasping at a water-lily or endeavoring to recover something dropped overboard.

One Great Rule.

Rules for the guidance of swimmers, bathers, rowers, drowning persons, and life-savers have been drawn up by the score, so little good would be accomplished by their repetition. But there is one great rule which embraces all—Have Common Sense. Don't take any chances. If you win, you are no further ahead, and if you lose—is it worth while? A man with common sense would never invite a lady to go rowing with him unless he was sure of one thing—that he could save her if the boat upset, or that she could save herself. Not being sure, he has no right to invite her to risk her life with him. Everyone who disregards this rule and yet returns without mishap might well give thanks for an escape, for it is an escape and nothing else. As a matter of fact, a man should be an expert swimmer, a champion sculler and a veteran life-saver before he ever goes on the water. This is a "bull," and also a "bull's-eye." However, it is too much to expect that the majority of people would consent to deprive themselves of the delights of boating and bathing because they are not experts; nor is it desired that they should. Only let them be fully aware of the risks they are running, and then most of the risks will disappear.

Many are called, but few like to get up, especially if it is a cold morning.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

A GOOD JOKE.

But Robert Did Not Enjoy It as Did Betty and Tom.

Now Tom is the one in the sailor waist,
And Betty's the one in plaid,
And Rob is the one with his fingers laced,
Who seems a trifle sad.

They're sitting there because Uncle Dick,
Who is spending the afternoon,
Said he would show them a marvelous trick
With a hat, two eggs and a spoon.

"Ladies and gentlemen, you may gaze,"
Said Uncle Dick, bowing low,
"On the greatest magician of modern days,
Professor Idono.

THE AUDIENCE.

"I break these eggs in this hat, you see,
And stir them all about.
Now you watch sharp, and when I count three
A white rabbit will jump out!"

The eggs were broken and stirred all right,
But something went wrong, I guess,
For not a rabbit appeared in sight,
And the hat was in such a mess!

Then Tom and Betty screamed with glee,
The "professor" felt quite flat,
And as for Robert—well, you see,
It chanced to be Robert's hat!

Careful Little Ruth.

Little Ruth Coan was a dear little girl of three who always wanted to help her mamma.

One day Mrs. Coan was baking, and she said to grandma:

"I would send Mrs. Cooke some of my sponge cake, if there was any one to go, for she is not well and she is very fond of my cake."

"I can go, mamma," said Ruth.

"So you can," said her mamma. "Tell her I sent it with my love."

Ruth ran for her hat, and Mrs. Coan wrapped the cake in a napkin, putting in several pins.

They smiled as the little girl trudged off, looking very happy and proud.

It was only a little way, and Ruth had been two or three times alone to see Mrs. Cooke.

The lady saw her coming and opened the door to welcome her.

"Mamma sent you some cake, wiv her love," said Ruth.

"Your mamma is very kind," said Mrs. Cooke, "and you are a dear little girl. Won't you stay awhile and rest?"

"No'um; I s'pose mamma might worry," said Ruth.

So Mrs. Cooke folded the napkin and gave it to Ruth, but the little girl still waited.

"Did you want anything, dear?" she asked.

"Yes'nm, if you please," said little Ruth. "I'm waiting for the pins."

The Game They Play In Alaska.

A children's game popular among the Tlinkits, a tribe of Indians in southern Alaska, is called ha-goo.

The children range themselves in two parallel lines. In the center of one line is a player who holds aloft a pole with a brightly colored piece of cloth floating from it. Then, from the opposite line advances a little girl who holds out her hand for the decorated stick, while all her companions make faces, say funny things and "cut capers" to make her laugh.

If she smiles, ever so lightly, she is out of the game, but if she can keep a solemn face she takes the stick and goes back to her own line while one of the opposing players moves across the open space and tries in turn to keep a straight face.

This goes on until there remains only one player who has not smiled, and this one wins the game for the side.

Some of the Kings of Poland.

Once upon a time there were four kings named Boleslas who reigned over far away Poland, and, although no one might care to study the history of Poland to find out about them, their history sums up in a word the characteristics of each. The first was the "Lion Hearted," like the famous English Richard; the second was the "Intrepid," while the third and fourth were entirely different men, being the "Wry Mouth" and the "Curled," and there you have an idea of the four Polish Boleslases. To further learn what other varieties of kings ruled in Poland in bygone days one need but run over the list and find the "Pacific," the "Careless," the "Just," the "White," the "Black" and the "Short." These names are suggestive in many ways, for they afford an insight into the history of the time as well as describing the monarchs.

A Hash Process.

Teacher—Suppose, Johnnie, your mother cuts a pound of meat into eight parts, what will each part be?

Johnnie Chaffie—An eighth of a pound.

"Correct. Now, suppose she cuts each eighth in two, what will each part be then?"

"A sixteenth of a pound."

'Just so. Now, suppose she cuts each sixteenth in six pieces, what will each piece be?"

"Hash!"

Modern Medicine.

Cod-liver oil is good. Purified petroleum is better. Angier's Emulsion is made of odorless and tasteless petroleum, glycerine and hypophosphites. It does all,—and more,—than cod-liver oil and similar preparations. It is pleasant to take, and agreeable to the stomach. 7a

Baked Rhubarb.

Baking rhubarb requires less sugar than is necessary when stewing. Peel the stalks, selecting red rhubarb. Cut into inch lengths and place in a stone crock. Add one part of sugar to two parts of the fruit, unless you like it very sweet, then add nearly half and half. Arrange the fruit and sugar in layers; use no water. Stand the crock in a pan of hot water, cover and set in the oven and bake until the pieces are clear. This may be used for a meringue by filling a shell of good light pastry, covering the top of fruit with a meringue and coloring a delicate brown in the oven.

Dog and Cat Comfort.

A 3 per cent solution of creolin will kill the fleas on a dog. Two per cent is strong enough on cats. Four teaspoonfuls of creolin to a quart of water or four tablespoonfuls to a gallon make a 3 per cent mixture. Shake well. It will not only kill the fleas, but heal up the bitten places and small skin irritations, cleanse and soften the hair and remove all unpleasant odors the animals may contract from running in unclean localities. So says the New Hampshire experiment station.

Cream of Green Peas Soup.

Cover a pint of peas (shelled) with cold water; cook until tender, seasoning with a teaspoonful of salt and a sprig of mint. Remove half of the peas and press through a sieve. Cook thoroughly two tablespoonfuls of flour and two tablespoonfuls of butter and add to a quart of hot milk. Next cook together the pressed peas, this hot milk with the floured butter, and add the water the peas were cooked in. Just before serving add a cup of whipped cream and the whole peas.

A GENIUS IN JAIL.

Von Siemens' First Patent Was Applied For From a Prison.

Von Siemens applied for his first patent from the cell of a prison. After graduation from the artillery school in Berlin the young man, then only twenty-one years old, was attached to a regiment in Wittenberg. It was there he began his experiments, to the great horror of his landlady, who upbraided him day after day for staining his clothes, furniture and the window panes with gold, silver and acid spots. She could not see the use of "wasting money for such things." But Von Siemens went on with his experiments and with staining his furniture and clothes.

He became, too, the life of the garrison and one of its most popular members. His popularity, however, led to his taking part as second in a duel between two of his comrades. As a result he was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the fortress of Magdeburg. The landlady was the only person in Wittenberg who was glad of the young lieutenant's departure. In the cell in the fortress, however, he was allowed to fit up a laboratory and there continue his experiments. There, too, a month after his incarceration he perfected his method of galvanic gilding and applied for the patent from the prison cell.

It was granted and with it a pardon. A pardon in all probability was never received with less glee. Siemens had other experiments under way in his prison workshop and begged to be allowed to stay awhile longer and complete them. But the keeper sent him away with the declaration that such a course would be an insult to his king and commander.

Children's Blunders.

A Philadelphia schoolteacher tells of these blunders of children in physiology examination papers:

"Occupations which are injurious to the health are carbolic acid gas, which is impure blood."

"When you have an illness it makes your health bad, as well as having a disease."

"A stone mason's work is injurious because when he is chipping he breathes in all the little chips, and then they are taken into the lungs."

"All mechanical work is injurious to the health."

The word "function" seemed to puzzle the children tremendously. Questions containing that word were answered as follows:

"The skin discharges a function called perspiration."

"The function of the heart is between the lungs."

"The heart's function is called thorax."

A Nightmare

Gives point to the fact that excessive or irregular eating disturbs the digestion. Nightmare or night hag has it's day time correspondence in the undue fullness after eating, with the belchings and sour or bitter rising so often experienced after too hasty or too hearty eating.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. When these diseases are cured, the whole body shares in the increased strength derived from food properly digested and perfectly assimilated.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have been of great benefit to me," writes (Prof.) Pleasant A. Oliver, of Viola, Fulton Co., Ark. "Before I used the above mentioned remedies my sleep was not sound; digestion bad: a continued feeling of misery. I now feel like a new man. Any one in need of medical treatment for nasal catarrh could do no better than to take treatment of Dr. R. V. Pierce. I know his medicines are all right in this class of diseases."

Sometimes a dealer tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery." It is better for him because it pays better, but it is not as good for you, if you want the medicine that has cured others, and which you believe will cure you.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

PANAMA UPSET.

Governor's House surrounded by Soldiers and Certain High Officials Arrested—El Lapiz, Liberal Paper, Seized.

Panama, Colombia, July 27.—Not since the days of the last revolution, when an attack upon the city by the Liberals was feared, has there been such a panic in Panama as occurred Saturday night. Shortly after 9 o'clock the office of El. Lapiz, the organ of the Liberal party of the Isthmus, was visited by some officers of the general staff of the army, who destroyed yesterday's edition of the paper. One of the directors was slightly wounded, but managed to escape.

The next event came like a bombshell. A company of soldiers, apparently under the orders of Gen. Vasquez Cobos, Commander of the National Forces, surrounded the residence of Governor Mutis, but the Governor and his wife, who is an American lady, having been warned a few minutes before the arrival of the troops, succeeded in escaping.

General Heurtas, commander of the battalion of Colombia; Dr. Aristides Arjona, secretary of the Government; Fernando Arango, chief of police, and Efraim Naval, a member of the department; Al Superior, tribunal of justice, it is said were placed under arrest.

Governor Mutis spent Saturday night at the British Consulate.

Governor Mutis is virtually a prisoner. Undoubtedly Gen. Cobos will issue later a proclamation giving the reasons for his action.

An Indian Executed.

Vancouver, B. C., July 25.—Indian Lou was executed yesterday morning for the murder of his wife. A most unique circumstance was that a number of redskins witnessed the execution.

Death Follows Fall.

Parkhill, July 25.—Asa J. Hill, a painter, while engaged in painting on a house, fell from a ladder, the shock caused heart failure and he died in a few minutes.

$2,500,000 For Relief.

Berlin, July 27.—The Prussian Ministry has decided to devote $2,500,000 to the relief of the sufferers from the Silesian floods. Typhoid fever has resulted from the rotting of grain.

Moderation In Exercise.

Exercise which is well within the powers of the body is salutary for all and probably necessary for some, but exercise by which those powers are overstrained is too often not only the precursor, but quite unmistakably the cause, of serious illness or of bodily or mental failure. "Why," inquired Saladin, "should the weak display his inferiority in the presence of the strong?" The question is as pertinent in our own day as it was in that on which it was uttered.—London Hospital.

The Place to Knock.

"It will come out all right in time," he told his wife. "Fortune knocks at every man's door once, and some day she'll knock at mine."

"It won't help you any," returned his wife. "If fortune wants to find you she'll have to go to the club and send in her card."

THE TOWN MADE GLAD BY HOME-COMERS' RE-UNION

the blessing of Providence, they have been in the fullest sense of the word, successful.

But, sir, it is a joy to those of us who have returned to-day to find that Peterborough has made rapid progress in the years of our absence. We remember that in the early days the struggle was to meet the needs of the people and it was not always possible to do that; but now we behold transformations which manifest the utmost luxury, and a large degree of artistic culture. The spot we are assembled at this time shows that you have paid no little attention to the aesthetic side of life, and this is but one of the many evidences that Peterborough has become the best inland town in this province.

That this is the case is seen by the fact also that the men of manufacturing instinct that here is the best place of power, and from here the shipping facilities are of the best in the land.

Indeed, your public affairs as they are seen in the condition of the city generally, and in the public buildings, sacred, educational and civic, are a standing proof that the best brain and genius did not leave this county.

It is indeed a unique delight to return and in this way give expression to the reverence we have for those who laid well and truly the foundations, and our appreciation of the sterling worth of those who have, through the years of our absence, reared upon these foundation superstructures which are more lasting than brass and more eloquent than history. As we return to our homes in other places we shall carry with us as a living inspiration the cordial words of welcome you have been pleased to utter this day.

SOME OF THE "OLD BOYS."

Mr. LLewellyn A. Morrison, the honoured president of the Association, is an interesting gentlemen, presenting a specimen of an all round, well developed character. He was born in Dummer in 1846, the son of Robt. Morrison, who was County Councillor and Magistrate. He worked at home on the farm until he was 20 years of age, and had very little opportunity to obtain an education except of the most meagre character. He had, however, access to the library of a scholarly family, but recently arrived from England, and studied such books as Dick's "Wealth of Nations," Paley's "Theology," and Rollins' "Ancient History." At the age of twenty he went to Norwood and attended school there for a year, afterwards teaching for two years. He went to Toronto and matriculated, but failing health forbade him pursuing literary work and he went to the United States and went into mechanical work and engineering, which he has followed as a life profession. He was instrumental in establishing and building up what is now known as the A. R. Williams Machinery Co., of Toronto, but left the firm some years ago, and is now doing professional work in engineering and mining. During gleaned moments from a busy life he has written many technical articles, stories, poems and hymns. His poems are published in book form under the title "Heart Bells," a copy of which the Examiner gratefully acknowledges.

One of the most interesting visitors, is Mr. Alfred E. Hayter, a newspaper man in Peterborough from 1852 to 1857. He was in 1856 and 1857 a foreman on the Examiner staff, and afterwards went to Millbrook establishing there the "Messenger," which he conducted for some years, afterwards moving to Port Hope, where the old home was still retained. He returned to Millbrook in 1865 and remained there until 1892 when he sold out and removed to Toronto, where he is now living. He is at present 78 years of age, and time has dealt lightly with him, as he still retains much of his youthful vigour. It is 12 years since he visited the old town and is much pleased with the wondrous changes which the energetic citizens of the town have wrought.

Mr. John Braden, Vice-President of the Association is one of the best known of the home-comers. He lived here for 22 years, teaching for some years, and afterwards engaging in business. He with Mrs. Braden have been visiting Mrs. Braden's mother, in Keene. He also sees much improvement in the condition of the town.

Probably the most delighted of the "Old Boys" is Alex. McDonald, of Batavia, N. Y., who left here 33 years ago and is now on his second visit since that time. He is the son of the late Daniel McDonald, of Ashburnham. He was dumbfounded when upon alighting from the evening the train on Saturday he saw the extent of this home-comers' movement, and of the progress of the town since he last saw it.

Mr. A. Carey of Toronto, a son of Mr. Johnston Carey, who once kept a shoe store next to Harry Long's establishment, stated that he had not been in town for some ten years. He spent his boyhood here, and for the last two years has been ranching at a place about 100 miles from Moosejaw, Ass. Mr. Carey remarked that the prospects of the western province in which he had been living, were of the best. He expressed great surprise at the way in which Peterborough had grown, and said that he had never seen such a change in so short a time.. Mr. Carey missed the Dickson Company's old sawmill, and said he was more than surprised at the Lift Lock.

Mr. Leo J. McGrath, another "Old Boy," who has been living in New York for the last three years, said that he never expected to return and find such a beautiful town. Mr. McGrath said that he had come across many Canadians in New York, but had not met any Peterborough boys there. He is a member of a Canadian club and in all other ways is doing exceedingly well.

Mr. Walter Squires, who travels all over the Dominion, from Halifax to Vancouver, is one of the young "Old Boys." He says that in all the wide Dominion he has seen no town or minor city in any way equal to Peterborough, in beauty, thrift, enterprise and industrial importance.

Mr. Jas. McLean of Mount Pleasant, claims to be the oldest "Old Boy" in the "bunch." He lived in Peterborough as far back as 1835—68 years ago. He learned tailoring in the shop of Mr. John Haggart, on the second floor of a shop situated about the present site of Gough Bros. He was in town, yet hale and hearty, and renewing heartily associations with the "Old Boys."

The younger boys of the town will be interested in knowing that Mr. Walter Kerr, a former well known pavement merchant, and general favourite, and at one time the victim of an assassin, is one of the "Old Boys." His present field of activity is Toronto.

Mr. John T. Rickey, now with the Canada Foundry Company, at Toronto Junction, is one of the visiting "Old Boys."

GOLF.

A MATCH IN TORONTO.

A team from the Peterborough Golf Club went to Toronto and played a match game with the Toronto Golf Club on the latter's links.

The team that represented the Peterborough Golf Club was a strong one and in the match they played a strong game as the result shows. This game goes to show that the Peterborough players and the club they belong to rank well with the best golfers there are in Canada. The game was close all through and the result was uncertain until the last putt had been made.

Mr. R. M. Hamilton was pitted against the runner-up for the amateur championship of Canada of last year and succeeded in defeating him by two holes up.

Mr. H. D. Burnett defeated his opponent by 10 holes up and this score speaks for itself.

The links of the Toronto Club are the finest in Canada, in fact it is said there are few in America that are better. The greens are perfectly level and very fast.

Toronto was one hole up on the game. The scores were as follows: —

Peterborough.		Toronto.
2	R. M. Hamilton,	R. C. H. Cassels, 0
0	H. Burnham,	T. Blackwood, 7
1	J. Lawrence,	A. Masten, 0
2	S. Hay,	D. R. Wilkie, 0

Port Hope will play a match here on Wednesday, August 5th.

It is hoped the members will take advantage of having a professional here in September.

The Lambton Golf and Country Club will play a match on the local links on the 8th of August. Mr. G. S. Lyon, twice champion of Canada, will play with the visiting team and match will likely prove very interesting.

BASEBALL.

St. Andrew's defeated Charlotte street in a fast game of ball, last Friday night on the Patterson street grounds. Both pitchers were in great form, Patterson only being hit safely twice. A Remarkable Hat.

According to a French paper, there is a man in London who possesses a remarkable straw hat. For years past he has followed King Edward about at foreign watering places, and whenever he saw the Prince of Wales, as the King then was, drinking anything through a straw he pounced down upon the straw and added it to his collection. Last year this strange collector had gathered such a bundle of straws that he had a hat made of them.

LAST DAY OF OLD BOY'S RE-UNION.

Successful Gathering Yesterday in Victoria Park.

ADDRESSES BY "OLD BOYS."

The Town Proud of Her Sons' Successes—Feeling References to the Late Dr. Dewart.

The Old Boys have come and gone, and it is safe to say, judging by the expressions given utterance to by the visitors, that not one of them cherishes but the most pleasing memories of this, the first annual Home-Coming, and on the other hand, the citizens of the place have esteemed it a pleasure to welcome to their homes the Old Boys, many of whom left long years ago, and the town is proud of the fact that her sons who have gone out have done credit to their home town, and as they returned it was as a happy, prosperous, and in every respect, a creditable company of Peterborough sons.

The public gathering held in Victoria Park yesterday afternoon, was attended by about 1200 people, and was highly successful.

Shortly after noon the Old Boys, accompanied in most cases by their home friends began to gather on the beautiful grounds, and when the 57th Band arrived the whole surface of the park was covered by groups in which the visitors' red and blue badges were conspicuous. Before the programme the Old Boys were photographed by Messrs. Roy and Whiten, after which the Mayor, who was chairman of the gathering, read the address of welcome, which was given in yesterday's Examiner. To his written address he added a few words of hearty welcome. He was pleased that the Old Boys had honoured the town by returning in such large numbers. He felt he should thank the president of the Association personally, because he underatood it was largely due to him that the home coming had materialized. He also thought he should thank the Peterborough Old Boys for the manner in which, while they had been away from home, they had uphold the honour of the home town. Peterborough is proud of her noble sons. It is significant that in the Cabinets of three different Provinces, Peterborough boys hold portfolios, and in every walk of life the town is well represented.

In his reply the president of the Association gave a most eloquent address, the text of which was given in yesterday's Examiner. He expressed to the company the regrets of two of the Hon. Presidents at being unable to attend. Hon. Senator Geo. A. Cox wrote him saying that pressing business engagements would prevent him joining in the re-union, and hoped the event would be one of unqualified success. Mr. J. W. Flavelle also sent regrets; he had but recently returned from a lengthy visit abroad and business interests would not permit him to leave the city. He also wished the Home Comers success. The president referred very touchingly to the life of Rev. Dr. Dewart who, until his death, was the senior Hon. President. The late Doctor had exerted a greater influence upon this country than any other Peterborough boy as a journalist and a preacher, and pictured in eloquent words the humble beginning of the life of the man who in after years was such a power.

The Mayor then called upon Mr. D. W. Dumble to extend a welcome to the Home Comers on behalf of the Old Boys at Home. Mr. Dumble was unavoidably absent but Mr. Carnegie responded in his behalf, and gave the following address.

"Home-Comers—We of the old home bid you welcome, welcome home!" That word. "home," next to "mother," is the sweetest word in the English language. It implies and brings to memory, childhood, father, mother, brothers, sisters, friends — the old hearth and all its sacred associations.

In this land of beauty, plenty, and liberty the homes are happy and, the children and youth have much to leave in the mind of happy memories—memories that cling to one through the three score and ten years allotted to man, and though the skies may change and the ways of life, the memory of the early home is the happiest memory that lingers.

When, then, you come to visit the old home we realize that you have cherished fond memories of Peterborough and your early days, and we bid you the heartier welcome for we know that good men cherish longest the memory of the days that were glad in innocence and virtue.

We know too, that you have been successful. Where the snow falls men children are born. Our climate and simple life have given you brawn and muscle and stamina. Our schools have given you a fair education. Our Sunday and the moral atmosphere of our land have given you character, so that when you went amongst strangers they realized that you could endure; that you were free from vices and that they could trust you, and in your new homes you have won your way to success. In this we rejoice and are proud, for every good man we raise, whether he stays at home or goes abroad, is "the work by which we are known."

It may be that some of you have married and begotten children in the neighbouring land where you have conquered and made your new home, and you have felt it your duty to take the citizenship of the land that gave you an honourable living and a foremost place; to this we make no demur. You have done right, and though we lose you we are glad that there is a good sprinkling of Canadian salt among our neighbours for the saving of the nation and for a bond of peace.

Your honourable and successful lives win respect for the land that sent you forth—and we urge you ever to be worthy of this land so glorious and so free.

We are realizing the throbbings of a new national life, for God has given us a great heritage, and we hope our ever widening bordess will soon give opportunities that will enlist all the energies of our people and make it unnecessary for our young men to seek employment in strange lands.

When you wish to come back to our city and country you will find the latch string on the outside—and a more than hearty welcome.

If in your visit you see any fair girl who is willing to say as Rebecca said to Isaac—"I will go," then take her, and God bless you.

Again we tell you of our gladness for your visit and we bid you welcome in the heart language of a generous people."

"Caed Mille Failthe."

Warden Crowe was next called upon, but he was unable to be in attendance, because of illness, and Rev. Dr. J. C. Speer was then introduced and gave a very interesting and humourous address. Dr. Speer is one of the most talented of Peterborough County's sons, and in his address yesterday he gave ample evidence of his ability as a platform speaker. In addition to the reverend doctor's formal address, published in yesterday's issue of the Examiner, he paid a tribute to the high moral character of Peterborough Old Boys, saying that this county produced a smaller number of criminals than any other county in Ontario, and there is not to-day in the Central Prison one man whose home is in Peterborough County. He referred, as did the President, to the beautiful life of the Rev. Dr. Dewart, and said that the county should be proud to have owned him as a son. He compared in a humourous vein the early conditions of life in this county with those of the present. The doctor's address was frequently applauded and all thoroughly enjoyed the masterly elocutionary effort of a former Peterborough boy. This brought to a close the programme as far as the speaking was concerned, but many hundreds remained to the concert given by the 57th Regiment Band.

The majority of visitors left town last night, and all outgoing trains were crowded. At the C. P. R. depot on the departure of the 5.10 local there were fully 700 persons on the platform, either going away themselves or to see their visitors off. The regular G.T.R. was also crowded, but by far the largest number went on the special G.T.R. train which left at 7.30. The 57th band was at the depot and pleased the thousand people there by playing popular airs, until the train pulled out to the strains of "Auld Lang Syne," and the first home-comirg was at an end.

NOTES.

The owners of many business places and residences expended considerable time and labour in decorations, and the town took on a genuine holiday appearance.

Many Old Boys will remain a week or two with friends in town, or visit the Kawartha Lakes.

Mr. G. E. Whiten took a picture of the Old Boys and friends from the band stand, and had it finished in one hour and a half. This he claims is a record for rapid work. The photo is a very creditable one, and no doubt many of the Old Boys will secure one.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 35c and 20c.

MASS AT ST. PETERS

Celebrated Yesterday Morning by Bishop O'Connor.

There was a large congregation present at St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning, when solemn requiem High Mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul of the late Pope, Leo XIII. The Cathedral was beautifully and appropriately draped in mourning in honour of the departed Pontiff. Outside, over the main entrance was the Papal coat of arms, while inside the Bishop's throne and the pulpit, besides other portions of the sacred building were dressed with black.

Mass was celebrated by his Lordship, Bishop O'Connor at nine o'clock in the morning. The Venerable Archdeacon Casey officiated as Assistant priest, Rev. Father McColl as Deacon, and Rev. Father Kelly as Sub-Deacon.

The service was a very beautiful one throughout, more so as the occasion was such a solemn one.

IN MOURNING FOR POPE LEO XIII.

St. Peters Draped and Masses Sung for Late Holy Father.

Eulogistic References to His Life by Rev. Dr. O'Brien.

The interior of St. Peter's Cathedral was on Sunday draped in the sombre symbols of mourning, and the masses during the day contained prayers for the repose of the soul of Leo XIII., the beloved Pontiff, who had passed away in the early part of the week. The galleries of the church were draped in black and white, while from a point above the sanctuary, streamers of the same extended to the galleries at the sides. The altar was swathed in purple, indictive of deep mourning for the dead Pope, and was deprived of its usual decorations. Above the door of the Cathedral there was a deep setting of black relieved by a white rosette in the centre, and over this, wrought in gold upon a black ground was the Papal insignia of the Triple Tiara and Keys.

A TIME OF PRAYER.

Large congregations attended all of the masses. Rev. Dr. O'Brien at 10.30 read the circular issued by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor to the priests of the diocese relative to the Pope's death, and delivered an eloquent adress eulogistic of the life and work of Pope Leo. It would seem, he said, that apart from the voice of prayer nothing should be spoken, and that the silence should scarcely be broken in such a mournful time, when the Church of God, all over the world, with one voice, was crying to God to have mercy on the soul of their late beloved Pontiff, and to send them a worthy successor—one who would carry on the grand grand work which Leo had left behind. His life was no ordinary life. It had been often and truly said of him that he was one of the grandest and greatest of Popes. He was one of the most wonderful men of the past century, and there was no disparagement whatever in the statement that, of the Popes who had passed away, Leo XII. was the greatest.

PARENTAL TRAINING.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien gave a short review of the life of Pope Leo. He was born of most devout and respectable parents—noble they were, though very poor—on March 2, 1810, in the Town of Carpineto, in the ancient diocese of Anagni. Very early he gave promise of becoming a wonderful man. His mother, a very pious woman, guarded well his early youth, inculcating those sublime truths of religion, which Leo carried through life and has handed down to posterity. Thus the care which his mother exercised over him had a tremulous influence upon his succeeding years. His own testimony went to show how important was good parental training in the life of a child.

A BRILLIANT CAREER.

At eight years of age he was sent to college, and at ten years distinguished himself by his love of classics and by composing excellent Latin verses on some important occasion. When 14 years of age he was sent to the great College of Rome, then conducted by the Jesuits. His career here was of a most brilliant character. He studied in the Rome University canon and civil law and conducted himself with great distinction in several noted public disputations. Becoming a favorite of Gregory XVI, who early saw in him one of the best and most firm administrators, he was appointed a delegate to Benevento, Pergula and Spoleto in succession. The priesthood was conferred upon him in 1837. In 1843 he was further promoted by the Pope and was sent as Nuncio to Belgium and created Archbishop of Darnietta. His great diplomatic powers were instrumental in quelling many of the disturbances that perturbed Europe at that time ane there were frequent proofs of his fine administrative abilities as an able ruler of the Church's interests. During the three years that he remained at Brussels he visited England and had an audience with Queen Victoria. This visit was marked by a mutual spirit of admiration and did much towards creating relations of a still more friendly character towards the Holy See, and which are being maintained by the son of the late beloved Queen.

Reference was made to Mgr. Pecci's nomination as Bishop of Perugia and his selection to fill the most important office of Cardinal Carmerlengo of the Roman Church. This office he held until the death of Pope Pius in 1878, when he was elected by the Sacred College as successor and was crowned Pope Leo XIII. on March 3rd. He was the two hundred and fifty-seventh Pope Italy at that time was in the throes of rebellion, but little by little peace was restored, and that in great measure through the influence of the Pope. This same influence had also effected a great measure of good in every part of the civilized world.

AN EXEMPLARY LIFE.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien made eloquent reference to Pope Leo's remarkable piety, his exemplary kindness, saintly virtue, his wonderful grasp of the condition of things in every part of the world. The Church in Canada and the United States had experienced great prosperity during the past 24 years; two colleges had been established, those of Ottawa and Laval, and a large university at Washington. Besides, many new churches had been erected and parishes created. The speaker recalled a personal reminiscence. On the occasion of a visit to Rome six years ago of a party of students, the Pope had displayed the greatest interest in and thorough knowledge of affairs in this country and of the situation of the Church in the various Provinces. His was a magnanimous heart, which made him beloved by all with whom he came in contact, and his life stood out as a worthy example.

In pointing out the necessity for prayer at this important time, the speaker denounced as the rankest calumnies the reports sent out by Jewish representatives of the Associated Press with reference to the College of Cardinals and the election of Pope. The Cardinals had no idea as to who would be the next Pope, and were influenced by one motive—the glory of God and the good of the Church.

FROM MT. PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The dwelling house of Mr. S. E. Ferguson, Warden of the counties, was destroyed by fire on Saturday, the 25th inst, at about 11 a.m. Very little of the contents of the dwelling were saved as there was no man present when the fire occurred. The loss will be a very heavy one, as there was very little insurance on the house, and none whatever on the contents.

The pulpit of the Presbyterian church here was occupied by Rev. J. G. Potter of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough. The congregation was well pleased with his sermon; it was an excellent, practical discourse.

The pastor of the Methodist church was absent last Sunday, and his pulpit was occupied by a gentleman from Peterborough.

Mr. T. W. McLean left here on Friday last for Toronto.

I cannot express in words the praise that is due to Iron-ox Tablets, which I got as a trial package from our druggist, Mr. McDonald, who told me they were just what I wanted. I took them more for fun, but before I had finished one box I got great relief. I was subject to great misery after meals, with bloating, and would rift up bile of the bitterest taste, and always woke up in the morning in the same way for the last twenty years. Had tried all medicines, but now I am completely cured, and it was by taking Iron-ox Tablets. Words cannot express my gratitude to you.

"OLD BOYS" SERVICE AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Welcomed Home by Rev. J. C. Davidson Sunday Night.

A Sermon of Especial Interest to Past and Present Citizens—The Singing—Miss Sherwood Honoured Before Departure.

The Home-Comers' service at St. John's Church Sunday night, was attended by an unusually large number of persons, and the seating capacity of the church was taxed to its utmost. After the regular evening service had been either said or sung, Rev. J. C. Davidson preached a sermon, for which he took his text from St. Luke, Chapter 4; verse 16:—"And He came to Nazareth where He had been brought up."

Home-Coming, said Rev. J. C. Davidson, is the word which is in the hearts of the citizens of Peterborough to-day. We have had other home-comings at Christmas time and on other such occasions, but those have been purely family affairs; to-day is the home-coming of the citizens of Peterborough, and it may be useful for us to look back at a home-coming in the Gospel history. He of whom the text speaks, had been brought up in the little village of Nazareth, among the citizens of Nazareth, who had known Him since He had been a little child. Besides knowing Him as a child they had known Him as a carpenter. But one day, continued the preacher, He was seen no more; the hammer and the chizel were silent for the little child had left to preach the Gospel to the world. He went out amongst strangers and showed them His wondrous power and love, and now and then tidings of His work came home.

At last He went home, with feelings which cannot be expressed, and as was His custom, went into the synagogue and stood up to read. The Scripture says that He opened the Book of the Prophet Isaiah and read those marvellous words in which the prophet foretells of His own works. Then He declared to them whom He was, which declaration they resented. They could not comprehend that a fellow citizen could be such a one. We read that they were filled with wrath and would have cast Him down the cliff had not His mighty power saved Him.

There seems to be a great gap, remarked the preacher, between Peterborough and Nazareth yet the Gospel of that Lord is for us also.

Rev. J. C. Davidson touched upon the destiny of this town and said that if, both past and present, citizens banded together for some future, he believed our wishes for a glorious future for our town would be realized.

The leaders, he said, must be supported and there must be enthusiasm on the part of all to bring to pass that which all desire.

You, the past citizens, have done a great work, and we, the present citizens appreciate the movement which has been set on foot and feel that the home comers have brought joy with them. You who are returning to your home county today, have expressed your feelings by means of the press, and have often given us advice. People who have a bird's eye view of things, can judge better than others, and we will always look forward to your future words of advice.

The affections of our Saviour, said the preacher in conclusion, were very strong; He loved His disciples to the end, and quite as strongly He felt towards the people of Nazareth, who rejected Him. We often look on others, desiring to love them, and very often there is no response. He felt that some one might not receive due welcome, but they were all as glad to see that person as any—and are very glad indeed to see all. We must learn not to be down cast, and to purify our affections, and endeavour to return that great love which our Heavenly Father gives out to all of us.

At the conclusion of the service a short musical recital was rendered. Miss Sherwood sang; she has a beautiful voice of good range and transparent clearness, which will be greatly missed. The choir rendered "Glory to God," from Farmer's mass in B b.

NOTES.

The number of old men present was a feature of the service. Mr. A. E. Hayter was one of these. Mr. Hayter was a member of the congregation from 1852-1857. Another was Mr. Tighe who was present at the laying of the corner stone of the church some seventy years ago.

At the conclusion of the recital Miss Sherwood was presented with a handsome silver dish, suitably engraved, the present of the choir, of which Miss Sherwood has been a most energetic and valuable member. Rev. J. C. Davidson was also presented with a framed picture of the church. Mrs. and Miss Sherwood will leave this week for Chicago.

During the offertory the choir sang "Sun of My Soul," Mr. Gillogly taking the solo part.

At the morning service the Rector spoke a few appropriate words regarding the late Mrs. Greenwood's life in Peterborough. He said that he felt assured that her influence had been felt in South Africa, as it had been during her stay of seven years in this town.

G. T. P. DECKS CLEAR

Commons Gets Ready for the Expected Big Railway Debate.

MR. HAYS WILL SIGN TO-DAY.

Grand Trunk Pacific Contract Completed, and Resolutions Will Be Given Notice of Forthwith—Mr. Fielding Will Introduce Them, But Sir Wilfrid Laurier Will Make the Government's Explanations.

Ottawa, July 28.—The order paper was yesterday practically cleared of all the legislation which has reached the stage that it could be disposed of by the House, except the Grand Trunk Pacific bill. There are three bills to come before the Railway Committee to-day, and one or two others which are before other committees constitute all the private legislation in sight at this session.

Grand Trunk Pacific.

The Grand Trunk Pacific contract has been finally completed, and now awaits the signature of Mr. C. M. Hays, who will be here to-day. If that gentleman signs the contract upon its submission to him, the salient features will be embodied in resolutions to be given notice of today, and the country will then be made officially aware of the Government's propositions. The resolutions will be introduced by Hon. W. S. Fielding, as they involve financial obligations, but the speech explanatory of the Government's policy will be delivered by the Prime Minister. The date fixed for this is Thursday next. It will probably be a much more extended address than has been heard from Sir Wilfrid within recent years, and may occupy some hours.

Replying to Mr. Borden the Premier stated that within the last half hour he had been informed that the lawyers had finished their work, and the notice of the resolutions would be given forthwith.

The Alliance Bank.

When the House went into committee on the bill to incorporate the Alliance Bank of Canada Mr. Henderson of Halton moved an amendment making it possible for the Alliance Bank to advance money on American securities only by consent of its shareholders, obtained at a special meeting called for that purpose.

Dr. Sproule and Mr. Lefurgey of East Prince discussed the amendment and the bill, after which Mr. Henderson's amendment was declared lost, and the bill was reported and read a third time.

The bill incorporating the Citizens Bank of Canada was given its third reading. Mr. Henderson moved the same amendment, which he offered in connection with the Alliance Bank, and it met a similar fate.

Brockville and Soo Bill.

After a five hours' discussion of points of order and the merits of the bill to incorporate the Brockville and Sault Ste. Marie Railway, the preamble was passed on a vote of 41 to 35. On motion for the third reading of the bill it was declared carried by 54 to 35.

Canadian Telephone Bill.

No objection was offered to the bill incorporating the Canadian Telephone and Telegraph Co. until clause 22 was reached.

Mr. E. F. Clarke moved the amendment of which he gave notice the other day compelling the company to forward the messages of other telephone companies, provided the latter extended similar privileges to the Canadian Telegraph and Telephone Company.

Mr. Birkett, who has charge of the bill, said representatives of the municipalities had been consulted in regard to some of the most important clauses, and they could have no cause whatever for complaint. The proposed amendment, Mr. Birkett argued, would render the charter useless.

Mr. Clarke said the interests of the municipalities imperatively demanded the amendment.

Mr. Lennox said the amendment would be the means of giving the smaller companies fair play.

Dr. Sproule said that without the amendment all the objectionable features of the Bell Telephone Company would be attached to the Canadian Telegraph and Telephone Company.

The amendment was lost in committee on a vote of 35 to 13.

Mr. Clarke brought forward his amendment again when the third reading of the bill was moved. It was lost on a vote of 57 to 9.

COLLIDED WITH AN ICEBERG.

The British Steamer Baku Standard "Injured by Ice."

Philadelphia, July 28.—The British steamship Baku Standard, Captain Tucker, from Tyne for this city, passed in the Delaware breakwater at 6 o'clock yesterday morning and signalled "injured by ice." It is thought the steamship had been in collision with an iceberg.

Renominated For Swan River.

Winnipeg, July 28.—Returning officers at Partington gave their decision on the tie between Dr. Grain, Conservative, and M. O'Donohue, Liberal, in the Kildonan and St. Andrew's election tie yesterday. The returning officer's casting vote was in favor of Dr. Grain, who was declared elected by one. A recount has been applied for. Mr. Cotton, Liberal, and Mr. Robinson, Conservative, were renominated yesterday for the Swan River seat in the Legislature.

Startling Revelations.

It frequently happens that people suffer for years from kidney derangements without knowing the cause of their backaches, aching limbs and other bodily sufferings, suddenly the truth is revealed to them that they are the victims of serious kidney disease and in imminent danger. There is no medicine which gives such prompt and lasting relief for every form of Kidney disease as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They are positively effective even in the most chronic cases.

IN MOTHER'S HONOR.

The King Unveils a Statue of Queen Victoria at Belfast.

TO FOLLOW IN HER FOOTSTEPS

Edward VII. Highest Ambition Is to Make the Well-Being of His People, Prosperity of the Realm, and the Maintenance of Peace in All Nations, His Constant Aim.

Belfast, July 28.—The welcome extended to King Edward and Queen Alexandra at the capital of Ulster yesterday was marked by the same enthusiasm which has followed their progress through Ireland. The city was elaborately decorated and thronged with sight-seers, and the streets were lined by 10,000 troops, 2,000 blue jackets and 5,000 police.

The Lord Mayor and corporation awaited their Majesties at the railroad station and presented them with an address. Upwards of fifty other addresses were presented on the same occasion. The King in reply said his highest ambition was to follow in the footsteps of his mother and make the well-being of his people, the prosperity of the realm and the maintenance of the peace of all nations his constant aim. The royal procession was then formed and traversed the streets to the city hall, where the King unveiled a statue erected in honor of Queen Victoria.

After the unveiling Their Majesties lunched with the Lord Mayor and visited the Agricultural Show at Balmoral. Later they went to Bangor, where their reception was most demonstrative. About 1,400 children sang the National Anthem. The channel fleet saluted as Their Majesties, in the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, on which they will proceed to Londonderry. The reception which Their Majesties met with everywhere was most enthusiastic.

A serious accident occurred while Their Majesties were subsequently driving to the Victoria Hospital, which they opened yesterday. A peasant woman succeeded in passing the cordon of troops and rushed towards the royal carriage. She was knocked down and fell beneath the wheels, which passed over her body. The woman, who was badly injured, was taken to the hospital.

MRS. M'KEE'S CASE.

Her Sufferings in the Swamps Stir Up Windsor People.

Windsor, July 28.—The sympathy of the people of Windsor is stirred up over the sufferings of Mrs. Ellen McKee, the ex-post mistress of Tubbermore, Ireland, who embezzled about $2,000 of Government money.

The suffering and exposure during the two days and one night spent in the marshes, following her desperate attempt to escape from the county jail at Sandwich, has touched the hearts of the Windsor people. A proposed subscription with a view to reimbursing the Government was suggested, but later it was abandoned as a similar offer on the part of the people of Tubbermore was rejected.

Rev. J. C. Tolmie of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and others are now trying to get a largely signed petition, and intend to try for her pardon on the doctor's statement of Mrs. McKee's ill-health.

INDIAN AND CHINESE LABOR.

Colonial Secretary Says He Will Not Consent to It.

London, July 28.—During the course of the debate in the House of Commons yesterday, on the second reading of the Transvaal Loan Bill, Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, referring to the proposal to introduce Asiatic labor into South Africa, declared that so long as public opinion was hostile to the proposition he would not consent to it. He believed, however, that opinion on the subject was changing and if the majority demanded the importation of Indian coolies, he would not object to it.

In regard to Chinese labor, Mr. Chamberlain said not a suggestion looking to the employment of Chinese in South Africa had ever been officially brought to the notice of the Transvaal Government.

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his travelling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbours brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

No man will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all druggists.

Four Months in the Central.

Toronto, July 28.—Ellis M. Charters, the Englishman arrested for vagrancy after attempting to get a loan of $100 from the Governor-General, which sum the clerk at the King Edward Hotel refused to hand over to him, was sentenced to four months in the Central Prison by Colonel Denison in the Police Court yesterday morning.

$5,000. Reward for the Arrest and Conviction of-—the parties who originated and circulated, the rumor that "Force" Food contained drugs or other injurious ingredients.

$5,000. additional will be paid to anyone proving that "Force" does, or ever did, contain any drug or other injurious or unhealthful ingredient, being composed solely of Wheat and Barley, with a seasoning of table salt, steam cooked, flaked, and roasted.

Do us the justice, if you question the absolute purity or healthfulness of "Force," to send a package to the Health Department of your city for analysis.

The "FORCE" Food Company. BUFFALO, N. Y.

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

BOSTON, June 25, 1903.

The "Force" Food Company, Buffalo, N. Y.:

GENTLEMEN—A rumor having reached me that your product, "FORCE," contained injurious ingredients, I took the occasion to analyze it, in the interest of my own family and of some friends who are liberal users of it.

It may interest you to know that I found it consisted exclusively of Whole Wheat, Barley and Salt, and is absolutely free from any injurious elements whatever.

Permit me to express my sincere regret that such a serious and baseless rumor should gain footing with the public.

You are free to use this letter in any way that will help to do your product justice.

Yours truly,
WILBUR L. SCOVILLE.

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

BOSTON, June 30, 1903.

To Whom It May Concern:

At the invitation of The "FORCE" Food Company, of Buffalo, I have visited their Mills and made a careful examination of the materials from which "FORCE" is prepared, and the processes which convert it into its finished condition.

I found that "FORCE" consists exclusively of what my previous analysis indicated, viz.: Whole Wheat and Barley, with a flavoring of Table Salt, flaked, cooked and sterilized by 300 degrees of heat.

A feature of the manufacture which impressed me considerably was the fact that the process is entirely mechanical, the food being prepared, cooked and boxed by machinery, without ever coming in contact with the hands or clothing of the mill operatives.

I was also gratified to note that an experienced Chemist daily supervised the entire output, and that each day's manufacture was also tested by an expert cook.

Signed, WILBUR L. SCOVILLE,

The "Force" Food Company, Buffalo, N. Y.:

GENTLEMEN—In view of the rumors regarding the alleged adulteration of "FORCE," it has been a satisfaction to me to visit your Mills, investigate, and analyze your product

You are free to publish this statement made over my signature, that I found "FORCE" to be absolutely pure, consisting solely of Whole Wheat and Barley, flavored with table Salt, and free from any injurious substance whatever.

I examined, in detail, the various steps in the manufacture of your product, such as the steam cooking, the flaking and the roasting, as well as the packing, and find all to be remarkably clean and of absolute healthfulness. The final roasting is done at a temperature above 300° F., which, with the steam cooking, completely sterilizes the product, and the entire process, from the first step to the final sealing of the package, is a mechanical one, the product at no time coming in contact with the hands or clothing of the persons handling the machines or packages.

Very respectfully,
HERBERT M. HILL,
Chemist to the City of Buffalo.

See page 148 of "Cereal Breakfast Foods," Bulletin No. 84, of the Maine Experiment Station, a State Institution, which has analyzed "FORCE" with other foods, in the public interests.

Copy will be mailed free on request.

Refer also to Canadian Government Bulletin 24 on similar subject, pages 6 and 29, for analysis showing that "FORCE" consists solely of the most wholesome and nutritious ingredients.

Any inquiries concerning this subject will be cheerfully answered by Four members of the Belcher Club, of Niagara Falls, and Syracuse, N.Y., were in town yesterday after having spent two weeks at Buckhorn. Those in the party are, E. Schultze, T. Brackett and H. Lernberg, of Niagara Falls, and Mr. F. Martin, of Syracuse. They brought down with them the results of their two weeks' sport, which were 32 'lunge, the smallest weighing 10 lbs., and the largest 18 1-2 lbs, and 65 bass, the largest of which was a 4 1-2 pounder, the catch of Mr. Martin. This fish is being mounted by Mr. Elcombe, the taxidermist. There are still 12 members of the club at Buckhorn, who will remain there some days yet. This is the first visit of the Club to this part of Canada, but the fishing and scenery have been so much enjoyed that it will be made an annual event. They have visited other fishing grounds in Canada but they declare that nowhere have they found such a thoroughly ideal spot as Buckhorn and Stony Lake.

Young Men in Politics.

Perhaps at no time in the country's history were young men more in evidence in politics than at present, and the near future is full of promise for these. Mr. J. Robert Long, a well known political writer, has just published a work on "Canadian Politics," that is calculated to be a political aspirant's best friend. It contains over 300 pages dealing with party government, trade principles, tariffs, resources, workmen, wages, farmers, manufacturers, editorials, railroads, the Great West problem, prosperity, the Imperial trade policy, etc., and embraced a collection of 26 of the best orations delivered by Canadian statesmen, making it a valuable work for the platform orator, and all who have any interest whatsoever in politics, or Canada's progress. The book sells at $2, and is beautifully bound. Mr. Long's health having failed since the completion of his arduous task, the book will no doubt find a large sale. Orders addressed to him at Ottawa will be duly appreciated.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 25c and 20c.

RACHEL LEWIS CO.

An Unpleasant Incident on the Market Square This Morning.

There was considerable excitement on the local market square this morning, about a quarter to eight o'clock, when Mr. J. J. Turner, with a writ of attachment to back him up, seized the baggage of the Rachael Lewis Concert Company, and placed it 'neath the watchful care and tender mercies of the Sheriff. Mr. Turner stated to an Examiner representative this morning that the company owed him $40, which they refused to pay. He also stated that when he began to remove the first box one of the company jumped on his back and struck him.

The Rachel Lewis Company, which has been playing in one of Mr. Turner's tents on the market square, for the past week, has put up a very decent performance on each occasoin. Miss Lewis stated that on Saturday Mr. Turner was paid $50, which fact Mr. Turner admitted. However, he claims another $40, and there the matter stands.

The company was booked to play in Lindsay to-night, which engagement will probably not be fulfilled.

Remained Over.

A number of the Peterborough "Old Boys" did not wish to leave the old town after a stay of only three days, and, at the last moment decided to remain in town all week so as to be able to participate in the Printers' Picnic to be held on Saturday afternoon next, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. The tickets have been placed at only 35c. for adults, and 20c. for children. The committee in charge of the excursion desire to call the attention of the public to the change of time of leaving. It was previously announced that the "City" would leave at two o'clock sharp, but it has been decided to have the "City" leave at 1.30, and the "Water Lily" at two o'clock. Note the change of time and be on hand early.

He then offered 9 1-8c for further selections. Mr. Fitzgerald raised to 9 3-16c., and bought Reaboro, Dunsford and Star, offering 9 1-8c for further selections. Mr. Cook went a point better and secured North Ops. Red Rock and North Verulam. Mr. Fitzgerald got Mariposa, and Mr. Flavelle Cambray and Cameron at the same price. —A flag, with the word "Welcome" painted thereon, hangs over the door of the police station. The chief's ideas regarding the morality of the Old Boys is certainly not flattering.

—A Methodist Sunday school excursion from Cobourg passed through town this morning en route to the back lakes. It is said that about 500 persons were present. The train will pass through Peterborough on the return journey about 6.30 this evening.

—The Town Building formerly occupied by the C.P.R. up-town ticket office is being painted in red, in preparation for the collector and other town officers who are soon to move into these premises. It was remarked, by a wag, that it looked hardly fair to the "Old Boys" who, it was understood, had the job of "painting the town red."

—The Grand Trunk Railway has installed on the Brockville section of its road a new kind of long distance telephone service, known as the telegraph telephone. It is connected with and is operated on the telegraph wires, and business can be done with Montreal, Cotes, Cornwall, etc. Telegraph and phone messages can be conveyed at one time without conflicting. If the system proves satisfactory, the system may be brought into general use on the G.T.R.—Monetary Times.

—Another pork packing establishment has ceased to exist. The latest concern of this kind to go under is the Paisley Pork Packing Company, limited, incorporated in June, 1900, with an authorized capital of $15,000, of which sum about $10,000 was paid up. The stock was originally subscribed by local farmers; a practical man was engaged to manage the affairs of the company. A year ago he severed his connection with the firm, and since then the management has been a little loose. This fact, coupled with keen competition and high prices for hogs, has compelled an assignment.—Monetary Times.

WARSAW.

An unusually sad event, and one which has created a deep and widespread sadness throughout the community, was the sudden death on Thursday, July 23rd, of Lulu Irene Wilson, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson. The little girl, who was but two years of age, was taken suddenly ill on Wednesday, and passed away on the following morning after an illness of scarcely a day's duration. The funeral took place on Friday, July 24th, to St. Mark's cemetery, and was largely attended. Tender expressions of sympathy towards the bereaved parents are heard upon every side.

NO MORE Premium Tickets After August 1st.

During the past four weeks a notice has appeared at the top of our advertisements announcing that no more Premiums will be given after August 1st. In order to save all misunderstandings with our customers and the public, we give special prominence to day to this announcement.

No More Premium Tickets will be given at Gough Bros.' Stores after August 1st.

The day has gone by in Gough's experience when premiums are needed as trade-pullers. We have grown past the "nursery" stage of business. Our Clothing and successful methods can stand on their own merits.

GOUGH NEEDS NO "PULL"

Besides the suspicion is growing stronger every day that Premium-giving means higher prices for Clothing, and that the customer pays too dear for his whistle. High-priced Clothiers may be able to continue for a while longer to give premiums, but Gough's prefer to be able to quote lowest prices without premiums. Best values always, yesterday, to-day and to-morrow.

We will redeem every ticket presented for the amount of purchases shown. Customers who want to fill their tickets, should hurry and do so before August 1st.

NEW MAN IS NAMED.

Who May Be Pope If Leading Cardinals Fail of Election.

CARDINAL ANGELO DI PIETRO.

As Pontiff He Would Be Fairly Acceptable to All Sections, Although He Is Allied to the Sciotti-Rampolla Faction—The Irish Cardinal and Cardinal Gibbons Only English Speaking Prelates.

Rome, July 28.—Nearly all the cardinals of the conclave have now arrived. Their time yesterday was mainly occupied with a lengthy meeting of the congregation. After the meeting the cardinals received numerous visits at their various residences. In well-informed circles, Cardinal Angelo di Pietro, prodatory of the late Pope, is being talked of as a compromise candidate in the event that Cardinals Oreglia, Gotti, Rampolla or Serafino Vannutelli is unable to secure the necessary votes.

Should di Pietro be elected Pope, he would, it is said, be the representative of the Rampolla-Gotti faction, and yet would be fairly acceptable to all. Cardinal Michael Logue, Archbishop of Armagh, who, with the exception of Cardinal Gibbons, will be the only English speaking cardinal in the conclave, arrived yesterday from Ireland.

Speaking of Cardinal Gibbons, the Irish cardinal paid him a glowing tribute, though, like all the prelates here, he held out no hope that the American cardinal had the remotest chance of election.

"Indeed," said Cardinal Logue, "I think Cardinal Gibbons would be a subject for commisseration if the election should devolve upon him, for no American would care to spend the rest of his life confined within the precincts of the Vatican."

U. S. LYNCHINGS.

Aged Negress Dies at Hands of a Mob—Innocent Negro Lynched.

Shreveport, La., July 27.—Information reached Shreveport yesterday that the negress Jennie Steer, who, it is alleged administered posion in a glass of lemonade to Lizzie Dolan, the 16-year-old daughter of John Dolan, from the effects of which she died, was lynched by a mob last night. She denied committing the crime to the last.

Innocent Negro Lynched.

Savannah, Ga., July 28.—An innocent negro was lynched by the mob which thought it had followed Ed. Clauss through several counties from Darien Junction to the southern part of Dodge County, where the supposed fugitive was captured, tied to a tree and his body riddled with bullets, despite frantic protests of being innocent. Now Clauss, the negro who attacked Miss Johnson, has been found in a small village near Darien Junction, and is in jail.

IT READS LIKE A MIRACLE.

Only Dodd's Kidney Pills are Doing Similar Things Daily.

Reuben Draper's Gravel was Cured Three Years Ago—It has Never Come Back.

Bristol, P.Q., Quebec, July 27th.—Special.—Reuben Draper, well-known here, tells a story of his cure of a bad case of gravel that would be considered miraculous if similar cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills were not being reported almost daily.

"About three years ago," says Mr. Draper, "I was taken ill with what I thought was gravel. I was suffering great pain, and the doctor I sent for gave me but little relief. Another doctor I tried failed to cure me, and I was getting weaker all the time.

"Then a man advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills as they had cured his mother, and I did so. In just one week after I started using them, I passed a stone as large as a small bean, and in four days after, I passed another about the size of a grain of barley. That is two years ago, and I have not had any trouble since."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all ailments of the bladder and urinary organs.

Hannigan, bribery, suburban deal, five years; Louis Decker, perjury, suburban deal, four years; Emil Hartman, bribery, city lighting bill, six years. All filed appeal bonds in the sum of $10,000 each.

THE SEWER MYSTERY.

Martin Ebelt Seen Near Where Wife Was Murdered.

Mount Vernon, July 28. — Martin Ebelt, also known as Schaefer, husband of the young woman whose body was found in a sewer on the outskirts of the city, where it had been thrown after she had been strangled to death, was brought to Mount Vernon yesterday afternoon from White Plains, where he was arrested. Ebelt and his wife lived until last fall with his mother in Sixth street, not far from where the body was found. Friday evening Mrs. Ebelt left home, ostensibly to go to work for a family living about a mile away. Her husband left the house with her, saying that he would accompany her to her destination. Ebelt returned, Mrs. Ebelt never reached her destination and was not seen at her home again. Her husband made no reference to her.

The police say they have succeeded in tracing Ebelt and his wife almost to the spot where the body was found and have evidence that they were lost sight of within three hundred yards of the place.

A brother, Paul Ebelt, a lad of 15, testified that his brother Martin had left the house after supper on Friday with his wife, saying that he had got a place for her as a servant.

The lad followed them out of curiosity, but soon lost sight of them in the woods, near where the body was found. Soon afterwards, he said, his brother Martin came out of the woods and said that he left "Gussie at the house of the lady who had employed her." The boy noticed that Martin was perspiring freely and that he washed his hands and face as soon as he returned to the house.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

Balm of A Thousand Flowers

By WILLIAM H. OSBORNE

Copyright, 1902, by T. C. McClure

"Dear me!" exclaimed little Mrs. Ripley to her husband, the doctor. "Marion's whooping cough is just dreadful, and here we've shipped off all your drugs. I don't know what we'll do. Can't you go out and get some embrocation or some carbocene? The poor child really needs it."

Young Dr. Ripley was busy nailing some bulky wooden packages together. He stopped suddenly and sucked a finger which he had macerated with the hammer. Then he shook his head.

"Nance," he replied, "I don't see how we can. I've got just exactly enough to pay our fares down to Longwood, our new town, and the medicines cost money even to a doctor. She'll have to stand it the best she can for the present."

There was wild commotion in the back room, and the young mother sprang to the rescue. In five minutes she returned with the child. "It's just dreadful, Howard," she repeated.

Howard stopped again and glanced at the little girl with a professional air. "I don't know, Nance," he returned, "but that I can do something for her after all. I've got a little spare change. I'll go down to the grocer's and come right back."

When he returned, he went down stairs, and, with the aid of a saucer and a discarded spoon, he mixed some mysterious ingredients together.

"Here, now," he exclaimed, appearing on the landing, "you rub her on the outside with this and give her some internally too. It may do some good."

The mother and the child retired to the back room. Dr. Ripley waited. Finally they came out.

"More," pleaded the youngster. "I want some more. It tastes like sugar."

The next day they had installed themselves in their new but dingy little home in an obscure street in Longwood. The young physician at once hung out his sign and then started to put things to rights.

"Do you know, Howard," said Mrs. Ripley, "I believe that stuff you made for Marion really did her some good after all? What was it? She hasn't been nearly so bad as she was."

Dr. Ripley straightened up. "Let me take a look at her. I haven't had time to notice her much, I've been so busy." The youngster was produced. The young physician looked at her critically.

"She does seem better," he admitted; "she certainly does."

"And what did you give her?" inquired his young wife.

Dr. Ripley leaned his head on his hand and thought. He had a sudden idea. He gazed not at his wife, but beyond her. He was looking into the future. His wife joggled his elbow.

"What was it?" she repeated.

"Oh," he returned, "that stuff! Why, that was—yes, that was the—the Balm of a Thousand Flowers; that's all. And it's a good thing after all."

"Balm of a Thousand Flowers!" exclaimed Mrs. Ripley. "I never heard of it!"

"Neither did I," returned the doctor, "until now. But that's what it was, nevertheless. And it's a good thing," he added half to himself, "and I'll try it on."

The next day he scoured the printers' offices and finally got one to extend him credit, and a night or two later he was mysteriously absent from his home.

The day after the town, small as it was, fairly blossomed with large but neat placards which read as follows:

RIPLEY'S REMEDY.
BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS.
FOR WHOOPING COUGH AND CROUP.
CHILDREN CRY FOR IT.

People stood and gazed at it and wondered what it was. "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It had an attractive oriental sound. "Yes," thought Dr. Ripley to himself, "I am sure that it will sell."

But there was a trifling error in his reckoning.

That error was due to the insignificant fact that in Longwood at present there was not a single case of croup or whooping cough except that of his small daughter. Dr. Ripley sat for a few minutes and thought about it.

"Nance," he said after awhile, "if you want that child to get better you must let her get out in the open air. Medicine can do much, but air is the important thing after all. Send her out and let her play."

"But, Howard," protested his better half, "there's no place for her to go but in the street. We haven't any back yard, you know. And the street is full of children, and they'll take it."

Howard shook his head. "Full of children!" he mused. "Well, self preservation is the first law of nature, and she must have the air. Send her out. The children must take care of themselves."

The doctor's youngest was a companionable little girl and soon made friends, and she speedily became exceedingly popular because she could do certain things the others couldn't do. Some of the things that she could do were to stand on one leg and wind the other round it and double herself into a human knot and grow black in the face and utter wild west yells of warfare. He didn't enjoy these things, but they did, and whenever she started in she was surrounded by an interested crowd. If she had had her father's business ability, she could have put up a tent and exhibited herself for a small consideration.

And so Marion got plenty of fresh air and incidentally all Longwood took the whooping cough. It was only a question of time.

It so happened that school opened about two weeks after the doctor had tacked up his placards through the town. The children from the doctor's neighborhood associated with the other children in Longwood, as was to be expected, and, lo and behold, one bright day the school was closed—all the schools were closed. Longwood had whooping cough for fair, and whooping cough is no respecter of persons. It attacked young and old as well, strong and weak, male and female.

At first they took it as a joke, except those mothers who knew really what it meant and what it involved. But in a few more days all Longwood was in agony—spasmodic agony—and then Longwood as one man sought for a remedy.

"Try the Balm of a Thousand Flowers, ma'am," the druggist would say. "A new remedy and a good one and very cheap. We can recommend it. I can, for my little boy"— and so on.

The town bought Ripley's remedy. The supply became exhausted. Dr. Ripley had to hire help. He became famous. From selling his remedy he became the crack whooping cough doctor and sold prescriptions like cakes off a hot griddle.

"The Balm of a Thousand Flowers!" was the cry. Everybody bought it, and in the direct sequence of cause and effect, because everybody bought the remedy. So young Dr. Ripley proceeded to buy a horse and buggy and then a new house, and around the house was a flower bed, and in the flower bed were planted at least a thousand flowers.

"Nance," he said one day, "it's funny, but, do you know, in the next town there's not a sign of whooping cough. Strange, isn't it? By the way, how do you think Marion is coming on?"

"Beautifully!" exclaimed his wife. "But she coughs as yet."

"Nance," went on the doctor, "I've got some relatives in the next town. Wouldn't you like to take Marion and go over there and make a visit? It'll be a change for you, and perhaps her cough will get better there."

Mrs. Ripley smiled significantly. "I will," she replied, "on one condition, and that is that you'll tell me what you put in the Balm of a Thousand Flowers."

"I'll do it," he replied, "but never tell. In this that I sell now I put about the same things that the other medicines have, but the main ingredients are the same as I gave Marion on the day before we moved."

"And," asked Mrs. Ripley, "is it really made up of a thousand flowers or is that only a name?"

"It's not a name," replied the doctor, "and it is really gathered from a thousand—I won't say a thousand, but from hundreds of flowers at any rate. That's true, Nance."

"How could it be?" she protested doubtfully.

"Well," he replied, "I tell the truth. It is gathered from hundreds and hundreds of flowers. You can judge for yourself when I tell you what it chiefly is."

"Tell me," she commanded.

"Honey and beeswax and castile soap, the balm of a thousand flowers," he said.

"But the castile soap?" she insisted.

He nodded.

"That's the only lye there is about it," he returned.

TIRED OUT.

There's many a farmer's wife sits on the porch in the growing shadows of a summer evening, knowing to the full what it is to feel tired out; as if there was not another ounce of effort left in her. But she knows how sound her slumber will be and how refreshed the morning will find her. That's the tiredness of a healthy woman. But it's another thing for the sick woman to feel tired out. Rest only seems to increase her suffering. Just as in profound silence a discord jars the ear more forcibly, so now that she has stopped moving about, this tired woman feels more acutely the aching back and throbbing nerves.

Sick women, hundreds of thousands of them, have been made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Words cannot tell what I suffered for thirteen years with uterine trouble and dragging-down pains through my hips and back," writes Mrs. John Dickson, of Grenfell, Assiniboia Dist., N. W. Ter. "I can't describe the misery it was to be on my feet long at a time. I could not eat nor sleep. Often I wished to die. Then I saw Dr. Pierce's medicines advertised and thought I would try them. Had not taken one bottle till I was feeling well. After I had taken five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I was like a new woman. Could eat and sleep and do all my own work."

The Medical Adviser, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

Keep your Stomach Healthy.

When you get up in the morning with a bad taste in your mouth that the tooth brush will not remove, a coating on your tongue, and a general "out of sorts" feeling, don't blame it on what you had to eat the night before. A healthy stomach would be able to look after that. It's poor digestion that makes you feel so badly. A teaspoonful of Abbey's Effervescent Salt in half a tumbler of water at rising will make you feel better—will cure you if you follow directions. Abbey's revitilizes every organ of the body—it clears away fermenting matter and refreshes and cleanses the stomach. It prevents the suffering that often follows a pleasant evening.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

is a pleasant, palatable and effective medicine for all stomach ills.

A FAREWELL.

My fairest child, I have no song to give you;
No lark could pipe to skies so dull and grey;
Yet, ere we part, one lesson I can leave you,
For every day.

Be good, sweet maid, and let who will be clever;
Do noble things, not dream them, all day long;
And so make Life, Death, and that vast Forever
One grand, sweet song.

—Charles Kingsley.

Grass That "Tires."

In some parts of New Mexico there grows a grass which produces a somniferous effect on the animals that graze upon it. Horses, after eating the grass, in nearly all cases sleep standing, while cows and sheep almost invariably lie down.

It has occasionally happened that travelers have stopped to allow horses to feed in places where the grass grows pretty thickly and the animals have had time to eat a considerable quantity before its effects manifested themselves.

In such cases horses have gone to sleep on the road and it is hard to arouse them. The effect of the grass passes off in an hour or two, and no bad results have ever been noticed on account of it. Cattle on the ranches frequently come upon patches of this grass, where they feed for perhaps half an hour and then fall asleep for an hour or more, when they wake up and start feeding again. The programme is repeated perhaps a dozen times until thirst obliges them to go to water.

Whether, like the poppy, the grass contains opium, or whether its sleep producing property is due to some other substance is not known.

Not Expecting a Flood.

An old lady recently bargained with a cabman standing outside Colchester railway station to take her into the town.

The sum being agreed upon, the dame returned into the station and soon reappeared with two parrots in cages, which she handed up to the cabman. Again she journeyed to the platform and brought out two cats. A third trip she made, bringing back a daintily dressed fox terrier, and a fourth expedition was interrupted by cabby exclaiming:

"Beggin' your pardon, ma'am, but you ain't expectin' a flood, I 'ope?"

"Dear me, no," was the reply. "Whatever made you ask that question, cabby?"

"Oh, it's all right, ma'am," said jehu. "I thought I'd ask, 'cos I ain't certain as 'ow my horse can swim, and I fancied by the look of your luggage that you were a-takin' my keb for a Noah's ark!" —London Answers.

Toronto, July 28th, '03, 12.30 p. m. — There was still some nervousness in the market this morning which caused some irregularity in the opening. Weakness soon gave way to strength however, and prices were marked up sharply. The shorts who sold to the houses that failed were heavy losers thereby, and firms that had loaned stocks called them in as it was not known but that the borrowers might fail.

These considerations caused shorts to cover, which was the chief reason for the advance. Loans are being liquidated as fast as market will take the stocks. When the present covering movement is over we look for a decline.

It is a good trading market, with numerous chances to scalp out two or three points.

LACROSSE.

Mr. F. R. J. McPherson, challenges Mr. W. O'Brien to a game of lacrosse, to be played on Friday evening, teams to be chosen from those living or working in the blocks on George street in which each of these gentlemen have their stores. Each man to bring his own bandages and liniments.

• • • •

The Toronto World says:—"In one of the cleanest and fastest exhibitions of lacrosse seen in Peterborough, the T.A.S. team won from the Elms of Toronto by the score of 6—2. Billy Patterson, of Orangeville, now playing with the Athletics of Peterborough, refereed the game, and to him all credit is due for the manner in which he handled the 24 players under his care. Although defeated, the Elms have no kick coming, simply that they were fairly beaten by one of the fastest and most gentlemanly aggregations of lacrosse players that they have encountered this season. The Elms enjoyed the trip immensely, thanks to Mr. Alliston of the Peterborough Old Boys' Association. Cupid got the best of two of the players, who failing to come with the team, remained over until to-night. Jimmy Halliday, Elms' most ardent supporter, accompanied the boys on the trip and was Johnny on the spot, at all stages of the game. Coming home he favoured the passengers with many of his favourite selections, including songs, recitations, etc., at the same time making himself a jolly fellow with all present.

SPECIAL PRIZES A FEATURE.

There were never so many specials given at the Toronto Exhibition as there will be this year. Because it will be a Dominion Fair it almost looks as if people have been tumbling over each other for the honour of getting their names in the prize list as donors of special prizes. The Harness, Hunter and Saddle Horse Society of Canada (H. J. P. Good, Toronto, Secretary), will give a gold medal for the best harness horse, mare or gelding; Mr. T. A. Crow, second vice-president of the Harness, Hunter and Saddle Horse Society, will give a silver cup for the best roadster; Mr. W. E. Wellington, first vice-president of the Industrial Exhibition and director of the Harness, Hunter and Saddle Horse Society will give a silver cup for the best heavy draught gelding or mare, of any breed; Dr. Andrew Smith, Hon. Pres. Industrial Exhibition, and Principal Ontario Veterinary College, will give a prize for the best pair of horses suitable for a Victoria. The Canadian Horse Breeders' Association give $250 towards the prize list. The Shire Horse Association of England give two fifty dollar gold medals, one for the best shire stallion and the other for the best shire mare. The Canadian Pony Society (H. M. Robinson, Secretary) give a silver cup for the best pony. The English Hackney Society give one gold and two silver medals for the best Hackney gelding, the best Hackney stallion and the best Hackney mare. The Toronto Hunt Club give various pieces of plate for Polo ponies and Hunt events. The Dominion Short Horn Breeders' Association give $1,500 toward the Short Horn prizes. Several sheep associations give specials. The same is the case as regards swine, while poultry and dogs, the latter especially, will receive many specials.

BURGLARY AT THE NATIONAL HOTEL.

Probably Between the Hours of 5 and 6 This Morning.

Incriminating Evidence Against a Young man who has Been Arrested—Some $9.00 Found in his Possession.

An audacious burgalary occurred at the National Hotel this morning, supposedly between 5 and 6 o'clock, when the show case in the office of that Hotel was opened by a thief and some ten or twelve dollars extracted. A young man, William Sanfield, was suspected and arrested about 9.30 o'clock. It is learned that the accused for about one month was employed at the National as night watchman. For the past week, however, he has been working with the Rachael Lewis Company, and it transpires that the new night watchman of the hotel, where the prisoner was formerly employed, found him sleeping in the downstairs sitting room at about 5 o'clock. He woke him up and found out who he was. Shortly after this he went to light the fire. It is supposed that while the watchman was engaged at this, Sanfield pried open the show case lock and extracted the money, the loss of which was not, however, discovered until about 6 o'clock, when the register keeper came down to his office.

At this time Sanfield was standing at the door and remarked that he would take a walk. He probably went to the station as a ticket to Lindsay was later found on his person.

On being accused he was questioned about the theft, but claimed ignorance. However, the police were telephoned for and Constable Stewart escorted the accused to the police station, where the Chief searched him. On his person was found a one dollar bill and $1.87 in silver and coppers, a ticket for Lindsay and a baggage check, a ring, two packets of cigarette papers, a knife and an Elder-Dempster passenger check, besides a number of trifling and insignificant articles. As he was about to be taken to a cell the Chief took off his hat, in the lining of which he found two new bills, a five and a one, both of which were marked down to the unfortunate young man's credit.

On being examined it was learned that he was aged 25 years, and had been living in Peterborough for the past two months. On being asked where he was born accused refused to tell, but the Chief remarked "Thy tongue betrayeth thee," and marked him down as an Englishman. He is single and can read and write, and says he is a machinist.

At the Police Court this morning the prisoner was charged with the theft before Police Magistrate Dumble. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by Mr. Dumble.

Considerable evidence was taken, during which it was learned that the accused was seen with a file in his hands. Accused refused to go into the witness box. Finally he was found guilty and was sentenced to a well-earned six months' imprisonment in goal.

"You didn't see a horse around here did you?" remarked a man at the police station this morning. The Chief replied in the negative. The complainent, however did not lay a complainant, however did not lay a been stolen as he was not positive of the fact.

THE LAST LETTER FROM THE "SCRIBE."

The Y. M. C. Camp's Latest Budget of News—Field Day a Great Success.

Y.M.C.A. Camp,
Sandy Point,
July 27th.

This morning which broke fair and clear, brings us to the last day of the camp and by the time this letter reaches your readers, we will have folded our tents like the Arabs, and steaming our way back to the activity of town life and the comforts of home—leaving behind us again for another year the fair familiar scenes of this now historic camping ground.

Since we last wrote you the field day sports have taken place and all the events were keenly contested for, some of them proving very amusing—notably the Biscuit, Pick-a-back and Sack races. Wallace Armstrong and Ernie Wilson were equal for first place in the aggregate number of points. The following are the events and the winners:—

Running Hop Step (Junior) Armstrong, M. Dobbin; Standing Broad (Senior) G. Thornton, Wilson; Standing Broad (Jr.) Armstrong, Hartley; Wheelbarrow race, Wilson and R. Thornton; M. Dobbin and Armstrong; Sack Race, Armstrong, G. Thornton; Potato, Bell, R. Thornton; Boot Race, M. Dobbin, Hartley; Pick-a-back, M. Dobbin and R. Thornton; Biscuit, Bell, M. Dobbin; Sr. Running Hop Step, G. Thornton, Wilson; 100 yards (senior) G. Thornton, E. Wilson; 3-legged race, Wilson and R. Thornton, Bell and Carton; 100 yards, (Junior) Carton, Bell; Obstacle, Hartley, Wilson; 100 yards (Junior) Hartley, M. Dobbin.

In the evening a large bonfire blazed on the shore and a unique programme was presented and taffy served.

On Saturday afternoon R. Dobbin and H. Daly went home, but Jim Ellis arrived on the evening boat, bringing with him a large well-filled basket of good stuff from Messrs. Robt. Harding and Samuel Taylor. This gift was suitably acknowledged by a resolution of the boys and it is needless to say the contents of the basket soon disappeared, as it was discussed around the evening camp fire.

"Jim" was a welcome man to came, and showed marked ability in handling the new quay he brought with him. He won very many victories on Saturday evening and promise for even more to-night, and if all the boys say is true, he has his work cut out for him.

Sunday was an ideal day. Bible Class was held in the morning and nearly all the party walked to Burleigh in the afternoon.

In the evening a gospel song service was held around the camp fire on the point. It was one of the most impressive meetings ever held in connection with the camps and a culmination of the deep interest manifested by every boy in camp in the promotion of its spiritual interest. Short addresses were given by Messrs. Ellis, Williamson and Wheatley, and at the close every one who had heard the addresses manifested a desire to lead Christian life.

To-day the boys are already beginning to gather together their scattered belongings, and anticipating the journey homeward bound.

Yours etc.,
THE "SCRIBE.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL REHEARSAL

The "Creation" Promises to be a Splendid Success.

When the ninety or more singers who attended the musical festival chorus rehearsal last night left the Y.M.C.A. hall, they were both surprised and enthusiastic. Surprised that they had sung right along for two hours, without noticing the flight of time, and enthusiastic over the beauties of the music they had been singing. It is not often that a large chorus gets so thoroughly interested in its music that the boundary set for the closing of a rehearsal is passed by half an hour without the least sign of weariness. But that was certainly the case last night. The rehearsal began with work upon the lovely lyric strains of the Rose-Maiden, and time fled with rapid feet while this work was going on. Then came a solo from the cantata, sung by Mr. Wodell, to give the singers an idea of the solo beauties of the composition. And afterwards the Creation was taken up. The grandeur and beauty of these choruses was a revelation to many singers present, and they became pleasurably excited over them. "Why," said one experienced choir basso, "I never in my life knew a practice time go so fast." And, by the way, the attendance of tenor and bass was exceptionally good, the quality of the voices also being excellent. There is no doubt whatever, that the Peterborough Festival Chorus is going to be the best chorus that has ever been organized in this town. New members will be accepted for two more rehearsals only.

MR. E. O. BRADBURN LEFT PETERBOROUGH.

Mr. E. O. Bradburn, son of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, who for some years has been connected with the business staff of the Peterborough Review, left this morning to assume control of the business management of the Battleford, N.W.T., Herald. Mr. Bradburn was a popular young man and took a keen interest in the sports of the town. He holds a commission in the 14th Midland Field Battery, and saw service on the battle fields of South Africa.

Last night the members of the C. D.A., of which society Mr. Bradburn was a member, presented him with a handsome pipe and case as a token of their esteem for him. Mr. W. T. Hall made the actual presentation, while Mr. Dickson Davidson read an address, to which Mr. Bradburn made a suitable reply. He leaves town with the best wishes of a host of friends for a successful career in the western town.

MR. T. C. ROBINETTE ON POLITICAL POLITICS.

He Makes Reflections on Events in Ontario Public Life.

Tactics of the Opposition Reviewed—They Have Disgusted the Electors and Cannot Hope for Success.

The following letter written by Mr. T. C. Robinette, appeared in The Toronto Star on Saturday, July 25th:—

Editor of The Star: Now that the "Sturm and Drang" session of the Provincial Legislature is at an end, the people have an opportunity of exercising their sober second thoughts regarding the Gamey charges and the report of the Judicial Commission, it is well that we, as electors, should ourselves calmly weigh and dertermine the main event of the past session, free of all partisan spirit and political rancor.

When the charges were made against the Government, the Opposition were given, at once, the fullest, freest, and amplest opportunity of making good Mr. Gamey's arraignment, both against Hon. Mr. Stratton and the other members of the Cabinet. They were enabled to secure as counsel, at the expense of the people, perhaps the ablest, weightiest, and most astute counsel at the bar, in the persons of Hon. S. H. Blake and C. H. Ritchie, assisted by clever and experienced juniors; in fact, a combination that would miss no point, and determined to win; their own reputations at stake, all eyes upon them, and, the fate of the Government at issue—it meant hugh things for them professionally and politically to win. It meant success for Mr. Whitney and his colleagues—it meant offices for friends, seclusion of private life for opponents—in a word, it was a struggle to the death with great rewards to the victors.

Were Hon. S. H. Blake and his colleagues the men to neglect anything essential to make out their case? No, they made the very most of the material before them, with the result that the finding of the Commission utterly and absolutely disproved Mr. Gamey's charges, and just as utterly and absolutely vindicated Mr. Stratton and every member of the Ross Cabinet.

Had the Opposition been empowered to select any two of the judges of the Supreme Court, and had the same evidence been heard by them as came before Sir John Boyd and Chief Justice Falconbridge, the finding must, and would, have been the same as delivered by the judges of the Commission. The attacks made upon the two eminent jurists who composed the tribunal, by Tory members on the floor of the House—many of them lawyers, too—are the most disgraceful episodes that have occurred on the floor of the House in many a day, and these Tory members cannot excuse themselves on the ground of privilege, because these onslaughts were made, not for the public good, but solely to make political capital for the Tory party in this Province by a process of canonizing and deifying the name of Gamey, and at the same time vilifying and satanizing the names of men of the purest honour, and highest attainments in our judiciary.

Gamey, a man discredited by his own acts pending the inquiry—proved by witness after witness to have told what was untrue, his case handled by the ablest counsel, provided with unlimited fees for necessary witnesses is placed upon a pedestal high above such men as Chancellor Boyd and Chief Justice Falconbridge and pointed to by the Opposition. They say to the electors of this province, "Believe him above all others; look up to him and his record in trial; never mind what other witnesses said; pay no attention to the judges; and if you do—Gamey will lead us into the Promised Land and all things shall be yours."

What fools do the Opposition think the electors are? Do they not see that the electors can look straight through their plan?

Verily it may be said that there never was such a short-sighted and foolish plan adopted by any Opposition in any Parliament within the memory of man, and the present Opposition by its tactics, both before and after the investigation, have proved themselves to be the Princes of Jumblers, the kings of political comedy, and the most amazing political conjurors of ancient and modern days. All through the last campaign on the hustings they pursued a policy of cut and slash, a policy of abuse and vilification, in fact they possessed not a policy, but a want of one, for which they substituted their well known tactics of slur and slander. They came to Parliament and at the very outset began the warfare of the hustings by a wholesale canonade of the worst charges that could be made against any Cabinet. They were granted the fairest, surest and most constitutional means of proving their slanders. They were given a tribunal to which men entrust their lives and fortunes for determination, and when the solemn judgof that tribunal is against them, they return to their places in Parliament and in the old old way of the stump in the campaigns past and gone, proceed to stab at honourable men's reputations under garb of privilege—continue to slash and cut at the report of the Commission with the same old broadswords they used on the platform, and with the same old tactics known so well to them, but pushed in the last days of the session to the height of recklessness and most shocking repulsiveness, so much so that this same opposition must have brought upon itself the condemnation of every fair thinking and honest minded man, who will but sit down and meditate calmly over the events of the past session, and I am convinced if he does so he will give it as his verdict that His Majesty's loyal opposition in this province has emerged from out the Gamey mists hopelessly derelict, dismantled, unmanned, utterly useless either to the country or to the certain section of the Tory party it represents—for it would be a sad thing to think that it stood for, and is in accord with, the whole Tory party, particularly in its methods of last session.

Their tactics met with defeat in May, 1902, in the bye-elections, and, lastly in the Gamey charges. These same tactics, (for, as at present constituted they are incapable of any others), will bring them again to defeat and destruction in the bye-elections soon to be fought. They cannot win, because they have disgusted the people by their disgraceful conduct in the House, notably in their wholesale denunciation and unlicensed vilification of the motives and acts of members of the judiciary, who are beyond suspicion, and who could not, and would not, render a decision that was not just and right to the very letter.

The Ross Government, thanks to Mr. Gamey and the Opposition's tactics, are stronger to-day than ever before. They merit the support and confidence of all right thinking men, and I venture to say that the sober second thoughts of the voters in the coming bye elections will with their approval by their votes the conduct and policy of our Premier and his colleagues, and prove to all that Ontario's sons have not lost their confidence in good government, their trust in good men, and, above all, their reliance upon and faith in the solemn decision of as pure, as honest, and as able a tribunal as any civilized country could produce for a like emergency.

Yours truly,
T. C. ROBINETTE,
Toronto, July 24, 1903.

DELIVER US FROM EVIL.

The Toronto News announces that a Western American minister prayed recently:—"Grant, O Lord, that Canada may come of her own accord into the great sisterhood of States; that no harsh measures be needed in working out the destiny of this republic."

Will the Toronto News now kindly announce to the Western American minister, whose earnestness we do not doubt, that the Canadian clergy and ministers and a large number of the laity have prayed daily from boyhood—"Deliver us from Evil.—The Sons of England Record.

Multifarious Industries in the Towns and Villages of Ontario—Reports to the Bureau of Labour.

(Toronto Globe.)

There has recently been a good deal of industrial activity in the smaller centres of population throughout Ontario, the establishment of nearly 120 new industries being reported for the year 1902, in response to inquiries by the Provincial Department of Labour. The variety of manufacturing establishments formed is very great, ranging from oatmeal to grain separators, and from window screens to soda water. In many cases the class of industry is determined by the natural advantages of the locality, which leads to the opening of all sorts of woodenware factories in the northern countries; to iron foundries, where iron ore or pig iron is convenient, and to canning factories and beet-sugar plants in the sections specially suited for vegetable growing.

One department of the circular calls for replies to the following question:—"Do you consider there is any opening in your locality for new industries?" The replies to this are characteristic of the local spirit of the place. Towns like Port Arthur, Rat Portage and Fort Frances enumerate all the industries the space on the paper supplied will contain as being suited to their particular centre, while small villages in old Ontario, whose grandeur has departed with the coming of the railway or from some other cause, blandly answer "No" to a question inviting a burst of local feeling. Other answers are indicative of the modern spirit, such as that of Stouffville: "There is room and to spare for anything except large bonus-hunters." From Tara there is written: "No, but more capital and push to our present industries would be advantageous and profitable." Richmond Hill writes: "To near the city of Toronto." Lucan says: "There is no concern of any kind here, and we are in the midst of one of the best agricultural countries in the world."

Brantford says: "We can accommodate all or any industries that will or can come to Brantford. It is the finest place on earth to dwell."

From Seaforth: "No present need for any new industry here. We seem to be able to get anything we need; but if anyone will start an industry without asking for a bonus, he will be welcomed."

The industry in greatest demand is that of canning factories, which is asked for by no less than nineteen towns and villages. Iron industries are likewise desired in many places, while the northern towns hold out their advantages for woodworking establishments. Water powers are quoted in many instances as attractions for industries of all classes. The ordinary woollen mills, flour mills, evaporators, pork-packing houses and machine shops are also widely needed.

No less than eleven new saw mills are reported. Five factories are designated as foundries, and five for furniture, three as evaporators, three lighting plants, three clothing factories, carriage, vinegar, house supplies, spools, canning and oatmeal flour mills, two each, and one each of the following: Tools, machinery, iron pipes, windmills, artificial stone, brewery, gloves, cement, cream separators, gasoline launches, boxes, birches, steam fitting, picture frames planing mills, snow shovels, cement pipes, organs, medicine, spring pump, planters, stoves, woollens, hosiery, biscuits, machine shop, radiators, show cases, wood turning, plumbers' supplies, beds, beet sugar, linseed oil, heating apparatus, automobiles, shingles, suspenders, flaw, varnish, wire nails, asphalt, mattresses, cordage, brooms, ploughs, refrigerators, tin-plate decorations, tannery, waggons, harness, hoops and soda water.

LATEST FASHION NOTES.

A CREPE DE CHINE BODICE.

Many waists in crepe de Chine, Louisine, and peau de sole are seen beautifully embroidered with Corticelli filo silk, which is always found the most suitable for this work. The model shown has the popular mutton-leg sleeves displaying no vel pointed cuff, and the sloping shoulder is admirably produced by a cape-like device extending well out over the shoulder Embroidery plays a conspicuous part in the making of this pretty little waist.

The fashion in sleeves changes with great rapidity, and new designs are being constantly produced. Shirring which is now rapidly gaining in popularity, is used on sleeves to good advantage. This work always lends itself best to soft materials. One of the new coat sleeves is the pagoda or flowing style.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 35c and 20c.

MR. HAYS ASSENTED

Grand Trunk Pacific Measure to Be Ratified To-day.

SHORT NOTICE OF THE BILL.

In Two Days' Time the Details of the Great Transcontinental Project Will Be Laid Before Parliament—Several Hours' Consideration and Deliberation Given the Bill on Tuesday—No Information Given.

Ottawa, July 29. — The Grand Trunk Pacific agreement is at last complete, and an order in Council ratifying it will be passed at a meeting of the Cabinet this morning. The long-expected resolution came down last night, but was disappointingly short. It simply intimated that Sir Wilfrid Laurier would on Thursday next give notice of a bill entitled "An act to provide for the construction of a national transcontinental railway." This is the simple, unpretentious form in which the Government notifies the world that in two days' time the details of a great transcontinental project will be laid before Parliament. Some hours' consideration were given to the agreement yesterday before it finally received the assent of Mr Hays and his legal adviser, Mr. W. H. Biggar. These two gentlemen and Mr. Wainwright met Sir Wilfrid and Mr. F. H. Chrysler. K.C., yesterday afternoon and were in secret conference for a lengthened period. The Prime Minister had to leave at 3 o'clock to attend the sitting of the House, and the lawyers and railway men continued their conference for another hour. Last night there was a further deliberation, at which Sir William Mulock, Mr. Fielding, Mr. Fitzpatrick, Mr. Sifton and Mr. Sutherland were present. Shortly before midnight Mr. Fitzpatrick left the meeting, and proceeded to the office of the Clerk of the Records, carrying with him the notice that the Government measure would be introduced on Thursday. The Minister of Justice would vouchsafe no information other than that contained in the notice.

The Criminal Code.

The House went into Committee on Mr. Fitzpatrick's bill to amend the Criminal Code.

Mr. German (Welland) moved an amendment to clause 92, which aims to prevent brutal prize fighting, by adding the words, "with or without gloves." He withdrew it after the Minister had spoken a good word for the contests of skill which took place in our gymnasiums every day and which such amendment would interfere with.

An amendment fixing the amount of damage punishable at $10 for flower thieves was carried, and another was adopted providing for cases of obtaining accommodation at hotels by false pretences. It was made an offence to stamp coin with letters or figures. In the cases of offences against women by tramps it is proposed to apply the lash, said the Minister in explanation. The anti-cigarette clause was held over, as well as that proposing to provide that a man having in his possession any gold quartz or amalgam in the Province of Nova Scotia must prove his innocence of gold stealing.

The House in Committee of Supply passed a number of the supplementary estimates of the Railway Department, including one of $285,000 for the Trent Valley Canal.

The House adjourned.

A STRIKE OF COAL.

Three Veins Reported Found Near Town of Wallaceburg.

Wallaceburg, July 29.—There was considerable excitement in this town yesterday over the fact that coal has been discovered in the immediate vicinity. For some time past one of the Ontario Government's diamond drills, under the direction of Mr. Roach, has been testing the territory, and a number of holes have been put down. Just what has been discovered in former tests it is impossible to learn, as upon this subject both operators and managers are dumb. Yesterday it leaked out that in the last test held just north of the town in Chatham Township the drill on Friday last pierced three distinct veins of coal at a depth of about 270 feet. Numerous stories as to the thickness of the veins are afloat, but it is impossible to verify any of them. The managers, when approached, being quite willing to discuss anything but coal. The drill has been moved, and a test will be at once made in another section of the field.

DECREASE OF SIX BUSHELS.

Manitoba Wheat Yield Will Not Be as Large as Last Year.

Montreal, July 29.—William Whyte, assistant to the president of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, reached here yesterday from the west, and in speaking of the crops, said:

"In Manitoba the yield, and I am speaking exclusively of grain, will average between 18 and 20 bushels, where, as last year, it was in the vicinity of 26 bushels. There are this year 2,500,000 acres of wheat under crop, or one-twentieth of an increase over last year.

"When you go into the Territories—into Eastern Assiniboia—the crop conditions are very much better, and there are some 750,000 acres of wheat under crop. These latter will go over 20 bushels to the acre.

"The total acreage under wheat in Manitoba and the Territories cannot be less than 3,200,000."

THE NEW WOMAN.

Mrs. Emma Mitchell, 520 Louisiana street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"For the past five years I have rarely been without pain, but Peruna has changed all this, and in a very short time. I think I had taken only two bottles before I began to recuperate very quickly, and seven bottles made me well. I do not have headache or backache any more, and have some interest in life."—Emma Mitchell.

The coming of what is known as the "new woman" in our country is not greeted by everyone as if she were a great blessing. But there is another new woman whom everybody is glad to see. Every day some invalid woman is exclaiming, "I have been made a new woman by Dr. Hartman's home treatment." It is only necessary to send name, address, symptoms, duration of sickness and treatment already received to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, and directions for one month's treatment will be promptly forwarded.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

SHAREHOLDERS PROTECTED.

Public Regulation of Concerns Issuing Terminating Instalment Shares Commences in Ontario Sept. 10.

Toronto, July 29.—Important regulations respecting terminating shares in loan companies have been issued by Dr. J. Howard Hunter, Registrar of Loan Corporations, under the authority of the amendments passed last session, which gave the Registrar power to direct changes where such bylaws did not appear to him to be just and reasonable. In order to meet the case Dr. Hunter has issued a general bylaw which each company will be compelled to adopt as its own, taking effect September 10, 1903, and affecting all terminating shares issued thereafter. It is provided that this bylaw shall not be repealed, altered or varied by any company except by permission of the Registrar of Loan Corporations, and all bylaws inconsistent therewith shall be thereby repealed.

What is Provided.

The crucial point of the new regulation centres on the instalment shares, those on which weekly or monthly payments are made. It was on the treatment of shareholders of this class that the discussion in the Legislature chiefly centred, as some companies had undertaken to cancel the claims of persons who had defaulted in their payments. In this respect, important changes and improvements are made. It is provided that when the stated number of payments have been made the holder shall be subject to no further liability in respect to the share. This is intended to shield him from losses on the company's mortgages. It is also definitely provided that no share shall issue to a person under 15 years of age, a provision which has hitherto not been strictly enforced.

May Recover in Three Years.

No money paid on any instalment share shall be recoverable under three years, and then only on thirty days' notice. When a terminating share has matured it shall be due, and the shareholder may demand payment, or the corporation insist upon paying it, within sixty days. A shareholder having paid the instalments for three years, and is not a borrower, may demand the principal and interest according to a table annexed; and if he is a borrower the amount of his payments shall be placed to his credit in any statement of his loan at any time within the three years. When a shareholder has paid for three years or over, and then defaults, he shall be entitled to the principal and interest for the period in which he is fully paid, and for the principal without interest of the instalments paid during the incomplete half year. If he pays for less than three years and over six months, he will receive at the end of three years ninety per cent. of the principal paid in.

Prepaid Shares.

The other two divisions of terminating shares dealt with are prepaid, on which say forty or fifty per cent. is paid in advance and the balance to be made up of accretions of interest and profits, and fully paid up shares, where the whole amount is paid in advance and the shareholder takes his chance on interest and profits. The monies herein cannot be recovered short of five years, and with thirty days' notice.

Fell Into Vat of Acid.

Sharon, Pa., July 29.—At the rod mill of the American Steel and Wire Company's works, John Soloman, aged 20, fell into a vat of boiling sulphuric acid yesterday. He was quickly rescued, but there was not a place on his body which had not been parboiled. Death soon ended his agony.

DROWNED AT SARNIA

Mrs. Gilbert Taylor and Her Girl Visitor Lose Their Lives.

HER OWN CHILD WAS SAVED.

The Children, Aged 7 and 10 Years, Were Paddling in the Water and Got Beyond Their Depth, and Mrs. Taylor Went Down in an Attempt at Rescue—A Muskoka Tragedy.

Sarnia, July 29.—A sad drowning accident occurred here yesterday afternoon, by which two lives were lost. Mrs. Gilbert Taylor, accompanied by her little daughter and the little daughter of Mr. George Thompson of Port Huron, who was visiting at the Taylor House, went down to the river bank to allow the children to paddle about in the water. The spot selected was the beach below the L. E. & D. R. R. slip.

The two little girls, aged 7 and 10, respectively, were enjoying themselves in the water. All at once the children got beyond their depth and cried for help. Mrs. Taylor became terror-stricken and rushed into the water to save them. Their cries attracted the attention of some of the railway employes, and the men hurried to the scene. The little Taylor child, aged 7 years, was saved, but the Thompson child and Mrs. Taylor both met watery graves. The drowned woman was aged 28 years, and was the wife of Gilbert Taylor, Grand Trunk fireman, and resides on Queen street. Mr. Taylor and family came here from Port Huron and have been residents of Sarnia since April last.

A MUSKOKA TRAGEDY.

It Is Feared That Three Young Men Have Been Drowned.

Beaumaris, July 29.—Another serious case of a canoe capsizing occurred between here and Gravenhurst Sunday evening. During the afternoon Joseph Hosack, a Princeton University student, whose home is in Carnegie, Pa., accompanied by Walter Mehard of Mercer, Pa., a medical student of Johns Hopkins University, sailed to Gravenhurst in a canoe to meet Hosack's cousin, a young man who was to arrive there Sunday afternoon.

When the boys had not returned on Monday morning, inquiries were made, and it was found the three had left Gravenhurst at 8 o'clock Sunday night.

Searching parties were at once formed, every available launch owned by the various cottagers were sent out, and up to last evening nothing has been found but the paddles, and Mehard's coat. It is feared the three are drowned.

Three Went Down in Skiff.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 29.—Following the formal opening of Dam No. 1, in the Allegheny River last night, Joseph Brown, aged 19; Henry Brown, aged 14; Frederick Bulger, jr., and Edna Shipley, aged 13, were drowned. Two girls were rescued in an unconscious condition.

Stocks. Theft, Suicide.

Montreal, July 29.—Albert Fournier, clerk of the Recorder's Court, who disappeared a few days ago, and was supposed to have left the country owing to shortage in his accounts, was found floating in the St. Lawrence, near Longueil, yesterday, having evidently committed suicide. Fournier is supposed to have lost money in stock speculation. He was at one time a branch manager of the Banque Du Peuple, now defunct.

Galt Woman Suicides.

Galt, July 28.—Mrs. Johnson, aged about 45 years, who came to Galt from Dundas a few months ago to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Deans, on Chapman street, committed suicide about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, by cutting her throat with a razor. Deceased had been complaining of headache and insomnia lately.

CONDITIONS OF STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE.

A Synopsis of Agreement Between the Town and Street Railway Company.

Line to be in Operation by July 1st, 1904—Must be Maintained and Operated in Efficient and Modern Manner.

The street railway matter has at last been practically decided upon. At a meeting of the council last night the Committee of the Whole presented a report recommending the granting of a franchise to the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, and that a bylaw be prepared for that purpose, which, if it is not opposed, as provided by the law, will give the franchise to the above company.

As the terms agreed upon between the town and the railway company have not as yet been published, the Examiner has prepared a synopsis of the agreement and it is given below. It will be seen that the interests of the town have been well safeguarded, and that every possible contingency is provided for in the agreement. Mr. Stuart states that the company is prepared as soon as the council has passed the necessary legislation confirming the granting of the franchise, to proceed at once with the work of ordering equipment and placing the lines in condition to give a modern service, commencing not later than July 1st, 1904, so that Peterborough has now almost in sight what has been a necessity for some time, a complete street railway system.

Judging from the achievements of the company along other lines, it is safe to assume that when the railway is in operation it will be one of which the citizens will have reason to be proud, and the company has shown a pleasing disposition to meet the wishes of the town's representatives at every reasonable point.

The following are the principal terms of the agreement:

The agreement made between the corporation off the Town of Peterborough, to be known hereafter as the "Corporation," and the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, known as the "Company," says that the company has been duly incorporated for the construction and operation of an electric railway in the town of Peterborough, and in the townships of North Monaghan, Smith and Douro, and in the villages of Ashburnham and Lakefield, Young's Point, and Chemong Lake respectively, with the town of Peterborough, and the company has applied to the town of Peterborough for the granting of a franchise over the streets of the above town, on the conditions, as follows:

The company shall build and put in operation at least five miles of electric railway for passenger, express and freight traffic, in the the town of Peterborough, by reopening the line formerly operated by the Peterborough and Ashburnham Railway Company, and by extending the line to the River Otonabee, and by constructing a new line from the corner of Park and Charlott estreets, along Park street north to McDonel street, and from the corner of Park and McDonel streets to Jackson Park; the lines indicated above to be equipped and operated not later than the first of July, 1904. The corporation is to grant to the railway company the exclusive franchise and right to use the streets of the town, except Crescent street, for the purpose of a street railway, and the right to place the necessary poles, wires, rails, etc. The franchise is for the term of thirty years from July 1st, 1904, subject to the faithful performance on the part of the company of the agreement, and if the company fails to fulfil its agreement, the council of the town may declare its franchise forfeited, providing that three months elapse after the company has been notified of the fact that they were not living up to the terms of the agreement.

The company agrees that after July, 1910, it will build, equip and operate railway lines on any street of the town upon which the council may make a request to have lines built upon, and failing to do so within 9 months after having been so requested, the franchise for those streets shall revert to the corporation, which may then grant rights to any other company to build railway lines on them, which company shall have the privilege to cross the lines of the present company without payment of any kind for the privilege.

The propelling power shall be electricity, or such improved power as the company shall at some future time with the consent of the corporation adopt, and the current between the rails and the trolley wires shall not exceed 600 volts.

In the event of a heavy fall of snow, which shall materially prevent the operation of cars, the company may use sleighs to be drawn by horses or motors, until the cars can be used on the tracks, but the tracks shall be freed from snow and ice at the expense of the company, so soon as practicable, so that the cars shall be operated continuously, and no salt shall be used by the company on its tracks in the town. Should the power temporarily fail the company may use horses or motors to draw busses during a reasonable time, until the power shall have been repaired.

All the works of the railway shall be executed and maintained in a substantial, efficient and modern manner, and with all the ordinary safeguards necessary for the protection of property and persons from injury. All wires carrying over 600 volts must be insulated. The Company agrees to make a voltage survey of the lines whenever directed by the Corporation engineer, and should such survey disclose the fact that damage is being done to any pipes, or other structures the Company must correct such conditions within a reasonable time. The cars run on the lines must be of modern design and finish and provided with modern fenders on the advancing ends, and must be lighted by electricity at night and properly heated in cold weather, under a penalty of $10 per day for each car not so heated.

The tracks are to be of the standard guage, 4ft. 8 1-2 inches, the rails are to be the "T" rail or some other suitable rail, and must be at least 56 lbs. to the yard. In crossing any bridges or culverts the Company must strengthen them sufficiently to carry the cars. The Company will lay the tracks flush with the streets so as to cause as little impediment as possible to the ordinary traffic of the streets, and at any time after 1910 the Company will at its own expense raise or lower the tracks so as to conform to the grade of the streets upon which any cutting or filling in has been done. The tracks are to be originally placed on the parts of the streets directed by the town engineer, and the poles of the Peterborough Light and Power Company shall be used if possible and additional poles shall be placed close to the sidewalks. Where wooden poles are used they must be uniform and dressed and painted in a becoming manner, if directed by the town engineer.

The Company must also construct and maintain the railway so that it will not interfere with the town's sewers, water pipes, water tables and drainage and must pave and repair the portion of the street between the rails and the devil's strip between the double tracks and turnouts, and should the roadbed be disturbed by the Company in repairing its tracks it must be replaced in as good condition as before. When the town finds it necessary to lay water pipes or sewers, or do any work on the streets which may necessitate taking up the rails, the Company agrees to bear the expense of removing and of replacing them, but the town is to cause as little inconvenience as possible to the company.

The trolley wires are to be suspended at least 16 feet from the ground. None of the poles or wires are to be erected or strung so as to perilously interfere with the poles or apparatus connected with the street lighting, police patrol, or fire alarm systems and no shade tree is to be injuriously trimmed or to have its roots disturbed except with the consent of the Town Engineer.

In case of fire in buildings on streets where the railway runs, it shall be lawful for the corporation officers to cut the company's wires. The street crossings for foot passengers between the company's rails, shall be of a similar character to those adopted by the council, the corporation providing the material for the same at the edge of the track. Traffic for vehicles shall not be impeded owing to the operation of laying and relaying ties and rails and material removed from the street shall be replaced in as good a condition as formerly—flush with the rails. The corporation shall not be liable to the company for any damage sustained by the latter from the breakage of any sewer or water pipe for damage or delay caused by construction of bridges or other works or by damage or delay caused by freshetts or fires. It shall be lawful for the corporation to lay or permit to be laid water pipes or conducts for other purposes and to repair or later the same whenever necessary. No turnout or siding shall be made or placed on that part of George street between Murray and Charlotte streets and no turnout or siding shall exceed 250 feet in length without the consent of the council. No part of the railway shall be opened to the public without the sanction of the council on the certificate of the town engineer that the road is in good condition. Snow or ice removed from the track shall be spread evenly on the streets and the corporation shall, when necessary, remove the snow between the outer rails and the curb, the expense of such removal for the first five years to be borne by the corporation; for the next five years the company shall pay one-quarter and for the remainder of the thirty year franchise one-half shall be paid by the company. The company shall have constructed and completed and in operation by July 1st, 1904, the portion provided for by that date, or the council may by resolution declare a forfeiture of any privilege or franchise. The company shall not be held responsible for delay caused by strikes or other cause beyond its control. In case the company shall refuse or neglect to perform duty required to be done, the town shall perform it and the cost recovered from the company. The company shall and will at all times indemnify and save harmless the corporation from and against all loss, charges, expenses, suits, actions, etc., that may occur by reason of the construction operation, and maintenance, of the railway, or from other cause arising out of neglect of the company to perform any duty required of it.

The company shall operate and run its cars from the hours of 6 a.m. until 11 p.m. of each day, except Sunday. Between 8 a.m. and 10 p.m. the cars shall run on George, Lake, (between George and Lake), Lake, Smith, (between George and Water,) Charlotte, Park and Water streets at intervals of no more than fifteen minutes and on the rest of the line at intervals of not more than twenty minutes, but the company shall be permitted to run its cars more frequently if it shall see fit. Provided that when the town's population reaches 30,000 and thereafter cars shall commence to run at 5.30 a.m. until 12 midnight, and at such intervals as the town council may determine, but the company shall not be compelled to give more than a ten minute service. The cars shall stop at the farther crossings of intersecting streets and the body of the car shall not stop on or over a crossing or on any intersecting street, and cars shall not be left on any street at any time, unless waiting for passengers. The company shall not, without consent of the council, run freight cars on any street, except Bethune street, between 6 a.m., and 10 p.m. or in such a way as to cause public inconvenience. The company shall not place tracks on Bethune street without the consent of the council but may use the tracks there subject to the consent of the company owning them.

Ordinary fares, including transfers shall not exceed five cents each, or twenty-five for one dollar, and working persons' tickets to be used between 6 a.m. and 8 a.m., and 12 noon and 1 p.m., and 5 p.m. and 6.30 p.m., shall be at the rate of six for 25 cents. Non-transferable tickets for school children shall be issued upon a written order from the principal of the school which the scholar attends to be used during school sessions only at the rate of 10 for 25 cents. Children of six years and under unaccompanied by an adult to pay three cents; if accompanied, free. Tariff of charges shall be posted in all cars. Transfers over all town lines, and on the extension to the River Otonabee, free. Passengers hand baggage unchecked on all cars going out of town shall be carried free; checked baggage under 100 lbs. to be charged ten cents, and for each additional fifty pounds, 5 cents for any one passenger, and over that weight to be charged at the same rates as steam railways charge for excess. Charges shall not exceed those on the G.T.R. and C.P.R. for a similar class of freight for the same distance.

Freight cars unprovided with fender, gong and headlight, shall not be run faster than eight miles an hour, and efficient warning devices shall be adopted, and in any case freight cars shall not be run faster than 12 miles an hour. Each car shall be numbered and provided with a gong to be sounded when public safety requires it. Conductors shall announce names of streets as the cars reach them, and cars at night shall be provided with headlights and distinguishing signs. The persons employed by the Company shall wear distinctive clothing.

In case the Company shall cease to opereate any portion of line or extension, for a total number of days exceeding 90, the Company shall forfeit the franchise granted and the right to use that portion of the railway within the town, together with the rails thereon, which shall become the property of the Corporation and the Company shall indemnify the corporation in respect of all costs incurred in taking up the rails and putting the streets in proper repair. This provision shall not justify any cessation in the operation of the railway except for cause beyond control of the company.

The property, real and personal, in town of the Company used for railway purposes and income derived therefrom, shall be exempt from taxes for 21 years after July 1, 1904, and the corporation will extend this for nine years further if authorized by law.

A double track may be laid on any street when a ten minute service is given thereon, and cars approaching or passing each other shall sound their gongs. The part of the proposed line between the intersection of Lock and Lansdowne streets and the river, and between McDonel and Park streets and Jackson Park, may be closed from Nov. 1st to May 1st following, in any year.

The corporation will at the expense of the company and on deposit of necessary fees petition the Legislature at its next session for an Act to confirm the contract and to authorize the exemption and will use all lawful means to obtain crossing rights over existing steam railways. At the expiration of the franchise, provided all terms of the agreement shall have been observed, the company shall have the right to remove from the streets all rails, ties, poles, wires and other plant and appliances and shall leave the streets in good repair. Notwithstanding anything contained in the agreement the corporations shall have the right to take over the property of the company at a valuation and be determined by arbitration. It is understood and agreed between the parties to the agreement that during the last five years of the franchise the company shall not be compelled to change the character of the pavement between the rails or devil strips but shall only be compelled to renew and keep in repair the same description of pavement as exists at the expiration of twenty-five years of the said franchise.

SPECIAL MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL.

Short Session was Held Last Night to Receive Reports.

A DEPUTATION TO OTTAWA.

Committee of the Whole Reports in Favour of Granting Street Railway Franchise—Ald. Best Registers Protest to Report.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held last night in the Council Chamber, with Mayor Roger in the chair, and the following Aldermen present:—Messrs. Edgecumbe, Morrison, Rush, O'Connell, McWilliams, Finnie, Batten and Best.

The minutes of the previous meeting were on motion confirmed.

The following communications were read:—

From Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, asking for remission of taxes on behalf of the Children's Aid Society.—Court of Revision.

From Monetary Times Printing Co., asking that the town do some advertising in that publication in reference to the advantages offered to manufacturers to locate here.—Received.

From G. W. Hatton, protesting against excessive taxation.—Court of Revision.

From Mrs. Dorothia Richie, asking for remission of taxes on a house on Dublin street, which, she says, was torn down during 1902.—Court of Revision.

From Wm. Madill, stating that a stand for the sale of fruit, papers and confections had been placed near his place of buisness and was the cause of loafing around his store, which was detrimental to his business. He asked that the Council take steps to have it removed.—Received.

A communication was read giving a report of the postal improvements meeting held on Friday night last, enclosing a copy of the resolution adopted at the meeting, asking the Mayor and Council to urge upon the Government the necessity for the establishment of a postal delivery. A petition signed by residents of the town who are in favour of a free delivery, was also enclosed. —These communications were received.

Miss Merill, representing the Mail and Empire, addressed the Council, saying that she had been engaged to write up the different towns in Ontario from the standpoint of summer resorts, and said that if the Council could see their way clear to make a sufficient grant to meet the actual expense of the write up, she would be glad to do this for Peterborough. She stated that the circulation of the Saturday issue is 46,500, of these 1,000 go to the United States, and the Councils of other towns had considered it a profitable investment to have the claims of the town presented through the columns of that paper. Picton had recently been given a ten column article describing the beauties of the town from the standpoint of a summer resort and Peterborough would be dealt similarly with if the Council so desired. The Mayor promised that the matter should be fully considered.

The following accounts were presented:—

Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co.	$ 4 73
The Dickson Co.	1 20
A. McDonald	40 15
Wm. Logan	7 40
Rich. Hall & Son	50
St. Joseph's Hospital	75 00
Union Publishing Co.	2 00
Davis & Thompson	15 00

The above accounts were referred to the Finance Committee.

The following report of the Committee of the Whole Council was presented by Ald. Morrison, and, on motion, adopted, Ald. Bust voting nay on the motion to adopt. His objection was to the first clause:—

Your Committee of the Whole Council begs leave to report as follows:—

1. That they have considered the application made by Mr. R. M. Dennistoun on behalf of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company for the right to build and operate its railway on the streets of the town, and recommend that a franchise be granted upon the terms set out in the annexed draft agreement; and that a by-law be prepared for that purpose, after the proper notices have been given and published and provided the same is not disapproved of by the Railway Committee of the Executive Council for Ontario in case an appeal to them should be made by any person claiming to be prejudicially effected, and upon such agreement being properly executed by the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, and upon furnishing securities to the satisfaction of the council for the due performance of the said agreement. Also that the Clerk be instructed to have the notice published in the form of the notice attached.

2. We recommend that the matter of the sidewalk on the South side of Brock street, west of George street, be referred to the Board of Works with power to act, after receiving a report from the Town Engineer on the matter.

3. We recommend that the deputation to wait upon the Postmaster-General and urge upon him the immediate need of increased postal accommodation and try to obtain a general postal delivery, be composed of the Mayor and Aldermen O'Connell, Finnie and McWilliams.

4. We recommend that the Mayor, Ald. Best and Morrison be authorized to interview a manufacturing firm in reference to which a communication was read to the committee this evening, at their place of business, and that the expenses be paid on the certificate of one of the members named.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

On the report of the Committee of the Whole, Ald. Best asked if it was the intention of the council to bonus the Peterborough Radial Railway Company to the extent of granting the company the lighting contract. He pointed out to the council that at the present time a tender was before the council offering to supply light for streets at a much lower rate per light than the price which the Peterborough Light and Power Company propose to ask from the town. The alderman thought it was too serious an undertaking to be dealt with without having had an expression of the feeling of the citizens of the town. He said he understood the railway company had stipulated as a condition of it giving a street railway service the guaranteeing by the town of the company's bonds to the extent of $600,000, with the alternative of granting to the Peterborough Light and Power Company the street lighting of the town at a rate of $50 per light per year. The Otonabee Power Company had offered to give the same lighting service for $35 per light per year, and Ald. Best wished to know if it was the intention of the council by adopting the report of the committee to turn down this offer and award the contract to the Peterborough Light and Power Company, at a higher price as a bonus towards the street railway service. He wished to make an emphatic protest against any such course being pursued without the people having an opportunity of expressing an opinion upon the matter. In harmony with this position he opposed the adoption of the report of the committee; his objection, however, being only to the first clause.

Ald. Best presented the following report of the Board of Works, which was, on motion, adopted:—
